Supt. R. J. McCuen, of the Department of Lamps and Lighting, Baltimore, Md., has submitted a report to Mayor Mahool on the prices charged the city for gas and electricity, which is an argument in favor of the establishment of a municipal electric plant for the purpose of serving the city street lamps and public buildings. He estimates the cost of such a plant, allowing for the value of the real estate, transmission lines and other equipment, at $909,050. He estimates the maintenance cost, allowing for interest on the investment, loss in taxes, depreciation, loss in municipal subway rentals repairs, line transmission losses, insurance, labor, tools, supplies and the annual reproduction of 6,470,779 kilowatt hours, at $247,606. He estimates that the cost to the city per arc lamp per year for the street lighting would be $43.29, while current for the public buildings would be had at 1.9 cents a kilowatt hour. Under the existing contract with the Consolidated the city pays for arc lamps in the underground districts, where duct rent in the municipal subways is charged the company $75 a year, and in overhead district, where no duct rental is charged, $60.25. For current to the municipal buildings the city pays from 3 to 6 cents. Mr. McCuen then calls attention to the fact that an enabling act was passed by the Legislature in 1900 giving the city the right to float a loan of $1,350,000 for the purpose of building such a plant. He suggests, however, that if for any reason it should not be thought wise at this time to enter into such a project, the city ought to take steps to acquire ownership of the electric street lamps which would enable the city to buy the current through competitive bids, in the manner in which it now buys gas for its gas equipment now owned by the city. In conclusion, he calls attention to the fact that a municipal lighting plant would find plenty of work to do in supplying current not only to the street lamps and buildings, but to the pumping plants of the sewerage system, the fire pipe line system and the water department.—Des Moines "City Hall."

The Council voted, on motion of Coun. BRAND, to dispense with the reading of the records of the last meeting.

APPOINTMENT OF JAMES R. MURPHY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Under the provisions of section 7 of chapter 550 of the Acts of 1907, unanimous action is required by the Board in certain cases. Respectfully,

AGAINST BRIGHTON INCINERATOR.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 21, 1910.

To the City Council:

I beg to transmit a communication from the president of the Faneuil Improvement Association, protesting against the proposed appropriation of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) for an incinerator in the Brighton district.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Faneuil, Mass., December 17, 1910.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

Dear Sir,—We note with some surprise that your Superintendent of Streets has requested an appropriation of $75,000 for an incinerator in Brighton.

The residents of Brighton, one and all, are opposed to the erection and operation of an incinerator within this district and we sincerely hope that you will not approve of this order. We respectfully request that you give us an opportunity to be heard in this matter before proceeding further.

Yours very truly,
FANEUIL IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION,
by ROBERT T. ADAMS, President.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

STORAGE VAULT FOR CITY HALL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 2, 1911.

To the City Council:

I beg to recommend the passage of the appended order, appropriating eighteen thousand dollars ($18,000) for storage vault and furnishings, City Hall, to be expended by the Superintendent of Public Buildings. The necessity of this work is made clear in the appended letters from the City Collector, the Superintendent of Public Buildings and the Commissioner of Public Records of the Commonwealth, the last named of whom refers to section 18 of the laws relating to the public records and public documents, a copy of which, with a set of tentative plans, is attached hereto for your information.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Collecting Department, November 1, 1910.

Manus J. Fish, Esq.,
Superintendent of Public Buildings,

Old Court House, Boston, Mass.:
Dear Sir,—I beg to call your attention to the inadequate storage facilities for the books and records of this department. Some of the books are packed away in inconvenient vaults in other buildings, and those in the main building are scattered and inconvenient and wholly inadequate to contain all of the books and records which are essential to be kept and to be used in this department. Many valuable books which are in daily use cannot be kept in safety from fire, and a portion we are unable to find room for in any vault or receptacle available for the purpose.

It seems imperative that we have forthwith additional and proper vaults that will reasonably protect the valuable books, papers and records of this department from loss by fire.

I trust you may find it expedient to furnish these necessary facilities and protection as early as possible.

Yours respectfully,
BOWDOIN S. PARKER, City Collector.

Office of Public Buildings Department,
December 29, 1910.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—The City Collector had requested that I provide proper storage facilities for the books and records of his department. I have made an examination of the conditions and wish to advise you that in my opinion immediate steps should be taken in the matter. The office is badly handicapped for lack of working space and therefore I suggest that an underground storage vault be built under the lawn in front of his quarters, and I send you herewith a blueprint of the same as contemplated. This plan has the approval of the Commissioner of Records of the Commonwealth.

I estimate that an amount of eighteen thousand ($18,000) dollars will be required to build the vault and furnish same with the necessary metal furniture, etc., and I respectfully request that a special appropriation of this amount be provided.

Yours respectfully,
M. J. FISH,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

Commissioner of Public Records,
State House, Boston, December 30, 1910.

M. J. Fish, Esq.,
Superintendent of Public Buildings,
Old Court House, Boston:

Dear Sir,—Answering your inquiry in regard to additional vault room for public records at the City Hall, I will say that I believe a vault built out under the open space in front of the City Hall would be better than to take valuable space for building a vault within the City Hall itself where the quarters are very much crowded, and I am glad to approve the plan which you have submitted to me for the construction of such a vault. I am inclosing a copy of the laws concerning public records, where in section 18 it is required that city councils shall provide fireproof protection for public records in the shape of either fireproof rooms, safes or vaults. To make the rooms of the City Hall absolutely fireproof would mean to rebuild them, and the next best and economical thing is to construct a vault.

Of course, the public records which are not now in fireproof quarters must be protected, under penalty of the law.

Yours very truly,
HENRY E. WOODS, Commissioner.

Ordered, That the City Auditor be authorized to transfer the sum of eighteen thousand dollars ($18,000) from the Reserve Fund to an appropriation for storage vault and furnishings, City Hall, to be expended by the Superintendent of Public Buildings.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

TRANSFER SYSTEM, DORCHESTER.

Coun. BRAND offered an order—That the Boston Elevated Railway Company, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to establish a system of transfers at Codman square, Dorchester, to and from Washington street, Norfolk street and Talbot avenue in both directions.

Passed.

ESTABLISHMENT OF PUBLIC SCALES.

Coun. CURLEY offered an order—That the scales at the junction of Massachusetts avenue and Southampton street, now in charge of the Street Department, Sanitary Division, be and the same are hereby established as public scales, under the provisions of chapter 57 of the Revised Laws and sections 23, 24 and 25 of chapter 45 of the Revised Ordinances of 1898.

The order was read a second time and the question came on its passage.

Coun. CURLEY—Mr. President, I would say in connection with this order that it does not contemplate an expenditure of any money on the part of the city; that a fee is exacted from all persons requiring articles to be weighed on those scales; that the New Haven Railroad has recently established a branch terminal in that section of Roxbury, that the section itself is undergoing considerable development at the present time, and I feel that the establishment of public scales there is an absolute necessity for the benefit of the general public. I trust that the order will be passed.

The order was passed.

SIDEWALK ORDERS.

Coun. BALLANTYNE offered an order—That the Superintendent of Streets make a sidewalk along both sides of Washington street, between Morton street and the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, Ward 23, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of gravel, with granite edgestone.

Passed.

Coun. BALLANTYNE offered an order—That the Superintendent of Streets make a sidewalk along the southerly side of Heath street, between Walden street and South Huntington avenue, Ward 22, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of gravel and brick, with granite edgestone.

Passed.

PUBLIC LANDS.

Coun. COLLINS, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted the following:

(1) Report on order (referred May 16) for sale of city land at Squantum—that the same be indefinitely postponed.

Report accepted; order indefinitely postponed.

(2) Report on petitions of Florence Woods (referred May 23 and August 8) relative to tax title release—recommending the passage of the following:

Ordered, That for a nominal consideration his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized to release to Solomon A. Woods, and his heirs and assigns, and to all persons claiming title under him or them and to their successors, heirs and assigns, according to their respective interests, all the right, title and interest of the city under and by virtue of a tax deed dated September 19, 1873, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Lib. 1181, fol. 19, in and to the land on Fuller street therein described, a prior release of this lot given by the city to said Woods on or about November 20, 1873, having been lost before record.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, for the benefit of the members of the Council who are not members of the Committee on Public Lands I want to say that this order contemplates the recording of a release which was never recorded in the Registry of Deeds. The evidence is that the money was paid in the collector's office and the release given but not recorded. This merely means that the release that has already been paid for will be recorded. In other words, it is a confirmatory release.

Report accepted; order passed.

(3) Report on message of Mayor, communication from the Street Commissioners and order (referred August 22) for sale of city land in Everett—recommending the passage of the following:

Ordered, That so much of an order passed by the City Council and approved by the Mayor May 16, 1903, authorizing the Board of Street Commissioners to sell by public auction certain lots of land belonging to the city, as relates to the sale of "an old, disused and exhausted gravel pit on Summer and Pleasant streets in Everett" be, and the same is, hereby rescinded, and the Street Commissioners are hereby authorized to sell the said lot on Summer and Pleasant streets at public auction at a figure not less than $1,000, the proceeds of the sale of the same to be applied to the sinking fund for the reduction of the city debt.

The report was accepted.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, I would like to ask the chairman of the Committee on Public Lands how much land is there and what it is assessed for?

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, I have my papers in the locker. I move that this be assigned until later in the day, and I will call it from the calendar. I will give Mr. Brand the exact information. Anything I might state now would be from memory; I would rather state facts.

The order was laid on the table.

Later it was taken from the table, on motion of Coun. COLLINS.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, for the benefit of my associate I would state that these seem to be the facts. The lots in Everett consist of 13,800 square feet and 6,900 square feet, and are assessed at $1,000. A report signed by the Acting City Engineer, Mr. F. A. McInnes, was sent to the Superintendent of Streets, Mr. Rourke, who recommends this sale, and is as follows:

July 13, 1910.

Mr. L. K. Rourke,

Superintendent of Streets:

Dear Sir,—The following are facts relating to the lots of land owned by the City of Boston in East Everett, referred to in letter of Mr. Kiley dated July 11, ult.

The lots are within 400 feet of the East Everett depot on main line of Boston & Maine Railroad, Eastern Division. They are within three miles of Boston City Hall.

Adjoining land is assessed at 12 cents per square foot.

Gravel has been dug from the lots to a depth of 8 to 10 feet below the street level.

Plan of lots is on file in office of Street Commissioners, of which plan annexed sketch is copy.

The two lots (20,700 square feet) are assessed at $1,000.

Yours respectfully,

F. A. McINNES,
Acting City Engineer.

Your Committee on Public Lands recommends that they be sold at not less than the assessed value, at public auction, and that the proceeds go for the purpose of diminishing the city debt. I have a letter here from Mr. Rourke, recommending this sale, and one from Mr. O'Callaghan, the secretary of the Street Commissioners. If there is any other information the gentleman wants I shall be pleased to offer it to him.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, I should like to ask the chairman of that committee, Coun. Collins, if the committee visited the location and saw the land?

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, I would say that it has been the policy of this committee to visit every site. The committee has visited this land.

The order was passed, yeas 7, nays 0.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. KENNY, at 3.38 p. m., to meet on Monday, January 16, at 3 p. m., unless sooner called together by the President.

MONTHLY CONFERENCE.

Boston, January 2, 1911.

BEAUTIFYING LIVERPOOL.

With the object in view of beautifying the city, preserving the open spaces and protecting the trees, the City Guild has been formed in Liverpool, England, with a membership of about two hundred. It keeps the public authorities informed of what is needed to preserve and increase the natural and structural beauties of the city.

PER CAPITA DEBTS OF GERMAN AND ENGLISH CITIES.

Some writers on municipal affairs and many Americans back from a more or less extended European tour indulge in comparisons of government in American and foreign cities. This or that particular feature in administration or development, as found abroad, is contrasted with the seeming lack of similar excellence at home. Attention is frequently called to the scope and character of municipal activity in English and German cities; their fine streets, parks, boulevards, municipal theaters, lighting systems, workmen's dwellings, etc., but mention is rarely made of the fact that all this excellence is reflected in the size of the city debt.

In this connection, when discussing Boston's per capita indebtedness, it might be well to have in mind some instructive facts contained in an exceedingly interesting and well informed article which appeared in the Glasgow Herald recently comparing various phases of English and German local government. On the subject of indebtedness the writer pointed out that the amount of the indebtedness of German towns per head of the population is slightly though not noticeably less than that of English municipalities. This is apparent from the following table:

13 English boroughs with more than 200,000 inhabitants, indebtedness per head.....	$97 38
19 English boroughs between 100,000 and 200,000 inhabitants, indebtedness per head.....	68 04
German gemeente with more than 200,000 inhabitants (except Berlin), indebtedness per head.....	84 94
German gemeente with between 100,000 and 200,000 inhabitants, indebtedness per head.....	69 80

Thus if Berlin be excluded on the one hand and London on the other (neither of which are among the more heavily indebted towns of their respective countries), it appears that the indebtedness per head is slightly larger in the case of English towns over 200,000, and slightly larger in the case of German towns between 100,000 and 200,000. No German town seems to come up to Manchester with its municipal investment of $174.96 per head. But Frankfurt-am-Main has a debt of $138.24 per head, which exceeds any English town except Manchester (though Birmingham runs it close); Munich has $125.22 per head; Dusseldorf, $130.44; Charlottenburg, $117.88. "These figures," says the Glasgow Herald's contributor, "ought to offer some comfort to the nervous inhabitant of an English borough who thinks of his city as staggering to ruin beneath the burden of recklessly accumulated debts. Frankfurt, Munich, Dusseldorf and Charlottenburg, are not usually supposed to be on the verge of bankruptcy."

SUBSIDEWALK RENTALS UPHOLD BY SUPREME COURT.

Chicago gained a signal victory in a decision handed down last week by the Supreme Court at Springfield holding that the city may charge rental for subsidewalk space. The city's revenue will be increased thousands of dollars annually in consequence, as practically all of the valuable subsidewalk is occupied and comparatively little of it now pays rental to the city. The case was where Edwin B. Sheldon secured an injunction restraining the city from collecting compensation for the space used around his property at Lake and LaSalle streets. The Supreme Court dissolved the injunction and remanded the case to the Circuit Court for a new hearing.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

NAMING OF SCHOOL IN HONOR OF ROBERT E. BURKE.

The following communication was received:—

CITY OF BOSTON.

Office of the Mayor.

December 23, 1910.

School Committee,
Mason Street, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen:—At a meeting of your board held July 1, 1910, resolutions were offered on the death of the late Robert E. Burke, Assistant Superintendent of Schools. In these resolutions Mr. Burke was characterized as "one of the ablest and most progressive men in the school service." After reciting his connection with the School Department in various grades, covering a period of nearly fourteen years, the resolutions stated that "he failed in nothing that he undertook, and especially in the office of Assistant Superintendent he showed a breadth of conception, grasp of detail, and intellectual attainments of no small order."

It has been suggested to me that a permanent memorial to this high-minded public servant might be created by attaching his name to one of the new upper elementary schools for which plans are now being prepared. I am informed that such schools are about to be erected in the Phillips Brooks, Lyman, and Lewis Districts, and would respectfully request that your board consider the appropriateness of naming one of these schools The Robert E. Burke School, in memory of this admirable teacher and educational expert, of whose services the School Department was recently deprived by a most lamentable accident.

Yours very truly,

John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor.

Placed on file, and the Secretary directed to inform His Honor the Mayor that the Board gratefully acknowledges his suggestion, and in due time will give it respectful and careful consideration when the naming of the schools in question shall come up for consideration.

Through an oversight on the part of our Board, we neglected to ask your Committee to revise the designated list above referred to, and in order that the matter may be straightened out, the Board, at this time, respectfully asks you to revise the designated list, tax levy appropriation, and include therein the two items in question.

Very truly yours,

ASPIRING SYRACUSE.

The chamber of commerce of Syracuse, N. Y., proposes to raise funds by subscription to put in an extensive system of street lighting so as to make that city the "most brilliantly lighted in the United States." There are already twenty or thirty cities that claim this distinction, and one more or less will not make much difference.

BRISTOL, ENGLAND, TO ADVERTISE PORT FACILITIES.

At its meeting on Tuesday, December 13, the City Council of Bristol, England, carried the following resolution on the motion of Alderman Twigg:

"That in the best interests of the rate-payers of the city, it is advisable that the council obtain powers to advertise the advantages offered by the city and port of Bristol, and to expend moneys for that purpose; and that the council also obtain power to elect persons outside the council on any committee which they may appoint to act as a publicity committee."

The decision will be interpreted in the following clause in the corporation's bill for the next session of Parliament:

"The corporation may pay or contribute towards the cost of advertising and making more generally known the advantages of the city and port of Bristol, and may apply for that purpose the borough fund and borough rate and the dock revenue in such proportions as the council may from time to time determine. For the purpose of this section or any purpose connected therewith the corporation may from time to time appoint a committee consisting of such number of persons, whether members of the council or not, as they may think fit, including the power to spend such sum or sums of money in any year as the council may from time to time determine.

It will be seen that the Bristol clause goes a step further than the bill which has been jointly promoted by the Association of Municipal Corporations and the Urban District Councils' Association.

MAKING USE OF VACANT LOTS.

The large amount of land lying unused in our large cities in the shape of vacant lots has inspired some citizens of Philadelphia to form a Vacant Lots Association for the purpose of rendering this land a benefit to those who would take the trouble to cultivate it and also an added beauty to the city. This is the plan:

The superintendent of the association borrows tracts of land from their owners with the understanding that they are to be surrendered on demand. The land is distributed to would-be gardeners in patches of from one-eighth to one-fourth of an acre, together with a good assortment of vegetable seeds. The cultivation of the gardens, the use of the land in other ways and the conduct of the gardeners are under strict supervision by the superintendent, who gives lessons in plant life and the fighting of weeds and insects. At the end of the season each gardener must turn in a report on the crops raised. Invalids, children, the aged and the poor find health and comfort for their families in this miniature farming.

NEW YORK TO ESTABLISH MUNICIPAL MILK DEPOTS.

New York City stands committed to a system of municipal pasteurization of milk. Comptroller Prendergast, President Mitchell and President McAneny have approved the establishment of city pasteurization stations after a plan submitted by Health Commissioner Lederle. The plan contemplates locating throughout the city stations at which milk shall be pasteurized and dispensed systematically. In addition, it is contemplated to keep in attendance at each station doctors and nurses, who shall instruct mothers in the proper method of dressing and caring for children. This added feature in connection with the distribution of pasteurized milk will greatly reduce infant mortality the city officials declare.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

Boston, January 11, 1911.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor:

SIR,— On January 1, 1911, a new office was created in the Penal Institutions Department at Deer Island, to which James F. English was appointed at a salary of $1,200 per year. His duty will be to convey to and from the courts prisoners who may be required as witnesses. On January 3, 1911, the appointment was approved by the Mayor.

Mr. English was for a number of years Superintendent of the Almshouse and Hospital on Long Island, and on April 30, 1908, left the service, under circumstances which should make impossible his employment by the city in such a position as the one he has been given. (See Finance Commission Report, Volume I., page 236.)

The Penal Institutions Commissioner and the Master of the House of Correction have appeared before the present Finance Commission and have stated the circumstances under which the present appointment was made. It appears that the master did not make the selection in reality, but that he simply acquiesced in a selection made by others. The Penal Institutions Commissioner, after a talk about the proposed appointment with the Mayor's assistant secretary, Mr. Field, suggested the name of Mr. English to the master and the appointment was thereafter made. Thus, both the statutes and the rules of the department were violated, as both require that the master himself shall make the selections. It is evident that it was the Mayor or his secretary, Mr. Field, at whose request the appointment was really made. The testimony of the commissioner was given with reluctance, his apparent desire being to shield the Mayor's office from responsibility for the appointment. In this connection it should be remembered that on a former occasion the Mayor retained Mr. English as superintendent at Long Island in the face of the protest of the Board of Trustees who demanded his removal, and that the Board itself was forced out of office in order to keep Mr. English in his position.

It is doubtful if there is any need for the establishment of this office. The duties have heretofore been discharged by officers specially detailed for the purpose as occasions have arisen. The records of the department show that prisoners were taken from the institution to testify in court on only forty-seven days in the last year. There were sixty prisoners so taken. On seven days within this period prisoners were taken from the institution to the Industrial Camp at West Rutland, Mass., and one or more officers of the House of Correction was detailed for this duty on each of these days. In other words, the occasion for such service as Mr. English has been employed to render occurred on only fifty-four days in the last year.

The Finance Commission believes the following propositions to be fundamental and indisputable:

1. The office of the Mayor is a great trust, to be administered not as a personal perquisite, but for the benefit of the community.

2. The spirit of the charter amendments requires that all appointments of whatever grade should be made not to reward friends, or to placate enemies, but "solely in the city's interest."

3. The provisions of Revised Laws, chapter 224, section 16, giving the Master of the House of Correction power to appoint his subordinates, and making him responsible for them, should be strictly observed. Any attempt on the part of the Mayor to interfere with this power by dictating appointments is in conflict with this statute, and its inevitable result is to impair the discipline of the institution.

The commission believes that Mr. English is unfit for the office, that the appointment was unnecessary, that it is subversive of discipline, and therefore that it should be revoked at once.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by JOHN A. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

COMPENSATION OF ACTING PRINCIPAL OF PRE-APPRENTICE SCHOOL FOR PRINTING AND BOOKBINDING.

CITY OF BOSTON.

Office of the Mayor,

Jan. 9, 1911.

School Committee,
Mason street,
Boston, Mass.
Gentlemen:—

I return herewith, without my approval, the order passed by your Board at its meeting of Dec. 28, 1910, fixing the compensation of Augustus H. Kelley for services as acting principal of the Pre-Apprentice School for Printing and Bookbinding, at the rate of fifty dollars ($50) per month, to take effect Sept. 14, 1910, and to continue until the close of the present school year and during such time as the school may be in session.

As the salary of the master of a grammar school is $3180, and Mr. Kelley is drawing that sum for his services as master of the Lyman School, it seems to me that the city is entitled to all his time within reasonable limits and that the few extra hours given to the Pre-Apprentice School will not justify the School Committee in awarding him an addition to his salary.

Yours very truly,

John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor.

Accompanying the foregoing communication was the order referred to therein. Laid on the table.

STREET ACCIDENTS TO CHILDREN.

A communication was received from the Superintendent, under date of Jan. 9, 1911, stating that in accordance with the order of the Board passed at its meeting on Nov. 7, 1910 (see p. 175), he had appointed a committee of principals to study and report with reference to the subject of street accidents to children, consisting of the following:—

Frank L. Keith, Chairman
William E. Perry
James H. Leary
W. Lawrence Murphy
Charles F. Merrick
W. Lester Bates
Frederick W. Swan

Placed on file.

A report was received from the Committee of Principals on Street Accidents to Children, in part as follows: Of the more than eighteen hundred street accidents which occurred last year, one-half were in connection with street cars and moving vehicles, one-third from falls, and one-sixth from all other causes. The number of persons injured by street cars and other moving vehicles is larger year by year from the ages of seven to thirteen years. Twice as many children were reported as stealing rides on street cars on a school day than on a non-school day immediately following. Accidents to persons due to the operation of automobiles have increased from 10 in 1900 to 251 in 1909. The schools can do much to prevent accidents due to wilful breaking of city ordinances, but in the main the conduct of children on the street must rest with parents and the police authorities. The committee recommends that steps be taken toward securing legislation which shall, to a degree, place legal responsibility upon parents for misdemeanors of their children; that school principals inform themselves of danger points in their respective districts, and warn their children of them; and that the Superintendent issue a circular recommending that all teachers give to their pupils seasonable talks, admonishing them of the dangers of thin ice, snow-balling, coasting, and especially of the dangers arising from jumping on cars, walking on railroad tracks, hurriedly crossing crowded streets, etc.

Placed on file, the recommendation adopted, and the thanks of the Board extended to the Committee of School Principals for its services and valuable report.

SALARY OF ALEXANDER M. SULLIVAN.

A communication was received from the Business Agent, under date of Jan. 9, 1911, recommending an increase in the salary of Alexander M. Sullivan, assistant in his office.

Placed on file.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the salary of Alexander M. Sullivan, assistant in the office of the Business Agent, is hereby fixed at one thousand eight dollars ($1008) per year, to take effect Jan. 1, 1911, and to continue until otherwise ordered.

APPROPRIATION, TRADE SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

A communication was received from the Business Agent, under date of Jan. 9, 1911, recommending an allowance to the principal of the Trade School for Girls for the purpose of paying bills for materials which are to enter into products of that school, and for other financial transactions connected with the school.

Placed on file.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That there be allowed and paid to the principal of the Trade School for Girls the sum of nine hundred dollars ($900), this sum being for the purpose of paying bills for materials which are to enter into products to be sold, express charges, car fares and other small cash transactions, such sum to be accounted for by said principal to the City Auditor through the Business Agent, and the balance at the end of the financial year to be paid over by said principal to the Auditor of the School Committee for transmission to the City Collector.

ATTENDANCE OF A NON-RESIDENT PUPIL, HIGH SCHOOL OF COMMERCE.

An application was received from Mrs. Rose Hochberg, now residing in Revere, that her son be allowed to continue to attend the High School of Commerce without payment of tuition on the ground that she is but a temporary non-resident and proposes to return to Boston in the fall.

Referred to the Business Agent for attention, the Board being of the opinion that under the circumstances the applicant retains for the present her domicile in Boston, and that her son should be allowed to continue to attend the High School of Commerce without payment of tuition until the close of the present school year.

REPORT OF THE TRIAL BOARD.

A report was received from the Trial Board, under date of Jan. 9, 1911, to whom was referred at the meeting of Dec. 19, 1910 (see p. 202), a complaint made by the Schoolhouse Custodian against a janitor, that a sectional boiler in a school-house had been damaged by carelessness of the janitor in charge, and recommending that he be censured and declared ineligible for promotion for the space of one year, stating that the Board finds that the damage of this boiler was caused by the carelessness of the janitor in charge, but that this carelessness was not of an aggravated character and perhaps might more properly be termed an exercise of bad judgment; the Board concurs in the suggestion made by the Schoolhouse Custodian, and therefore recommends that James E. Johnson, janitor of the Walnut-street School-house, be censured for his negligence and notified that he will not be regarded as eligible for promotion for the term of one year, beginning Jan. 1, 1911.

Placed on file, and the recommendation adopted.

PRIZES TO PUPILS FOR MAGAZINE DESIGNING.

A communication was received from L. E. Palmer, Managing Editor of New Boston, under date of Jan. 5, 1911, requesting information as to whether there would be any objection to Boston 1915 offering drawing classes in the various schools small prizes for decorative designs for the magazine, New Boston.

Placed on file, and the Secretary directed to reply thereto, stating the reasons which govern the Board in disapproving the awarding of prizes to pupils in the public schools.

DRILL PERIODS FOR WINTHROP-STREET ANNEX PUPILS.

A petition was received from about 14 English High School pupils, under date of Dec. 22, 1910, who are now occupying the Winthrop-street Annex of that school, that the Board take measures to enable them to occupy the Vine-street Church for drill purposes two hours each week instead of one hour as at present.

Placed on file, and the Board of School-house Commissioners requested to arrange for the further occupancy of the Vine-street Church in accordance with the aforesaid petition.

COMPLAINT AGAINST SUPERVISOR OF LICENSED MINORS.

A communication was received from the Secretary of the Boston Newsboys' Union, under date of Jan. 3, 1911, stating that the Supervisor of Licensed Minors has been indiscriminately taking away badges and newspapers from newsboys, who in his personal opinion have violated the School Committee laws in regard to the selling of newspapers, and protesting against this personal enforcement of the law.

Referred to Mr. Lee for investigation and report.

EXTENSION OF "THE PROGRESS SYSTEM."

A communication was received from Marian K. Brown requesting the cooperation of the Board in the extension of "The Progress System" in the public schools.

Referred to the Board of Superintendents for consideration and report.

CHICAGO HAS STUB STREETS FOR RENT.

"For sale, lease or loan, a large assortment of stub-end streets, all in the business or manufacturing district and having excellent frontage on the Chicago river. Apply to the city of Chicago," announced Oscar E. Hewitt, Deputy Commissioner of Public Works, last week when he received a report from H. V. McGurken, Superintendent of the Compensation Bureau. The report lists all the stub-ends of streets in the city's possession which are on the Chicago river, going as far north as Belmont avenue on the north branch and as far west as South Oakley avenue on the south branch. It also shows that a large proportion of such valuable pieces of real estate are no longer in the city's possession, but have been vacated by Council order and sold to private owners. There are twenty-six streets whose stub-ends at the frontage on the river are not occupied. The highest rate is $5,500 a year, paid by the Goodrich Transit Company for River street, between Michigan avenue and Beaubien court, the lease expiring April 30, 1912. Other docking privileges range from this figure to one or two hundred dollars per annum.

BUFFALO TO ABANDON HORSE-DRAWN FIRE APPARATUS.

Buffalo is the most recent city to doom the fire horse. Contracts have been let for the last horse-drawn fire engine that the city will buy. The fire commissioners announce that any apparatus they purchase in the future will be of the automobile kind, and for each piece installed five horses will be put out of commission. That is, the motor engine will be both a pump and a hose wagon, and one of the new style vehicles will carry all the equipment of two of the old-fashioned kind. It is figured that the cost of motive power of the horse-drawn apparatus is about $1,000 a year for engine and wagon and that the automobile will largely reduce this.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

STATE UTILITIES LAW.

The resolution adopted by the League of California Municipalities at San Diego on the subject of a state utilities commission defines the powers of such a commission to cover the following points:

First, to compel publicity of accounts of utility corporations; second, to regulate issuance and sale of securities of such companies; third, to authorize and require capital expenditures; fourth, to compel adequate service; fifth, to make valuation of the properties; sixth, to fix rates when municipalities do not by charter enjoy that right, and if they do enjoy the right, to assist and advise with them in carrying it out. Under this last provision the work of the state commission would dovetail in with that of the local commissions.

PAYMENTS ON ACCOUNT OF CAMBRIDGE BRIDGE SUIT.

Mayor Fitzgerald, on January 18, approved bills, totaling $1,317.56, presented to him by the Law Department, representing payments on account of expenses incurred in defending the suit of the Butchers' Slaughtering and Melting Association against the city, which was brought under a statute providing for the building of the Cambridge Bridge without a draw. Under this statute wharf owners above the bridge were entitled to damages sustained because vessels with masts could not ascend the river beyond the bridge. The above named association (usually known as the Abattoir Company) instituted suit some time ago, and claimed damages to a substantial amount. These claims included damages on account of railroad connections as well as damages on account of their wharf property, but the court ruled that damages could only be obtained on account of wharf frontage. The experts of the Abattoir Company placed the damage at from forty to fifty thousand dollars, and attempted to prove that coal would cost them forty to fifty cents more per ton for lightering, etc. Assistant Corporation Counsel McLaughlin showed, by the testimony of expert witnesses, that the Abattoir people had always been compelled to lighter their coal owing to the deep draft of sea-going vessels. The jury returned a verdict for the city, and no damages were awarded to the company. The city of Cambridge was not involved, as the law provides that each city would be liable for damages to the wharf property within their own limits. A list of the payments to be made follows:

R. C. Gillespie, $250. Mr. Gillespie is the Boston manager of the Consolidation of Coal Companies. J. Morris Meredith, $200. Real estate expert. Wallace B. Phinney, $200. President, Austin Cove Coal Company.

Charles S. Dennis, $100. Formerly wharfinger at Lewis Wharf. Edward N. Clancy, $100. Selling agent, Staples Coal Company. George G. Wolkins, $100. With Hanson-Parker Coal Company, Ltd. R. R. Freeman, $100. Shipping broker. Austin N. Barber, $75. Superintendent, Boston Tow Boat Company. Albert C. Betteley, $50. Secretary, Coal Exchange of Boston. Charles F. Webb, $50. Shipping expert. John R. Brooks, $35. Model maker. Boston Water Department, $32.76. Material for models. Taxi service, $12.50. C. H. Robbins, $12.30. Stenographic work.

PERMISSION TO CONSTRUCT.

The Mayor has granted to the Superintendent of Streets authority to do the following work with the department force without advertising:

Redeck, resheathe, build new sidewalks, replace beams where necessary and strengthen ironwork on Summer street draw at an estimated cost of $1,250.

"This is maintenance work and can, in my opinion, be as advantageously done by day labor as any work now necessary.

L. K. ROURKE,
Superintendent of Streets."

STREET COMMISSIONERS.

The Mayor has approved the action of the Board making full settlement for the sum of $600 of all claims against the city on account of damages occasioned to the estate of Ellen H. Crosby, situated on Westville avenue, through the taking of an easement for sewerage purposes.

To this end they have decided to conduct a series of Free Municipal Organ Recitals.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

BOSTON, January 13, 1911.

MR. J. ALFRED MITCHELL,
City Auditor, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR,—Under date of January 3, 1911, you referred to the Finance Commission for investigation and report, under the provisions of section 19, chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, a bill dated December 8, 1910, from the Taxi Service Company to the City of Boston for automobile service rendered to the Penal Institutions Commissioner from November 1 to November 29, 1910, inclusive, for various amounts which make a total of $18.60.

The bill contains twelve items, varying in amount from 60 cents to $5.20. Two items dated November 1, for 80 cents and $1.20, respectively, were for transportation of an officer of the department and certain Japanese officials who were visiting the city. Two other items, the dates or amounts of which the Penal Institutions Commissioner could not fix, were for transporting certain Chinese officials from the office of the department at 32 Tremont street to Eastern Avenue Wharf, where the department boat docks. The commissioner states that these charges for the entertainment of representatives of foreign countries were incurred at the request of the Mayor. They were properly incurred, but they should have been charged to the Mayor's contingent fund and not to the Penal Institutions Department.

The remaining eight items were for service to the commissioner in conveying him from the cab stand at either Young's or Parker's Hotel to Eastern Avenue Wharf, or to Federal street where he visited a certain office on occasions partly, as he says, on public and partly on private business, or to his home in Milton.

Of these eight items two are charges for automobile service in taking the commissioner from Boston to his home in Milton, the first dated November 4, for $5.20, the second dated November 14, for $4.70. The commissioner explains them as follows: He states that the business of his department required him to work until so near 7 o'clock that he would be unable to take the 7 o'clock train at the South Station for his home in Milton, and rather than wait for the next train, which left at 8.16, he hired an automobile at the city's expense. As to the item of November 14, he says that he was compelled to work late on the evening of that day also, but does not remember the exact time when he left. He says, however, that he would have been obliged to wait nearly an hour for a train if he had not taken an automobile. He explains further that the weather was stormy on both of these occasions. There seems to be no justification for charging the city $9.90 for automobile service on these two occasions. According to his own statement, he could have reached home by train if he had been willing to wait an hour. In the absence of extraordinary emergency the commission thinks that the expense of extra speed or promptness in reaching home after the day's work cannot be said to have been incurred in the city's service.

The remaining six items of the bill the commissioner explains the work of his department occupies so much of his time that if he walked or took a street car to the wharf where the department boat docks, or to other places where he has business engagements, he might lose the boat or delay the engagements.

In the opinion of the Finance Commission these explanations are inadequate. There is no reason why the Penal Institutions Commissioner should not take a street car or a train in order to go to any place within the city, or outside of its limits, whenever departmental business calls him. If in such cases he is obliged to walk part of the way to the railroad station or to the place where he can take a street car it would seem to be no great hardship upon him. The commission believes that if such bills are allowed by the City Auditor, the practice of taking cabs and automobiles will become a general one, at least in the case of department heads who are not provided by the city with an automobile for their regular use. It is very doubtful whether such individuals, if transacting business on their own account, would not walk or take a street car or train rather than pay the cost of automobile service.

If the Penal Institutions Commissioner were required in the ordinary course of the business of his department to make frequent trips daily to various parts of the city, or outside its limits, or if his time were crowded with engagements that made it necessary to save every minute, he might well make plain that an automobile should be furnished by the city for his regular use; but the commission does not believe this to be the case. The distinction between this department and such departments as the Fire, Police and Street Departments is obvious.

The commission believes that none of these items, except the four for conveying the Chinese and Japanese officials, should be paid by the city; and these four should be paid out of the Mayor's contingent fund and not out of the appropriation for the Penal Institutions Department. None of the others seem to have been necessary for the transaction of the business of the city and they should not be paid by the city.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

by JOHN A. SULLIVAN,

Chairman.

A CITY ARCHITECT.

Vancouver, British Columbia, a place that has grown from 35,000 six years ago to 125,000 at present, has in the City government a functionary known as "City Architect," whose services are given free of charge to citizens for planning of grounds and gardens and for advice in choice of plants and trees. The purpose is to secure co-operation and harmony and to stimulate interest in such matters. This is a practical idea that would help to beautify American cities if followed generally.

OPPORTUNITIES AT DRESDEN HYGIENE EXHIBITION.

The International Hygiene Exhibition, which will be held at Dresden in 1911, is essentially a scientific exhibition, and the two hundred congresses to be held during the six months of its existence will bring together there nearly all hygienists of note in the world. The peculiar advantage of having their exhibits introduced to these experts and authorities, who are naturally in a position to influence purchasing on a large scale by public bodies and private individuals, will appeal to manufacturers of goods and articles which have any connection with hygiene.

The industrial section of the exhibition is divided into the following groups: Chemical industry; scientific instruments and apparatus; settlements, dwellings, housing, etc.; foodstuffs and food accessories, beverages; clothing and the care and protection of the body; profession and labor; provision and care for infants and the young; traffic conditions on land and sea; technics, machinery; watering places, health resorts, mineral waters; cosmetics and other toilet preparations and requisites; hygiene in connection with the army, navy, colonists, etc.; care of the sick, ambulance work, hospitals, life-saving service; physical exercise, games and sports; hygiene in literature and the arts.

Further information can be obtained from the London offices of the International Hygiene Exhibition, 47 Victoria street, S.W.

HOUSEKEEPING SCHOOLS.

The Prussian government has established a system of housekeeping instruction with a large number of wagons sent from one neighborhood to another with teachers and apparatus to show housewives the latest and most scientific methods of cooking, housecleaning, etc. This includes sanitation, health and domestic economy generally. The Germans long ago discovered that a government was susceptible of other uses than providing jobs for successful politicians. Infinite possibilities for the good of the many lie in this institution for those who choose to avail themselves of it. Slowly the American people are awakening to this fact.

January 12, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor of Boston:
Sir,—At a meeting of the Board of Assessors held this day it was voted to ask for a special appropriation of $4,000 for the purpose of rebinding the old street and tax books, etc.
These books were formerly kept in the basement of the Old Court House and recently have been transferred to the new vault in the basement of City Hall. They run back for many years and are in a deplorable condition. They are very valuable and should be bound to preserve them.
We ask this as a special appropriation, as the books cannot all be taken away at one time, but will have to be sent as they can be spared.
Trusting you will recommend this appropriation to the City Council, we remain,
Yours respectfully,
Board of Assessors,
CHARLES E. FOLSOM, Secretary.

Ordered, That the sum of four thousand dollars ($4,000) be transferred from the Reserve Fund to a special appropriation for Rebinding Old Records, to be expended under the direction of the Board of Assessors.

An appropriation of ten thousand

(10,000) dollars has been made to the mayor for exhibition purposes. It is the mayor's earnest desire that the exhibition shall be thorough in scope and shall represent the best and most recent thought upon these subjects, both here and abroad. In order to secure the most up-to-date material, I write to ask for your assistance. I do so the more confidently knowing your interest in the subject.

I will consider it a great favor if at your earliest convenience you will let me know what material, either in your city or elsewhere, you regard as available for this exhibition. In order that I may know what space will be necessary for the exhibitions, I must know as soon as possible the amount of space required for the individual exhibitions.

I will hold myself in readiness, at your convenience, to go to see you in person, if that will be of any assistance in securing the character of exhibition that is desired.

Thanking you in advance for any suggestions, I remain,

Very truly,

ARTHUR E. BUCHER, C. Z.

I beg to transmit a letter from the Superintendent of Public Buildings, urging the need of an appropriation of three thousand dollars ($3,000) for furnishings for the Jamaica Plain Branch of the Boston Public Library. Dear Sir,—The new building which is being erected on the lot with the Curtis Hall building, Jamaica Plain, and which is to be occupied by the Jamaica Plain Branch of the Boston Public Library, will shortly be completed with the exception of the necessary furnishings which will be required and for which no appropriation is available.

The library trustees are of the opinion that the building should be fully furnished before they begin occupancy.

I inclose a list of furnishings desired and for which it will be necessary to provide the sum of approximately three thousand (3,000) dollars, which might be transferred to the appropriation for the building.

Yours respectfully,

M. J. Fish,

Superintendent of Public Buildings.

IMPROVEMENTS, PRINCE STREET PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 11, 1911.

To the City Council:

I beg to transmit two letters from the chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners, under date of December 23 and 31, 1910, respectively, relating to improvements at the Prince Street Playground, together with a revised estimate from William D. Austin, of Stickney & Austin, Architects, and a plan of the improvements proposed. This playground is the breathing spot for a district in which the evils of tenement house congestion are seen almost at their worst. It is patronized by thousands of children, and in my opinion should be made more useful and attractive, in accordance with some such plan as that outlined by the Park Commissioners. I recommend, therefore, the passage of the appended order transferring the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) from the Reserve Fund to a special appropriation for Prince Street Playground improvements.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, December 23, 1910.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor,

City Hall, Boston:

Dear Sir,—The Park Commission still has in hand a portion of the appropriation for the Prince Street Playground which it plans to spend on a shelter and other improvements there, and you have transferred from unexpended balances the sum of $3,000 in addition to what we have, so that we may carry out improvements at this playground as shown on plan presented to you, improvements which we think will add greatly to the attractiveness and usefulness of this greatly used but hitherto somewhat uncared for playground. We should like to complete these improvements as promptly as possible, so that planting will not be delayed by them in the spring, and besides to avail of the unexpended balance that you have transferred to these purposes immediate action is necessary.

We have obtained various estimates from people whom we can count on for prompt execution, and for all these reasons we ask you to permit us to contract for the work to the best of our judgment without the delay required for public advertisement. Will you be good enough to give the Park Commission this authority?

Yours truly,

ROBERT S. PEABODY, Chairman.

City of Boston,

Park Department, December 31, 1910.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor,

City Hall, Boston:

Dear Sir,—You will remember that I told you that we should need about $3,000 more than the money in hand to complete what we propose for the Prince Street Playground. You therefore had $3,000 transferred for this purpose. My offhand statement was made on the strength of Mr. Austin's rough estimate. Mr. Austin's note attached hereto corrects his rough estimate and explains that the work will finally cost perhaps $2,000 more beyond the sum thus appropriated. We do not, however, need any more appropriation now than the transfer of $3,000 that you have already made in order to carry out as much of this work as can be done before January 31. We are, therefore, arranging with the fund you have furnished to have everything done that it is possible to do in the winter months and when the spring comes we shall require $2,000 to set and finish the work. We shall ask you for it, or, as the playground has for some time needed improvement, we shall do this extra work from our annual appropriation.

This note is to tell you the condition of the work and to explain to you exactly our intentions.

Yours truly,

ROBERT S. PEABODY, Chairman.

PRINCE STREET PLAYGROUND SHELTERS.

R. S. Peabody, Esq.,

Chairman Park Department:

Dear Mr. Peabody,—The bids for the cast concrete work and the iron and steel, without including the cost of erection, about use up the total approximate estimate I gave you for the complete job. I generally get a little nearer the facts, but this kind of work is rather novel and, at the outset, certain essentials were overlooked which have since come to the surface.

The flower boxes themselves, I found, had to be larger and more expensively built than was contemplated in the rough sketch. The substitution of iron fences in place of concrete wall screen between columns adds some more. The original approximate estimate of the Concrete Engineering Company was based on the assumption that the cast work would be done on the playground premises and that time enough would be allowed so that one mold would suffice for all the forty round columns. Now they expect to make five or six molds in order to complete the work by January 28.

Before the next year appropriations are determined upon, I would suggest that we get actual proposals for the balance of the work as follows:

Plumbing and water, say $500.

Setting of cast concrete.

Setting of steel and iron work.

Excavations, dry wall foundations, concrete bases, concrete floors in shelters.

Park seats in shelters.

Wooden trellis work against party wall.

Painting of iron and steel work and of trellis.

Material for flower boxes. Loam, seeds, etc.

Care of same, watering, weeding and general custody of playground.

Architect's commission.

It looks now as if the total cost would be nearer $6,000 than $3,000. However, the auditor said to me the other day that the Mayor is very much interested in this project and would undoubtedly see that the necessary appropriations for it would be forthcoming, but it seems proper, at this time, before any irrevocable step has been taken, to send this letter.

The proposals should be promptly accepted, if at all, as there will be none too much time before January 28, 1911, to cast all the concrete work.

You will notice on the blueprint that I have changed location of gates as advised by Mr. Pettigrew.

Yours truly,

WM. D. AUSTIN.

Ordered, That the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) from the Reserve Fund to a special appropriation for Prince Street Playground improvements, to be expended under the authority of the Board of Park Commissioners.

CURFEW ORDINANCE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 11, 1911.

To the City Council:

Pursuing the subject of the proposed ordinance recommended by the Boston Home and School Association, in a letter forwarded to your honorable body at its meeting of December 5, 1910, I beg to transmit a copy of an ordinance submitted by the officers of the said association, together with correspondence upon the subject from the Corporation Counsel and the Police Commissioner.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Nine O'Clock Ordinance for the Business Section of the City of Boston.

Ordered: Section 1. That no child under fourteen years of age shall be, loiter or remain upon any street, highway, park, square, thoroughfare, or public alley, way or place in the business section of this city after 9 p. m., unless accompanied by a parent or guardian, or other adult person.

For the purposes of this ordinance the area comprised within the following streets and squares and all others included within them as boundaries shall be called the "Business Section":

Haymarket square, Canal street, Causeway street, between Canal and Portland streets; Portland street, between Causeway and Chardon streets; Chardon street, Bowdoin square, Bulfinch street, between Bowdoin square and Howard street; Howard street, between Bulfinch and Somerset streets; Somerset street, Beacon street, between Somerset and Arlington streets; Arlington street, Boylston street, between Arlington and Tremont streets; Tremont street, between Boylston and Hollis streets; Hollis street, Washington street, between Hollis and Beach streets; Beach street, between Washington street and Harrison avenue; Harrison avenue, between Beach street and Phillips square; Phillips square, Essex street, between Phillips square and Atlantic avenue; Atlantic avenue, between Essex and Clinton streets, including Dewey square and Mercantile Wharf; Clinton street, between Atlantic avenue and Blackstone street; Blackstone street, between Clinton street and Haymarket square.

Sec. 2. The chief engineer at City Hall shall cause a whistle (provided for that purpose) to blow continuously for one minute at 8.50 p. m. daily.

Sec. 3. Any person who violates the provisions of this ordinance is liable to a fine not exceeding five dollars.

Note 1. The language of this ordinance is similar to the nine o'clock ordinances of Chelsea, Quincy, Everett, and other cities in operation for years.

Note 2. Mr. Collingwood C. Miller, present chief engineer at City Hall, states that it would be a matter of twenty-five dollars ($25) to run a steam pipe through one of the dead chimneys at City Hall.

City of Boston,

Law Department, December 22, 1910.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor, City Hall, Boston:

Dear Sir,—I return herewith drafts of a proposed nine o'clock or curfew ordinance. Your secretary said that you would like my opinion as to whether it was entirely legal and correct in its present form. I understood from his letter that the Police Commissioner was to be consulted as to whether it was a practical ordinance from a police point of view, and so give no opinion upon the merits of the measure.

All courts have shrunk from defining the limits of the police power, saying that they would pass upon each particular exercise of it, but would not define its exact limits. This being so, it is difficult to say with certainty whether this particular exercise of the police power is legal. I should think, however, in order to make it legal the first section should be amended by inserting another exception substantially as follows: "or unless said child is travelling in the most direct course between the place of his employment, or an evening school at which he is an attendant, and his home."

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS M. BABSON,
Corporation Counsel.

City of Boston,

Police Department,

Office of the Commissioner, January 2, 1911.

William A. Leahy, Esq.,
Secretary:

Dear Sir,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of December 24, inclosing a draft of a "curfew" ordinance, so called, and a communication relating thereto addressed by the Corporation Counsel to his Honor the Mayor. In this the Corporation Counsel writes:

"All courts have shrunk from defining the limits of the police power, saying that they would pass upon each particular exercise of it, but would not define its exact limits. This being so, it is difficult to say with certainty whether this particular exercise of the police power is legal. I should think, however, in order to make it legal that the first section should be amended by inserting another exception substantially as follows: 'or unless said child is travelling in the most direct course between the place of his employment, or an evening school at which he is an attendant, and his home.'"

It is to be understood, of course, that the term "police power" is here used in its broad sense, not as meaning power of the police.

The reply of the Corporation Counsel seems to overlook a vital question which was stated in my letter of December 8 to his Honor the Mayor in the following terms:

"An ordinance creating an offence is worthless without a penalty for violation; and a fine is the only penalty which the city has a right to prescribe. But, under the laws of the state, a child who is not fourteen years of age cannot be made to pay a fine and neither can his parents be made to pay it for him."

The draft declares in section 3 that "any person who violates the provisions of this ordinance is liable to a fine of not exceeding five dollars." To say that a person is "liable" to a fine if no court has power to enforce it is not to establish a penalty; and the only means possessed by a court to compel payment of a fine is to commit the offender to prison. But section 6, chapter 413, Acts of 1906, provides that:

"No child under fourteen years of age shall be committed to a lock-up, police station or house of detention, to a jail or house of correction, to the state farm, or the house of correction at Deer Island in the City of Boston, pending an examination, in default of bail, or for the nonpayment of a fine, except," etc.

The exceptions do not establish the authority of a court to imprison a child under fourteen years of age for nonpayment of a fine imposed because of a breach of an ordinance.

On this question of power to enforce payment of a fine, I should be glad to know the opinion of the Corporation Counsel. Without such power section 3 of the proposed ordinance becomes merely a threat, the ordinance itself fails, and discussion of the general subject is of no avail.

I am,

Respectfully,

STEPHEN O'MEARA,
Police Commissioner for the City of Boston.

City of Boston,

Law Department, January 6, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor,

City Hall, Boston:

Dear Sir,—I return herewith communication of Mr. O'Meara in regard to the curfew ordinance, so called. I did not suppose that I was to give my opinion as to the wisdom of the proposed ordinance or whether it could be enforced or not, only as to its legality.

I agree with Mr. O'Meara that owing to the difficulties he suggests, it would be difficult to enforce it. Under our charter the penalty for violation of an ordinance is to be a fine of not exceeding $20, and as Mr. O'Meara says, in most cases it would be difficult to collect a fine from a minor or his parent or guardian. If it was an act of the Legislature it could be provided that a minor should be put upon probation for a first offence and on the second conviction sent to a reform school. This could not be done under an ordinance.

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS M. BABSON,
Corporation Counsel.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Buckley and Brand. Whole number of ballots cast 5, yeas 5, and the several appointments were confirmed.

PRINTING OF JULIA WARD HOWE MEMORIAL.

Coun. ATTRIDGE offered an order—That the Clerk of Committees, under the direction of the Committee on Printing, be authorized to prepare and have printed an edition of one thousand copies of a volume containing an account of the memorial exercises held by the City of Boston in honor of Julia Ward Howe, the expense of the same to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, incidental expenses.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SURVEY OF BURIAL GROUNDS.

Coun. BUCKLEY offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to direct the proper authorities to make a careful investigation into the matter of the present boundary lines of the South Burial Ground on Washington street, and of the Granary Burial Ground on Tremont street, with a view to determining by accurate and official survey whether any part of those burial grounds have been taken and are being used for private purposes.

Coun. BUCKLEY offered an order—That if it shall be disclosed by examination and survey that any parts of the South and Granary burial grounds have been taken for private purposes, the Mayor be requested to take such steps as may be necessary to restore every foot of ground belonging to the city to the use and custody of the city, and that the board of trustees of the Cemetery Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to explain why any part of the ancient cemeteries in their charge have been desecrated and sequestered for private use and profit.

The orders were read a second time, and the question came on their passage.

Coun. BUCKLEY—Mr. President, I wish to state in connection with these orders, which should both go together, that information has come to me from an authentic source which leads me to believe that the public burial grounds of this city have been encroached upon by private interests. It seems to me that these orders ought to be passed, so that we may find out if such is the case. If it is the case, we ought to get back the property, or at least the city should get some recompense for property used by private interests. I think the Council ought to act favorably on these propositions to-day.

The orders were passed.

PAYMENT OF PORTRAIT BILL.

President BALLANTYNE offered an order—That the bill of Frank B. Conlin, amounting to $20, for three portraits, lettering titles and cartage and labor, for combination frame, President's room, be approved, and charged to the appropriation for City Council, incidental expenses.

Passed.

EXPENSE OF P. J. CURLEY HEARING.

President BALLANTYNE offered an order—That the expense of the hearing given by the City Council relative to charges against Patrick J. Curley be charged to the appropriation for City Council, incidental expenses.

Passed.

WIDENING OF NORFOLK STREET.

Coun. BRAND offered an order—That the sum of $100,000 be appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Board of Street Commissioners for the widening of Norfolk street, Dorchester, from Codman square to Dorr's Bridge, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized, with the approval of the Mayor, to issue bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, this order contemplates one of the most needed improvements in the great Dorchester section, one that we have been striving for in vain for the last few years. There is a similar loan order before the Committee on Finance, but, as it is evident that no action will be taken on a number of the loan orders before that committee, I take this method of bringing this matter before the Council at this time and urging its passage. Owing to the few members present to-day, I move you, sir, that the order be specially assigned to the next meeting of the Council.

The order was assigned to the next meeting of the Council.

TUNNEL, BAY STREET.

Coun. BRAND offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to recommend the transfer of the sum of $4,500 from the appropriation for Reserve Fund to a special appropriation for the construction of a tunnel under Bay street, through to Savin Hill Beach, Ward 20, of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad.

The PRESIDENT—The Chair will refer this order to the Executive Committee.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, I move a reconsideration of that reference. I rose and addressed the Chair just before you made the reference, and I think the least you could have done would have been to recognize me and give me a chance to say what I have to say.

President BALLANTYNE—The gentleman may proceed on the question of reconsideration.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, on November 14 I presented an order asking the Superintendent of Streets to make an estimate of the cost of constructing a tunnel at the end of Bay street, to allow of passage to the Savin Hill Playground and Savin Hill Beach. The Superintendent of Streets received the order through his Honor the Mayor and replied as follows:

"Re inclosed order of the City Council, you are respectfully informed that the estimated cost of constructing a subway under the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company's tracks at the end of Bay street is $4,500, not including any allowance for land damage. While the proposed subway would make a public passageway through to Savin Hill Beach, as suggested in inclosed order, it would also appear to be of decided value to the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, for the reason that it would provide a connection between their station for outbound travel and their station for inbound travel.

Respectfully,

L. K. ROURKE,
Superintendent of Streets."

The Superintendent of Streets has given his idea as to the value of the tunnel. It would save the people using Savin Hill Beach and the playground more than half a mile's travel, and would save the residents of that section who use the New Haven Railroad a good many miles' walk during the year. I feel that this is a small matter and one that should not be delayed, the amount involved being but $4,500. While I have no objection to reference to the Executive Committee, I certainly hope that the Council will to-day take some action in the matter. If it is to be done this winter, work should commence very soon. If the Superintendent of Streets feels that the New Haven Road can be induced to contribute in some way to the expense, I shall be very glad to have him use his efforts in that direction, but I hardly think you can get the road to assist in this needed improvement. I will, under the circumstances, withdraw my motion to reconsider, and allow the order to go to the Executive Committee.

The order stood referred to the Executive Committee.

RECESS.

The Council voted, on motion of Coun. ATTRIDGE, at 3.35 p. m., to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President BALLANTYNE at 3.53 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. ATTRIDGE, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

(1) Report on order (referred to-day) that ted Clerk of Committees be authorized to prepare and have printed an addition of 1,000 copies of a volume containing an account of the memorial exercises held by the City of Boston in honor of Julia Ward Howe—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

RANK AND SALARY OF GEORGE S. BURGESS.

CITY OF BOSTON.

Office of the Mayor

School Committee, Jan. 12, 1911.

Mason street,
Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen:—

In returning, without my approval the order of your Board changing the rank of George S. Burgess, chief clerk in the office of the Superintendent, to that of Secretary to the Superintendent, and establishing his salary at $3180 per year, to date from Jan. 1, 1911, I desire to call your attention to the fact that the position of chief clerk in the office of the Superintendent was held by Samuel J. Menard, who after eleven years of service in that position was in 1906 receiving a salary of only $2000 a year. In 1907 his salary was increased to $2400. To this position and salary Mr. Burgess succeeded on May 3, 1909. I am unable to agree that after so short a term of service his compensation should be materially increased, nor am I convinced that any duties which he may perform in the new position created by your honorable body, would be as responsible as those of the masters of grammar schools, many of whom have served twenty, thirty and even forty years in the positions which they occupy.

Yours very truly,
John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor.

Referred to the Chairman for conference with His Honor the Mayor.

DEFERRED ANNIVERSARIES DISCONTINUED; RANKS OF INSTRUCTOR AND ASSISTANT INSTRUCTOR, HIGH SCHOOLS.

A communication was received from the Superintendent, under date of Jan. 16, 1911, stating that under the existing regulations with reference to anniversaries, ranks, and salaries in Normal, high and Latin schools, serious difficulties arise in securing teachers, in administering the schools, and in determining equitable salaries and promotions. These difficulties arise because of the existence of the regulations providing for deferring the anniversaries of newly appointed teachers until Jan. 1 or Sept. 1 following the actual anniversaries of said appointments; because of the existence of the rank of instructor and of assistant instructor; and because the amount of annual increase in an instructor's salary differs from that of a junior-master.

In order to correct these difficulties, it is desirable that the School Committee take three actions.

First. To discontinue for all classes of teachers the practice of deferring the first increase in salary to the September or January following the anniversary of the date of appointment, and to provide instead thereof that the advance to the second year of the salary schedule, and subsequent advances, be made on successive anniversaries of the original date of appointment.

Second. To abolish the rank of instructor in Normal, high and Latin schools, and to appoint the present instructors as junior-masters, at such date and upon such year of the salary schedule as may be determined to be equitable in each separate case.

Third. To abolish the rank of assistant instructor in Normal, high and Latin schools, and to appoint the present assistant instructors as assistants, at such date and upon such year of the salary schedule as may be determined to be equitable in each separate case.
Placed on file.

On motion of the Superintendent, and under a suspension of the rules, it was ORDERED, That the present system of deferred advances in the salaries of teachers be discontinued after Sept. 1, 1911, and thereafter all teachers shall be advanced on their respective salary schedules upon succeeding anniversaries of the date upon which they began service in their latest rank.

On motion of the Superintendent, it was ORDERED, That the Board of Superintendents prepare and submit such amendments to the regulations as may be necessary, in order to adjust the promotional examinations to the proposed changes in anniversaries of teachers.

On motion of the Superintendent, it was ORDERED, That the Superintendent and Business Agent investigate and report as soon as may be on the advisability of abolishing the ranks of instructor and assistant instructor in high schools.

EXTENSION OF "THE PROGRESS SYSTEM."

A communication was received from the Board of Superintendents, under date of Jan. 13, 1911, to whom was referred at the meeting of Jan. 9, 1911 (see p. 218), a communication from Marian K. Brown, requesting the cooperation of the School Committee in the extension of "The Progress System" in the public schools, reporting that in the opinion of said board no further action should be taken at the present time with reference thereto.
Adopted, and placed on file.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS FOR DELIVERY OF COAL.

A communication was received from the Acting Auditor, under date of Jan. 14, 1911, stating that existing contracts for coal provide for its delivery up to Feb. 1, 1911, with the privilege on the part of the Board of extending such contracts to June 1, 1911, and he has prepared orders carrying into effect this extension, which have been submitted to and received the approval of the Corporation Counsel, who recommends that they be sent on Jan. 31, 1911.
Placed on file.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the contract for coal made between the School Committee and the Massachusetts Wharf Coal Company, under date of June 14, 1910, and providing for the delivery of coal up to Feb. 1, 1911, is hereby continued to June 1, 1911, as provided for in section 1 of the contract.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the contract for coal made between the School Committee and the Jordan-Burnham Coal Company, under date of June 14, 1910, and providing for the delivery of coal up to Feb. 1, 1911, is hereby continued to June 1, 1911, as provided for in section 1 of the contract.

USE OF OLD HORACE MANN SCHOOL-HOUSE FOR SUPPLY ROOM PURPOSES.

A communication was received from the Acting Auditor, under date of Jan. 16, 1911, requesting authority to use the whole of one small room and part of the large room on the ground floor of the Old Horace Mann School-house for supply room purposes, as the space now available for such uses at the Mason-street Building is inadequate.

Placed on file, the Acting Auditor authorized to occupy the Old Horace Mann School-house in accordance with his application, and the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners requested to make the necessary changes on the lower floor of said building.

EQUIPMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS WITH THERMOMETERS.

A communication was received from the Business Agent, under date of Jan. 16, 1911, in compliance with the request of the Board at the meeting of Dec. 5, 1910 (see p. 195), for an estimate on the cost of equipping old school buildings with a satisfactory type of thermometer, stating that a satisfactory mercury thermometer, accurate within one degree, can be purchased for $1.50. Thermometers of this type have been installed in all buildings of recent construction by the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners. The cost of dial thermometers with the same degree of accuracy would be prohibitive. Dial thermometers of any price within reason, say $3, are so inaccurate as to be unsuitable for school-room use.

Placed on file, and the Secretary directed to transmit a copy thereof to the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners, and to ascertain from the Corporation Counsel whether the expense of furnishing thermometers for completed and equipped school buildings should be at the expense of the School Committee or the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners.

PROTECTION OF PROPERTY IN SCHOOL BUILDINGS DURING VACATION.

A communication was received from the Business Agent, under date of Dec. 27, 1910, reporting the disappearance of a typewriter from the Girls' High School during the vacation last summer, and suggesting that the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners be held responsible for such losses when they occur during the periods when that Board is in full control of buildings.

Placed on file, and the Secretary directed to call the matter to the attention of the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners with a request that said Board take such steps as in its opinion may be necessary to secure the safety of school equipment during the summer vacation and to suggest the advisability of contractors employed in doing work in school buildings being required to file bonds to protect the city against losses caused by their negligence.

PHILADELPHIA ISSUES $5,000,000 30-YEAR BONDS FOR STREET REPAIRS.

A new record has been made on street repair work, 618,000 square yards of repairs to all classes of paving having been made between September 1 to October 1, while the Mayor was giving his personal attention to the work. He had been previously paying more attention to boulevard, parkway and comprehensive plans for posterity than to the present day needs. It is the purpose to so push the work to the end of the present year that an additional 500,000 yards of repairs may be completed before the New Year is ushered in. When the repairs were undertaken attention was first given to such dangerous spots as constituted a menace to the public, and there were many of these, with increasing possibilities for damage claims against the city. Each year the funds necessary for street repairs were lacking, and it was left for the Reburn administration to inaugurate the unprecedented policy of creating a bond issue for thirty years for $5,000,000 out of which to pay for street repairs. The work in the outlying sections has been completed to some extent and in the future the central portions of the city will receive consideration.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACT.

The Mayor, in view of the representations contained in the following communication, approved orders of the School Committee extending certain coal contracts with the Jordan, Burnham Coal Company and the Massachusetts Wharf Coal Company to June 1, 1911.

BOSTON SCHOOL COMMITTEE,
January 20, 1911.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD,
Mayor of Boston, City Hall:

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully return herewith two orders passed by the School Committee at its meeting of January 19, 1911, authorizing the extension of certain coal contracts to June 1, 1911, which were returned to me with request to furnish you with a statement of the reasons for the extension of these contracts, with the following explanation:

Contracts for furnishing the necessary coal for school buildings have been made for many years annually; that is to say, the contracts are made in the spring for the full year's supply and deliveries are made from time to time as needed.

Last year, under the provisions of the new city charter, the School Committee was unable to make contracts for the full year as usual, but only for the current financial year ending January 31, 1911. A provision was, therefore, inserted in these coal contracts to allow them to be extended at the option of the School Committee to June 1, 1911, without change in cost, and the orders which were passed and are now before you for approval are in accordance with this provision of the contracts, and thus continue the contracts for a full year. It is to the advantage of the School Committee to make coal contracts in the spring or early summer, in order that deliveries may be made during a time when the coal companies are best able to supply school buildings, rather than at or near the beginning of a fiscal year when the price of coal is likely to be higher.

Trusting this explanation is fully responsive to your inquiry, I remain,

Very truly yours,

THORNTON D. APOLLONIO,
Secretary.

THE PAVEMENTS OF GERMAN CITIES.

The consular representatives of this country in German cities occasionally send reports regarding their pavements which tend to create the impression that there are many novelties in use there. It may be of interest, therefore, to point out that the Society of Technical Superior Officers of German Cities sent out in 1909 a letter of inquiry regarding street pavements to every one of the eighty-five places having more than 50,000 population, and the replies received from eighty of them enabled Messrs. Bredtschneider, Hörburger, Eisenlohr and Fleck to compile a report which summarizes the subject in what may be termed a semi-official manner.

The smaller the towns, the greater is the surface of paved carriageway per inhabitant, the statistics show, and from this the conclusion is drawn that there are in these smaller towns a larger proportion of roadways leading out into the open and lined with dwelling houses than in the larger ones.

The better pavements occupy in the smaller towns 13.7 per cent, in the larger ones 30 per cent, and in Greater Berlin 79.3 per cent of the total roadway surface.

The improvement in the pavement consisted at first in the application of square dressed stones, which at first were set in coarse sand without joint filling. Somewhat later bedding and joint filling were introduced, as was also a combination of these. The larger the towns, the greater are the advances in this direction. The smaller towns show 8 per cent of pavements of this improved kind, the larger 18.4 per cent, and Greater Berlin 35.3 per cent.

The modern pavement in Germany is reported by these engineers to be asphalt, which, during the thirty years since its first introduction, has made its way to a greater or less degree into the majority of the towns, and covers in Greater Berlin 41.4 per cent, in Charlottenburg even 63.8 per cent of the total carriageway. It is formed on a bed of concrete 7.9 inches in thickness, and consists of bituminous limestone, which contains from 9 to 13 per cent of bitumen, and is obtained from the German mines of Limmer and Verwohle, in the Swiss mines in Val de Travers, in the Central Italian mines near San Valentino, and in the Sicilian mines near Ragusa and Scicli. A small part comes from the mines near St. Jean de Marvéjols in the south of France.

Wood pavement has not made its way in Germany to the extent that it has in France and England. Its manufacture as well as its maintenance comes considerably dearer than asphalt pavement without showing any corresponding practical advantages, the report states. It is, next to asphalt, one of the pavements most popular with the public; in general, however, its use is confined to places where rock asphalt is unsuitable, as on steep gradients. Wooden pavement is laid directly on the carefully smoothed surface of its 7.9 inches concrete bed.

In Germany the traffic statistics are not yet developed, though they are expected to attain considerable importance. It is commonly asserted that this or that kind of pavement has a life of this or that number of years, without it being realized that the closeness of the traffic almost entirely determines the life duration, and that it would be more correct to say, this or that pavement can withstand a traffic of so many thousand vehicles before becoming useless, or this or that kind of pavement requires, for the passage over it of a traffic of 1,000 vehicles, an annual cost of maintenance (including interest and amortisation) of this sum per square yard.

On the basis of counts the results of which are published and of others which were instituted in 1909 in Charlottenburg, the following conclusions may be drawn: a traffic density of more than about 10,000 vehicles in twenty-four hours in both directions, exclusive of trams, is to be found only in the busiest streets of Berlin; in the Leipziger Strasse as many as 24,000 have been counted. In the least frequented dwelling streets the density falls to about fifty to one hundred. Leaving out of account the busiest streets in Berlin, the streets in the capital itself and in other German towns may, as regards density of traffic, be divided into several classes. The first class comprehends the busiest streets, the traffic density of which, as counted, exceeds 6,000 vehicles in the twenty-four hours and the last one, the least frequented streets with a density ranging up to 500, the other three classes being divided between these. The two higher classes are reckoned as belonging to the business streets, the two lower ones being looked on as residence streets; between the business and residence streets lies the third class.

It would be of no advantage, the report states, to give very broad carriageways to streets with very busy traffic, with the object of distributing the latter more. As a rule, even on the broadest of carriageways, the traffic keeps to its accustomed tracks, and wears down the roadway surface in these, while the pavement between remains little used. In Germany carriageways without railway tracks which have a width of 36 to 52 feet are sufficient for the busiest traffic. In Charlottenburg, where noiseless pavement has come very extensively into use, the principle is followed, in case of original paving or repaving of the carriageways in streets of the first and second class, of carrying these out in rock asphalt of the best quality, except on slopes, where wood pavement is substituted; the streets of the fourth and fifth classes, however, receive noiseless surfaces of a cheaper kind, cast-asphalt kleinpflaster or tar-macadam.

Apart from Berlin and its suburbs, which, for future paving and repaving have decided to employ only noiseless surfacing, all German towns report that they in general make use of tar-macadam, kleinpflaster, and square-dressed pavement of graywacke and melaphyre stones without firm bedding for light traffic, and of square dressed stone and copper slag stone pavement without bedding for medium traffic, but that for close and heavy traffic they use, first, granite, porphyry, and greenstone, then rammed limestone asphalt and wooden pavement, and finally road-metal concrete, the latter for heavily loaded vehicles.—Engineering Record.

MUNICIPAL PAWN SHOP.

The next Legislature of Wisconsin will be asked to extend the city powers of Milwaukee to include the establishing of a municipal pawn shop.

OAKLAND AGAINST ANNEXATION.

Oakland is strenuously opposing the proposition of annexation with San Francisco. It desires to continue as a separate municipality, but the Greater San Francisco movement favors taking in all cities along the bay. The Chamber of Commerce of Oakland has passed the following resolution addressed to San Francisco, requesting that city to "Forget it." "Resolved, That at a time when there is being fostered and encouraged a larger unity of purpose between the cities about the bay of San Francisco in promoting the interests of all California and of co-operation in the effort to secure for San Francisco the Panama-Pacific Exposition of 1915, further agitation of annexation of other communities or consolidation of cities about the bay with San Francisco is inexpedient, tending to create antagonisms and divisions of sentiment which would be disastrous. We would, therefore, respectfully request that the citizens and business interests of San Francisco having its welfare at heart discontinue this discussion as ill advised and untimely."

BLOODHOUND SERVICE.

City Hall, January 21, 1911.

To the City Council:

The Superintendent of Streets, now having charge of certain rights and easements of the City of Boston in a parcel of land in that part of Boston called the Back Bay, situated between Hemenway street and the Fenway, being a portion of a parcel of land rights in which were acquired for the drainage of the waters of Stony brook on September 21, 1880, by deed of Dwight Foster et al., trustees, recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Book 1507, page 43, and by deed of the Boston Water Power Company of even date, recorded with said deeds, Book 1507, page 40, hereby notifies your honorable body that in his opinion the rights acquired as aforesaid in that portion of the land herein described are no longer required for public purposes and requests that your honorable body will authorize his Honor the Mayor, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston and in accordance with the provisions of chapter 25, section 50, of the Revised Laws of Massachusetts, to execute a deed releasing, for a nominal consideration, to the Old Colony Trust Company, as it is trustee for the Forsyth Dental Infirmary, a corporation duly established by law, all easements or other rights of the City of Boston in or over the following described portion of the land acquired as above, viz.:

FIREPROOF FITTINGS, REGISTRY OFFICE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 23, 1911.
To the City Council:

In response to the recommendation of the Executive Committee of your honorable body at its meeting of December 19, 1910, that I be requested to submit an order transferring the sum of nine thousand dollars ($9,000) from the Reserve Fund for additional fireproof fittings for the Registry of Deeds office, I beg to submit the appended letter from the Superintendent of Public Buildings, which advises me that after the customary advertisements in the City Record proposals were received for this work from the Art Metal Construction Company and the Van Dorn Iron Works Company, amounting, respectively, to $5,400 and $8,997.

I beg, therefore, to recommend the passage of the appended order, transferring the sum of fifty-four hundred dollars ($5,400) from the Reserve Fund to a special appropriation for fireproof fittings, Registry of Deeds office. As the need of these fittings is said to be urgent I suggest that your honorable body take immediate action upon the matter.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Office of Public Buildings Department,
January 16, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Regarding the matter of additional metal furnishings, etc., for the Registry of Deeds at the courthouse, Pemberton square, I wish to advise you that after having advertised in the City Record the following proposals were received at this office to-day and publicly opened and read.

Art Metal Construction Company, $5,400.
Van Dorn Iron Works Company, $8,997.

Yours respectfully,
M. J. Fish,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

Ordered, That the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer the sum of fifty-four hundred dollars ($5,400) from the appropriation for Reserve Fund to a special appropriation for fireproof fittings, Registry of Deeds office, to be expended under the supervision of the Superintendent of Public Buildings.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

APPROPRIATION FOR PARIS STREET GYMNASIUM.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 23, 1911.
To the City Council:

I beg to recommend to your honorable body the passage of the appended order, transferring the sum of six thousand dollars from the Reserve Fund to a special appropriation, to be expended by the Board of Bath Trustees for the Paris Street Gymnasium. A letter from the chairman of the Bath Trustees, attached hereto, gives the reasons for this additional appropriation, which seems to me to be urgent and to require immediate action.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Bath Department, January 10, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I respectfully request an additional appropriation of $6,000 for the completion of the new Paris Street Gymnasium in East Boston. The original appropriation of $75,000 has proved inadequate, on account of the changes in plans which have necessitated additional expenditures out of the original amount.

This request for additional appropriation is made necessary by reason of the installation of the different items with costs:

The installation of a cork floor running track.....$1,905
The construction of two ceilings in the two shower rooms.....$860

The lessening of the width of the troughs in the cement flooring between the showers,	$90
The construction of a door and transom into the locker room from the main vestibule.....	$100
The athletic and gymnasium supplies for the gymnasium.....	$2,500
The painting of the walls of the playrooms,	$132
The sinking of the electric lights in the hand-ball court.....	$50
The raising of the height of the door into the main shower room.....	$50
And a few minor details approximating.....	$6,000

As it is intended that the building shall be completed as near February 1 as possible I trust the urgency of this request will merit your immediate approval.

Very truly yours,
RICHARD M. WALSH,
Chairman Bath Trustees.

Ordered, That the sum of six thousand dollars ($6,000) be transferred from the appropriation for Reserve Fund to an appropriation for the Paris Street Gymnasium, to be expended under the direction of the Board of Bath Trustees.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS EXHIBITION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 23, 1911.
To the City Council:

I beg to transmit a communication from Mr. Curt M. Treat, secretary of the International Municipal Congress and Exposition, to be held in Chicago, September 18 to 30, 1911. In this communication the City of Boston, through its chief magistrate, is invited to take part in the exposition by arranging and forwarding an exhibition of some of its municipal undertakings. As an appropriation would naturally be required for this purpose, and action by your honorable body would be necessary, I desire to invite your consideration to the question whether the city ought to be represented at this congress and exposition, and if so in what manner and on what scale this exhibition ought to be arranged.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

International Municipal Congress and Exposition,
Chicago, December 27, 1910.

To His Honor the Mayor:

Dear Sir,—We are pleased to announce to the municipalities and to municipal officials that Hon. John McVicar has been selected for the position of commissioner general of the International Municipal Congress and Exposition, to be held in Chicago, September 18 to 30, 1911.

John McVicar is the best known authority in this country on all that pertains to municipal government and the administration affairs of cities. He has been in active service in municipal work for more than twenty years. He was named to the office of president of the League of American Municipalities upon its organization, fifteen years ago, and has ever since been actively connected with that organization, for the past ten years as secretary.

Mr. McVicar is at present a member of the commission and superintendent of streets and public improvements at Des Moines, Ia., which city has recently attracted much attention because of its advanced form of government. Previously he served that city as mayor for three years.

This congress and exposition above referred to will cover in a practical as well as theoretical manner matters of interest to all branches of municipal service. Upon each day of the congress papers will be read and discussed by prominent municipal officials, and prominent municipalities of this country and foreign countries will have attractive exhibits of municipal undertakings in which they excel. The manufacturers of municipal appliances will have elaborate exhibits that will interest and instruct municipal officials everywhere.

Your city is invited to place on exhibition some one or more prominent undertakings which have either been accomplished or are contemplated. And you are also most cordially invited, together with your official associates, to participate in the congress. Official delegate blanks will be sent you in due time.

Respectfully yours,
CURT M. TREAT, Secretary.
Referred to the Executive Committee.

INQUIRY CONCERNING BRIGHAM HOSPITALS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 23, 1911.
To the City Council:

I desire to invite the attention of your honorable body to my unavailing efforts, through correspondence with trustees and directors, to obtain information in regard to the plans of the trustees of the Robert Brigham and Peter B. Brigham Hospitals. As the outlay of the city for hospital relief supplements and is to some extent dependent upon the outlay from private sources it seemed to me that an inquiry addressed to the trustees of these great estates was perfectly legitimate and that it should have been met with entire candor and as full a disclosure of the plans for the institutions as reasonable discretion would permit. As yet, however, nothing has been disclosed and the city government, as well as the public at large, remains in almost entire ignorance of the method of disposition of two great funds intended by the testators to be applied to the alleviation of the sufferings of the people of this city. The president of the Board of Trustees of the City Hospital reports to me, under date of January 19, that he has corresponded with the trustees of both the Robert Brigham and the Peter B. Brigham estates, with no better results than have been obtained by me.

I suggest that an inquiry by some committee of your honorable body might be attended with a higher degree of success and in that event would repay you for the expenditure of your valuable time.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.
Referred to the Executive Committee.
(See action later, under "Executive Reports.")

CITY PLANNING EXHIBIT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 23, 1911.
To the City Council:

Since transmitting under date of January 11 a letter from Mr. Arthur E. Buchholz, personal representative of his Honor, Mayor Reyburn of Philadelphia, in gathering together an exhibition of city planning and housing conditions, I have been favored with a visit from Mr. Buchholz, and would respectfully report to your honorable body the nature of the conference and exhibition which is to be held.

The conference, which is expected to last three days, will be the third national conference on city planning, the two previous meetings having been held with great success in Washington and Rochester. During and following this convention there is to be held in the City Hall of Philadelphia a three weeks' exhibition of plans, models and other material bearing upon municipal problems and the remedies which may be applied to evils and imperfections in the existing order. Many American cities, including Baltimore, Washington, Chicago, Cleveland, St. Paul, New Haven, Providence and Hartford, as well as several foreign cities, have promised to be among the exhibitors.

The city of Philadelphia will pay for the transportation, care and return of all exhibits, will provide attendants, and guarantee sufficient wall space and floor area to do full justice to the resources and dignity of its sister cities. It has been suggested by Mr. Buchholz that some representative be selected to gather together all the material of Boston, whether contributed by private organizations or by the city, and in this way unify the exhibit and present it as a well-planned entity rather than a miscellaneous assortment of features interesting in themselves, perhaps, but likely to lose a part of their effectiveness through faulty arrangement. A large amount of material remaining from the Boston-1915 Exhibition has already been promised, and it is the earnest desire of the city authorities of Philadelphia that our own city should be represented.

As to the cost of a display worthy to be sent to this great conference and exhibition I can only report that the cost of preparing and installing in the old Art Museum during the National Education Conference in July the exhibits of the Bath, Park, Hospital, Health, Library, Street and Music Departments, previously displayed during the Boston-1915 Exhibition, was estimated at $1,050. The cost of the views and exhibits planned for the London Town Planning Conference in October, but not sent on account of lack of time, was estimated at $1,500.

These figures may be valuable to your honorable body in considering the question whether Boston ought to share with other leading American cities the honor and the profit of participation in the Philadelphia exhibition. My own opinion is that such exhibitions bring back tenfold their cost in the stimulation of thought and the awakening of a new spirit and higher aspirations toward progress in the things that pertain to government, and I would earnestly recommend appropriate action in such form as may commend itself to your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.
Referred to the Executive Committee.

business, viz.:

Board of Appeal for the term ending July 31, 1912.
2. Hubert Foster and William J. Wright, to be Weighers of Coal; Lindsey W. Churchill, James F.
Hayes and Fred W. Towle, to be Weighers of Beef;
Daniel T. Flynn and James D. Harrington, to be Weighers of Coal, Measurers of Wood and Bark,
Measurers of Grain, Weighers of Boilers and Heavy Machinery and Weighers of Beef; all for the term ending April 30, 1911.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, ballots cast 6, years 6, and the several appointments

That the bill of Frank B. Conlin, amounting to twenty dollars, for portraits of City Clerk, Clerk of Committees and City Messenger, lettering titles, and cartage and labor, for combination frame,
President's room, be approved and charged to the appropriation for City Council, incidental expenses.
Passed.

MONEY FOR CLERICAL ASSISTANCE.

Coun. ATTRIDGE offered an order—That the City Auditor be authorized to allow for payment, and the City Treasurer to pay, until the appropriation bill for 1911-12 is passed, expenditures for clerical assistance by the following officers at the rate named per annum in each case, viz.:

Dorchester, Ward 24.

SIDEWALK ORDERS.

Coun. BRAND offered an order—That the Superintendent of Streets make a sidewalk along
No. 1111 Blue Hill avenue, Ward 24, in front of

WIDENING OF NORFOLK STREET.

Coun. BRAND called up No. 4, special assignment, viz.:

4. Ordered, That the sum of $100,000 be appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Board of Street Commissioners for the widening of Norfolk street, Dorchester, from Codman square to Dorr's Bridge, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized, with the approval of the Mayor, to issue bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Assigned to the next meeting on motion of Coun. BRAND.

SALARY OF MISS COLA.

Coun. BUCKLEY offered an order—That the compensation of Miss Mary A. Cola, stenographer and typewriter for the Inspector of Claims, be at the rate of fifty dollars ($50) per month from January 1, 1911, said sum to be paid from the appropriation for City Council, incidental expenses.

Coun. BUCKLEY—In connection with that order I would like to say that this girl has been doing that work for several years, and she has a great deal of work to perform. In a private business $50 a month would not be considered large remuneration for her work. To a large extent it is legal, and she has to be extremely accurate in drawing up the reports. Certainly the $50 a month proposed is but a reasonable compensation, and I hope the order will prevail.

President BALLANTYNE—The question is on the rejection of the order. The Chair would call the attention of the Council to the rule relating to orders pertaining to the expenditure of money—that unless the order is rejected it must lie over one week for final action.

The order was not rejected and went over to the next meeting of the Council.

RECESS.

The Council, at 4.25 p. m., on motion of Coun. KENNY, took a recess, subject to the call of the Chair.

The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President BALLANTYNE at 5.17 p. m.

CONFERENCE CONCERNING TUNNEL, BAY STREET.

Coun. BRAND offered an order—That the Superintendent of Streets be requested to confer with the officials of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad concerning the construction of a tunnel under their tracks at Bay street, Ward 20, through to Savin Hill Beach, relative to what proportion of the cost of said construction said railroad would be willing to bear, and report his findings to the City Council at its next meeting.

Passed.

COUNTY ACCOUNTS.

Coun. ATTRIDGE, for the Committee on County Accounts, submitted report on the pay roll of the Register of Deeds (referred to-day), amounting to $3,818.02—that same be approved.

Report accepted; pay roll approved by the Council.

BOOKS FOR FIRE HOUSES.

In order that every member of the New York, fire department shall have interesting and instructive reading matter at his command the chaplains of the fire department, acting with the approval of Commissioner Waldo, have taken steps to establish in every fire house a library. For weeks Chaplains Knapp, Smith, McGronen and Handel have discussed plans by which the firemen might be entertained and instructed during their long hours in quarters. Chief Croker is co-operating in the work. It was the desire of the chaplains to bring about the establishment of a special library for the firemen and the commissioner took steps to interest those who are in a position to assist such a plan. Meantime, however, in order that the firemen shall have the benefit of such reading matter as they desire, arrangements have been made with the Public Library for a special supply of books. The commissioner has designated Chaplain Knapp as the librarian for Manhattan, Bronx, and Richmond, and Chaplain McGronen as librarian for Brooklyn and Queens.

A free circulating library in every fire engine house of the city of Pittsburg Pa., is one of the possibilities of the very near future. This move doubtless will be expedited by the fact that to meet the educational and recreative needs of New York firemen an eight-foot shelf of books, specially suited to meet the wants of the fire fighters of Gotham is to be established by the New York Public Library in every station.

When the matter was called to the attention of Samuel Harden Church, secretary of the Carnegie Institute Board, he said: "It is a capital idea and I am sure it could be worked successfully in Pittsburg. At present there are 175 branch distributing centers of the Carnegie Library located in different sections of the city to enable book lovers to secure books so you see the New York idea is not altogether a new one. I see no objection to the plan and rather favor the idea of providing the firemen with books."

The New York plan originated from the fact that many firemen applied to public libraries near the stations for technical treatises on engines and hydraulics, as well as for novels.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

PHILADELPHIA'S SEWERAGE SYSTEM.

In a recent address before the City Club, Mr. George S. Webster, chief of the bureau of surveys of Philadelphia, Penn., gave a brief description of the sewerage system of that city, which we abstract as follows:

The city of Philadelphia has at present two systems of disposing of its sewage. The first and largest is the combined system; that is, where the sewage and storm water are conveyed in one channel and discharged into the adjacent stream. The other, which is confined to a comparatively small area of the city, is on the separate system, the storm water being discharged into nearby streams and the sewage carried by means of an intercepting sewer along the banks of the Schuylkill to a point below the Fairmount dam, where the water works intake and pumping plant are located.

In designing the sewers during the past few years the idea of ultimately treating the sewage has been considered and intercepting sewers have been built along all of the large streams. Ultimately the sewage from all of these will be collected at a central point for treatment.

In going over the records of the bureau from the year 1886 it was found that 238,096 permits for connections with buildings have been taken out. The city of Philadelphia contains 358,255 buildings, which would indicate that a little over 66 per cent of the buildings are connected with sewers.

The fact that one-third of the buildings are not connected with the sewers implies the existence of many old-fashioned privies and cesspools in the city. The health department last year abated nuisances from about 20,000 leaky or full privy wells, and there are said to be still about 20,000 privies in the city. It has been necessary, however, to issue permits for 275 new ones during the past year or two, in districts not adequately sewered.

The experimental plant at which the city is studying the problem of treating its sewage has already been described in the "Municipal Journal and Engineer." Plans are now being prepared for the collection and treatment of all sewage, and a plant on the banks of Pennypack creek is now nearing completion, at which will be purified the sewage from a section of the city which drains to the Delaware river. This disposal plant consists of reinforced concrete tanks for sedimentation, these being of the Emscher type. The effluent from these tanks will pass into a constant head tank and thence, by means of a mechanical distributing device, to nozzles which will sprinkle it upon sprinkling filters about one acre in area. The effluent from these filters will pass into a final sedimentation basin, a part of which is divided off for experimenting with the use of hypochlorite of lime. The sludge from the sedimentation tanks will be run upon a prepared sludge lagoon and after drying upon this will probably be spread upon low land.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

BALTIMORE'S LIMITED AREA.

The population of Baltimore (1910) is 558,485. The area of the city is but 31 square miles. The population per square mile is about 18,000, which is the densest of any city in the United States, Greater New York not excepted. If Baltimore were to add 15 square miles of its adjoining territory its population would be 683,000 and then its area would not be as large as any city of its class, or even some which have less than 100,000 people.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

On January 28 the Mayor, in view of the representations contained in the accompanying communications, approved a contract made, without advertising, with Alvin T. Fuller for the purchase of a Packard three-ton motor truck, the price being $3,400, f.o.b. factory.

December 23, 1910.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor:

DEAR SIR,—Our Board requests your approval to the making of a contract, without advertising, for the purchase of a Packard three-ton motor truck, which would greatly facilitate the work of the department.

The machines offered in the market are of such varied merit that it would seem useless to advertise for proposals; besides, our superintendent has made a careful investigation of the various makes, and we append hereto his report.

The price of the motor truck is $3,400, f.o.b. factory.

Yours respectfully,

ROBERT S. PEABODY,
Chairman.

December 14, 1910.

ROBERT S. PEABODY, Esq., Chairman:

DEAR SIR,—Your superintendent feels that in the interests of economy your department should employ a motor truck in the large amount of express or carrying work we have to do. We employ three single express wagon equipments; even these are not able to handle all the work; the carrying of heavy materials, such as concrete posts, lime, cement, etc., has to be done by heavier teams. We think a motor truck of three tons capacity will do all this work, and that it will be better and more promptly done. At the present time the service is slow and inefficient on account of the pooriness of the stock. The service is hard and the horses are worn out. A new equipment would be needed at once unless a motor is decided upon for the work.

We have for the past two months been conducting practical tests, under the supervision of Mr. Putnam and Mr. Conley, our mechanic, trucks from the various firms being placed at our disposal for a day or two at a time, doing our regular work of transportation. I have, myself, given considerable attention to the matter. The resultant opinion is that the Packard machine, while not the lowest in price, is in most respects the best suited to our needs.

The condition of our maintenance account will permit of a draft being made for its purchase and charged to that account. This I earnestly recommend to your approval.

Mr. Putnam's report and a list of prices of the machines offered is herewith appended. The prices do not include the wagon box; this we propose to make in our own shops.

Respectfully yours,

J. A. PETTIGREW,
Superintendent.

Prices of motor trucks, f.o.b. factory:
White chassis, $3,145; Grabowsky chassis, $3,200; Gramm chassis, $3,250; Packard chassis, $3,400; Knox chassis, $3,850.

On January 30 the Mayor, in view of the accompanying communications, approved a contract with the Concrete Engineering Company, made without advertising, for furnishing cast concrete columns, pilasters, girders, flower boxes and roof slabs for the shelters in the Prince Street Playground, according to plans prepared by William Downes Austin, architect, the contract price for said material to be $1,893.

PARK DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, December 22, 1910.

HON JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor:

DEAR SIR,—Attached hereto is a note to Mr. Austin which explains why we should like to let the contracts for certain work around the Prince Street Playground, drawings for which I showed you a few days ago, without advertising. Mr. Austin's letter explains fully the reasons for this. Will you kindly write us authority to give the contracts without advertisement? You will remember they are to be paid for partly from the balance we have in hand and partly from a sum of about $3,000 which you have transferred from an unexpended balance to cover this work.

Yours very truly,
ROBERT S. PEABODY,
Chairman.

STICKNEY & AUSTIN, ARCHITECTS,
50 BROMFIELD STREET, BOSTON,
December 21, 1910.

R. S. PEABODY, ESQ.,
Chairman Park Department:

DEAR SIR,—Mr. Clark says that the Mayor has authority to permit the letting of a contract without public advertising if there is a good reason. In the case of the Prince Street Playground I think the power could be properly exercised because of the shortness of time. To publicly advertise would take at least a week and probably two, for our drawings would have to be more definitely completed and blue printed, specifications and contracts drawn up, etc., whereas if we can obtain the Mayor's sanction I could start some concern within twenty-four hours casting the columns, before the technicalities of a contract were completed.

I would suggest one contract or agreement for casting and setting all concrete and furnishing and setting necessary steel beams and iron work. Another agreement might be made for the carpenter work (benches and lattice work) and the painting could be made a third contract. I suppose there would be time to explain the existing drawings to two or three other concerns and get quick proposals from them, concerns like Emerson & Norris and Aberthaw Construction Company. So far my interviews have been only with the Concrete Construction Company, who furnished the approximate bid sent you. There are not many other firms competent to do this work well, and that is another reason for not publicly advertising.

Mr. Hogue of the Concrete Construction Company told me this morning that if his concern had the contract within a few days he believed the work could all be done by January 31, although it would require some hustling. In the meantime, while waiting your orders in the matter, I will consult the other firms and get from each of them a quick proposal so that we may be ready to go ahead whenever the word is given.

Yours truly,
WILLIAM D. AUSTIN.

CONTRACTS EXTENDED.

"This work can, in my opinion, be as advantageously done by day labor methods as any work now necessary. Public necessity and convenience require that this work be done after November 15, for which your authority is requested.

L. K. ROURKE,
Superintendent of Streets."

"The extension of this contract is recommended in order to allow time to make further investigations of methods of street lighting by gas, and to make preparations for awarding a contract for a longer period.

L. K. ROURKE,
Superintendent of Streets."

REFUSE COLLECTION IN ENGLAND.

In England the house refuse is not separated, but garbage, ashes and all other materials are deposited in the same receptacle. In London, in the Borough of St. Pancras, the collection is carried on by employees of the local authority. The collection of street refuse also is made by Borough Council's employees, but its removal from the streets is by contract. Each contractor bids to remove the whole of the street refuse in one of the eight wards of the borough for a stated sum during one year.

For removing house refuse, wagons are used having a capacity of five cubic yards, two men accompanying each wagon. The collection is made during the day time, but in certain localities police regulations forbid collections after 10 a. m. and it is confined between seven and ten in the morning. Generally but one collection a week is made, although in some of the more densely occupied localities this is increased to two or three times, and from certain institutions it is collected daily.

In the Borough of St. Marylebone the house refuse is collected and disposed of by contract, usually running for one, two or three years. The contract price for the year ending March 31, 1910, was $51,930. The rubbish is carried from the houses to the wagons in strong wicker baskets or metal receptacles. As in the case of St. Pancras, the collection is made over most of the territory during the entire day, but ceases after 10 a. m. in certain business localities.

In Islington the material is removed by employees of the borough under contract of the borough engineer. The borough is divided into districts each containing about 2,400 houses, and each district is served by a gang consisting of four loaders, three drivers and three wagons. The time of collection is from 7.30 a. m. to 5.30 p. m. Householders are required to provide one or more movable receptacles of metal having a capacity of not more than two cubic feet, but sufficient in number to hold one week's accumulation of refuse. Refuse from restaurants, hotels, etc., is collected two or three times a week and in some cases daily; but general house refuse is collected but once a week. A charge of 4 cents a basket is made for removing trade refuse. All refuse is carted to stations adjoining railways and is there dumped into railway cars and disposed of to farmers and others along the line of the road. In Paddington Borough refuse is collected from about nine-tenths of the area by the Borough Council and from the remaining one-tenth by contractors. Collection is made between 6 a. m. and 6 p. m.

In Liverpool the refuse is collected by the city by day labor exclusively. It approximates 1,000 tons per day. It is burned in municipal destructors; except that what is suitable is sold as fertilizer. This includes refuse from fruit markets, fish markets, etc.

In Edinburgh the refuse is handled by the municipal employees. The city ordinances require that all fine waste material be placed on a street or court in a pail, bucket or other suitable vessel; that all waste paper be tied up in bundles, and that these be placed on the street or court between 6.30 in the morning and the time the refuse wagon makes its call; and that the receptacles be removed from the street within thirty minutes after being emptied. There are 581 men and 54 boys employed in this work at an average pay of $6.10 and $3 per week, respectively. Of the 125,000 tons of refuse last year, farmers took 21,600 tons of street sweepings and stable manure and a destructor consumed about 15,500 tons; but the bulk of the refuse was used for filling in arable or pasture land about seven and one-half miles from the city. During the year the department received from farmers $3,031 for street sweepings and $1,634 for stable manure, delivered by rail; the railway freight being 16 cents per ton on this material and 20 cents per ton on that used for filling as above referred to. The cost of burning in the destructor was 63 cents per ton. Deducting revenues from the sale of manure, clinker, old tin, etc., and other revenues, making in all about $16,997, the net cost of cleaning the streets and cleaning and disposing of the refuse was $244,051. The city is expecting to dump its refuse in the future in exhausted limestone quarries about ten and one-half miles from the city limits, purchased for this purpose.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

ROAD BUILDING IN MARYLAND.

Under a loan of $5,000,000 Maryland is building about 400 miles of roads. Contracts have been let for 190 miles, and about 90 miles have been accepted. The work of the state has greatly stimulated road work by the counties.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

Boston, January 28, 1911.

HON. JOHN A. SULLIVAN,
Chairman Finance Commission:

DEAR SIR,—In your recent report for 1910, addressed to the Legislature, I find the following statement:

"The clerks of the city are paid much more than the clerks employed by the federal government or by the Commonwealth. A comparison of salaries now paid by the Commonwealth to cashiers, tellers, paymasters, bookkeepers, clerks and stenographers with salaries paid by the City of Boston to such employees shows that the latter are 50 per cent higher on the average."

I assume that you did not intend to exclude the School Committee from the list of city departments, and would respectfully invite your attention to what seems to be a flagrant instance of overpayment proposed by the retiring School Board.

On January 9, 1911, the School Board voted that the salary of George S. Burgess should be increased from $2,400 to $3,180, the latter sum being equal to the maximum salary of the masters of the elementary schools. The duties of Mr. Burgess, as I understand them, are merely those of chief clerk in the office of the superintendent. They do not call for the assumption of any unusual responsibility or for the exercise of exceptional discretion. Essentially the same duties were performed by the late Samuel J. Menard for many years at a salary of $2,000, and at the time of his death in December, 1908, he was drawing only $2,400. Mr. Burgess has been in the employ of the city only about a year and a half and the mere change in the title of his office, proposed in connection with his increase of salary, does not seem to me to effect any alteration in the character of the work which he performs. Certainly his duties cannot be compared with those of the secretary of the School Board, who, in 1906, after ten years of service, was receiving only $3,300, or with those of the chief clerks of the larger departments, like the Street and Park Departments, only one of whom receives a salary equal to that which it is proposed to pay Mr. Burgess.

I respectfully invite your attention to this proposed increase, which seems strikingly inconsistent in view of the reiterated plea of poverty offered by the School Committee as a reason against advancing the salaries of the elementary school teachers without the imposition of new burdens upon the taxpayers of the city. An expression of opinion from your Board, taking the form of a vigorous protest, might be considered by the public to be timely on this occasion.

Yours very truly,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD,
Mayor.

BOSTON, February 1, 1911.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor:

SIR,—On September 24, 1910, your Honor requested the Finance Commission to consider whether the Legislature should be asked for authority to transfer to the state the duty of providing for boys now sent to the Suffolk School for Boys at Rainsford Island and there maintained at the expense of the City of Boston.

The commission has considered the question and respectfully submits its report herewith.

The financial question involved is whether the Commonwealth should pay for the care of Boston boys, such as are now sent to the Suffolk School, as it does for boys who live in other cities and towns in the state and are sent to state institutions; or whether the City of Boston should continue the maintenance of the Suffolk School at its sole expense, and at the same time pay about 35 per cent (as its share of the state tax) of the cost of all similar institutions in the state.

The city pays about $50,000 annually for maintaining the Suffolk School. If it were maintained by the state the city would pay only its share of the state tax for this institution, about one-third of the entire cost, and would thus save about $33,000 a year.

The opportunity to save this large amount of money should not be neglected by the city unless it should appear that the boys transferred to the state schools would not be as well taken care of as they are at the Suffolk School. In order to learn whether the transfer would be beneficial, the Finance Commission caused an investigation to be made of the conditions existing at the Suffolk School for Boys, the Lyman School at Westboro, and the Industrial School for Boys at Shirley. As a result of this investigation the commission has concluded that the condition of the boys would on the whole be improved by the transfer.

The following objections, however, were raised to the transfer:

1. That the state schools, by reason of their distance from the city and the cost of transportation, would be inaccessible to many Boston parents.

2. That boys of the Catholic faith might upon reaching the probation period be placed out with families of a different faith, if the duty of placing out were transferred from the trustees of the Boston school to the trustees of the state schools.

3. That more Boston boys would be taught farming and fewer would receive industrial training if they were sent to the state schools.

4. That fewer probationers would be placed with their own families by the trustees of the state schools than are so placed by the trustees of the Suffolk School, and that consequently there would be more estrangements between children and parents.

CONSIDERATION OF THESE OBJECTIONS.

1. Inaccessibility.—The City of Boston now furnishes free passage on the boat which goes to the Suffolk School at Rainsford Island, but it would cost 75 cents for a round trip to the Lyman School at Westboro; $1.22 on the Boston and Maine Railroad, and $1.30 on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, for a round trip to the Berlin Branch of the Lyman School, and $1.82 for a round trip to the Shirley School. If the parents of the boys were obliged to incur this expense the number of visits would undoubtedly be lessened, as the parents of such children are usually poor. Boston parents would then be in the same position as parents who reside in other cities and towns of the Commonwealth, as the latter are obliged to pay for their transportation to the state institutions, and in many cases from points at a greater distance than the distance between such institutions and the city of Boston. If the law permits it, an appropriation could be made by the city to pay for the transportation of Boston parents. The amount needed for this purpose would not be more than $2,000 and probably would not exceed $1,000. If the city should appropriate the money Boston parents would be able to make as many visits to the state institutions as they now make to the Suffolk School. Moreover, the visits would be longer in duration, as the rules of the Suffolk School restrict such visits to one half-hour once a month, whereas at the Lyman School a two-hours' visit once a month is permitted, at the Berlin Branch of the Lyman School one visit a month is permitted and the visitor may remain all day if he chooses, and at the Shirley School one visit a month is permitted for a time as long as the superintendent sees fit to allow.

2. Religious Difficulties.—It is admitted that the opportunities for religious instruction at the Lyman and Shirley Schools are as good as those afforded at the Suffolk School, and no complaints of discrimination against boys of any faith have been made so far as religious instruction at the schools themselves is concerned. On the other hand, it is admitted that the trustees of the Lyman School have not found Catholic homes for as large a percentage of their Catholic boys who have reached the probation period as the trustees of the Boston institution have. Thus the Superintendent of the Lyman School probationers, in a report made in August of last year, said:

"Of the boys at board, 31 Protestant boys are in Protestant homes, 15 Catholic boys in Catholic homes, and 35 Catholic boys in Protestant homes. . . . Of the boys in the second list, those earning wages and self-supporting, 52 Protestant boys are in Protestant homes, 13 Catholic boys in Catholic homes, and 58 Catholic boys in Protestant homes."

From this it appears that of 121 Roman Catholic boys in the placing-out division of the Lyman School, 93, or 76.8 per cent, had been placed with Protestant families, and only 28, or 23.2 per cent, had been placed with people of their own faith. But the list of Suffolk School boys, on November 14 of last year, showed that of the 33 boarded out or indentured all had been placed with people of their own faith; and 29 of these boys were Roman Catholics. Notwithstanding these facts the reports of the superintendent of the Lyman School indicate that constant efforts are being made to find homes for children in families of their own faith, and the co-operation of Catholic clergymen is earnestly sought. It also appears that even though children are not placed in the homes of people of their own faith an attempt is made to have such children attend the church to which their parents belong. In such cases the following notice is sent to the pastor:

WESTBORO, MASS.

To the pastor of.....Church,

Owing to our inability to find a suitable

Catholic home for..... we have temporarily placed him withMr.
where he is at work for wages.
at board.

We bespeak your interest and kind offices in his behalf. He is instructed to attend your church regularly.

Yours very truly,

Visitor.

Lyman School for Boys.

The Finance Commission believes that the trustees of the Lyman School can succeed as well as the trustees of the Children's Institutions Department of Boston in placing children out with families of their own religious faith; and it is confident that after the proposed transfer has been made the placing-out will be conducted with a scrupulous regard for the religious sentiments of the children, their parents and the entire community. This branch of the work should be transacted so as to leave no possible room for legitimate complaint from people of any religious belief.

3. Unsuitable Training for City Boys.—It has been urged that more Boston boys would be taught farming at the state schools and thus made less fit for city vocations. The commission believes that the opportunities to learn farming, which the state schools afford, would benefit Boston boys who are now denied such opportunities at the Suffolk School. The many advantages of farm training for boys who have lived under unwholesome physical and moral conditions in the city are obvious. There are, however, at the state schools ample facilities for giving industrial training to such boys as are not adapted to farm work. Thus, although the facilities for making shoes at the Suffolk School are better than at the Lyman School, the latter school has greater opportunity for training in carpentry, cabinet work, woodturning, blacksmithing, laundry work, masonry and painting. The facilities for industrial training at the Shirley School seem well adapted for the uses of the class of boys who are sent there. At both institutions there is plenty of land available for the erection of new buildings which may be required to increase the facilities for manual training. At the Suffolk School, owing to the small quantity of land, there are no opportunities for such expansion.

The commission believes that the welfare of the boys who are now sent to the Suffolk School would be promoted in a high degree if they were allowed to embrace the more liberal opportunities for both agricultural and industrial training which the state schools afford.

4. Family Estrangements.—It has been said that as the Lyman School trustees place out a smaller proportion of probationers with their own families than the trustees of the Suffolk School do, there would be more estrangements between parents and children if the Suffolk School boys were put under the control of the trustees of the Lyman School. In the year ending January 31, 1910, about 72 per cent of the boys released from the Suffolk School on probation were sent to their own homes; and in the year ending November 30, 1909, only about 57 per cent of those released from the Lyman School on probation were sent home. The purpose underlying the action of the two Boards is the same, namely, to secure for each boy the best home available, both Boards giving great weight to the influence of family life in the development of character. The difference in results seems to be due to the different standards of fitness to receive children which each Board sets for the families of such children. The Finance Commission does not undertake to decide as to which of the two methods is better adapted to reform the boys. It believes, however, that the care and custody of such boys is a proper state function, and that the city of Boston, like all other municipalities in the state, should leave this function to be exercised by the state, confident that it will be exercised in a satisfactory manner.

The commission believes that none of these objections herein enumerated are of sufficient weight to induce your Honor to refrain from endeavoring to secure the financial advantage to the city and the many advantages to the boys which would result from the transfer in question.

THE ADVANTAGES OF THE TRANSFER.

1. At the Lyman and Shirley Schools the boys are distributed in cottages, thus removing to some extent the institutional appearance of the schools and giving them a greater resemblance to family life. The boys thus housed are more comfortable and at the same time are brought under better discipline than if a large number of them were confined to one building. On the other hand, all the boys at the Suffolk School, except a few who are kept in a small building at the Point, are housed in one main building built more than eighty years ago, formerly used as an almshouse, and resembling a prison more than a modern reform school.

At the Suffolk School there is far less opportunity than at the state schools for grouping the boys according to age and conduct. At the former school the separation of the younger and more innocent from the older and more hardened offenders, a vital feature in enlightened correctional work, cannot be effected to the extent that is necessary.

2. The bathing facilities at both the Lyman and Shirley Schools are superior to those at the Suffolk School. At the Lyman School there is a swimming pool of 56,000 gallons capacity and shower baths in the gymnasium. At both the Lyman and Shirley Schools there is a shower bath in every cottage. At the Suffolk School, however, the shower baths are located in a wash room in the basement of the main building and must serve not only all the boys who are housed in the main building but also those who are kept in the small building at the Point.

3. The facilities for recreation at the state schools are greatly superior to those of the Suffolk School. There are more opportunities for baseball, football, skating, coasting and other outdoor sports. At the Shirley School the boys have plenty of open space to play in; they have one regular playground; they also have sitting rooms in each cottage, and in one of the cottages a large playroom which occupies the entire basement. At the Lyman School there is a gymnasium 60 feet by 50 feet; and each cottage has a playground of its own. There is a sitting room and a basement playroom in each of the cottages except two or three of the older ones.

In all these respects the Suffolk School is deficient. It has no gymnasium. It has only one regular playground one and one-half acres in size. There is one playroom 30 feet by 76 feet in the main building, and a playroom 18 feet by 45 feet connected with the small building on the Point. There are no sitting rooms in either building. In short, as compared with the state schools, the recreation facilities at the Suffolk School are decidedly inferior.

4. In respect to the amount of land at the city and the state institutions, the opportunity for erecting additional buildings and the relative amount of room per inmate, the state schools are vastly superior to the Suffolk School, as shown in the following table:

SCHOOL.	Acres.	Inmates.	Acres per Inmate, Approximately.
Suffolk.....	11	106	$\frac{1}{10}$
Lyman	259	320	$\frac{1}{4}$
Shirley.....	889	97	9 $\frac{1}{2}$

In respect to the hospital facilities, the medical treatment of inmates, the facilities for general education and for religious devotion, the state institutions are at no disadvantage as compared with the Suffolk School for Boys; and in none of these respects would the Suffolk School boys suffer should the suggested transfer be made. In many other respects already noted the condition of the boys would be greatly improved by the transfer.

The commission has noted that in 1908 a committee of the Common Council made a report which recognized the unfitness of the existing buildings and the lack of necessary buildings for the purposes of the Suffolk School, but recommended its retention by the city, a recommendation apparently based largely upon the belief that the additional land required could be obtained by filling in along the water front. In 1909 an appropriation of $5,000 was made for filling in, but as the lowest price bid for filling in a single acre was far in excess of the total appropriation the project was abandoned.

Successive Boards of Trustees have been of the opinion that the school at Rainsford Island should be abandoned, the only difference of opinion among them being as to whether the duty of caring for such boys should be taken over by the state or whether the city should continue the work by providing a new school on the mainland. The cost of such a new school, however, seems to have been regarded by the city government as prohibitive. To provide for these boys according to modern standards would require four cottages, a school, a hospital, a gymnasium, officers' quarters, several shops for use in industrial training, machinery, tools, furniture and other equipment. The plant, exclusive of the land, would cost from $250,000 to $300,000. A way to meet this heavy expense was provided by chapter 359 of the Acts of 1901, which authorized the City Treasurer to issue bonds to the amount of $300,000 for this purpose, the act to become effective upon acceptance by the City Council. The act was never accepted and no effort has since been made to provide a new school on the mainland.

Since 1905 a minority of the Board of Trustees has persistently urged the abandonment of the Suffolk School and the transfer of its functions to the state. In a report for the year 1909-10 three of the seven trustees stated their views as follows:

"For some years there has been a growing conviction on the part of the undersigned members of the Board of Trustees that the time has come for the city to abandon the Suffolk School.

"Beginning in 1905, for the last five years we have been calling attention to the utter inadequacy of the institution for the work it is supposed to do. Out of date, out of repair, and needing so much to bring the school up to standard as to be out of the question from any economic point of view, the institution is kept going almost entirely through the personality of the superintendent and some of his staff.

"It is costing the city more per boy to give less advantages and training than the state for the same class of work.

"In the Lyman School and in the new industrial school for boys at Shirley, the state has now established and maintains institutions capable of giving this class of boys of the whole state suitable accommodation and training.

"Boston is paying approximately 40 per cent of the expense of these schools and has equal privilege with the rest of the state to have its boys taken care of in these institutions. Yet Boston insists on duplicating these expenses to run its own local school as a survival of an old system that has long disappeared from the rest of the state. There is not a single argument to justify this, yet it remains as a monument of the inertia that handicaps a modern city's development when the improvement calls for cutting salaried places from the city pay roll.

"The boys would have better facilities for being trained in the state institutions at less cost. The distribution of the state boys among the Lyman School, Shirley School and Concord Reformatory offers a greater protection to the individual youth and better facility for the adequate handling of the needs of certain boys than can be afforded at the Suffolk School, where 150 boys are placed together more or less entirely on an age basis. It must be only a question of time when the city abandons this waste of money and of youths. We recommend that it be now, and that the Legislature of 1910 be asked for authority to transfer to the Lyman and Shirley Schools the boys now at Rainsford Island and that the Suffolk School be abandoned."

The Finance Commission agrees with the views expressed in your Honor's letter of September 24, 1910, which quotes an extract from the minority opinion and in commenting upon it states that you "do not find that the majority report fairly meets and answers this criticism."

PLACING-OUT DIVISION.

In the course of its investigation the attention of the Finance Commission was called to another duplication by the Children's Institutions Department of work performed by the state, namely, the placing out of children directly committed to the trustees by the courts. The neglected and dependent children from all municipalities in the Commonwealth, except the City of Boston, are committed to the custody of the State Board of Charity. It is only in the City of Boston that a local agency is maintained for the placing out of such children. Here neglected and dependent children are committed to the custody of the Children's Institutions trustees and by them placed out in homes. Most of the objections which have already been discussed with reference to the transfer of the Suffolk School to the state may also be urged against the transfer of the Placing-Out Division of the Children's Institutions Department to the state. The commission has considered these objections and believes that they do not afford sufficient reason for preventing the transfer. Moreover, the city could save an even larger amount of money by the transfer of this function than it could by the transfer of the Suffolk School. Thus the Placing-Out and Office Division of the department in 1909-10 cost the City of Boston $96,691.89, and the estimated expense in the present year is $102,294.85, as against the expenditures for the Suffolk School of $52,960.97 and $46,660 for the same years. If both of these functions now exercised by the Children's Institutions Department and costing the city about $149,000 a year were transferred to the state the city would save hereafter approximately $96,000 a year. Even if $2,000 should be appropriated for the transportation of parents, as previously suggested, the saving would still be about $94,000 a year.

PARENTAL SCHOOL.

The Children's Institutions trustees have, besides the duty of maintaining the Suffolk School and the Placing-Out and Office Division, the duty of maintaining a school for truants, known as the Parental School, at West Roxbury. During the course of the commission's investigation of the question of transferring the Suffolk School to the state, certain immoral practices among the boys at the Parental School were revealed. The commission's counsel, with the aid of an expert stenographer, conducted an inquiry at the school itself. The testimony taken in this examination has been forwarded to your Honor. With all the facts in your possession your Honor is in a position to take any action in the case that seems to be necessary. The commission, for reasons already stated in private communications to your Honor, does not believe it to be in the public interest to disclose the facts elicited in this investigation; but if your Honor should take another view of the case there is nothing to prevent a full disclosure by you of all the facts.

The commission respectfully suggests that your Honor consider the abolition at a later date of the Parental School. It seems probable that an extension of the School Committee's present system of disciplinary classes and a further improvement in the methods of truant officers would render the maintenance of the Parental School unnecessary.

LEGISLATION REQUESTED.

The commission reached its conclusions respecting the proposed transfer shortly before the time expired in which bills could be introduced in the Legislature, and as the transfer must be authorized by the Legislature the commission filed a bill and petition requesting such authority. A copy of the bill is hereto annexed. Its purpose is to reduce gradually the number of inmates of the Suffolk School by prohibiting commitments thereto after the date of the passage of the bill and by transferring the present inmates to the state schools from time to time. The transfer of the inmates is to be made by the trustees of the Children's Institutions Department with the consent and approval of the State Board of Charity.

The bill also provides that the Children's Institutions trustees shall not accept further commitments or applications for the care of neglected or dependent children, and that all future commitments of such children and applications for the custody of them shall be made to the State Board of Charity. It is provided that all powers and duties of the trustees of the Children's Institutions Department respecting the placing out of children committed to their care or committed to the Suffolk School shall be exercised and performed by the State Board of Charity. It is also provided that if the number of inmates of the Suffolk School shall be reduced to fifty at any time within two years the remaining inmates shall be placed out, transferred or released, and the Suffolk School for Boys thereupon discontinued. At the end of two years the remaining inmates, whether more or less than fifty, shall be removed from the Suffolk School and the school thereupon abandoned.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

Chairman.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Eleven.

An Act Relating to the Suffolk School for Boys, and the Transfer of Certain Powers and Duties from the Children's Institutions Department of the City of Boston to the State Board of Charity.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

SECTION 1. No commitment of any child shall hereafter be made by any court to the Suffolk School for Boys. Boys in the City of Boston who, under laws existing at the time this act takes effect, might be committed to the Suffolk School for Boys, may instead thereof be committed according to their ages, and subject to the provisions of law governing such commitments, to the Lyman School for Boys or to the Industrial School for Boys, or to any other institution authorized by law.

SECT. 2. After the expiration of thirty days from the time when this act takes effect, all powers and duties conferred by law upon the trustees of the Children's Institutions Department of the city of Boston, respecting the placing out of children committed to their care or committed to the Suffolk School for Boys, shall be exercised and performed by the State Board of Charity.

JUVENILE EMPLOYMENT.

A scheme has been prepared by the Birmingham Education Committee for dealing with the care and employment of children leaving school.

It is proposed that there should be established, as part of the government national system, an employment bureau, the whole organization and staff of which should be under the control of the Board of Trade and the expense of which should be paid by the Board; that, though teachers should be encouraged in their present work of finding situations for boys and girls leaving school, the general policy should be that the exchange officials should notify and fill vacancies, applications either being made through them in the first instance or notified to them; that six branch exchanges should be instituted, and that there should be appointed a central care committee and school care committees, whose duty it should be to supervise, advise and influence children leaving or young people who have left school.

Care, it is suggested, should be continued up to the age of 17. It is estimated that the cost of the scheme when in full working order will be $2,640 a year. It is estimated that the number of children leaving the elementary schools annually in Birmingham is,—Boys, 4,500; girls, 4,000.

As no attempt is contemplated at exercising any minute or continuous supervision over the children of responsible parents, detailed work would only be necessary for a fraction of the juvenile population.

TO BUY NO MORE HORSES.

Commissioner Waldo of New York has announced that he will buy no more horses for the fire department, and will gradually replace the horse-drawn vehicles with motor apparatus.

Chief Baxter, of the Philadelphia Fire Department, hearing of Commissioner Waldo's decision to buy no more horses for the New York Fire Department, expressed his approval of the plan and said that Philadelphia should follow the example and substitute autos for horses as rapidly as practicable.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, January 30, 1911.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at three o'clock p. m., President BALLANTYNE in the chair. Absent—Coun. Curley and Hale.

The Council voted, on motion of Coun. BRAND, to dispense with the reading of the records of the last meeting.

CONSOLIDATION OF HEALTH AND REGISTRY DEPARTMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston.

Office of the Mayor, January 30, 1911.

To the City Council:

I beg to transmit a communication from the City Registrar, in reply to a letter of the Finance Commission under date of December 10, 1910, addressed to the honorable the City Council, recommending the consolidation of the Registry and Health Departments, together with a series of letters from persons interested in the subject, favoring and opposing this proposed consolidation. Accompanying this communication of the City Registrar and the above mentioned correspondence is a series of charts or exhibits, prepared by him, designed to disprove the contention that the work of one department duplicates the work of the other.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Registry Department,

Boston, January 26, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor,

Boston, Mass.:

Sir,—Inclosed find the letters of several physicians referring to the proposed consolidation of the department with the Board of Health.

Their recommendation is evidently based on the criticism of the death tables in the annual report, which are no longer compiled by this department. Of the eight physicians who have approved the recommendation, six have never reported births; one has not reported any births during the last five years; one has reported fourteen (14) in the last four years.

The recommendations are not based on personal knowledge of the work of the department as a registration office, a fact which one of the physicians admits in his letter.

I inclose with this letters from physicians and other gentlemen who have had dealings with the department.

Respectfully,

E. W. MCGLENEN,

City Registrar.

(Appended was a very large number of letters.)
Referred to the Executive Committee.

COMPLETION OF HIGH FORT OBSERVATORY.

The following was received:

City of Boston.

Office of the Mayor, January 30, 1911.

To the City Council:

I beg to recommend the passage of the accompanying order, providing that the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000) shall be transferred from the Reserve Fund to a special appropriation for the completion of High Fort Observatory, to be expended under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Buildings.

The necessity for completing the observatory is set forth in two letters from Capt. Isaac P. Gragg, chairman of a committee of the Roxbury Historical Society, dated December 28, 1910, and January 5, 1911, respectively, attached hereto. An estimate of the cost is furnished by the Superintendent of Public Buildings in his letter of January 23.

A plan of the proposed improvement is forwarded herewith for your information.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Roxbury Historical Society,

Roxbury, December 28, 1910.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—You will remember that during your former administration, on petition of the Roxbury Historical Society, a loan bill item was passed to provide for changing the High Fort Standpipe into a public observatory. Under Superintendent Henry Sullivan the changes to the tower were made and $700 balance left towards an entrance room; this amount was found not sufficient to construct a substantial structure and it was decided to wait until an additional appropriation could be obtained, it being understood with the City Auditor, at that time, that the $700 balance was not to be covered into the city treasury; but under Mayor Hibbard's administration it was covered into the treasury contrary to the understanding with the society.

The society at their last quarterly meeting, December 14 last, appointed a committee consisting of past president Capt. Isaac P. Gragg, past president Hon. Edward Seaver, Hon. Richard Sullivan, to wait upon you, at your convenience, to explain the necessity for completing the observatory and providing for the same in the next loan bill.

It will take but a few minutes of your time to hear this committee and they will appreciate your assigning them an appointment to see you at an early date.

Respectfully yours, for the Committee,

Roxbury, January 5, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,

Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—Referring to your interview with committee from the Roxbury Historical Society, on completion of the High Fort Observatory in Roxbury, the items which the society wish to have included in the proposed estimates, are:

An entrance room to be built of same material and same style of architecture as is the tower, and in accordance with plans now in possession of the Engineering Department.

Plain but substantial furniture for said entrance room, viz.: Two benches, small tall desk with book in which to register visitors, two or three chairs, swing gate, between entrance room and the tower, so as to regulate number of visitors ascending the tower at one time.

Eight bronze dials to be placed on rail of the balcony of the tower, pointing to historic locations.

Large bronze tablet on outer base of the tower with roster of the regiments and commanders composing the forces of the Roxbury lines at the Siege of Boston, to take the place of the old defaced marble tablet placed there when the tower was part of the high service water system. This last item our committee overlooked drawing to your attention at our interview.

Respectfully yours,

ISAAC P. GRAGG, for Committee.

TUNNEL AT BAY STREET.

The following was received:

Street Department, January 30, 1911.

To the Honorable the City Council:

Pursuant to your request I have conferred with the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad officials concerning the construction of a tunnel under its tracks at Bay street, Ward 20, through to Savin Hill Beach. The railroad does not object to the construction of this subway as the extension of said highway, but is not willing to bear any part of the expense of this subway construction. Furthermore, the railroad officials insist on three feet of ballast between the roof of the subway and the base of the rails, which will increase the cost of the subway, as far as the city is concerned, to about $8,700. The railroad would object very strenuously to any entrances from this subway onto its property.

Respectfully,

L. K. ROURKE,

Superintendent of Streets.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

On January 2, 1911, the foregoing order was read once and passed—yeas 7, nays 0.

The order was read a second time and passed—yeas 7, nays 0.

INSPECTION OF PRISONS.

Coun. BRAND submitted the following:

The Report of the Committee of the City Council on Inspection of Prisons.

In City Council, January 30, 1911.

The committee of the City Council, appointed in accordance with the provisions of section 1, chapter 224, of the Revised Laws, to inspect the prisons in the County of Suffolk, have attended to that duty and submit the following report:

The institutions covered by law, consisting of Charles Street Jail, the Parental School for Truant Boys and Girls at West Roxbury, the House of Correction at Deer Island and the Suffolk School for Boys at Rainsford Island, have been inspected periodically during the year as to the management, discipline, food, proper treatment, cleanliness and health, and in each institution the committee found a strict observance of the rules of the institution and a proper care of the inmates. In each case the inmates were given the fullest opportunity to make complaint to the committee, if they so desired, of their food, clothing, treatment and the conduct of the officers toward them, but not one complaint was heard, which speaks highly for the efficient and intelligent care given by those in charge of these unfortunates.

Charles Street Jail.

The committee is pleased to note that the recommendations of last year have been carried out in regard to lighting. An electric lighting system has been installed, which is not only a great improvement but which has eliminated a source of danger from the former antiquated lighting system.

The committee found the jail in good condition, with the utmost regard being paid to the cleanliness and comfort of the prisoners. The discipline is excellent and the general management good.

There is but one recommendation the committee would make this year and it is that, in connection with the present system of tub baths, shower bath should be installed.

Deer Island.

The committee recommends repairs to be made on the front of the main building as soon as possible, as numerous breaks in the wall would seem to indicate that serious shocks had occurred from gun practice in the harbor forts, rendering the building unsafe in its present condition; and also recommends the erection of a suitable brick building to properly segregate the victims of the drug habit and disorderly prisoners; and renews the previous recommendation that all so-called observation cases be sent to the City Hospital.

The committee recommends that a sufficient appropriation be made to enable the commissioner to erect a refrigerating and cold storage plant on the island.

The wharf at Eastern avenue has been put in good condition, as previously recommended, and the new steamer "George A. Hibbard" has been put in commission, plying daily between the city and Deer Island.

Parental School.

The committee found the new school and administration building fully completed and occupied, and it is a credit to the city.

This institution is in good condition. The buildings are scrupulously clean and the inmates well fed and cared for, and the school conducted in a most efficient manner.

We renew a previous recommendation that the old stable be demolished and a new one erected near the river. We also renew a previous recommendation that a coal pocket be erected adjacent to the heating plant, as it is a necessity for the proper housing of the coal.

Rainsford Island.

Your committee finds it necessary to renew previous recommendations in regard to the erection of the new administration building, with suitable playroom or gymnasium, with baths and proper sanitary arrangements. We would also recommend that the old cemetery be removed from the island to some more convenient and appropriate place, and the land filled in and graded for a playground or any other use the Board of Trustees may suggest.

We also recommend that a new heating plant be installed in what is called the "Cottage." This is entirely inadequate for the requirements, and is too small and cramped and is practically unfit for use. We would recommend a suitable addition, with increased heating capacity and suitable quarters for a coal bunker.

Your committee renews the recommendation that the bay be filled in, giving the institution an enlarged land area, and also recommends the renovation of the dormitories, dining hall, work shops and school rooms.

The committee also recommends that, if this institution is to be retained at Rainsford Island, a sufficient sum be appropriated to enable the trustees to erect a modern shoe shop. We believe that all shoes used by the inmates of the infirmary at Long Island, almshouse at Charlestown, as well as the Parental School and this institution, can be made therein, instead of purchasing them as at present from the State Prison authorities.

The committee found the institution in good condition, the inmates well cared for and the general discipline and management efficient, but we recommend the immediate abolition of the lock-step now in vogue at the institution which, in our opinion, is detrimental to the future welfare of these young boys.

Annexed will be found the reports of those in charge of the various institutions, as required by law.

For the committee,

FREDERICK J. BRAND,

Chairman.

Report accepted and ordered printed as a city document. (Doc. 169.)

RETIREMENT SYSTEM FOR EMPLOYEES.

Coun. KENNY called up No. 5, past assignment, viz.:

5. Whereas, The Legislature of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has passed an act authorizing the cities and towns of the Commonwealth to establish a retirement system for their employees; and,

Whereas, It is the opinion of the Boston City Council that such a retirement system would be of benefit to the city and to the employees; therefore be it Ordered, That the provisions of chapter 619 of the Acts of 1910 be accepted by the Boston City Council in behalf of the City of Boston.

The question came on the passage of the preambles and order.

The Council refused to accept the act.

The order was recommitted to the Executive Committee.

(8) Report on preambles and resolves (referred December 19) relative to salaries of firemen—recommending the passage of the same in the accompanying new draft:

Whereas, There has been no increase in salaries of members of the Fire Department for twenty-three years; be it therefore Recommended by the Water Commissioner.

Coun. KENNY—Mr. President, doesn't that go over under the rules?

President BALLANTYNE—This matter has been before the Council before, and was referred to the Committee on Claims.

Coun. KENNY—Oh, I see. All right.

Coun. KENNY offered the following:

chapter 527 of the Acts of 1910 relating to the construction as a state highway of a part of Washington street, West Roxbury.

The order was read a second time and the question came on its passage.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order, that the matter is not properly before the Council. We have no right to act on an order of that character.

President BALLANTYNE—The Chair will rule the point of order well taken.

President BALLANTYNE offered an order—That the City Council hereby accepts chapter 527, Acts of 1910, entitled "An Act to Provide for Constructing as a State Highway a Part of Washington Street in the West Roxbury District of the City of Boston."

The order was read a second time and the question came on its passage.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Brand and Attridge. Whole number of ballots cast 6, yeas 6, and the appointments were confirmed.

POLES ON STREETS.

Coun. BRAND offered the following:

City of Boston.

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Ten.

An Ordinance

To Amend Section 15 of Chapter 9 of the Ordinances of 1910.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section fifteen of chapter nine of the Ordinances of 1910 is hereby amended by striking out the whole of said section and inserting in place thereof the following new section:

Section 15. Said commissioner shall, when authorized thereto by an order of the street commissioners, issue such a permit to a responsible person for the purpose of placing and maintaining in the streets poles for the support of wires, on a condition the terms of which shall be those hereinbefore stated in section nine of this ordinance, and in addition that the person applying for the permit shall keep said poles well painted and in good condition, to the satisfaction of the commissioner; shall keep the name of the person owning the pole distinctly painted on the crossbars used and occupied by him on the pole, and also on the pole at a point not less than six feet nor more than eight feet from the ground; shall allow the departments of the city, free of all charge, the exclusive use of a crossbar and a portion of each pole, the same to be designated by the street commissioners, for the purpose of placing wires thereon; shall not suffer or permit any other person to place or keep wires on said poles, or upon the fixtures thereto affixed, without permission being first obtained in writing from the street commissioners; shall not remove any pole erected under this order until, and shall remove any pole when, directed by the street commissioners so to do; and that on the violation of any term of these conditions the said commissioner shall remove the poles at the expense of the person owning them.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, the object of that ordinance was to obviate the conflict between ordinance and statute. A part of the ordinance which was passed here creating the Board of Public Works is in direct conflict with the statutes or the revised charter, placing the care of poles in the hands of the Street Commissioners and not of the City Council. By adopting this amendment you will obviate any possibility of conflict and confusion and avoid a great deal of annoyance. I move that this be referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

The ordinance was referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

PROTECTION OF FLAGPOLE.

Coun. BRAND offered an order—That the City Messenger be authorized to place a piece of galvanized iron around the base of the flagpole at Andrew square, South Boston, for the purpose of preventing injury to said pole from the hubs of wheels coming in contact therewith, the expense thus incurred to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, incidental expenses.

The order was declared not passed.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, I doubt the vote, and in doubting the vote I wish to say that I understood the President to rule that the order was rejected. Am I right?

President BALLANTYNE—The order was declared not passed.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, this contemplates a very small expenditure for preserving the flagstaff in that square.

The order was declared passed.

Coun. KENNY—Mr. President, I may be too late now, but I addressed the Board before the action was declared on that proposition. I don't care if the expense is only 25 cents.

President BALLANTYNE—Do you move a reconsideration?

Coun. KENNY—Yes, I do, Mr. President.

Reconsideration prevailed.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, in order to find out just whose duty it is, I move reference of the order to the Executive Committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

(See action later, under "Executive Reports.")

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. COLLINS the Council voted at 4.09 p. m. to take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair.

The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President BALLANTYNE at 4.56 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. ATTRIDGE for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

(1) Report on order (referred to-day) that the City Messenger be authorized to place a piece of galvanized iron around the base of the flag pole at Andrews square, South Boston, the expense incurred to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, incidental expenses—that the order ought to pass.

Coun. KENNY—Mr. President, I was in error earlier in the afternoon in stating that this property was the property of some other department. I understand now that it is property under the care, keeping and custody of the City Council. Therefore, Coun. Brand was quite correct in his position and I desire to vote for the order.

Report accepted; order passed.

PUBLIC COMFORT STATION IN GENOA.

A public comfort station has recently been opened in Genoa, Italy, which is said to be the only one of its kind in Europe, because both of its construction and also of its equipment. The harbor and business sections are a considerable distance from the homes of the working people, and the city decided to build a recreation and comfort center there. Here may be found barbers, tub and shower baths, package and parcel rooms, telephone, reading and writing rooms, promenades and lavatories. The station is located in the heart of the business district where it is easily accessible to all, the ground beneath Ferraro square being selected for the structure. This, which is the most important and busiest square in Genoa, rests on solid rock, and there was no ground water to interfere with the construction.

The underground building is in the form of a rectangle, 112 feet long and 40 feet wide, with two wings. The entrance is from a side street near the columns of a theatre, and does not interfere with traffic. The stairways leading down to the hall are of solid marble and very broad, and end in the promenade or arcade which leads to all the other parts of the hall. One side of this promenade is occupied by the offices, telephone booths and reading and writing rooms, while on the other side are the shower and tub, baths. Each bathroom contains an enameled bathtub and an enameled table on porcelain feet. Over the tubs are cold and hot water shower baths. At the end of the promenade are the barber shops, package and parcel rooms, and in a small extension are the boiler and engine rooms, the fans and ventilators. Still further at the extreme end are the lavatories. The building is well ventilated and lighted.

URBAN POPULATION FIGURES.

More than 30 per cent of the 92,000,000 of the people of this country live in cities of 25,000 or more. There are 228 cities of that class, of which 19 have a population in excess of a quarter of a million, and fifty in excess of 100,000. The census of smaller cities has not been completed yet, but it will probably show about 40 per cent of the total population are in cities of 8,000 or over.

APPLICATION OF PART OF SCHOOL APPROPRIATION TO INCREASING SALARIES OF ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TEACHERS.

The following communication was received:—

CITY OF BOSTON.

Office of the Mayor.

School Committee, Jan. 20, 1911.
Mason street,
Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen:—

I beg to notify you that I have petitioned for the passage of a bill providing that the increase of ten cents upon every thousand dollars of taxable valuation allowed the School Committee for the financial year ending the thirty-first day of January in the year 1912, be applied to increasing the salaries of teachers in the elementary schools. It is generally agreed that the compensation paid to this large and deserving class of city employees is inadequate and I am convinced that by the exercise of proper economy in other directions the School Department could be maintained without any impairment of its present standard of efficiency if the whole of this sum were devoted to the purpose designated in the measure, a copy of which is enclosed herewith.

Yours very truly,
John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Section 1. Not less than ten cents of the three dollars and seventy cents which the city of Boston is authorized to raise by tax levy for the support of the public schools of the city of Boston for the financial year ending on the thirty-first day of January in the year one thousand nine hundred and twelve and for each financial year thereafter under the provisions of chapter three hundred and eighty-eight of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and nine shall be devoted by the School Committee of said city of Boston exclusively to increasing the salaries of teachers in the elementary schools of said city, and meeting the increases of salaries thus created.

Section 2. This act shall take effect on its passage.

Laid on the table, and the Secretary directed to acknowledge the receipt thereof and to state that the School Committee believes that it exercises proper economy in the conduct of the schools; that in all probability no sum sufficiently large to warrant the diversion of the increase of ten cents upon every thousand dollars of the taxable valuation allowed the city for general school purposes can be made for the purpose of increasing the salaries of teachers without seriously injuring the work of the schools. The School Committee, however, will be in a better position to discuss this question with the Mayor after its budget for the ensuing financial year has been prepared, and would respectfully suggest that as soon as this budget shall be prepared a conference be held between His Honor the Mayor and the School Committee on the subject.

CONFERENCE OF HEALTH OFFICIALS IN NEW YORK CITY.

The following communication was received:—

CITY OF BOSTON.

Office of the Mayor.

Jan. 21, 1911.

School Committee,
Mason street,
Boston, Mass.

It has been suggested that a conference between certain health officials of this city, especially representatives of the Health and Consumptives' Hospital Departments and the Department of School Hygiene, with Dr. Ernst J. Lederle, Commissioner of Health of the city of New York, might result in the adoption of a progressive policy in the field of preventive hygiene, which is attracting more and more attention from municipal authorities in this country. Dr. Lederle has informally expressed his willingness to meet various representatives of the health department of this city, and I have written him asking him to fix a date for the conference.

May I ask your committee to consider whether, in its opinion, the Director of School Hygiene might not properly be sent to such a conference, in company with representatives of the Board of Health and the Consumptives' Hospital Department. The expense would presumably have to be borne by the several departments, but in my opinion the results are likely to be such as to warrant the comparatively moderate outlay involved. The conference would not last more than a single day, but through the opportunity which it would afford for a personal interchange of views, would doubtless yield results superior to those which can be obtained from correspondence and the reading of official reports.

I should be pleased to learn that your committee would be willing to make the small appropriation necessary and would join me in accepting Dr. Lederle's informal invitation for a conference such as I have described.

Yours very truly,
John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor.

Placed on file.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the Director of School Hygiene is hereby authorized to attend a conference to be held in New York between certain health officials of this city and the Commissioner of Health of New York, and to incur an expense in connection therewith not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25) to be paid by the city.

APPROPRIATION FOR LAND AND BUILDINGS FOR SCHOOLS.

The following communication was received:—

CITY OF BOSTON—SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Jan. 26, 1911.

Mr. Thornton D. Apollonio,
Secretary, School Committee,
Mason street, Boston, Mass.

Dear sir:—

In a communication addressed to you on Jan. 2, 1911, requesting transfer of funds to various items, and which were passed by your Board on the same date, was an item

"From undesignated balance of bonds authorized during 1910 under Chapter 450 of the Acts of 1907, to Lyman District: Elementary school, upper grades, 1910, $43,000."

This was in error. The amount should have been $43,075.

I would also call your attention to the fact that in the sum of $3830.82, transferred to Prescott District, erection and completion of an isolated boiler plant, addition to Polk street School-house, and enlarging yard, bond issue of 1910, was an item

"From Bennett District: Elementary School, lower grades, land only, bond issue of 1910, $1900."

This item should read "From enlargement of yard Bennett School," as was stated in our communication of Jan. 2, 1911.

Will you kindly present this communication at the next meeting of your Board and have corrections made.

Very truly yours,
Charles Logue,
Chairman.

Placed on file.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the order passed by this Board on Jan. 2, 1911, making certain transfers of unexpended balances of vari-

Elementary School, upper grades, 1910....$43,075 instead of $43,000.
Strike out the item

From Bennett District: Elementary School, lower grades, land only, bond issue of 1910$1,900 and substitute in place thereof
From enlargement of yard, Bennett School$1,900

INDEPENDENT ELECTRIC LIGHTING PLANTS, SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Mr. Magenis, for the sub-committee appointed to investigate and report relative to the establishment of independent electric lighting plants in school buildings, (see p. 161, 1909) submitted the following report:—

One of the present day problems before the citizens of Boston is the more extended use of school buildings in order to better serve the city. Boston, at the present time, has invested in land and buildings for educational purposes the large sum of $19,835,300. That was the appraisal of the city of Boston on the first day of April, 1910. The only present return the city is receiving from this large investment is the education of its young, and for this purpose must be added annually the sum of $4,455,000, to which should be added annually the 40c. on the tax levy which the school committee can appropriate for purposes of new buildings. This amounted at the last appropriation in 1910 to $29,577, thus making the general running expenses of the entire school equipment of the city of Boston for the past year $4,984,577. Thus it will be seen that the educational plant of the city, valued at $19,835,300, has an operating expense per annum of $4,455,000, with an annual increase for new buildings ranging from $500,000 to $1,000,000 per year.

The output of this plant in educated children is well worth the money. That no one will deny. However, a problem of present and future is the further use of this plant, the more extended use of school buildings for the benefit of the community. The city has of necessity to purchase light, the city's streets must be lighted, and its public buildings and its schoolhouses must be lighted. Without going into the expense of lighting the streets or public buildings other than schoolhouses, it will be well to note that the legislature having given to the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Boston a monopoly of electric lighting in Boston, the city pays to this company each year a large amount of money for lighting. The school department of the city of Boston alone paid to the Edison Electric Illuminating Company during the past five years the sums set out in the following table:

1907	17,955.34
1908	17,541.20
1909	26,017.82
1910	24,888.56

Total for 5 years.....$106,962.42

The city of Boston is paying to the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Boston 10c. per KW-hour for its electric current. The city can receive no better figure than any other customer of the company, notwithstanding the fact that without compensation to the city the Edison Electric Illuminating Company is making use of the public ways of the city, and under its franchise has a right to use those ways and to prevent competition in its use. It is contended on the part of this company that even the city of Boston has no right to convey wires from one of its buildings over to another building across a public highway for the purpose of lighting that building without the consent of this corporation. This is a point that is disputed by sound legal authority, and should be determined by the court of last resort for the benefit of the city.

In view of the fact that a number of the more prominent mercantile houses of the city are generating their own electricity for lighting purposes by means of gas propelled electric generators, your sub-committee investigated a number of these plants and saw their operation, securing figures of the cost of electricity as produced in this manner. In none of these isolated, separate electric generating plants does the cost of the current exceed 50 p.c. of the cost as charged by the Edison Company to the city of Boston. In fact in instances cited to your sub-committee the cost per KW-hour of electric current to the owners of these separate plants did not exceed 4c. per KW-hour as contrasted with 10c. charged by the Edison Company to the school department of the city of Boston.

Taken into consideration the need of more extended use of school buildings of Boston, the opportunity of utilizing the splendid engineering plants contained in our more modern buildings, and the opportunity of using these buildings as central stations for the purpose of lighting the schools, other public buildings and perhaps the streets of Boston, the problem is something that should deeply concern the citizens of our city.

With a view to ascertaining what can be done in this respect we called into service the assistance of a number of gentlemen, and have met with some recommendations contrary to the general proposition, and at the same time have met with the strong endorsement and commendation of many citizens, thus proving that the matter is an academic question which is viewed by different parties from different view-points. On all of the facts as ascertained by your committee we have reached the conclusion that the establishment of an independent lighting plant, consisting of gas propelled dynamos, in a group of the school buildings is well worthy of demonstration. Accordingly we have selected a group of school buildings in the North End of the city consisting of the Eliot, Christopher Columbus, Paul Revere, Hancock and Cushman school-houses, as a desirable group wherein can be demonstrated the problem of the city lighting its own school buildings, and lighting adjoining municipal buildings. In the vicinity of this group of schoolhouses is the municipal bath house adjoining the Paul Revere school which also might be lighted, and not far away is the North Bennett street industrial school at the corner of Salem and North Bennett streets, with a branch of the public library close by.

We have taken into consideration in this group of schools the cost of installing a gas operated electrical plant, and annex herewith an estimate received from Mr. E. N. Wrightington, Second Vice President of the Boston Consolidated Gas Co.

January 23, 1911.

Mr. James P. Magenis,
Tremont Building,
Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:—

Following please find our estimate for the installation and operation of a gas engine plant at the group of schools in the North End:—

Demand—56.6 K.W.
Electric Consumption—22368. K.W. Hrs.
Size of Plant—90 H.P. in 2 units of 25 and 65 H.P. each.

Cost of Plant.

Engines and generators.....$5200.00
Installing 1800.00 |

Total estimated cost installed.....$7000.00

Gas Consumption and Expenses.

Gas $796.80 || Repairs, supplies, etc., 2 1/2% of cost..... | 175.00 |
| Interest and Depreciation, 10% of cost.... | 700.00 |

Total Expenses and Fixed Charges, not Including labor.....$1671.80

Edison cost @ 10c per K.W.-hour..... 2236.80

Saving, favor of Gas.....$565.00
Or Edison costs 34% more than gas.

We have not included in this list of expenses any amount for labor. In most of our plants the additional work required under similar conditions would not entail very much, if any, increased expense for labor. In this instance we believe that your Committee will be better able to judge of what extra cost will be necessary for labor than we.

We are basing this estimate on data as to demand and consumption secured from the records shown by the bills and have not made any independent investigation or tests as to the amount of current actually used. We have figured the gas consumption per K. W. Hour about 50 p.c. in excess of most of our plants to allow an ample amount for the light loaded portions of the day when the load on the engines will not be particularly favorable.

The combining of these buildings on one plant will necessitate the crossing of two public streets. The crossing of these streets involves a legal question which you no doubt have truly considered.

Very truly, yours,
(Signed) E. N. Wrightington,
Second Vice President.

As will be seen by the above communication the item of labor in the operation of the plant and the disputed question of the ability of the city of Boston to convey electricity across its own streets, are matters for future determination. The matter of labor can easily be adjusted under our janitor schedule, so that the cost of labor will not materially add to the expenses. The matter of the right of the city to light another building from a school building across the way is something to be determined by law.

It may not be out of this question to note that the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, which has the monopoly of electric lighting in this city, is incorporated for $15,511,400, that during the past five years this company has paid more than 10 p.c. annually in dividends upon this stock, and that during the year 1910 it paid Feb. 1 2½ p.c., May 2, 3 p.c., Aug. 1, 3 p.c., and Nov. 1 3 p.c., aggregating 11½ p.c. dividends during 1910 upon its capital stock. As a public service corporation, retaining a monopoly of lighting privileges by electricity within the city of Boston, we feel upon its own statement as filed at the State House, that the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston can well afford to give the city of Boston, and in fact the people of the city of Boston, better terms.

In the matter of public service corporations serving the people of Boston it is well to note by way of comparison that the Boston Elevated Railway Company, also given a monopoly of public service in its business, is capitalized for $19,000,950, and without doubt contributes in actual service a great deal to the people of Boston. It is interesting to note that the Boston Elevated Railway Company is paying but 6 p.c. upon its capital stock against 11½ p.c. paid by the Edison Company upon its capital stock.

Taken into consideration the estimate as furnished by Mr. Wrightington, the fact that there are in operation today isolated electric plants producing electricity for less than one-half the expense charged by the Edison Company of Boston, the additional fact that the large investment of the people of Boston in their schoolhouses should give a more extended use of its buildings and more extended use of their engineering plants, to the betterment of the people of Boston, we, after careful consideration of the whole matter, herewith report to the School Board of Boston our findings and advise, upon the basis of this report, the installation of an independent gas propelled electric generating plant in this group of schools in the North End of the city. We further advise a determination of the issue with the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston as to the right of the city of Boston to conduct wires across a public highway for the purpose of illuminating buildings at the other side of the street, and we finally advise the laying of this matter before the corporation counsel with the request that he proceed to have the rights of the city determined.

The report was placed on file and a copy ordered to be transmitted to the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners, with a request that said Board proceed to establish an electric generating plant in a group of school buildings in the North End in accordance with the recommendations contained in the foregoing report.

APPROVAL OF PAY ROLLS, BILLS AND CONTRACTS.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the pay rolls and bills, both regular and special, for the month of February, 1911, prepared and certified to by the Business Agent, and contracts for the same month, be approved on behalf of this Board by Mr. Corcoran, or in the event of his absence by Dr. Leen.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING IN TAILORING.

A communication was received from Samuel H. Spring, Secretary of the National Association Merchant Tailors of America, under date of Jan. 24, 1911, with reference to the possibility of the School Committee providing vocational training for young men who desire to be employed in the tailoring business.

Placed on file, and the Secretary directed to reply thereto to the effect that the Board now has under consideration a broad plan for the development of Continuation Schools, and will give the foregoing proposition full consideration in connection with the adoption of such a plan.

EXECUTIVE SESSION.

The Board went into executive session. The doors were opened.

RANK AND SALARY OF GEORGE S. BURGESS.

The Board took up for consideration the communication from His Honor the Mayor received at the meeting of Jan. 16, 1911 (see p. 219), returning with his disapproval the following order passed by the Board at its meeting of Jan. 9, 1911:—

ORDERED, That the rank of George S. Burgess, chief clerk in the office of the Superintendent, is hereby changed to Secretary to the Superintendent; and that his salary is hereby established at thirty-one hundred and eighty dollars ($3180) per year to take effect Jan. 1, 1911.

The communication was placed on file.

The Chairman stated the question was on the passage of the aforesaid order, notwithstanding the objections of His Honor the Mayor.

The order was passed by the following vote:—

Yeas—Messrs. Ellis, Lee, Magenis and Scannell—4.

Absent—Mr. Brock—1.

The Secretary was directed to transmit the following communication to His Honor the Mayor in explanation of this action:—

The School Committee acknowledges receipt of Your Honor's letter of Jan. 12, 1911, in the matter of its order changing the rank and salary of Mr. George S. Burgess. The Board has given careful consideration to Your Honor's point of view, and in arriving at a result opposed to that which you have reached desires to imply no disrespect to Your Honor's judgment in the matter.

The School Committee, believes, however, that it is more familiar with the relation of this question to the interests of the school system than is Your Honor, and must therefore regretfully pass this order notwithstanding Your Honor's veto.

The duties of Mr. Burgess' position are more than Your Honor has apparently appreciated, and the title of "chief clerk," which described the function of the previous incumbent of the position, as applied to Mr. Burgess has been a misnomer.

Mr. Burgess is only in a limited sense a clerk,—his duties are largely executive; he has made many important changes in the organization of the Superintendent's office, and he daily makes with tact, ability and good judgment important decisions affecting the welfare of the schools, which would otherwise require the attention of the Superintendent. Mr. Burgess has thus left the Superintendent free to devote a much larger portion of his time to vital educational and administrative questions.

Mr. Burgess has had a wide experience in school administration. He was at one time a member of the school committee in another city; served in the Massachusetts Legislature as a member of the Committee on Education, and was for several years the secretary and agent of the Lynn School Committee. The attention of the Boston School Committee was attracted to him because of the constructive ability he demonstrated in Lynn, and because of a new accounting system adapted especially for school administration uses which he had invented, and had put into operation in Lynn, and which he was afterwards employed to install in the City of Lawrence by the School Committee of that city. He was engaged to assist in the reorganization of the business management of the Boston School system, and rendered such valuable service that he was later employed to make an investigation of the prices at which school books are sold throughout the United States. In this last capacity he made an important study and report.

The School Committee has had a very full opportunity to ascertain the character of Mr. Burgess' work; has been impressed by the fact that he possesses unusual qualities to fill a difficult position, which not only calls for executive ability of a high order, but also demands a thorough grasp of the details of educational administration; and is convinced that the salary which it has fixed is no more than Mr. Burgess' services to the school system are worth, or than he could command in private employment.

ADJOURNMENT.

The Board adjourned at 7.40 o'clock P.M.
Attest:—

THORNTON D. APOLLONIO,
Secretary.

MUNICIPAL COAL.

The London County Council had before it recently an interesting report from its stores and contracts committee in favor of dispensing with the services of contractors in the purchase of the coal required for various departments of the service. The engineer's and tramways departments are excluded from the scheme, but the committee thinks that for schools, fire stations and offices the government plan of taking a depot or depots and distributing from these centers coal purchased direct from collieries should be adopted. It is estimated that about 50,000 tons could be annually dealt with in this way. The committee's plan is that the council should lease from railway companies sidings and storage space, and possibly employ a staff to unload coal from the trucks to carts for delivery, stacking a quantity as a reserve. The council would arrange a contract for the carting, but the committee adds: "It is a question whether this contract should not include the unloading work, and we think it would be better for the council, at any rate at first, to include all unloading and loading work in the cartage contract." The chairman of the stores and contracts committee is Mr. Isidore Salmon, whose business experience has taught him that direct dealing is cheaper than contracting. As a first step towards carrying out the full scheme the committee recommended the council to appoint a new official called a "coal officer," at a commencing salary of $2,000 a year. The discussion on the subject was postponed.

A $100 PRIZE FOR AN ESSAY

"The administration of the police department in some city in the United States with a population of more than 200,000" is the subject selected for the National Municipal League's competitive essay for the William H. Baldwin $100 prize.

This competitive essay writing on a subject dealing with some phase of municipal government was inaugurated by the National Municipal League in 1906. For the current competition, contributions will be limited to undergraduate students registered in a regular course in any college or university of the United States offering distinct instruction in municipal government.

Its aim is to encourage research and study in connection with municipal problems. Each competitor is expected to select a city accessible for research work. The essay, it is suggested, should contain a thorough exposition of present methods of organization and administration of the municipal police department in the particular city discussed. In addition the essayist will be expected to treat the subject comparatively, with reference to approved police methods in this country and in Europe, and constructively, with a view to suggesting improved methods of police administration in the city under discussion.

The contest will close March 15, 1911.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

The following contracts for work, materials and supplies have been awarded with the approval of the Mayor. Those awarded without public advertisement are especially indicated. Week ending February 9, 1911:

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Ferry and Bridge Division).

On February 4 the Mayor approved a contract with the National Automatic Weighing Machine Company for the privilege of installing automatic weighing and vending machines in the four head-houses of the Ferry Division for the year ending January 31, 1912. The National Automatic Weighing Machine Company were the only bidders and agree to pay for this privilege the sum of $800.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Highway Division).

On February 4 the Mayor approved a contract with A. De Stefano for collecting and removing ashes, etc., in the East Boston district for a period extending from February 1, 1911, to January 31, 1912. Bids on this work, opened January 27, were as follows:

A. De Stefano, $13,168; William Carr, $14,297; Charles Berman, $14,400; B. E. Grant, $15,200.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

On February 7 the Mayor approved a contract with F. G. Whittaker for building teacher's room in the Medford Street School. Bids on this work, opened January 30, were as follows:

F. G. Whittaker, $1,368; Marr Brothers & Stuart, $1,445; Thomas H. Hanlon, $1,449; C. D. Redmond, $1,647.

On February 9 the Mayor, in view of the representations contained in the following communication, approved a contract with the W. A. Snow Iron Works for the erection of a fire escape on the F. W. Lincoln School, the price to be $4,077.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT,
February 31, 1911.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—You will, within a day or so, receive from the Law Department for approval a contract for the erection of fire escape at the F. W. Lincoln School with the W. A. Snow Iron Works, Inc., in the sum of $4,077. Bids for the erection of this work were opened publicly at this office on January 30 with the following result:

Cambridge Architectural Iron Works, $2,993.75; W. A. Snow Iron Works, Inc., $4,077; Smith & Lovett Company, $4,194; G. W. & F. Smith Company, $4,885.

The bid of the Cambridge Architectural Iron Works was not properly signed, and a protest was made by the W. A. Snow Iron Works. The matter was referred by me to Commissioner Perkins, who in turn took the matter up with Mr. Babson, the Corporation Counsel. His decision was that the bid was illegal, and that we could either readvertise or award to the second lowest bidder.

The Board, after considering the matter, finally decided to adopt the latter course.

Other reasons for awarding the contract to the W. A. Snow Iron Works, Inc., were considered, besides the illegality of the bid of the Cambridge firm.

First, the Department's estimate, carefully made by our architect, was $4,000 for the erection and completion of this work.

Second, the Board desire to call your Honor's attention to the fact that in May of 1908 they awarded a contract for the erection of a fire escape on the Brimmer School to the Cambridge Architectural Iron Works, in the sum of $1,832, they being $300 lower than the next bidder. At that time the Board felt that the firm had made a mistake in their figure, but awarded the contract to them. There was no end of trouble with the concern, and the work was not completed until November of the same year, although the contract date of completion was June 15, 1908. When the work was finished they presented a bill of extras amounting to almost $1,000, which the Board very promptly disapproved. They immediately brought suit against the city, and the suit is now pending.

Under these conditions the Board felt justified in awarding the contract to the W. A. Snow Company. You will notice that their figure is very close to the department's estimate of the cost of the work.

In order that the auditor may have a record of this, I send this communication to you in triplicate and ask for your Honor's approval.

Very truly yours,
CHARLES LOGUE,
Chairman.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

BATH DEPARTMENT.

On February 9 the Mayor, in view of the representations contained in the following communication, approved a contract, made without advertising, with David H. Kennedy, Inc., for laying cork floor tiling on the running track of the new Paris Street Gymnasium, the price to be $1,905.

BATH DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, February 3, 1911.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I beg to enlist your approval for the contract with the David E. Kennedy Company of Boston for laying a cork floor tiling on the running track of the new Paris Street Gymnasium in East Boston.

A bid of $1,905 has been received for laying the same from the above mentioned concern, and as it seemed to meet the requirements at the market price for this article was formally accepted by the Bath Trustees. As the building is rapidly nearing completion, and a very short time remains before it will be formally opened, I trust that the urgency of this request will merit your prompt approval.

Very truly yours,
RICHARD M. WALSH,
Chairman Bath Trustees.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

On February 4 the Mayor, in view of the following communication, approved a contract, made without advertising, with Pierce & Cox for the installation of a heating system in the Prescott boiler house annex.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT,
January 30, 1911.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—On January 20, 1911, the Board opened publicly figures for installation of heating system in the Prescott boiler house annex, Charlestown, with the following result:

F. W. Zemeir & Co., $3,560; Pierce & Cox, $3,785; James P. Dwyer, $3,895; Commonwealth Heating Company, $3,989.62; J. J. Hurley & Co., $3,964; Laskey & McMurrer, $3,965; McLean & Cousens, $3,992; Huey Brothers Company, $4,192.

The Board had hoped that the low bidder would have been Messrs. Pierce & Cox, for the reason that said firm were already at work on said building and to put another contractor on the same job would cause complications which the Board were anxious to avoid. The Board sent for Mr. Zemeir, went over the conditions, and he very kindly withdrew his bid, offering no objections whatever.

In the meantime the Board had talked with Messrs. Pierce & Cox, and at the close of the interview they were satisfied, if the Board saw fit to do so, to accept the work at the price given by Zemeir & Co., viz., $3,560.

Before taking any further steps in the matter the Board deemed it advisable to call your attention to the facts. If the above explanation is satisfactory to you, the Board would like to award the contract to Messrs. Pierce & Cox in the sum of $3,560, and would like your approval.

Very truly yours,
CHARLES LOGUE, Chairman.

Others would be supplied if they requested it. The number of volumes sent in the year 1910 was 17,400. The books are in small sets, and delivery is made once a month by the library wagon. Half the books are fiction. An attempt is made to include some books that are likely to be of special interest to members of the Fire Department, and if requests come in for special books, these are sent when they are obtainable.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

BOSTON, February 9, 1911.

HON. JOHN A. SULLIVAN,
Chairman Finance Commission:

DEAR SIR,—Your attention is respectfully called to the following facts in relation to the estate of the late Quincy A. Shaw:

Mr. Shaw died early in 1908. On October 1 of that year the executors of his estate, Francis C. Welch, Robert F. Herrick and Quincy A. Shaw, filed an inventory of the personal property, showing a total of a little more than $7,000,000, of which about $5,000,000 was in taxable securities. As a result the City of Boston received $82,500 from taxes on this estate. Attached to the inventory was the item:

Also other personal estate to be hereafter included and accounted for.

Accounts subsequently filed showed the total value of the personal property of the estate amounted to $22,818,304.43, of which amount $16,714,400 was taxable.

No satisfactory reason has ever been given why about 70 per cent of the personalty should have been concealed by the executors, or accounted for only by the brief "etc." clause, which, I am informed, is usually held to apply to household effects of trivial value.

As a result of this suppression on the part of the executors the City of Boston in the year 1909 received taxes amounting to only $82,500, instead of over $275,500, to which it was properly entitled.

May I ask your commission to investigate this transaction with a view to advising me whether it is possible for the city to recover the taxes withheld through the action of the executors and whether, on the statement of facts submitted, there would be any advantage or prospect of success in instituting a suit against the executors, or in laying the case before the district attorney.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

APPROVAL OF SCHOOLHOUSE PLANS.

The Mayor has approved plans for heating, ventilating and electrical systems to be installed in the Prescott boiler house annex.

4. Public landing or floating staging at Meridian Street Bridge, Wood Island Park, Jeffries Point and Harbor View.

11. Criticism of the city government for not erecting the new fire station at Orient Heights, for not building the new courthouse and police station, for poor condition of streets; with statements that the car service is not what it should be, that the schoolhouses are not properly cared for, and that East Boston has been in general sadly neglected.

MR. DAVID ADAMSON.

Favored improved car service for East Boston and an extension of the free transfer system. (Mayor Fitzgerald said the place to remedy this was at Beacon Hill.)

SUGGESTIONS BY MAYOR FITZGERALD.

The Mayor told of the time and effort he gave last summer in trying to get the people of East Boston to agree on a courthouse and police station site, without success; that the $105,000 for the structure was on hand, and that the least East Bostonians could do would be to agree on the location for the building and then work would start. He also referred to the new ferryboat being built at a cost of $125,000, and stated that in East Boston last year $32,000 was spent for the Sewer Department, $20,000 for collection of ashes and garbage; $32,000 for street cleaning, $45,000 for streets, $41,000 for improved water service, $99,000 for new gymnasium, $70,000 for additions to the Blackinton School, $150,000 for the new Adams School, and that the city now stood ready with $105,000 for the courthouse and $125,000 for the new Meridian Street Bridge. In regard to the latter the Mayor said that work would start probably in June and that the reconstructed bridge would be ready two months later. The Mayor also said he had been criticised for not laying off laboring men in the employ of the city for four months during the winter, but said he would get off his job before he would lay off a laborer.

The Mayor also, speaking upon the question of annexation of surrounding cities and towns, stated that he had been asked if he favored annexation of the city of Quincy, and answered that he did not, for financial reasons; that there are physical reasons why Chelsea should be annexed, but for financial reasons he could not support any such measure. The Chelsea tax rate at the present time is $22.40, while with annexation Chelsea would have a tax rate of $16.40. The policemen of Chelsea would get an increase of more than $200 per year in salary, there would have to be large increases in the pay of Chelsea firemen, school teachers and principals, and many other added increases would fall on Boston.

The Mayor also said that the total value of the property assessed in East Boston was about $36,000,000; that if all of the taxes from this were collected the revenue to the city would be $595,000. The annual receipts, however, will hardly average $450,000, according to the figures in the annual city report.

The Mayor also told of efforts that were being made by himself personally and through the Publicity Bureau for the improvement of the street car service, etc.

MR. FRANK C. WOOD.

Thought there should be a new public library as the present one is a disgrace.

Thought it was not fair to cite East Boston's valuation or tax revenue, as that section had been long ignored, was now just beginning to feel the spirit of commercial progress, and should be given every aid and encouragement. Proposed courthouse should be located on Meridian street, and a good site would be that now occupied by the courthouse, library and certain of the school departments. The old police station could then be utilized, after proper renovation, for a library building. Better playground facilities are needed.

MR. THOMAS J. GIBLIN.

Thought it would be appropriate to have an East Boston school or gymnasium named in honor of the late Mayor Hibbard, and that there should be placed on the new courthouse and gymnasium tablets paying tributes to the late Mayor.

An eligible site for the proposed courthouse and police station would be that now occupied by the Maverick Congregational Church. Tunnel conditions should be improved.

MR. JOHN F. SULLIVAN.

Offered a resolution providing for a new tunnel for foot passengers and teams between East Boston and the city proper, which could be built for $1,600,000.

The resolution was unanimously adopted and Mayor Fitzgerald was appointed to act with Messrs. John F. Sullivan, Thomas J. Giblin, William C. Maguire, Dr. A. J. Bulger and Frank C. Wood, as a committee to advocate the passage of such an act before the present Legislature.

MR. JOHN J. WALSH.

Complimented Mayor Fitzgerald on the holding of these town meetings, which gave to the people of East Boston and other sections an opportunity to express their opinions on public matters, and to express their dissatisfaction when they had reason to be dissatisfied.

HON. JOSEPH B. MACCABE.

Favored a new public library for East Boston, present conditions being disgraceful, the present building having been erected in 1870.

REPRESENTATIVE EDWARD C. R. BAGLEY.

Favored eighty-cent gas and urged a large attendance at the hearing on eighty-cent gas for East Boston at the State House.

MR. FREDERIC H. FAY.

Mayor Fitzgerald here introduced Mr. Frederic H. Fay, the engineer, who briefly and concisely outlined the progress of work thus far on the new ferryboat and the Meridian Street Bridge. Proposals for the new ferryboat will be advertised in the City Record next Saturday and work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. Work on the Meridian Street Bridge will be commenced about June 1 and completed within two months.

On motion of Mr. Frank C. Wood the thanks of the meeting were extended to the Mayor, Councilor Smith, Superintendent Sullivan and Mr. Fay for their presence at and interest in the meeting.

WARDS 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

(At City Hall, February 8, 1911.)

COMMITTEE FROM NORTH END REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MESSRS. ANDREW A. BADARACCO, PHILIP DAVIS, ALVIN E. DODD, JUDGE FRANK LEVERONI AND MR. JOHN F. McGRATH.)

That there be (as favored by a meeting of citizens of the North End held Monday, February 6) a proper and adequate branch library building for Ward 6. The population of the ward is 35,758, and there are about 6,000 children between five and fifteen eager, acquisitive and with ambitious minds, and having at present no place where they can read or study in quiet or comfort, by reason of the crowded tenement conditions. The present lease has expired and something must be done.

Mrs. Meyer Bloomfield seconded the plea.

REPRESENTATIVE J. D. O'DONNELL.

Seconded the remarks of the committee in favor of a library for the North End, and also believed there should be something like a municipal drug store in each section of Boston, which will be available at all hours of the day or night. Mayor Fitzgerald thought this latter suggestion impracticable as an undertaking by the city, but suggested that the speaker confer with the State Board of Pharmacy and see if something could not be done to meet whatever needs there might be in this direction. The Mayor also at this point asked if any investigation had been made in the North End as to a proper place for the proposed library, and Mr. Badaracco said a place had been looked at which would cost about $28,000 or $30,000, and which would be suitable for library accommodations similar to what they have in the West End, without much repair.

WARD 7.

MR. CHRISTOPHER P. McCAFFREY.

Favored a municipal building for the ward, of which he submitted a sketch, which should contain a hall, gymnasium, library, baths, etc. The proposed building will perhaps cost $75,000, the land about $30,000 and the building about $45,000, according to the architect's figures. There are twenty-three nationalities in the South Cove district, and the present reading room on Broadway Extension is filthy, poorly ventilated and located in a noisy section.

Mr. McCaffrey's request was seconded by Miss Bertha Hazard, former principal of the Quincy Night School, Miss Tibbetts, of Madison House, and Miss Cox, secretary of the Civic Organization in the district.

WARD 8.

WEST END IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. MYRON E. PIERCE, REV. CHRISTOPHER R. ELIOT, MR. MITCHELL FREEMAN, COUNCILOR EARNEST C. SMITH AND MR. MICHAEL W. BRECK.)

1. New Grammar School.
2. Baldwin School, unfit and badly located, should be given up for school purposes.
3. Public landing to encourage the use of the Charles River Basin.
4. Convenience station.
5. Construction of street where Pike (Black) alley now is. Conditions there dangerous.
6. The disgraceful condition of the private alleys should be remedied.
7. A high pressure water service is more essential to the West End than to any other part of the city because of the danger of conflagration in the congested tenement district.
8. The city stable and morgue should be removed from the tenement district.
9. Vigorous measures for the suppression of immorality in the West End should be taken.
10. Drinking fountains are needed in the West End.
11. The basement dwellings and the general problem of over-crowding and of housing in the West End presents a serious problem.
12. Measures should be taken by the Boston Elevated Railroad Company to minimize the noise of the West Boston Bridge.
13. There should be a station near the corner of Cambridge and Charles streets on the Cambridge tunnel.
14. The Riverbank Subway is essential to the development of the Beacon Hill section of the West End.
15. The Boston Elevated Railroad Company should give transfers on Charles street going south and west. The payment of two fares is now required for absurdly short distances.
16. We assume that the construction of the Blossom street all-the-year-around bath house is assured and will be opened in the near future.

REV. CHRISTOPHER R. ELIOT.

Favored tea and coffee gardens on the esplanade, urged that children be permitted to enjoy roller skating on the granolithic walks, under proper supervision, and thought a public landing place which would facilitate boating would be a good thing. Mayor Fitzgerald agreed with him in these matters but stated that they were in the hands of the Metropolitan Park Commission.

Coun. ATTRIDGE also thought there should be seats along the esplanade, which had cost the City of Boston a large sum, so that women and children might have a chance to rest.

MR. MICHAEL W. BRECK.

Spoke of the bad condition in Pike (Black) alley, thinking a street should be put through there. A fire at the present time, with conditions as they are, would cause incalculable damage, and it would be very hard for the fire apparatus to reach it.

Also recommended a public market on the vacant land near the North Station, at the entrance to the subway.

COUN. EARNEST E. SMITH.

Spoke of the number of dives at the West End, stating that the physical make-up of the territory, with its present boundaries and methods of approach and egress was such that its present residential character was not apt to change in the near future; and he felt that something should be done in the way of handling the vice at present existing in certain sections, dealing with the problem from the standpoint of the city as a whole, and not of the West End alone. It is not desirable to simply drive vice from one section to another.

WARD 9.

COUN. JOHN J. ATTRIDGE.

There should be a convenience station at the South End, and the corner of Washington and Dover streets would be a good place for it.

The car service to and from the section should be improved, the speaker giving specific instances of lack of proper facilities, particularly on Tremont street, stating that one morning he walked from Union park to Dover street, on Tremont street, without a car coming along; that he then walked towards Castle square and as far as Pleasant street, at the entrance of the subway, before a car came along. That was between half-past eight and nine o'clock in the morning.

He thought a special committee of the Council should be appointed to investigate and report on branch library needs in the various sections of the city and also to report on branch libraries now in existence.

Did not commit himself on the widening of Union Park street, but desired the matter looked into and brought before the Council.

Thought some of Boston's merchants in the downtown section should keep their sidewalks in better condition, particularly after snow storms, when at times the street is really in better condition than the sidewalk. Mayor Fitzgerald said he had called this matter to the attention of the Police Department and the Chamber of Commerce last year and had been practically told to mind his own business.

No representatives from Wards 10 and 11 appeared to present the needs of those wards.

WARD 12.

GEORGE W. COLEMAN.

The private alleys of the ward are in very bad condition, and spending a relatively small sum would add much to the cleanliness, health and attractiveness of the district in this connection. Favored action by which private owners might waive rights and the city might take hold of the matter through legislation.

There should also be a better free transfer arrangement for the people of the South End. Transportation facilities north and south and east and west are very good, but going diagonally there is a great deal of trouble. Mayor Fitzgerald stated that some efforts had been made with the road, through the Publicity Bureau, whereby something could be done in the way of transferring, for instance, at Massachusetts and Huntington avenues, as well as other places. Not much had been achieved thus far, but there were hopes of something being done and an appeal to the Railroad Commission was always in order.

There should be a public sanitary at the South End, preferably at the corner of Dover and Washington streets, on the site of the old Franklin School-house.

There should also be, perhaps at this location, a public drinking fountain.

Some such action as was suggested last year should be taken in regard to the sewerage system of the South End. The work which should be done had been estimated in the past at about $1,000,000. Mayor Fitzgerald at this point questioned Mr. Dorr, the Chief Engineer of the Sewer Division, who said that the city proposed to spend from $60,000 to $100,000 this year in the South End in remedying sewerage conditions; that that was a beginning.

The car service on Shawmut avenue and Tremont street is exasperating.

Superintendent Rourke, when questioned by the Mayor in regard to sewerage conditions at the South End, stated that the matter was being studied and that a probable solution had been arrived at which would cost less than a million dollars; that it was a question whether much could be done this year.

MR. BUTLER R. WILSON.

The condition of the alleys at the South End is very bad. The city men, in handling ashes and other debris, spill so much, not having shovels, that gradually the alleys get built up and shed water into the adjoining yards.

Superintendent Rourke said that this matter had been studied into and that conditions were being constantly improved, but that there had not always been the co-operation that was necessary on the part of householders, and without this co-operation the situation was hard to deal with. People are co-operating more, however, and conditions are improving. Many citizens have not provided proper receptacles, or a sufficient number of them, with the result that the debris is scattered or spilled more than would otherwise be necessary.

MR. BLISS.

Thought the public should do something in the matter of the private alleys — that everyone says they are private and still everyone uses them and clutters them up.

Car accommodations on Tremont street are very bad.

MRS. E. A. STONE.

Car accommodations are inadequate, causing great delay and annoyance.

If collections of ashes and refuse were made more frequently the barrels would not be so full. There are now great delays.

MR. A. M. HAYES.

The car service should be improved. Mayor Fitzgerald stated, in regard to the car service, that the Mayor and City Council were powerless, except through agitation and that he himself, with the assistance of the Publicity Bureau, had been doing all he could.

MRS. STODDARD.

Said that collections from her house of ashes and refuse were made so infrequently, sometimes at intervals of four weeks, that the barrels necessarily became overloaded. Things are not as bad as last year, having improved within two months, but there are still great delays, and the men, when complained of, are vindictive.

BUFFALO PARK DEPARTMENT WOULD CLEAN WALKS AND ASSESS COST.

One inducement for living on parkways seems to be in danger of being wiped out on a question of law, and people who have been sitting still and letting the park department clean their sidewalks may soon have to get busy, for Corporation Counsel Hammond has sent an opinion to Park Superintendent Seymour informing him that this practice of the department in cleaning sidewalks free of charge (for it has been found practically impossible to collect money for the work) may be stopped by the passage of a bill in the Legislature, authorizing the park department to assess the cost of such work against the abutting property. Judge Hammond holds that there is no authority under the present charter and ordinances to assess the cost of such work against the property abutting. The park department desires to have the privilege of keeping sidewalks along parkways or park approaches clean of snow and ice, so the bill proposed by Judge Hammond will probably soon be on its way to Albany.— Municipal Journal and Engineer.

BUSY YEAR FOR PUBLIC SERVICE CORPORATIONS.

At the close of business for 1910 the New York Public Service Commission, Second District, had presented to it for action 2,071 different matters. These included 1,438 complaints which were handled informally by the commission and settled without the necessity of formal orders, 371 formal complaints and 262 applications from various corporations for authorization by the commission. During the year the commission disposed of and closed 1,670 of the matters presented. In addition to daily sessions and consideration of disposition of cases, the commission held 554 hearings covering a period of 196 days. During the year the commission authorized capitalization to the amount of $151,048,108. In 1909 there was authorized $142,855,035.85; in 1908, $92,253,900; for the last six months of 1907, $17,730,745.90, a total for the three and a half years of $403,887,789.34.— Municipal Journal and Engineer.

TAX REFORM IN PITTSBURG.

The Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce, following the visit of Tax Commissioner Lawson Purdy of New York, has adopted a resolution along the lines suggested by Mr. Purdy in regard to the assessment of land for taxation. At present Pittsburg has three classifications, and this system operates rather obviously in favor of the speculator and against the improver. The Chamber of Commerce takes the view that land without regard to its use or non-use should be assessed at its market value, and it will try to get a bill through the Legislature requiring this to be done.

STATE HOUSING LAW.

Indiana has tackled the slum question as a state instead of waiting for municipalities to act upon it as a local issue. An investigation made in advance of the passage of the law showed that nearly every city in the state had slum areas with very bad hygienic conditions. It is no different from other states in that matter, however.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR FITZGERALD.

DELIVERED TO THE CITY COUNCIL IN THE COUNCIL CHAMBER, FEBRUARY 6, 1911.

Gentlemen of the City Council,—We do not meet in this room to-day as untired companions, embarking upon some novel adventure. The Council Chamber itself, the inauguration ceremony, the forms of organization, the duties and problems to which all these are merely a preface and a setting, are familiar to most of us. The change that has occurred is the least that could possibly occur,—one new face among so many. Yet this occasion marks the close of an important period and coincides with the fresh start made annually in every city department. I am glad to avail myself of the opportunity it affords for expressions of mutual confidence and understanding, as well as for reviews, forecasts, and comparisons in the public matters which have been entrusted to our care.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Precedent and custom require that on these occasions your chief magistrate should account to you, and through you to the citizens, for his stewardship during the municipal year; should, in other words, present a succinct summary of the finances of the city. Not every citizen realizes how limited a stewardship the Mayor of Boston enjoys, how far from absolute is his control over a large share of the city's expenditures. Yet, even with state, metropolitan, county, police, and school bills presented to us for payment without any effective power of supervision, we are able to report a progress seldom paralleled during the past fiscal year.

The amount of the appropriations recommended by me at the beginning of the year, and voted by your honorable body substantially as recommended, was a moderate one. Although the law would have permitted a total appropriation of $20,327,586.93, the amount allowed fell short of this by $1,141,469, a margin never equaled and seldom approached since a tax limit was prescribed by statute.

As a result of our prudence in the expenditure of the public money, the tax rate was reduced from $16.50 to $16.40 per thousand. This is the lowest tax rate but one among the cities of the state and nearly $3 lower than the average tax rate among the cities of the metropolitan district. But the real reduction was a much more considerable one. Last year, for the first time, the School Committee voted to expend more than half a million, or 40 cents upon $1,000, from the tax levy for land and buildings for schools. Had they followed the usual practice and contented themselves with the loan funds allowed them by the Legislature the tax rate would have been not $16.40 but $16. The increase of 10 cents allowed them over 1909 might also be deducted, leaving the tax rate, on the 1909 basis, only $15.90.

Last year, moreover, some $350,000 was appropriated from taxes and revenue for construction, principally for improvements at the City Hospital, for the new ferryboat, and upon the repair of bridges. Under the financial methods which were in vogue in former years, the money for these items would have been borrowed and an additional 25 cents would have been subtracted from the tax rate, making it only $15.65 per thousand.

Any citizen who is disposed to question my arithmetic needs only to examine his tax bills for the last ten or twelve years. He will find printed upon the face of the bill for 1910 the following statement:

State tax.....	$2 40
County tax.....	1 10
City tax.....	12 90
Total.....	$16 40

Not since 1903 has the city tax been so low as $12.90 per thousand.

The large surplus left by my predecessor received much commendation. I trust that a similar disposition to give credit where credit is due will be displayed in the comments upon our own unexpended balance, which exceeds that of 1909 by over half a million dollars. At the close of Mayor Hibbard's administration there remained in the city treasury the sum of $955,388.68. The year 1911 will open most auspiciously with a balance of $1,486,805.83, the largest amount of cash on hand at the close of any fiscal year since Boston became a city. This was due in part to economies practiced in the city departments, from many of which a considerable surplus was returned to the treasury; in part to increased collections due to the admirable work performed by the city collector and his assistants and in part to receipts from the corporation and street railway taxes, as well as other sources of revenue, beyond the amounts estimated at the beginning of the year.

Of the borrowing capacity, estimated at $3,774,045.71 on February 1, 1910, about $1,036,545.71 remained intact on January 1, 1911. The estimated borrowing capacity for the coming year will, in consequence, be larger than if the total for last year had been exhausted, and will amount to $3,780,983.47. But not a dollar of this sum can be considered superfluous. In fact, a large portion of it is virtually pledged in advance for the following items:

Separate system of drainage (now required by statute), about.....	$700,000 00
Ordinary loan for construction of sewers.....	300,000 00
Ordinary loan for construction of streets.....	300,000 00
Schoolhouse loan.....	500,000 00
High School of Commerce loan.....	250,000 00
Total.....	$2,050,000 00

Nor do these items complete the tally of our probable expenditures. The Chelsea North Bridge must be completed in 1911 at an estimated cost of $250,000, and the settlement of the claim of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad for damages sustained through the construction of Cove Street Bridge may impose another $750,000 upon us. If the system of high pressure service for fighting fires is adopted at an annual cost of not less than $150,000, a new contagious diseases ward building is constructed at a cost of $300,000, and a city hall annex is erected on the site of the Old Court House at an estimated cost of $1,100,000, it is obvious that even were there no other calls upon the treasury, it would be necessary to go outside the debt limit to meet these legitimate and, as many believe, imperative demands.

But to deny that there are other demands no less legitimate is to fly in the face of common knowledge and of expert testimony. I have made an attempt, for example, by means of a petition and bill now before the General Court to reduce to a maximum of $400,000 the total of the annual loan for a separate system of drainage, now amounting to about $700,000, and mandatory upon the city through a previous act of the Legislature. Our engineers do not believe that the full amount is necessary or can be advantageously expended. Yet, coupled with their protest against this unnecessary expenditure, is an urgent request for a loan of $500,000 instead of the usual $300,000 for ordinary sewer construction in different parts of the city. Similarly, the Street Commissioners report that, instead of $300,000 a year, the sum of $1,000,000 a year could be expended for the next ten years in the laying out and construction of highways, and every thinking citizen knows that if the funds were available there is no better use to which they could be put. Subways are demanded in every direction,—to South Boston and Dorchester, through the West End, along Boylston street, from Park street to the South Station, to say nothing of tunnels under the harbor; but for all these the credit of the city must be pledged, bonds must be sold and an increase, apparent at least, must be made in the total debt of the city. Whether this debt is incurred inside or outside of the debt limit makes no difference whatever after the obligation has been assumed.

Neither in the status of the city debt nor in the outlook for a moderate tax levy is there any encouragement to recklessness, though in both a candid student will discover, I think, some cause for satisfaction.

THE WORK OF THE YEAR.

A revised charter, which, while imposing many restrictions, some of them salutary, others questionable, upon the officers of the government, also opened new opportunities for constructive achievement, has given an impetus felt throughout every department, and evoked signs of activity and progress where in the past too often inertia has been an unwritten law. The creation of a new Department of Public Works, combining the former Engineering, Street and Water departments, has met with almost unanimous approval. Town meetings, so called, have been held in the different sections of the city. Through these conferences the citizens and the government have been brought more closely together, and the interest of the Improvement Associations, both local and general, in public questions, has been stimulated. Many of the criticisms and suggestions offered by these associations have been found to possess value and their co-operation should be welcomed by all city officials. Thus the movement for cleaner streets received a marked impetus from its enthusiastic advocacy by the Women's Municipal League, which has also interested itself in the question of refuse disposal. The Chamber of Commerce drafted and favored a measure before the Legislature last year designed to mitigate the smoke nuisance. The "Safer and Saner Fourth" was satisfactorily inaugurated in 1910 by the Boston-1915 organization. A bill for better sidewalks, now before the Legislature, is the result of an agitation maintained, if not initiated, by the United Improvement Association. The City Council has before it an ordinance codifying and amending the regulations as to shade trees, prepared by the Boston Society of Architects, and another, relating to the hours during which children may frequent certain sections of the city unaccompanied, submitted by the Home and School Association. Personally, I look upon this activity among the citizens' associations as a hopeful sign and believe it may be traced in part to the awakening caused by the tour of the city made by the Mayor and the City Council last spring.

WORK OF THE CITY DEPARTMENTS.

Among the more important of the city departments there have been many evidences of activity. In the Park and Public Grounds Departments, for example, the income of the Parkman Fund has been devoted to the renovation of the soil of Boston Common, and to the creation of a zoological garden at Franklin Park and an aquarium at Marine Park. When these institutions are completed Boston will no longer be without these means of public recreation and instruction, one or both of which exist in practically every other leading American city. A large sum has been expended by the Park Department upon the improvement of playgrounds.

The Fire Department has built a new fireboat for service in the northern portion of the harbor; has arranged a system of inspection intended to prevent fires as well as to detect them in their early stages; has identified itself with the movement for metropolitan mutual aid, which seeks to unify the fire-fighting forces over the whole metropolitan district; and is now engaged in advocating measures of far-reaching importance before the Legislature—bills for the regulation of garages, lumber wharves and explosives, and for the installation of a high pressure water service.

The Board of Health has adopted a system of dairy inspection by which its employees visit and inspect all dairies furnishing milk for consumption in Boston, traveling as far as New York and Canada in the performance of their duties. It has made a regulation abolishing the dip tank and requiring all milk to be sold in capped bottles. By the employment of special nurses it has established a closer surveillance over the isolation and care of cases of contagious diseases.

The Hospital Department has carried on the work of fireproofing its main buildings and engine room, a measure of safety which has been necessary for several years, and has acquired a site for the new building intended to care for cases of contagious diseases. In connection with the work of this department efforts have been made to secure from the trustees of the Robert B. Brigham and the Peter Brigham Hospitals statements of their plans, as it is obvious that the expenditures of the city for relief to the sick must be graduated according to the expenditures of the various private agencies. As yet these efforts have been unavailing, but there is reason to hope that through the investigation started by a committee of your honorable body and the publicity which has been given to the whole matter thereby information will be forthcoming upon which the city may base its own policy in hospital appropriations.

The Consumptives' Hospital Department has completed a new ward building and a women's cottage building, both unexcelled in their appointments and their adaptation to the needs of this class of patients.

The Public Buildings Department has practically completed the new gymnasium, swimming pool and bath house on the site of Curtis Hall, and has plans for the reconstruction of the Blossom street wardroom as a gymnasium and bath house for the West End, as well as for municipal buildings in the different sections in which they are notoriously needed.

Through the Board of Street Commissioners the city has co-operated with the Copley Square Trust in securing the erection of a great new hotel on the site of the old Art Museum, and with the Park Square Real Estate Trust in its efforts to redeem from stagnation the territory formerly occupied by the Boston and Providence Railroad station and yard.

The completion of this important work may involve changes in St. James avenue and Providence, Arlington, Ferdinand and Pleasant streets, and should lead to the opening up for business uses of the extensive area tributary to Park square. In connection with the construction of new streets an important amendment to the constitution was passed by the Legislature at its last session, and will come before it for a second vote at the present session before being submitted finally to the people for ratification or rejection. This amendment, which was proposed by me, provides that the Legislature may, by special acts, authorize the city to take more land than is needed for actual construction for the laying out, widening, or relocating of highways, and will enable many necessary street improvements to be made, of which the cost would otherwise be prohibitive.

In the Bath Department the completion of the Paris Street Gymnasium, one of the finest of its kind in the world, is only one of several progressive achievements. Plans are now in hand which will make the L Street Bath House even more useful to its legion of patrons.

The annual report of the Children's Institutions Department for 1909 contained an opinion, submitted by a minority of the trustees, that the Suffolk School for Boys should be abandoned. Their recommendation was referred to the Finance Commission on September 24, 1910, and the commission has recently sent a report indorsing the attitude of the minority of the trustees, and even going much further in recommending a transfer of the functions of the Children's Institutions Department to the state. This question will undoubtedly come before your honorable body in one form or another during the coming year.

The Street Department has been especially active and in almost every division improved methods have been tested and adopted when found successful. Two sewer yards have been consolidated, and new apparatus has been installed at the Calf Pasture pumping station. Between eight and nine linear miles of cement sidewalks have been laid on newly constructed streets, and for the first time in recent years a new ferryboat has been built out of tax money.

All this has been accomplished without any great strain upon the financial resources of the city. The increase in the pay rolls for the fiscal year has been only $420,702.35, and of this total $225,108.93 is accounted for by the Police Department and the School Committee, over which the Mayor has little or no control. The net increase in departments under his control is only $195,593.42, which is less than half of the total increase and which barely keeps pace with the normal growth of the city in population and valuation and the constantly increasing demands made upon the various departments.

WORK TO BE ACCOMPLISHED.

Passing over the work of other departments no less worthy of mention, I take this opportunity to call attention to certain needs of the city not irrelevant to the activities of your honorable body. Foremost among these, in my opinion, is a pension system which will care for the aged employees in the city service, while permitting of their replacement by younger and more vigorous workers. The pressing problem of the rapid, yet economical installation of water meters, so that various classes of citizens may not pay at different rates for the same service and the same quantities of water, should be taken up at an early date. A new ordinance is required regulating the fees for bay windows, marquises, vaults and similar projections under and over the streets. I have recommended, and still believe, that the residence of the late George Francis Parkman should be acquired by the city and held as a memorial building, while at the same time serving as a headquarters for certain departments. Should the Department of Public Recreation be established, its offices might appropriately be located in the home of Mr. Parkman, who left almost his entire fortune for the improvement of the city parks.

Upon the broader questions of dock and harbor development, railway service, transportation facilities, metropolitan activities and charges, the increased use of Charles River Basin, a federated Greater Boston, and the like, want of time forbids any extended presentation of views, yet I see no impropriety in reminding you that these are subjects of basic interest to the community which we represent, and, provided we do not neglect our prescribed functions, any criticism made upon us should be directed against a deficiency and not an excess of interest and of energy. The functions of government are expanding, and the official who performs them to the satisfaction of the people to-day will hardly be one who permits himself to be tied in the straight-jacket of routine.

CONCLUSION.

One of my first official acts, gentlemen, will be to submit to you the estimates of the city departments with the amounts recommended by me for each. Once the budget for the year is determined, it will be our duty to see that every dollar appropriated is so expended as to yield the maximum of return in conscientious and intelligent service. I do not myself doubt that such is generally the case. Possessing a wider and more intimate acquaintance with the heads of city departments and the men occupying responsible positions under them than some who have decried the value of their services, I do not hesitate to say that they are, as a class, underpaid. The clerks, laborers and other subordinates are, on the whole, faithful and honest and those who are not will find no favor under this administration.

I trust, gentlemen, that Boston will have no need to be ashamed of our labors and that the judgment passed upon our record a twelvemonth hence will be a favorable one. Let us dedicate and rededicate our best efforts to the welfare of the city which has honored us. For it is surely no mean distinction to have been called to the public service of the City of Boston.

160 MILES OF SEWERS LAID IN FOUR YEARS.

Chief Engineer Calvin W. Hendrick, of the Baltimore, Md., Sewerage Commission, has submitted to Mayor Mahool, for use in the latter's annual message to the City Council, a statement showing that in the four years of the mayor's incumbency 160 miles of sanitary and storm water sewers have been laid. Mayor Mahool regards this evidence of work that has been accomplished in Baltimore's biggest municipal undertaking with particular pride. The statement from Mr. Hendrick calls attention to the fact that the enormous disposal works on Back river have been practically completed, and the roof almost laid over the new sewerage pumping station on East Falls avenue. The pumps for this station, almost the largest of their kind in existence, have been completed and are awaiting shipment from the factory. Mr. Hendrick still sticks by his promise that the completed portion of the system in the eastern and northeastern sections of the city will be ready to be put into operation by 1912.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

FIRE COLLEGE FOR CITY OF NEW YORK.

For three months or more Commissioner Rhinelander Waldo and Chief E. F. Croker have been perfecting a project which Hugh Bonner often talked about—the establishment of a "Fire College," so that the lore of fire fighting, gained by individuals in years of fighting thousands of fires, might be preserved instead of dying with the individual. Practical work in machine shops, lectures on explosives by well-known chemists, talks and demonstrations by electrical engineers on the new problems offered by the high voltage electrified railroads, the handling of blazes in high buildings, a better understanding of the high pressure system, and very practical lessons in the scaling of walls, jumping into life nets, and the handling of all kinds of tools used by firemen, all these subjects and many more of a practical nature will be taken up and drilled into the force by the fire college. The fire college is not intended to supplant the regular drill school, but is inaugurated for the purpose of carrying on higher work.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

CONSOLIDATION OF DEPARTMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Board of Commissioners of the Department of Parks,
February 2, 1911.

Walter Ballantyne, Esq.,

Chairman Boston City Council:

Dear Sir,—At the meeting of the Park Board held this afternoon the newspaper accounts of the last meeting of the Council were called to the attention of the Board. In these the Board of Park Commissioners had been quoted as favoring the adoption of the ordinance touching the Public Grounds, Music, Bath and Park Departments and public celebrations, and merging them into one Recreation Department.

We desire to say that the ordinance now under discussion by the City Council has never been referred to the Park Board for approval or disapproval. The Board has never heard of the proposed ordinance officially. To inquiries from the Finance Commission the Board replied that it was unwilling to express a fixed opinion at such short notice. The proposal of the Finance Commission did not embrace at that time the public celebration branch of the city's work. On the question of the city baths and gymnasia the Park Board wrote the Finance Commission that these seemed at first thought to be more intimately connected with sanitary work than with ours and that we were not much informed as to the duties of the Music Department.

The work even as proposed by the Finance Commission has looked larger and larger to us the more we have considered it, not to speak of the many and varied additions now suggested. Hence the Board voted at the meeting to-day that they disapprove very strongly of the proposed ordinance being adopted.

Yours very truly,

ROBERT S. PEABODY,
JAMES M. PRENDERGAST,
DANIEL H. COAKLEY,
Board of Commissioners of the Department of Parks.

Placed on file.

EXECUTIVE REPORTS.

Coun. HALE, for the Executive Committee, submitted a report on proposed ordinance (referred January 23), abolishing the Bath, Music and Public Grounds Departments and transferring their duties to the Park Department—recommending passage of ordinance in following new draft:

City of Boston.

In the year nineteen hundred and eleven.

An Ordinance

Abolishing the Bath, Music and Public Grounds Departments and transferring their duties to the Park Department.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. The Park Department shall after this consolidation be known as and called the Park and Public Recreation Department.

Sect. 2. The park and recreation department established under the charge of the board of park commissioners, consisting of three commissioners, the chairman to receive a salary of $5,000 per annum and give his entire time to the work of the department, which board shall exercise the powers and perform the duties herein enumerated and all other powers and duties not herein specifically enumerated which are required by existing laws or ordinances to be exercised and performed by the park commissioners, the superintendent of public grounds, and the trustees of the bath and the music departments. The commissioners shall construct, improve, equip, govern and regulate the Common, the Charlesbank, including the passageway under Cambridge bridge, Commonwealth avenue, Back Bay Fens, Jamaica-way, Arnold Arboretum, Franklin Park, Marine Park, North Brighton Playground, Dorchester Lower Mills Park, North End Park, Charlestown Heights, Charlestown Playground, Wood Island Park, Fellows Street Playground, the playground on M street, South Boston, the grounds of Commonwealth Park, and all other lands taken by the board, by purchase or otherwise, for park purposes or for playgrounds, and have the care and superintendence of the public grounds of the city and such other parks, playgrounds, public grounds and ways as may be placed in the charge of the board by the city or by the board of metropolitan park commissioners; shall make rules for the use and government thereof, and fix penalties for breaches of such rules, not exceeding twenty dollars for each offence to be imposed by any court of competent jurisdiction; shall appoint a general superintendent, two deputy superintendents, a musical director, who shall have charge of the music division, engineers, surveyors, clerks, and other officers; define the powers and duties of such officers and fix the amount of their compensation.

Sect. 3. Said board of park commissioners shall have the care and superintendence of all trees belonging to the city; shall trim all shade trees standing in the street so they shall not interfere with public travel; shall carry out all orders of the street commissioners made after public notice and hearing to remove trees standing in the street; shall upon request of the officer having charge of the public lamps trim in such manner as said officer may require any tree which interferes with the proper lighting of a street, and shall cause all statutes and ordinances for the protection of trees, shrubs and flowers in the public grounds and streets to be strictly observed.

Sect. 4. Said board of park commissioners shall have the care and custody of all bath houses, whether for all the year round use or floating bath houses in salt water for summer use, bathing beaches, swimming pools and gymnasia now or hereafter provided by the city, and shall construct every such new bath house and gymnasium for which an appropriation may hereafter be made.

Sect. 5. Said board of park commissioners shall have the charge and control of the selection of public music to be given either indoors or in the open air, for parades, concerts, public celebrations and other purposes under the authority of the city council, except entertainments for children on the fourth of July; shall determine the parties to furnish the same, make the contracts and expend the moneys to be paid from the city treasury for such music, and perform all other duties given by statute or ordinance to the former board of music trustees.

Sect. 6. Chapter seven, chapter twenty-six, chapter twenty-eight and chapter thirty-three of the Revised Ordinances of 1898 and all ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Sect. 7. This ordinance shall go into effect upon its passage.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the ordinance in the new draft.

Coun. Brand's motion to refer the matter to the next City Council was declared lost. Coun. BRAND doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

The motion to refer to the next City Council was lost, yeas 2, nays 6:

Yeas—Coun. Brand, Buckley—2.

Nays—Coun. Attridge, Ballantyne, Collins, Hale, Kenny, McDonald—6.

The question came on the passage of the ordinance.

Coun. BUCKLEY—Mr. President, I move that section 2 of this proposed ordinance be amended by making the salary of the chairman $6,500 and the salaries of his two associates $5,000 each, and that they give all their time to the city.

The question came on the adoption of Coun. Buckley's amendment.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, just a word. If possible, I would move you, sir, a division of the question, if possible,—shall the ordinance pass, in the first place, and shall we pay the chairman $5,000?

President BALLANTYNE—I would suggest to the councilor that a very good way to test that question would be to vote on the amendment offered by Mr. Buckley.

The question came on Coun. Buckley's amendment.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, do I understand that it is impossible to divide the question?

President BALLANTYNE—The Chair cannot see any way to divide the question. The amendment is that the chairman of the commission receive a salary of $6,500 and the other two members $5,000 each, and give all their time to the work of the department.

The amendment was rejected, yeas 1, nays 7, Coun. Buckley voting yeas.

The ordinance as reported in the new draft was passed, yeas 6, nays 2, Coun. Brand and Buckley voting nays.

PAYMENT FOR ABOLITION OF GRADE CROSSINGS.

Coun. ATTRIDGE offered an order—That the City Treasurer be authorized to pay from any funds in the treasury, on bills approved by the Commissioner of Public Works, any expense incurred in carrying out the orders of any commissioners or court relating to the abolition of grade crossings, and shall replace the sums so paid from the money received from the state and other parties at their share or proportion of said expense.

Passed.

ORDINANCES.

Coun. BRAND for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted a report on ordinance (referred January 30) to amend section 15 of ordinance concerning Public Works Department—that the same ought to pass.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, this amendment to the ordinance was in answer to a letter received by the Corporation Counsel in regard to a communication sent to us from Commissioner of Wires, Mr. Cole. He made a recommendation, if you remember, in regard to the height of wires, changing them from 25 feet to 21 feet from the ground to allow the city to use the lower crossarm instead of the upper one, as at present. Corporation Counsel Babson writes as follows:

"As to the Wire Department. The letter of the Commissioner of Wires and the sending of it by the Mayor to the City Council seems to have been written and done in ignorance of the change made in the city charter by section 28 of the charter amendments of 1909. That section, as far as this subject goes, transfers to the Street Commissioners the jurisdiction exercised by the Board of Aldermen concerning the use of public ways for the location of conduits, poles and posts for telephones, telegraph, street railway or illuminative purposes. All matters spoken of by Mr. Cole in his communication are now within the control of the Street Commissioners and not of your Board."

The report was accepted and the ordinance passed.

ANNIVERSARY OF DESTRUCTION OF "MAINE."

Coun. BUCKLEY offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to cause the bells to be rung at 9 a. m., noon and sunset and flags on all city staffs to be raised at half-mast, on February 15, the thirteenth anniversary of the destruction of the battleship "Maine" in Havana Harbor, Cuba, the expense attending the same to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, incidental expenses. The order was passed.

President BALLANTYNE called up special assignment, No. 1, viz.:

1. Report of Executive Committee recommending the passage of the following:

Ordered, That the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer the sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000) from the Reserve Fund to a special appropriation for Prince Street Playground, improvements, to be expended under the authority of the Board of Park Commissioners.

Indefinitely postponed, on motion of President Ballantyne.

BUILDING PERMITS, NORFOLK STREET.

Coun. BRAND called up past assignment, No. 3, viz.:

3. Ordered, That in view of the loan order now pending before the City Council for the widening of Norfolk street, that the Building Commissioner be requested to refuse to grant any permits for the erection of any buildings out to the present street line, and to revoke any permits granted for the erection of such buildings, pending the passage of the loan order for the widening of said street.

Indefinitely postponed, on motion of Coun. BRAND.

BRANCH LIBRARY, CHARLESTOWN.

Coun. BUCKLEY called up past assignment, No. 4, viz.:

4. Message of the Mayor recommending the passage of the following:

Ordered, That the City Auditor be authorized to transfer the appropriations of $15,000 each from the appropriations for "Branch Library, Charlestown, Estate," and "Branch Library, Charlestown, Alterations and Completion," to an appropriation for "Branch Library, Charlestown."

Indefinitely postponed, on motion of Coun. BUCKLEY.

WATER METER ADJUSTMENT BOARD.

Coun. BUCKLEY called up past assignment, No. 5, viz.:

5. Ordered, That the Water Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be directed to establish a "Water Meter Adjustment Board," to consist of three master plumbers. The said Water Meter Adjustment Board shall have the sole authority to revise all bills that in the opinion of property owners or tenants may be deemed excessive.

Indefinitely postponed, on motion of Coun. BUCKLEY.

REFERENCE OF UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Coun. BRAND offered an order—That all matters of an unfinished nature in the hands of the several committees of this City Council be referred to the City Council of 1911.

Passed.

SYMPATHY FOR COUN. CURLEY.

Coun. BRAND offered the following:

Resolved, That the members of the City Council tender to their colleague, Coun. James M. Curley, their sympathy for him in his present illness and their sincere wishes for his speedy recovery.

Ordered, That the City Clerk forward a copy of these resolutions to Coun. Curley.

Adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

TAXES ON ART MUSEUM PROPERTY.

Coun. BUCKLEY offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to investigate the published statement that the Art Museum property was purchased by the Copley Square Trust in 1902, and that said trust evaded paying taxes upon said property for a number of years, and if said statement is found to be true that his Honor the Mayor take the necessary legal steps to collect all taxes owed on said property.

The order was read a second time and the question came on its passage.

The order was passed.

WIDENING OF NORFOLK STREET.

Coun. BRAND called up past assignment, No. 2, viz.:

2. Ordered, That the sum of $100,000 be appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Board of Street Commissioners for the widening of Norfolk street, Dorchester, from Codman square to Dorr's Bridge, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized, with the approval of the Mayor, to issue bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the next city government on motion of Coun. BRAND.

CARE OF SHADE TREES.

President BALLANTYNE called up past assignment, No. 6, viz.:

Passed.

Coun. McDONALD offered an order—That the City Messenger be authorized to supply each member of the City Council of 1910 and 1911 and each of the heads of the several city departments with one set and the Public Library with the usual number of sets of the city documents for 1910, when completed and bound.

Passed.

PRINTING OF CLOSING PROCEEDINGS.

Coun. BRAND offered an order—That the closing proceedings of the City Council for 1910 be printed as a city document, and that the Superintendent of Printing be directed to have copies thereof printed, containing the members' portraits and a group picture of the members and officers of the Council, and to distribute said copies and copies of said pictures among the members of the City Council, the expense incurred to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, incidental expenses.

Passed.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. HALE moved a general reconsideration on all matters, hoping the same would not prevail. Lost.

CLOSING PROCEEDINGS.

Coun. BRAND offered the following:

Resolved, That the thanks of the City Council be extended to Walter Ballantyne for the able manner in which he has presided over the meetings of this body for the municipal year of 1910.

The question came on the passage of the resolution.

The resolution was adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

Coun. BRAND—Mr. President, if there is no other business to come before the Council I move that we now adjourn without day.

The Council voted to adjourn, without day, at 3.47 p. m.

LETTER FROM LAURENCE MINOT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 2, 1911.
To the City Council:
I beg to forward a letter from Laurence Minot, Esq., president of the Park Square Real Estate Trust, relating to the proposed extension of Arlington street from Boylston street to Providence street and thence to Columbus avenue, over land now owned completely, or almost completely, by the trust.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

CITY HALL ANNEX.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 6, 1911.
To the City Council:
I desire to recommend, for passage by your honorable body, the accompanying order appropriating $800,000 from the cash surplus in the treasury for the erection of an annex to City Hall on the present site of the Old Court House.

The city now meets a large annual loss from the lack of proper and modern accommodations for the carrying on of its work. It now pays a yearly rental of $50,755 for leased quarters occupied by the various departments. A considerable yearly saving would be effected and there would be a decided gain in operating efficiency if all these scattered departments could be housed in one modern structure. To that end I have submitted for your consideration this proposition to apply $800,000 of the existing surplus to the erection of an eleven-story office building on a site immediately adjacent to the present City Hall. This site, which is now owned by the city, would furnish about 125,000 square feet of floor space, which is more than sufficient for all present needs, and its use for this purpose would permit the sale of the Probate Building on Tremont street and Court square, valued at from $400,000 to $450,000, and of the School Committee Building on Mason street, valued at $250,000. It has been roughly estimated that for the sum recommended an eleven-story modern office building, with an arcade connection with the present City Hall, could be erected. The present site of the Old Court House is valued at about $1,000,000. The total cost, therefore, of the investment to the city, including the value of the land and of the new buildings, would be about $1,800,000. The city would acquire about 125,000 square feet of office space, which is easily worth, at the present rate of rentals paid for offices in modern buildings, $1.50 a foot per year, making a total rental value of about $187,500, equivalent to 10.4 per cent gross return on the total investment.

The following figures show in detail the advantage to the city of the proposed new municipal office building. It will be observed that about 28,000 square feet of floor area, or more than one-fifth of the entire new building, will not be required for the departments now housed outside of City Hall, and may be used to relieve the congestion which exists in some of the larger and growing departments.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Ordered, That from the cash surplus in the treasury there be appropriated the sum of eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000), to be expended by the Superintendent of Public Buildings for the erection of an annex to City Hall on the site of the present Old Court House.

Columbus avenue to Providence street on lines which would permit of an ultimate extension from Boylston street to Castle square. The plans were approved by the Street Commissioners and yourself and the street has been built to rough grade and we expect to pave it during the coming summer.

The trustees of the Park Square Real Estate Trust recently purchased and now own the estates 314 and 318 Boylston street, which would necessarily be taken if Arlington street is extended further. The leases on the Boylston street property expire on the first of June next, and, in view of the fact that the city has taken no steps for extending Arlington street, I am having plans prepared for rebuilding on the Boylston street lots. It seems to me only proper that I should advise you of this action on our part and call your attention to the fact that the time is rapidly passing when this extension can be made. I assume from the fact that nothing has been done that you have come to the conclusion that public necessity does not require that the street should be extended and I am, therefore, proceeding with the development of the Park square property in accordance with existing conditions.

Yours respectfully,
LAURENCE MINOT.

Referred to the Executive Committee, when appointed.

PRECINCT LINES, WARD 20.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 4, 1911.
To the City Council:
The inclosed communication from the chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners informs me that, owing to an excess in the number of registered voters at the last annual city election above the maximum of 1,000, it becomes necessary for your honorable body to make a division of Precinct 6, Ward 20, into two or more voting precincts, or a new division of the entire ward, and is hereby transmitted for such action as may seem to be appropriate under the circumstances!

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Board of Election Commissioners,
Old Court House, Court Square,
Boston, February 2, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor.

Dear Sir,—Section 191 of chapter 560 of the Acts of 1907 provides, in part: "If a voting precinct shall in any year, according to such registration, contain more than one thousand voters the aldermen shall in like manner either divide such precinct into two or more voting precincts, or shall make a new division of the ward into voting precincts, so that no precinct shall contain more than one thousand voters." The words "such registration" quoted above refer to the registration of voters at the preceding annual city election.

We respectfully call to your attention that according to the registration of voters at the preceding annual city election in Ward 20, Precinct 6, this precinct contains 1,024 registered voters.

It would be extremely inconvenient for the listing of male residents and the preparation of the voting lists if this division was not completed on or before March 1, 1911. We respectfully suggest, therefore, that the City Council take this matter up at once and this department will be glad to render any assistance in its power.

Respectfully,
BOARD OF ELECTION COMMISSIONERS,
JOHN M. MINTON, Chairman.

Referred to the Executive Committee, when appointed.

CONSTRUCTION OF MARSH STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Street Laying-Out Department,
February 3, 1911.
To the Honorable the City Council:
Gentlemen,—Replying to your order of the 12th of December last, requesting an estimate of the Boston, January 30, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—In December, 1909, at a public hearing given by the Street Commissioners on the question of extending Arlington street from Boylston street to Castle square, I stated, on behalf of the trustees of the Park Square Real Estate Trust, that if the city deemed it desirable in the public interest that such an extension should be made, the trustees stood ready to co-operate with the city in every reasonable and proper way toward carrying out the improvement. While this extension seems to have met with general favor on the part of the public, no steps have been taken, so far as I am aware, by the city toward making it. Some time ago the trustees of the Park Square Real Estate Trust filed with the Street Commissioners a plan for the extension of Arlington street on their own land at their own expense from cost of constructing Marsh street, Dorchester, from Granite avenue to Highland avenue, I am directed by the Board of Street Commissioners to submit the following:

Land and grade damages.....	$15,000
Construction.....	35,000
Total.....	$50,000

This estimate is exclusive of sewerage works. Marsh street is of varying width, approximating 40 feet. The plans provide for a street 50 feet wide and the figures are for a street of this width, including also its extension to Highland avenue.

Very truly yours,
J. J. O'CALLAGHAN, Secretary.

Referred to the Committee on Finance, when appointed.

TIME OF MEETING.

Coun. McDONALD offered an order—That, until otherwise ordered, Monday of each week, at three o'clock p. m., be the day and hour when regular meetings of this Council shall be held.

Passed.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

On motion of Coun. HALE the Board refused a general reconsideration of all action taken to-day.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. KENNY, at 12.58 p. m., to meet on Monday, February 13, at 3 p. m., unless sooner called together by the Chair.

NINE GRADE CROSSINGS TO GO.

The Public Service Commission of New York has ordered nine grade crossings to be abolished by the Long Island Railroad on its north side division in Flushing. The Legislature at its last session appropriated $200,000 for such work in Queens County, inasmuch as the law requires that the city and state shall each pay one-quarter of the cost. The remaining half is to be paid by the company. With the amount thus available the commission could only order an improvement to cost not more than $800,000, but inasmuch as the commission substantially approved the plan submitted by the Long Island for a general improvement covering about 13,000 feet of roadbed, which the city's engineers also approved, the company has agreed to pay the extra cost which will bring the entire amount to more than $1,000,000.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

PAYS TO PLANT TREES.

Thirty years ago the town of Orson in Sweden made a business of planting trees on the municipal land, of which there was a large area. Its people now pay no taxes nor telephone fees nor street car fares. The American system has been to sell city land cheap to speculators and then long afterwards buy back little dabs of it at enormous cost.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

On February 16 the Mayor, in view of the representations contained in the following communication, approved a contract, made without advertising, with the Spencer Turbine Cleaner Company for furnishing and installing a vacuum cleaning system, complete, in the Abraham Lincoln school, at a cost of $2,052.

February 1, 1911.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—In connection with the inclosed request asking permission to install a vacuum cleaning system in the Abraham Lincoln School by the Spencer Turbine Cleaner Company, at an expense of two thousand fifty-two ($2,052) dollars, without inviting proposals therefor by advertisement, I would say that for more than a year the board has been investigating the vacuum cleaning systems. After investigation, our engineer had the Spencer Company install their machine in the John G. Whittier School, without expense to the city, in order to demonstrate just what they claimed their apparatus would do. The apparatus has been installed over six months, and has performed everything that was claimed for it. The estimate has been carefully checked by our engineer, who considers the sum to be a very fair figure. The Abraham Lincoln School is fast nearing completion, and if this system is to be installed, the contract must be awarded and work started at once.

If the above explanation is satisfactory, will you kindly approve inclosed requests.

Very truly yours,

CHARLES LOGUE,
Chairman.

NEW YORK'S TRADE GAIN LARGE.

Diamonds valued at almost $46,000,000 were imported to New York in the last year, so it is shown by the annual report of the Chamber of Commerce. New York also got from abroad furs valued at $23,000,000, wines costing $9,352,000 and more than $131,000,000 in sugar, coffee and tea. There was almost eight times as much coffee as tea and almost twice as much sugar as there was coffee. Sugar was the largest single item, cotton goods being second with $56,000,000.

The foreign commerce of the port during the year aggregated $1,727,006,057, a gain of $205,039,967 over 1909. This is the biggest year's gain since 1880, when the city's commerce increased $278,886,831. New York's share of the total foreign commerce of the United States was, in the fiscal year 1910, 48.45 per cent, comparing with 47.41 per cent in 1909 and with 48.11 per cent in 1900.

In the last year, as well as in the last ten years, New York's foreign commerce has increased at a higher percentage than that of the whole country. New York's ten-year gain was 47.85 per cent, the rest of the country's 45.75 per cent and the whole country's including New York, 46.72 per cent. This comparison is based on total figures, including gold and silver imports and exports. Excluding coin and bullion, New York's gain in merchandise commerce was 50.56 per cent against 47.01 per cent for the whole country.

In the same ten-year period Boston's merchandise commerce increased 8.22 per cent, Philadelphia's 24.64 and New Orleans 47.05; so that New York has gained faster than her principal competitors in the United States whose ships sail the Atlantic Ocean.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

BOSTON, February 16, 1911.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor:

SIR,—On September 17, 1910, your Honor requested the Finance Commission to investigate and report upon the economic and social problems referred to in a letter from the chairman of the Consumptives' Hospital Trustees, which had been sent to your Honor on September 15, 1910, and a copy of which was sent to the commission.

The problems thus referred to the Finance Commission for investigation are as follows:

1. Whether the financial relations of the Commonwealth and the City of Boston, arising out of their efforts to prevent the spread of tuberculosis, should be readjusted.

2. Whether the officials of the City of Boston have neglected to employ existing means of preventing the spread of tuberculosis.

3. Whether the Boston Consumptives' Hospital should be under the control of the Boston Board of Health.

4. Whether a means can be provided for preventing the abuse of medical charity in Boston.

5. Whether the existing laws relating to the preservation of the public from the dangers of tuberculosis should be amended and new means of preventing the spread of the disease be provided.

Most of the questions involved in the last of these problems have been referred to the state commission appointed under chapter 76 of the Resolves of 1910, as appears from the following extract from the resolve:

"Resolve: That a commission, consisting of the chairman of the state board of health and six others to be appointed by the governor, two each from the state board of health, the state board of charity, and the state commissioner on consumptive hospitals, is hereby instructed to investigate the means and methods employed by the state and by local communities in caring for tubercular patients in hospitals, sanatoriums and dispensaries and, if it be found advisable, to report a plan which, by correlating the said means and methods, will prevent duplication and waste of effort. Said commission shall investigate and report particularly as to the relationship between this state and its municipalities in the care for tubercular patients, both in respect to the classes of cases cared for and to the apportionment of the financial burden caused thereby;

"As to the proper use, so far as the care of tuberculosis is concerned, of the state institutions at Rutland, North Reading, Lakeville, Westfield and Tewksbury;

"As to the relation which such state institutions should bear to hospitals for tubercular patients maintained by cities and towns;

"As to the power of the state board of health to require cities and towns to establish such hospitals;

"As to the advisability of modifying or repealing the settlement laws so far as the same apply to diseases dangerous to the public health;

"As to the advisability of supplying tubercular patients with food at their homes, and the best means of so doing, if to do so be deemed advisable;

"As to the advisability of establishing dispensaries for the discovery, supervision and treatment of cases of tuberculosis by the agency of local boards of health."

The state commission had made the investigation, and under date of November

1, 1910, submitted an elaborate report to the Governor of the Commonwealth, copies of which have been furnished to the members of the present Legislature.

The Finance Commission was established for the purpose of investigating and publishing the financial and departmental methods of the City of Boston and the County of Suffolk; and while all the problems referred to the commission have some relation to the city's finances the character of some of them is chiefly medical and only incidentally financial and they are, therefore, more appropriate subjects for investigation by medical experts than by a nonmedical board like the Finance Commission. The Finance Commission concluded that it need not attempt an investigation of the problems involved in the last question referred and consequently has confined its inquiry to the other four questions.

I. THE READJUSTMENT OF THE FINANCIAL RELATIONS OF THE COMMONWEALTH AND THE CITY OF BOSTON.

1. Boston's Excessive Burden.—This question has been referred to the Finance Commission by your Honor as a result of the claim made by the chairman of the Boston Consumptives' Hospital Trustees that the city is bearing more than its share of the general burden of providing care and treatment of persons afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis, or consumption, and of checking the spread of this disease.

This claim is founded upon the fact that Boston has maintained its own consumptives' hospital at great expense while paying, through the state tax, about one-third of the cost of similar hospitals maintained by the state, whereas few of the other municipalities in the state maintain consumptives' hospitals, preferring, for reasons of economy, to send their patients to the state institutions. Boston, Brookline, Cambridge, Fall River, Lawrence, New Bedford and Salem have established local hospitals for consumptives. But other municipalities, including such large cities as Worcester, Lowell, Lynn, Springfield, Somerville, Holyoke and Brockton have failed to establish consumptives' hospitals.

During the time that the state institutions at Rutland, North Reading, Lakeville and Westfield have been in existence, Boston has furnished on an average much less than one-third of the patients therein treated, but it has paid more than one-third of the state tax for the support of such institutions. This, in itself, would probably not be considered a just cause for complaint. But having established its own local hospital Boston may justly demand either that the cost of the state institutions be diminished hereafter through a reduction in the number of patients sent from other cities and towns, such reduction to be effected by the establishment of local hospitals in such cities and towns, or that the state make special provision for compensating Boston for the extraordinary expenses it has already incurred in the establishment and maintenance of its consumptives' hospital, and the expense it will be obliged to incur in the future.

The expense incurred for Boston's Consumptives' Hospital Department, up to February 1, 1911, as shown by the City Auditor's reports, is $823,668.32, of which $361,924.84 was expended from borrowed money. The total amount borrowed was $457,000 and of this only $95,075.16 is left. The chairman of the Consumptives' Hospital Trustees estimates that $365,000 will be needed to furnish additional accommodations, as follows:

For Construction.

One more concrete building for dying cases, which, when completed, will give a total minimum bed capacity for cases of this type of 200 cases.....	$90,000
For completion of accommodations for 150 more patients in the cottage ward type of hospital.....	75,000
To construct wards for care of fifty children.....	50,000
Additions to domestic, administration and admission buildings and nurses' quarters, for repairs on grounds, machinery, etc., and incidentals.....	100,000
	50,000
	$365,000

If this plan is carried out the city will probably be obliged to spend the $95,000 of unexpended loan money and to borrow $270,000 more, thus making the total loans for its Consumptives Hospital Department $727,000. He also estimates that the annual maintenance appropriation required will be $225,000. In addition it should be noted that the City's Health Department also makes large expenditures for the board of consumptives at the state institutions. Excluding payments through the state tax, Boston, with about one-third of the population of the cities of the state, has contributed at least five times as much as all other cities in the state combined towards the anti-tuberculosis campaign. This shows clearly that Boston's share of the general burden has been far greater than it should have been upon the basis of either population or valuation, and that it is justified in asking for a readjustment of the existing financial arrangements between the state and the cities and towns therein.

2. Suggestions for Removing this Inequality.—Various plans have been suggested for relieving Boston of similar burdens in the future. The Mayor of the City of Boston has introduced a bill (Senate No. 82) which provides for the transfer to the Commonwealth after the first day of January, 1912, of "the care and control and treatment of all persons afflicted with tuberculosis or consumption who are now cared for by the City of Boston or by any board or officers thereof." It is further provided that the City of Boston shall not hereafter establish any hospital, sanatorium, or other institution for the care of said patients, or after said date maintain any such institution or be liable for the board, care or treatment of any such person. It is further provided that the Boston Consumptives Hospital shall, after said date, be governed by a board of trustees appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Council; and that the state shall take the lands and buildings of the Boston Consumptives' Hospital and pay the city for the same.

The purchase by the state of the Boston Consumptives' Hospital, thus recommended by the Mayor, is urged on the ground that it is in line with the precedent established by the state's purchase of the Boston Insane Hospital, as recommended by the former Finance Commission. The two cases are not alike, however. The City of Boston, unlike all other municipalities in the state, maintained at its own expense an insane hospital, the state also maintaining hospitals for insane patients. When the state took over the Boston Insane Hospital it was not asked to establish local hospitals in other municipalities for the care of the insane in such municipalities. But the purchase by the state of the local consumptives' hospital already established by Boston and of similar hospitals established in other cities, would inevitably lead to demands from all other municipalities that the state erect and maintain local hospitals for them. These demands would be strongly urged on the ground that con-sumptives in the advanced stages of the disease can be induced to enter a local hospital where their friends may visit them, but cannot be persuaded to go far away from home, and consequently would remain in their homes, thus endangering all about them, unless a local hospital were available.

It should also be noted that the action of the City of Boston in establishing and maintaining its consumptives' hospital was entirely voluntary. While the law requiring the establishment by cities of isolation hospitals for dangerous diseases was passed in 1901 (Acts of 1901, chapter 171), tuberculosis was not included in the list of diseases dangerous to the public health until August 1, 1907. There was not, prior to the latter date, any requirement of law for the establishment by a city of a hospital for pulmonary tuberculosis or tuberculosis in any form. The idea of establishing a consumptives' hospital in Boston was conceived six years before the State Board of Health declared tuberculosis to be a disease dangerous to the public health. On July 3, 1901, the Mayor and City Council authorized a loan of $150,000 to provide land and buildings for a consumptives' hospital. The loan was not issued, however, until 1906. In that year, one year prior to the action of the State Board of Health, the land was acquired for a site and $66,896.18 was expended on the project. Boston, therefore, incurred this expense by its voluntary action and not because of any mandate of the state.

Before Boston incurred this expense it had as now equal rights with all other cities and towns in the Commonwealth to send its consumptives to the State Sanatorium at Rutland, which was established in 1898, rights of which it availed itself both before and after the establishment of its own hospital. It also has had and still has equal rights with all other cities and towns in the hospitals later established by the state at North Reading, Lakeville, Westfield and Tewksbury. It does not seem to the Finance Commission that Boston's demand that the state shall reimburse it for the cost of its hospital at Mattapan will receive favorable consideration from the Legislature, as it would logically lead to the purchase of the local hospitals established by Brookline, Cambridge, Fall River, Lawrence, New Bedford and Salem. The cost of the purchase and maintenance of these hospitals, added to the cost of erecting and maintaining local hospitals in other communities, would be tremendous.

3. The State Commission's Plan.—The state commission suggests a means of relieving Boston and other cities which have established their own consumptives' hospitals of a portion of the expense. It urges the need of local consumptives' hospitals for the treatment of advanced cases, meanwhile recommending the encouragement of private enterprise and philanthropy in the same field. On page 15 of its report it says: "It is the general belief that the tuberculosis problem in its entirety is too great for private enterprise. The time is come for the community and the boards of health to shoulder the responsibility that rightfully belongs to them. The community should enter this field because in the long run its work is more uniform, more lasting and more thorough. In the problem of tuberculosis the municipal authority has legal power to remedy many of the attendant and contributing evils of tuberculosis." The Finance Commission believes that this policy should be definitely established and maintained. The state may well be asked to compel all cities and the more populous towns to provide such hospitals at their own expense. Until they are so provided, the municipalities which have already established such hospitals at their own expense should be given adequate compensation in some form for the extraordinary burdens which they have assumed. As already stated, however, the Finance Commission believes that this compensation should not include the purchase by the state of such local hospitals, but that it should be confined to relieving such municipalities of a share of the cost of maintenance.

The state commission also suggests that all cities and towns which maintain their local hospitals be paid by the state $5 a week, or approximately one-half the expense of maintenance of all nonpaying patients in the local hospitals; and it is also suggested that all cities and towns in the Commonwealth pay to the state $5 a week, or approximately one-half the cost of maintenance of all nonpaying patients in the state hospitals who have a legal settlement in such cities and towns. This plan would be an improvement upon the existing arrangement, for while it would increase the payments by municipalities from $4 to $5 a week for patients at Rutland, North Reading, Lakeville and Westfield, it would give to the cities and towns which maintain their local hospitals $5 a week for nonpaying patients whereas they receive nothing from the state now. In the opinion of the Finance Commission the proposed remedy, however, is not adequate, as it still discriminates against the cities and towns which maintain their local hospitals and in favor of the municipalities which neglect to perform that duty, inasmuch as it does not take into account the capital investment of cities and towns in their local hospitals. The Finance Commission believes that it is equitable to require all cities and towns which send patients to the state hospitals to pay one-half the cost of their care; but it also believes that the cities and towns which maintain their local hospitals should receive some payment in addition to the $5 per week for each patient therein treated.

II. ALLEGED NEGLECT OF THE CITY AUTHORITIES.

The letter of the chairman of the Boston Consumptives' Hospital Trustees states: "While the city permits the sanitary and educational effort, which is essentially the duty of the health board, to remain unattended to or inefficiently performed, the money spent on tuberculosis is only an attempt to patch up a decrepit population upon whom disease and deterioration have already done their worst. As the situation stands to-day, the city is spending money lavishly on one hand caring for consumptives, while it is creating on the other hand, through neglect and incompetency, more than it is curing."

The particulars of the alleged neglect are as follows:

1. The alleged failure to enforce the law against expectoration in public places.
2. The alleged failure to improve tenement house conditions so as to prevent the rise and spread of consumption.
3. The alleged failure to provide proper ventilation in the public schools and to provide a sufficient number of "open air" rooms in the schools.
4. The alleged failure to make the physical examination of school children required by chapter 502 of the Acts of 1906, to determine whether they are suffering from any disability or defect tending to prevent them from receiving the full benefit of the school work.

1. Expectoration in Public Places.—It is said that many consumptives expectorate in public places and thus violate the law (1906, chapter 165; 1907, chapter 410; 1908, chapter 150), but that comparatively few offenders are prosecuted. The Finance Commission recognizes the danger of transmission of germs from the sputum of consumptives, but it has no means of enforcing the law against expectoration in public places. If the Consumptives' Hospital Trustees deem strict enforcement possible, or that stricter enforcement than is now given is necessary, it can request the co-operation of police officials with more assurance of success than a non-medical body like the Finance Commission. If more stringent laws are needed the Mayor might be asked by the Consumptives' Hospital Trustees to file the necessary petition with the Legislature.

2. Tenement House Conditions.—The commission believes that there has been a failure to improve tenement house conditions to the extent required in the interests of public health. The obvious remedies are better tenement house laws and strict enforcement of them. The former is a proper subject of study by a special commission; the latter is the immediate concern of the Board of Health. No evidence of neglect to enforce existing tenement house laws has been presented to the Finance Commission. If the Consumptives' Hospital Trustees have such evidence it should be presented to the Mayor, who should demand strict enforcement in the interests of the entire community.

3. Ventilation of School Buildings; Open-air Classes.—The Finance Commission, as a result of its own observation and the statements of others, believes that there is improper ventilation in some of the schools. In some cases it is due to inadequate facilities, in others to the fear of fresh air. The commission also believes that the "open-air" school room has been a successful experiment, and that more of such rooms should continue to be provided by the School Committee.

4. Physical Examination of School Children.—No complaint is made as to the manner in which tests of the sight and hearing of school children have been made, under section 5, chapter 502, of the Acts of 1906, but it is contended that a physical examination sufficiently thorough to determine whether children are tuberculous has not been made. The commission believes the statute in question is broad enough to require such an examination. The Board of Health admits, however, that such examinations have not been made up to last month. Various reasons were given by the Board of Health for the four years' delay to comply with the statute, but in the opinion of the commission none of the reasons are adequate. It is probable, however, that the necessity of such an examination as a means of preserving the public health has been exaggerated. The chairman of the Consumptives' Hospital Trustees estimates that 5,000, or approximately 5 per cent of the public school children of Boston are "definitely tuberculous," and that 50,000, or about one-half of all the school children, have ailments "that will probably finally make for tuberculosis." But a recent examination of 2,602 of Boston's public school children, between the ages of fourteen and sixteen, has been made under another statute (1910, chapter 257), and it showed only fifteen cases, or slightly above one-half of 1 per cent of the whole number, in which "suspicious symptoms of present or impending tuberculosis were found." The examination was made in each of the last six months and the results are stated in a letter of the chairman of the Board of Health, a copy of which is hereto annexed. The physical examination of school children required by the law of 1906 will soon be made by the Board of Health, according to the statement of its members. When the number of children who are tuberculous is thus ascertained, the means of providing for the care and education of such children should be carefully studied by the city's health authorities and the School Committee.

III. THE TRANSFER OF THE CARE OF BOSTON'S CONSUMPTIVES' HOSPITAL FROM THE BOARD OF CONSUMPTIVES' HOSPITAL TRUSTEES.

Various suggestions have been made for transferring the jurisdiction over the city's Consumptives' Hospital from the present board to the State or City Board of Health, or to the City Hospital Trustees. The Finance Commission believes that the city should retain jurisdiction of its Consumptives' Hospital, but that it should be under the supervision of the State Board of Health. It also believes that nothing would be gained by transferring the control of the hospital from the present Board to the City Hospital Trustees; nor is it prepared to recommend a transfer to the City Board of Health. It may be urged that the City Board of Health, which is the local central health authority, should have the management of all hospitals within the city. The Finance Commission believes, however, that the time for considering this transfer has not arrived. The subject may well be considered at a later period, when it is hoped the City Board of Health will be strengthened. The Finance Commission has frequently urged the appointment, as a third member of the board, of a person qualified by education, training and experience for the performance of his duties, but so far without success.

IV. THE ABUSE OF PUBLIC CHARITY.

The Consumptives' Hospital Trustees represented to the Finance Commission that many persons are admitted free to the various hospitals maintained by the city who are able to pay for treatment, and suggested that the Finance Commission investigate this question. The Finance Commission believes that it would be a profitable subject of investigation, but suggests that it would be made better by the trustees of the various hospitals themselves, as they have far more intimate knowledge of the facts than the Finance Commission could possibly acquire even after a long investigation.

The commission believes that chapter 4 of the City Ordinances of 1909, should be repealed, so that only inhabitants of Boston for at least two years be given admission to the Consumptives' Hospital, instead of leaving it open, as now, to any person from other parts of New England, or even from Canada, who may wish to take a residence in Boston for a period long enough to obtain free treatment, and perhaps for that purpose only.

The commission recommends:

1. That the Mayor urge the Legislature to adopt a plan for relieving Boston that is more equitable than the subsidy plan proposed by the state commission.

2. That the examination of school children for the purpose of ascertaining the existence of tuberculosis be made by the City Board of Health as speedily as possible.

3. That the School Committee take further steps to provide better ventilation in the public schools; and that the policy of establishing open-air rooms for sickly children be continued and extended.

4. That the city retain its consumptives' hospital at Mattapan, under the control of the Consumptives' Hospital Trustees, subject to the supervision of the State Board of Health.

5. That the Mayor request the trustees of the various city hospitals to make a thorough investigation of the extent to which the city's hospitals are used by people who can afford to but do not pay for treatment.

6. That chapter 4 of the Ordinances of 1909 be repealed.

Respectfully submitted,
THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

Chairman.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Boston, February 7, 1911.

HON. JOHN A. SULLIVAN,
Chairman Finance Commission,
Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR,—In compliance with your request, I beg to make the following statement:

Under chapter 502, Acts of 1906, as amended by chapter 257, Acts of 1910, a physician appointed by the Board of Health is required to examine such children between the ages of 14 and 16 years as have secured from the School Committee an employment ticket. This requirement of the Legislature went into effect August 1, 1910. The examinations for the first six months ending January 31, 1911, were as follows:

August.....	391	November.....	327
September.....	768	December.....	351
October.....	411	January.....	354

These have been general physical examinations, and as to the finding of evidence of tuberculosis, it may be said that there were found in

August.....	1	November.....	3
September.....	3	December.....	1
October.....	3	January.....	4

cases in which suspicious symptoms of present or impending tuberculosis were found; and although insufficient to warrant a positive diagnosis, were cases calling for further examinations and proper surveillance.

Yours very truly,
S. H. DURGIN,
Chairman.

CENSUS OF TRAFFIC OVER NEW YORK BRIDGES.

The report of the Public Service Commission for the first district contains a count of the traffic over the East River bridges. This report states that from a count made on three different days it was learned that on the first day in question the Brooklyn Bridge handled 309,783 people; on the second day, 328,899; and the third day, 342,909. At the same time the Williamsburg Bridge was serving 182,233, 213,487 and 242,251 people. The ferries in the same time took care of 161,938, 120,841 and 119,423 passengers. The subway to Brooklyn turned in this count: 159,708, 193,781 and 210,139 passengers for the three days noted. The total East River travel for the three days on which tests were made was 813,662, 882,311 and 978,561. On the three days 405,951, 443,754 and 490,965 came to Manhattan, while 407,711, 438,557 and 487,596 went to Long Island.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

DISTRICT MEETINGS.

The following subjects were presented for consideration and discussion at the district meetings held during the past week.

ROXBURY.

(February 9, 1911, Vine Street Church.)

PARKER HILL IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. JAMES P. FOX, PETER D. MCQUADE, AND JAMES S. MAHONEY.)

1. Playground for Ward 19.
2. Fire protection on Parker Hill.
3. Free transfers at the junction of Massachusetts and Huntington avenues.
4. Improved drainage around Roxbury Crossing.

Mayor Fitzgerald stated, in regard to a proposed playground for Wards 17 and 19, that it had been only within a few days that the committee of the district had suggested a possible site, and that it had also differences of opinion as to the site for an engine house that had delayed action in regard to the Parker Hill district.

ROXBURY IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. WILLIAM C. FREE.)

Mr. Free said that in looking over the list of twelve requests of last year he had found that seven had been granted or were in process of being granted, and that the association considered that a fine showing. The requests presented this year are as follows:

Not Done Last Year.

1. Better police protection and lighting of the parks.
2. The enlargement of Orchard Park by extending the same to Yeoman and Adams streets, so as to provide better facilities for its utilization as a breathing space for mothers and children; also as a playground, bath and skating pool.
3. Drinking fountains to be placed in all the public parks in Roxbury.
4. Establishment of public convenience stations in Roxbury. Sites suggested: Vine street and Dudley street; in vicinity of Dudley street terminal at Roxbury Crossing; at junction of Huntington avenue and Tremont street.
5. Erection of a municipal building after the same general plan as that on Columbia road.

Additional Requests.

6. Use of Parkman Fund for improvement of local parks and playgrounds. Postpone for three or four years consideration of Zoo and Aquarium, or, at least, devote one-half of income to care of parks and playgrounds.
7. Have Board of Health define duties of medical inspectors in schools, and have same printed for public distribution.
8. Granolithic or other uniform method of sidewalk construction. We urge indorsement of bill before Legislature making ten miles compulsory.
9. Increase burial of wires to four miles per year instead of two.
10. Preservation of existing parks.
11. Better fire protection for Parker Hill. Suggest first the relocation of streets on the hill substantially as laid out on plan in City Engineer's office.
12. Request Mayor to urge upon the Boston Elevated Railway Company that it remedy existing conditions at Roxbury Crossing, which constitute a serious menace to pedestrians and general traffic.

MR. HENRY W. KELLY.

Replace the old paving on some of the Roxbury streets, particularly the traffic streets, with up-to-date pavement, perhaps similar to that recently placed on Dudley street. Blue Hill avenue was particularly specified as a street that needs something of the sort. It would greatly reduce the noise. Give the streets one more cleaning during the week.

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE IN THE DISTRICT THE PAST YEAR.

Mayor Fitzgerald presented the following statement of what had been done in the district during the past year, in spite of the limited available amount of money that could be expended in the city; and also some of the work contemplated in the district the ensuing year:

STATEMENT BY A TEAMSTER.

A teamster, whose name was not given, stating that he was a member of the Team Drivers' Association of Boston, desired pavements on Tremont and Washington streets that would be better for horses, referring particularly to the places where there are wooden pavements.

WARD 17, IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. THOMAS M. JOYCE.)

1. Procure the land and extend the playground in Ward 17 to Massachusetts avenue.
2. Widen Hampden street, from Albany street to Dudley street.
3. Improve the street car transportation.
4. Place noiseless paving on Orchard Park and Ambrose streets, near the Dearborn school.

SENATOR JAMES H. DOYLE.

1. Erect a municipal building, with gymnasium and baths, for the people of the lower section of Ward 17, who are a long distance from Cabot street.
2. Improve the Roxbury Crossing car service.

MT. PLEASANT IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. THOMAS P. PHELAN.)

1. Have the school yards open afternoons and evenings in the summer time for the benefit of women and children.
2. Try to have the Elevated road run a line of cars for Mattapan down Blue Hill avenue to Dudley to Hampden streets, turning off on Harrison avenue, and then into the city, to avoid congesting Washington street; also have Meeting House Hill cars go down Harrison avenue, and a line from Norfolk street, Dorchester. Try to have the Elevated put on more cars generally, for the benefit of the people.
3. Enlarge Orchard Park.
4. Convert the Vine Street Church into an all-the-year-around gymnasium, with baths.
5. Establish a municipal employment bureau, where men can meet and get information about work.

MR. JAMES A. WATSON.

1. Use the public buildings of Boston on certain evenings in the week for lecture purposes.
2. Improve conditions at the Dudley street terminal.
3. Take down the barbed wire fence at Madison Park, remove some of the trees, and make it into a genuine playground, including a ballfield.
4. Prevent the Elevated road from crowding its cars, by having men who shall say when the cars are full and shall prevent more people from getting on.

MR. JOSEPH R. YENDLEY.

Thought that if another man were placed at Roxbury Crossing to attend to overflows from snow and rain, joining hills, it would help matters.

Coun. BALLANTYNE, KENNY, COLLINS and SMITH addressed the meeting, stating the object of these meetings and expressing themselves as anxious to meet the wishes of the citizens in the different sections in so far as the finances of the city would permit.

APPROPRIATION FOR HIGH FORT.

Coun. Ballantyne stated that Mayor Fitzgerald should be thanked for the appropriation which had recently been obtained for High Fort, urged by the Roxbury Historical Society.

SUGGESTION AS TO MEETINGS WITH IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATIONS.

Mayor Fitzgerald suggested that it would be a good idea at times during the year between these town meetings for representatives of improvement associations in various parts of the city to visit City Hall and find out what the Mayor and City Council were doing in regard to matters affecting their districts, believing that at certain times of the year such visits might be made once a month.

Mayor Fitzgerald, in closing, made a plea for co-operation of the citizens with the Mayor and City Council, telling them that the finances of the city were limited, but that everything possible would be done to meet the actual needs of the different sections. As the Parkman Fund had been referred to at this and other meetings, he said he believed the first things to attend to with the Parkman Fund were a zoo and aquarium of which the city need not be ashamed, and that then such requirements of the various sections as could properly be met from that fund should be considered.

This closed the meeting.

BRIGHTON.

(February 10, 1911, in Brighton High School.)

FANEUIL IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. ROBERT P. ADAMS, PRESIDENT, MR. WILLIAM H. THAYER, VICE-PRESIDENT, MR. JOHN T. SCULLY AND MR. CHARLES H. WARREN.)

1. Widen and improve Faneuil street.
2. Erect a municipal building, to contain gymnasium, baths and library, in the center of Brighton.
3. Establish a fire station, in the vicinity of Oak square, for which some $15,000 has been appropriated.
4. Work of United Improvement Association, as regards medical inspection of children in the public schools, indorsed.

5. Influence of Mayor and City Council urged before the Legislature in favor of bill providing for building ten miles of granolithic, concrete and brick sidewalks each year for the next ten years in Boston.

6. Mayor and City Council asked to co-operate in favoring a bill for the burial of four, instead of two, miles of wire each year in the City of Boston for an indefinite period.

7. Has been some improvement in methods of collecting garbage and ashes since last year, but it has not yet reached the proper standard of efficiency.

8. Electrification of steam railroads of vital importance.

The proposed widening and improvement of Faneuil street is estimated to cost $295,000; perhaps $50,000 or $75,000 a year might be devoted to it until the work is completed.

9. Fix up Western avenue.

10. Continue Union street as laid out by the original Board of Survey.

REPRESENTATIVE T. J. F. CALLAHAN.

Representative Callahan appeared for the Allston Improvement Association and as a representative of the district.

1. Continue Union street so as to give better ingress and egress to the monastery and the section about there. The necessary land will be given by the monastery and two public spirited gentlemen.

2. Fix up Western avenue.

3. Have better playground facilities.

4. Extend Bolton street.

5. Have the public schools open at reasonable times for the discussion of civic questions. (Mayor Fitzgerald suggested that the School Committee had made an arrangement whereby this could be done on a very reasonable basis, and that it was surprising that more advantage had not been taken of it.)

6. Try to have the car service of Brighton improved. The Western avenue line is in particularly bad condition.

HEAD MASTER F. A. TUPPER.

1. The Brighton High School should have the adjoining lot purchased for its future growth and development, the building even now being inadequate.

2. Union street should be extended, making, among other advantages, the high school more accessible.

SCHOOL COMMITTEEMAN BROCK.

Mr. Brock seconded Mr. Tupper's remarks in regard to the purchase of the land.

When Mayor Fitzgerald raised a question whether the schools should not go back to the nine-grade rather than the eight-grade system, because under the eight-grade system the tendency was to turn out pupils (particularly those who were unable to go higher, younger and more unprepared than they should be), Messrs. Tupper and Brock stated that they were not able to express a definite opinion on that matter, but the ages at which the pupils reached the high school in Brighton were higher than the Mayor had been informed was the case in some other sections. The Mayor felt that the grammar school education was all that most children got, that it should be made as thorough and as complete as possible, and that there were good arguments to the fact that it was more complete and satisfactory under the nine-grade than under the eight-grade arrangement.

MR. ISAAC F. WOODBURY.

1. The thing that interests the people of Brighton, as well as those of other outlying districts, particularly, is that of opening up, accepting and putting in shape streets that are unaccepted, which have been roughly graded, built upon and occupied to quite an extent. Owners of unoccupied land should first open up streets themselves, and when the requirements are more pressing, when the streets are built upon, the city should accept them and put them in shape.

2. Favored granolithic or cement sidewalks.

3. Criticised transportation by street cars to and from Brighton.

4. Believed the Riverbank subway should be built without further delay.

MR. THOMAS W. MURRAY.

1. Desired better playground facilities.

2. Criticised the street railway transportation on the Western avenue line, particularly.

3. Believed in the extension of Union street over the hill down to a point on Warren street near the school.

MR. MAX NEWMAN.

1. Indorsed the proposed playground.

2. Believed in a municipal building.

3. Favored the acceptance of Wallingford road, connecting Commonwealth avenue with Chestnut Hill. The expense will be about $21,000.

MR. JEREMIAH DONOVAN.

Believed in the removal of obnoxious billboards, if it can be done, from vacant lots. They are serious causes of nuisance.

MR. AXEL E. ZETTERMAN.

1. Seconded Mr. Donovan's remarks in regard to the billboard nuisance.

2. Favored improvement of North Brighton playground.

3. Favored street improvements, practically all of the streets except North Harvard street being in deplorable condition.

4. Favored improvement in the vicinity of Barry's Corner, purchasing a piece of land and laying it out as a square, and constructing a watering trough, Western avenue being a teaming thoroughfare.

Mayor Fitzgerald referred to the work done in Brighton for the past year as follows:

Work done by the Highway Division during 1910: 103,000 square yards macadam resurfaced and patched.

3,600 square yards block paving laid and relaid.

4,200 feet edgestone set and reset.

800 square yards brick sidewalk laid and relaid.

15,000 square yards crushed stone sidewalks resurfaced.

The above work cost about $47,000.

The following streets were resurfaced with macadam:

Farrington avenue, Harvard avenue to Linden street.

Mt. Vernon street, Academy Hill Road to Foster street.

Cambridge street, Washington to North Beacon streets.

Saunders street, Cambridge to North Beacon streets.

Linden street, Farrington avenue to Cambridge street.

$11,763 50

Amount of money expended by the Schoolhouse Department for repairs, etc., on the schools in the Brighton district was $12,687.86.

Mr. Dorr states that the restoration of the Brighton sewer yard is being now accomplished.

As to the imperfect condition of the Allston tunnel, plans have been made for a new drain and catch-basin. The work will be done in the near future, or as soon as the day labor gang is available for Brighton.

Two million four hundred thousand dollars have been spent on Commonwealth avenue from Beacon street to the Newton line. The section from Chestnut Hill to the Newton line was built about ten years ago.

There have been two new fire engines put into this district, one at Engine 29 and the other at Engine 41. These replaced others. A large hose carriage is to be added to 29. Two new men have been added to the companies.

The Mayor thought it would be well for the representatives of the different sections, in associations or otherwise, to get together and decide what were the most important things for their district, and that the Mayor and City Council would try to meet them; but at present many representatives of the different sections are at loggerheads, with the result that nothing is done. The associations should also keep after the Mayor and City Council on matters in which they are interested until something is done; also thought that an annual appropriation of something like $50,000 until the improvement is completed would be a good appropriation for Fanueil street. Of course, with the limited funds of the city Brighton cannot now expect all the street improvements it would like. It should get together on what it needs most, and its representatives should also get after the Street Commissioners, the same as after the Mayor and City Council.

The Mayor also stated that with the aid of his Information Bureau he had tried to properly present complaints of the citizens in regard to transportation to the elevated road, as well as considering other complaints, with some success but not as much as might be wished. Some of these things should be fought out with the Railroad Commission.

COUNCILOR EARNEST E. SMITH.

Mayor Fitzgerald having suggested that the people of Brighton, not having a representative in the City Council, looked to Councilor Smith to represent them, the councilor said that he wished to be the representative of the people of Brighton as well as the rest of the city; that he wished any of them who had complaints to come to his office, outside of business hours, when he would be glad to look into anything they had to present and, if it was a proper thing, to support it.

COUNCILOR WALTER L. COLLINS.

Councilor Collins said there was not really money enough to go round, but that the City Council would do the best it could, bearing in mind the good of the whole city. Boston has had severe treatment financially at the hands of the national and state governments, with the result that it has a very small margin to expend for needed improvements; that the City Council tried to act in an absolutely unsectional way is shown by the fact that East Boston, which had no representative in the City Council last year, fared best in the expenditures.

Adjourned.

DORCHESTER.

(February 13, 1911, in Dorchester High School.)

HARVARD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

PRESENTED BY COL. THOMAS F. DOHERTY, MR. J. P. MAGENIS AND DR. WILLARD A. PAUL.

1. Pave Talbot avenue with brick and build sidewalks with granolithic, from Blue Hill avenue to Peabody square.
2. Pave Washington street with brick from Blue Hill avenue to Codman square, with granolithic sidewalks.
3. Macadamize Kilton, Faxon, Harvard avenue and Vaughan streets.
4. Have a police station in the Harvard street district.
5. Open gymnasium in Franklin Field.
6. Have medical inspection for children in the schools.
7. Have a sidewalk bill which will mean more and better sidewalks—ten miles of granolithic walks each year.

8. Have a convenience station at Harvard, Bowdoin and Washington streets.

Mayor Fitzgerald expressed himself as surprised that a concerted demand had not been made in the district for night high schools. It had been represented to him, through the School Committee or otherwise, that there was no great demand or need in the district for night schools, and he could not believe that was the fact.

ASHMONT IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

PRESENTED BY MR. MICHAEL B. MARTIN.

1. There is great need of an evening high school for Dorchester, as Mayor Fitzgerald suggests.
 2. There should be also general use allowed, at reasonable times, of the high school gymnasium and baths by young men of the district.
 3. There should be a fire station somewhere around Field's Corner, or the lower part of Adams street, or around Park street.
- Mayor Fitzgerald suggested that an auto chemical at the Peabody square station might answer the purpose for the district.
4. Trusted that the new tunnel would come as far as Codman square.

SAVIN HILL IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

PRESENTED BY MELVILLE F. RODGERS, M. D., PRESIDENT.

1. Have better means of reaching the summit of Savin Hill, as the present Grampian way is impossible to fire apparatus during many days in winter.
2. Have a station for the receiving and delivery of library books.
3. Support should be given to House Bills 514 and 961, before the Committee of the Legislature on Roads and Bridges, being respectively, "An Act to provide for the laying-out and construction of a state highway in the City of Boston from Columbia road to the Neponset river," and "An Act relative to the location of state highways."

OLD COLONY AVENUE ASSOCIATION REQUEST.

PRESENTED BY MR. JAMES H. STARK.

That the need for urgent and immediate action in regard to Old Colony avenue is great.

Mr. Young also strongly favored work on Old Colony avenue.

Mayor Fitzgerald stated that one great reason why Boston is able to do so little in this and other lines is that it is continually milked on all sides by other interests in the state, being looked upon as a wealthy community that offers a shining mark for those who have selfish ends to attain. He urged his hearers to appear in strength at State House hearings in which the interests of the City of Boston were concerned, and take a strong stand in behalf of the city.

METING HOUSE HILL IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

PRESENTED ON BEHALF OF MR. JAMES F. BARRY, THE PRESIDENT, AND MR. JOSEPH C. O'KANE, BY MR. MANSFIELD.)

1. Work should begin as soon as possible on the Dorchester Subway.
2. Have a Mount Ida Playground. Homes avenue, running over the hill, divides the land proposed to be used for park purposes into two tracts of about 250,000 square feet each, assessed from 12 to 25 cents per square foot, and the tract to the north, with a large house, stable and beautiful grounds, can be bought in the vicinity of 25 cents per foot, buildings included. The tract to the south, assessed on the average for 15 cents per foot, can possibly be bought for less than 25 cents per foot.
3. Establish convenience stations near Field's Corner transfer and at Upham's Corner on land now owned by the city near Old Dorchester Burial Ground.
4. Have a new building, and consider change of location for Ladder 7 and Engine 17, now poorly housed in old dilapidated buildings in a location that is a source of danger, when apparatus is responding to alarms just before and after school hours, to many small children.
5. The collecting of garbage and ashes by contract should be abolished and a sanitary department established in the interest of manhood, health and clean streets.
6. Coleman street should be accepted, laid out and constructed from Hendry street to Quincy street.
7. Work on Geneva avenue should be pushed at the earliest opportunity.
8. Hamilton street, on the easterly side of Bowdoin street, should be extended to Ditson street, giving a direct approach to and from Field's Corner.
9. Holiday street should be accepted, laid out and constructed from Topliff street to Bowdoin street.
10. Homes avenue, a street laid about 1870, from Topliff street to Draper street, should be accepted and constructed.
11. Levant street should be accepted from Topliff street to Geneva avenue.
12. The streets should be cleaned at regular periods, not haphazard or in response to vigorous kicks from an indignant public.

In response to a question by Mayor Fitzgerald, Superintendent Rourke stated that experiments were being made in the line of street cleaning by day labor, and that $21,000 had been spent for street cleaning in Dorchester last year.

NEPONSET IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. H. W. BURR.)

1. The Neponset and Pope's Hill section has been going down, so that in many cases banks will not loan money on property in that section, and some attention should be paid to the improvement of the section.
2. Removal of ashes, etc., should be better attended to.
3. Dorchester should pay particular attention to getting the big things, however, subways, tubes, public roads, etc., and the little things will come. A boulevard on the east side of the Neponset section, with five cent fares and the beautiful water front, would do much to improve things.
4. There should be better car service, for instance in connection with Franklin Field and Franklin Park.
5. Something should be done to encourage factories and building generally in this section, to get out of its stagnation.

Mayor Fitzgerald referred to the fact that there were no banking facilities in Boston to assist factories, and that it was only the small outlying, local savings banks that were loaning money on small house mortgages; that people should encourage the co-operative banks and local loan associations which do assist along these lines. That is the way in which Lynn, Brockton, Rockland and other places have been built up.

WEST DORCHESTER IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. HENRY G. SMITH.)

1. Improve hospital service in Dorchester by ambulance service in the West Dorchester district.
2. Fix up Mascot street, where there is a pool that causes a nuisance.

These requests were made last year, and nothing has been done.

Mayor Fitzgerald had Mr. Rourke make a note of the puddle in the street. The Mayor suggested to the speaker that a new engine house had recently been opened up for the district, and said he had been talking the other day with Mr. Brooks of the School Department about the school accommodations of the section.

Mr. Smith also thought the men removing ashes should be equipped with shovels, so that the streets and alleys would not be so greatly cluttered up as at present.

MATTAPAN CITIZENS ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. DUFFY.)

1. Better sidewalks wanted for the section. In winter the streets are frequently now better for foot travel than the sidewalks. Granolithic walks preferred. On Blue Hill avenue especially granolithic walks instead of brick walks should be constructed.
2. Would like a convenience station at Mattapan square, a congested travel center, in the summer especially.
3. Mattapan square should be better lighted, perhaps with high lights, as in Edward Everett square.
4. There are also some cannon balls knocking around the square, that had been in the past piled up as a congressional gift. They should be gathered together in a proper way.
5. The street car service should be improved, being inadequate, and there should be a transfer station at the corner of Talbot and Blue Hill avenues; Columbia road cars should be run later than they now are; should be better accommodations on the Blue Hill avenue line.

Another speaker hoped the Commissioner of Public Works would take cognizance of the fact that at River street, Mattapan square, Hyde Park line, there was a mud hole.

Mayor Fitzgerald referred to the fact that the Mayor's office had established a publicity bureau, at which complaints could be registered, and that while as a result there had not been as much done as might be wished, some things had been accomplished. Mr. Mooney, the head of the bureau, when called upon by the Mayor, said he had got in touch with the elevated road in connection with the transfer system in Dorchester and had been informed that the road could not afford to issue any more transfers in Dorchester at this time, but that a petition had been filed with the Railroad Commissioners in the matter by Mr. Mooney. The Mayor suggested that the improvement associations and others should unite and appear in force at hearings before the Railroad Commission and other public service boards upon matters in which they were interested, and follow them up, and Colonel Doherty said the Harvard Improvement Association would certainly do so.

The Mayor also referred to the fact that the attitude of abutters had held back a great deal of granolithic sidewalk construction, that they had in some cases assumed the position of dogs in the manger; that it had in cases been impossible to remedy mudholes, etc., on private streets, because of the lack of public spirit of the abutters.

MR. JAMES A. COYLE.

Spoke of the Cove Street Bridge situation and of the dead property at the South Boston end, which is really a disgrace; also spoke of a street in Ashmont, with St. Mark's church at one end and an Episcopal and a Unitarian church at the other end, where there should be a sidewalk on one side of the street, preferably granolithic; also thought something should be done to compel abutters to shovel snow off their sidewalks more promptly. Mayor Fitzgerald told the speaker that this could be remedied by applying to the police. The speaker thought it might be possible after a reasonable time to put a gang of men on, under an ordinance to be passed, and charge up the expense to the abutters, but the Mayor said a report to the police would remedy the trouble. The Mayor also referred to the Cove Street Bridge difficulty, where there has already been expended for bridge construction and for land taken for the South Boston approach, $539,000, the damages to date are $725,000, and the bridge, on account of the steep grade, is not used as it was thought it would be by teams or by foot passengers. It is a problem, which is being discussed, but a solution for which has not yet been reached.

LOWER MILLS CITIZENS ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. W. J. MURRAY.)

1. Favored boulevard work, but, as the Mayor says, that may be a matter that should be presented to the state rather than to the city.
2. The principal trouble of the section is in the matter of transportation.
3. Should have better sidewalks.
4. There is, after a rain, a quagmire on Adams street, near the Dorchester park, and the speaker thought the same was true on the Dorchester avenue side.
5. Favored evening school accommodations.
6. Improve Washington street, Dorchester, from Codman square to the Lower Mills.

Mr. Martin spoke of the careless way in which builders dump lumber, stone and brick on the sidewalk and in the middle of the road and let it remain for some time, and thought there should be inspection which would prevent that; that better building inspection would also prevent the erection of fire traps.

Mayor Fitzgerald stated that efforts were being made by himself, assisted by Mr. Logue and the real estate interests, improvement associations, labor organizations, builders and others, to reduce the present fire hazard. Seven men representing these different interests are looking into the situation and a bill has been presented to the Legislature.

The Mayor also stated that it was a surprise to him that greater advantage had not been taken by the public of the chance to use the high school evenings for meetings; he felt that more work on state highways should be done for Boston by the state and that Boston might well demand that a Boston man fill the next vacancy on the State Highway Commission.

MR. JOHN J. HOAR.

1. There should be evening schools for the district.
2. The improvement societies should get together and demand what they want at the Legislature. The Mayor and City Council have been greatly curbed by the charter—for instance, in the Mayor's appointments, by the forcing of the Police Commissioner on the city, by the Finance Commission, and in various ways.

Mayor Fitzgerald stated that he was in sympathy with the evening schools suggestion, and thought representative citizens might also get up a good club house which would keep the boys off the streets at night. He deeply regretted the fact that the Charter Association was trying to do so much to hamper the legitimate advancement of the city along lines of necessary improvement.

Mr. Stark criticised the School Committee, spoke about fire risks of the district, and about the variance of assessments on different streets in Dorchester.

COUNCILOR WALTER L. COLLINS.

Coun. Collins thanked the people for the confidence they had imposed in him and spoke at length on the matter of improvements and of the difficulties that were encountered in the present state of the city's finances.

COUNCILOR EARNEST E. SMITH.

Coun. Smith spoke on the duty of the Council to represent all sections of the city, and not one ward or section; advocated getting away from party lines and working together for the good of the city, and invited his hearers to present to him any grievances they had.

On motion of Mr. Young the meeting thanked the Mayor and City Council for coming before them.

CHARLESTOWN.

(February 14, 1911, in Charlestown High School.)

CHARLESTOWN IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY DR. FRANCIS P. SILVA, MR. STANTON H. KING, HON. WILLIAM F. MURRAY, HON. DAVID B. SHAW AND MR. PATRICK M. KYLE.)

1. A municipal building in Ward 3.
2. A new library.
3. A playground for Ward 5.

It was stated to be desirable that the troops be moved from the old Winthrop school building, the troops themselves desiring it, to some other proper place, also that in the lower end of Ward 3 there are more than 6,000 people, with not more than twenty bath tubs in the property; that parts of Charlestown are more thickly settled than any other part of Boston; that practically nothing has been done for Charlestown for years, and that in such a district the three things asked for above were important, and really necessary.

Mr. Shaw, after speaking in favor of the above requests, also said that nothing had been done on Medford street, where the street last year was falling in and is to-day in the same condition; that the old Charlestown sewer yard should be restored.

Mayor Fitzgerald stated that he had keen sympathy with Charlestown's wishes, as expressed above; that loan money for bathhouse, etc., authorized before he became Mayor, was issued when he came into office, but was held up by the Finance Commission until Mayor Hibbard came in; that Mayor Hibbard put the colored company into the hall where it now meets, and that the present Mayor had been powerless to have them placed in some other proper place, and he felt that they should not be expected to go to anything but a proper place; that such removal and provision elsewhere is a matter for State House regulation; that on these and all other matters affecting Charlestown's interests the citizens should be active and energetic in dealing with the Mayor, the City Council and the Legislature; that the question of what shall be done in the sewer and other divisions of the department dealing with streets is being earnestly considered under the new Board of Public Works, and that whatever is done will be what is thought for the best, after investigation; that the library situation is a matter for the City Council, and that upon that matter he had had conferences with representatives of the district in regard to various pieces of property that would be satisfactory to the improvement association and that would come within the appropriation, and had also talked with the library trustees; that he himself put the Charlestown playground first among the playground needs of the city and had got into some trouble with other sections because he had done so; and that none of the improvements suggested to-night have been denied by the Mayor's office.

Mayor Fitzgerald here stated what had been done during the past year in Charlestown, and what was proposed for the immediate future, as follows:

Amount expended by Schoolhouse Department in Charlestown district for year ending January 31, 1911, was $23,393.07. This is the total amount expended on repairs and renewals. In addition there has been expended in this district for land, new buildings and the furnishing of the same the following:

Elementary School, Warren District, approximately.....	$18,000
Isolated boiler plant, Prescott Annex, and the taking of land for the enlarging of yards of the Polk Street and Prescott Schools.....	36,000
	$54,000

The following work was performed by the Highway Division force during the year 1910: 34,000 square yards macadam resurfaced and patched; 22,000 square yards block paving laid and relaid; 9,000 square yards brick sidewalks laid and relaid; 8,700 feet edgestone set and reset. The above work cost about $34,000.

The following streets were resurfaced with macadam: Cordis street, Warren to High streets; Sullivan street, Main to Bartlett streets; Decatur street, Bunker Hill to Medford streets; Monument square, Marion street, Bunker Hill to Princeton streets; Corey street, Moulton to Medford streets; Sprague street, Bunker Hill to Princeton streets; Winthrop street, Monument square to Adams street.

The following streets were repaved with granite blocks: Alford street, Main street to Malden Bridge; Dunstable street, Main street to Rutherford avenue; Chelsea street, Medford to Bunker Hill streets; Main street, Mead street to Furber court.

Expenditures in 1910 by the Park Department were for Charlestown Playground, sanitary and locker building, drainage and electric lighting, $6,109.31; Mystic Playground, sanitary and shelter, water supply and drainage, $4,310.75; total, $10,420.06.

COUNCILOR DANIEL J. McDONALD.

Coun. McDonald told of the efforts the Mayor and the representatives of Charlestown had made to get some of the things desired by the citizens accomplished, and was very hopeful for the future.

COUNCILOR TIMOTHY J. BUCKLEY.

Coun. Buckley stated that he had not attended these town meetings this year as he did not feel, with the financial condition of the city, that they would result in anything, but that he and his colleagues and the Mayor had co-operated and intended to continue to co-operate for the benefit of Charlestown and hoped to get some results.

COUNCILOR WALTER L. COLLINS.

Coun. Collins stated that, while the City Council represented the entire city and had to consider the needs of the city as a whole in order to do their full duty, the needs of all the individual sections would be very carefully studied in making up their conclusions. His wish, and that of his colleagues, was to do his duty by the whole city, but he stated that he was in thorough sympathy with the situation in Charlestown, as stated, and felt that a very strong case had been made out.

The Mayor stated that, while many Charlestown people regarded the bridges as subjects of expenditure not properly chargeable to Charlestown, that was not the general view of people in other sections and that, as a matter of fact, where bridges are built connecting different municipalities, Boston and Cambridge for instance, each city is required to bear half the expense.

REPRESENTATIVE BRENNAN.

There should be a fence placed on the wall of the Mystic Playground, to remove danger of serious accident and perhaps loss of life.

COUNCILOR EARNEST E. SMITH.

Coun. Smith considered these meetings the best way to learn what the people want, and trusted that they would be continued. He wished to learn the wants of the citizens in all sections, and would then earnestly try to do his full duty as representing the whole city, based on the information thus received.

COLONEL WILLIAM OAKES.

Colonel Oakes stated that the reason for the colored troops being brought over to Charlestown, in the first place, was to save expense in housing them, and it was done by the late Mayor Hibbard; that the troops wished to be elsewhere and that they should be provided with proper accommodations elsewhere, allowing the use of the building which they at present occupy for the purposes for which it is intended, all-the-year-around baths, etc. He believed a proper hall could be furnished for troops at a rental of less than $2,000 a year.

The Mayor felt that there was no doubt that some settlement of the question could be reached.

Adjourned.

A MUNICIPAL CHALLENGE.

Mayor E. H. Crump of Memphis, Tenn., has sent the following telegram to Mayor F. H. Kreismann of St. Louis, Mo.:

Mayor F. H. Kreismann, St. Louis:

The City of Memphis hereby challenges the City of St. Louis to a public comparison of their respective advantages, industrially, commercially, socially and educationally. We assert that Memphis is a better city to dwell in and do well in than St. Louis. It possesses greater advantages in each of the above particulars generally and specifically, and that a friendly, frank comparison of the two communities will prove the fact which Memphis claims. As chief executive of the great city of St. Louis, do you accept the issue?

E. H. CRUMP, Mayor of Memphis.

BLOODHOUNDS FOR POLICE FORCE.

The police department of Galveston, Tex., has purchased two bloodhounds and will have them trained to do police work, particularly the tracing of fugitives.
—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

NUMBER OF AUTOMOBILES.

There are said to be 550,000 automobiles now in this country. New York leads with 64,000 and California comes next with 40,000. At times it seems as though all of the latter were grouped along the streets in the congested district of Los Angeles.

STREET FLUSHING.

The superiority of the flushing machines over the hose for cleaning streets has been demonstrated in New York, where the machines cleaned nearly three times as great an area as the hose with one-fourth to one-third as much water.

THE IMPORTANCE OF IMPROVED ROADS.*

Unavoidable circumstances prevent me from taking advantage of your kind invitation to attend your meeting, but it gives me pleasure to assure you of my sympathy with the work in which you are interested, and to express my hope for its success.

Next after the preservation of the productive power of the soil, I know of no material aid to the farming population so important as the creation and maintenance of good roads. What the telegraph is to general information and the railroad to commerce, that the country highway is to the agricultural interest. The roads of any community are like the nervous system of a human body; upon their condition depend its health and growth.

There are more than two million miles of roads in the United States. We spend on these from $80,000,000 to $100,000,000 a year. Less than 10 per cent of the road surface has been permanently improved in any way. It has been estimated conservatively that a moderate improvement which would permit four bales of cotton to be hauled at one load instead of three, and seventy-five bushels of wheat instead of fifty-five, would effect a saving of $10,000,000 on the cost of hauling these two crops alone to market.

The enormous volume of commodities that finds either its origin or its final destination on the farm or in the village must be transported over the dirt road, and pay toll to the obstructions which that offers to traffic. The average country highroad makes country life more lonely and less profitable than it would be; wastes time, wastes labor, wastes money, wastes life. It helps to make the farm unattractive, promotes the drift of population cityward, disturbs still further the balance of employment, aggravates almost every evil that we have come to associate with modern civilization. The two subjects upon which it is easiest to arouse public interest to-day are regulation of freight rates and improvement of waterways. Were all that is desired in either direction accomplished, the result could not be compared, in cash value or in its social effect upon country life, with the substantial improvement of the country road.

Good roads are expensive; but it costs more money to do without them than to build them. The attempt to improve the highways by the old system of local supervision, small appropriations, taxes worked out instead of paid in cash, and petty political control wastes every dollar so expended. Improved highways must be built under the direction of state commissions, by the orders of state engineers, according to scientific methods. It is a bit of technical engineering; where results will always be measured by the amount of money appropriated and the methods employed.

The thing most to be avoided is the common error of proposed centralization, which generally shelters somewhere the suggestion of a more or less genteel graft. Congressmen are ready to ask the federal government for billions to build improved roads in the states, and appeal to local greed to support them. This system might easily bankrupt the nation, but it would no more furnish the people with good roads than our system of internal improvements has given them available waterways. The president has been compelled to say that the last "pork barrel" has been opened. Federal control of highway improvement would open not a pork barrel, but a slaughter house.

Each state, and South Dakota no less than others, is equal to the task of creating its own system of improved highways. Careful and exhaustive experiments have been made and bulletins published by the Department of Agriculture, containing every detail of instruction for building and repair. The experience of states like New York and New Jersey and, in a lesser degree, those whose conditions are more similar to your own, such as your neighbor Minnesota, are at your service. You can have for the asking the information on which the state of Washington is proceeding to create probably the most extensive and valuable system of improved highways to be found in any of the states. The materials required are all within your borders. Never was a problem simpler than that which the good roads movement offers. It consists in the provision and apportionment of resources and the enforcement of rules that will exclude politics from this work and make it as strictly a business affair as if it were construction done for an individual or a corporation.

The state may do something. It might build two or three great highways traversing its area toward the four points of the compass, similar to the Roman roads that formed the basis of the road system of modern Europe, and adjusted to meet similar roads built by the adjoining states. The state may also grant aid to the counties in proportion to their own actual cash expenditure for this purpose, but on no other basis and in no other way. Local enterprise should lead and local property bear the burdens. Here is a good place not only to promote local prosperity and enlarge the lives of those who are doing the work of the world, but also to make a stand against certain nationalist theories, resurrected from the graves of Oriental despotisms, that would tend to corrupt the individual and destroy national character.

The value of all farm property in South Dakota increased exactly 100 per cent between 1890 and 1900. It has probably kept the same pace in the ten years since. It depends in great measure upon the country road. Make a road so smooth and strong that a traction engine can run over it safely and easily at all seasons of the year, and you have done for the farm what the railroad does for the cities through which it runs; what the trolley does for the suburb. Wherever roads of this character are provided, the rise in the value of farm lands alone is greater in the aggregate than their entire cost of construction.

The subject of your consideration is of the highest moment. You are not dealing with one of the "problems" with which the country is somewhat surfeited at present, but with facts easy at once to obtain and to understand. I feel certain that your treatment of them will be worthy of the rich, intelligent and honorably ambitious state to which you may render a great and lasting service.—Good Roads.

NEW CITY HALL FOR INDIANAPOLIS.

The new city hall of Indianapolis has just been dedicated and is now ready for occupancy. It is a four-story structure of genuine architectural beauty. The federal building in Indianapolis is by many experts regarded as the most beautiful building owned by the national government outside of Washington. The new city hall is of a corresponding style of architecture.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. President, I move that a temporary chairman of the Executive Committee be appointed.

The motion was carried and the Chair appointed as temporary chairman Coun. Hale.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 13, 1911.

SALE OF FIREBOAT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 13, 1911.
To the City Council:
The accompanying letter from the Fire Commissioner, requesting permission to sell the old fireboat, formerly known as Engine 31, for the sum of twenty-five hundred and fifty-five dollars ($2,555), to Thomas Butler & Co., the highest bidders for the purchase of said boat, is hereby approved, and I recommend the passage of the accompanying order authorizing this sale.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Headquarters Fire Department,
Boston, February 7, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor:
Sir,—In accordance with section 14 of the Revised Ordinances of the City of Boston, I have the honor to request permission from the City Council to sell old Fireboat No. 31 for the sum of $2,555 to Thomas Butler & Co., the proceeds of this sale to be applied to the appropriation of the Fire Department.

Proposals for selling this boat, in whole or in part, were advertised for in the issues of the City Record of January 14, 21 and 28. I inclose a copy of the list of bids received.

I have had the boat appraised by Robert H. Fraser, consulting engineer and marine surveyor, and also by the Superintendent of Supplies of the City of Boston, in conjunction with Mr. Peterson, of Berthelson & Peterson, ship builders. They both agree that $2,555 is a fair price for the boat in its present dilapidated and worn-out condition.

Very respectfully,
CHARLES D. DALY,
Fire Commissioner.

City of Boston,
Headquarters Fire Commissioner,
February 7, 1911.

Bids for the purchase of hull, etc., of fireboat:

William S. Nolan.....	$866 98
James F. Nolan.....	1,315 00
Joseph L. Searfoss.....	1,925 00
Boston Contracting Company.....	1,965 00
Louis Miller Company, Inc.....	2,277 88
Thomas Butler & Co.....	2,555 00

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner be, and hereby is, authorized to sell the old fireboat, formerly known as Engine 31, for the sum of twenty-five hundred and fifty-five dollars ($2,555) to Thomas Butler & Co., the highest bidders for the purchase of said boat.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

QUARTERS FOR FIREBOAT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 13, 1911.
To the City Council:
I desire to recommend the passage of the accompanying loan order for five thousand dollars ($5,000) for the erection of quarters for Engine 31, the new fireboat. The letter of the Fire Commissioner, attached hereto, explains that the previous appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) is insufficient, as the lowest bids for the dock and the building exceed that sum by about two thousand dollars ($2,000), and certain other expenses remain unprovided for.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Headquarters Fire Department,
February 7, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor:

Sir,—I desire to forward again a list of bids received for erecting quarters for Engine 31, the new fireboat of this department.

The appropriation for quarters, wharf, etc., for this boat amounts to $15,000. This department has already entered into a contract for preparing a dock for the boat for the sum of $6,300. The lowest bid for the building is $10,400. These two figures combined exceed the appropriation of $15,000 by about $2,000. In order, therefore, that we may proceed at once with this building, I request that the City Council appropriate $5,000 additional, to cover the necessary expenditures for the building and the architect's fees.

I beg to point out that the dredging and docking job was let at a figure under the City Engineer's estimate, and that the building is of a size sufficient to provide quarters for fifteen men.

Very respectfully,
CHARLES D. DALY,
Fire Commissioner.

City of Boston,
Headquarters Fire Department,
February 7, 1911.

Bids for quarters for Engine 31:

Christopher F. Brown.....	$10,400
C. S. Cunningham & Sons Construction Company.....	10,786
John J. Flynn.....	10,969
Thomas H. Hanlon.....	11,702
A. Varnerin Company.....	12,000
Ardoline & Pizzano.....	12,290
A. B. Carter.....	13,000
Ford & Denning.....	13,997

Ordered, That the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) additional be hereby appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Fire Commissioner for new quarters for fireboat, Boston side, and that to meet such appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance, when appointed.

ABANDONMENT OF LANDS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 13, 1911.
To the City Council:

I beg to transmit a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works, together with a notice to your honorable body and an order relating to the abandonment of a strip of land 6 feet in width, taken for sewerage purposes, between May street and the Arborway. The order has my approval and I respectfully recommend that it be passed by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Public Works Department.

To the Mayor:

Sir,—In accordance with chapter 25, section 50, of the Revised Laws of Massachusetts, I inclose herewith a notice to the City Council that land and easement taken for sewerage purposes by the Board of Street Commissioners on November 21, 1898, between May street and the Arborway, situated in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury, and now in my charge, is, in my opinion, no longer required for public purposes.

Respectfully,
L. K. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Public Works Department.

To the City Council:

The Commissioner of Public Works, now having charge of an easement in a strip of land 6 feet in width, between May street and the Arborway, in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury, taken for sewerage purposes by the Board of Street Commissioners on November 21, 1898, hereby notifies your honorable body that, in his opinion, said land and easement is no longer required for public purposes.

Respectfully,
L. K. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

City of Boston.

In City Council.
Whereas, the Board of Street Commissioners, by an order passed on November 21, 1898, took a strip of land 6 feet in width for sewerage purposes between May street and the Arborway, in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury, from Theresa May; and

Whereas, the Commissioner of Public Works, now having charge of said land and easement, has notified the City Council that the said land and easement so taken is no longer required for public purposes; it is hereby Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he is hereby authorized in the name and behalf of the city and in accordance with the provisions of chapter 25, section 50, of the Revised Laws of Massachusetts, to declare the right and easement so taken to be abandoned, said declaration of abandonment to be made for a nominal consideration. Said strip of land being shown on a plan deposited in the office of the Public Works Department, Sewer and Water Division, Sewer Service, and marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 28, Sewerage Works, May street, West Roxbury, May 18, 1898, John E. Cheney, Acting City Engineer."

INVESTIGATION OF SUBJECTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 13, 1911.
To the City Council:

In the report of the Library Trustees for the year 1910 the following statement is made:

"In respect to the buildings used for branches, we are on the whole behind any other important city in the Union. We have no branch library building so constructed as to be furnished with the utmost efficiency and economy and with the best service for the public.

"We invite the attention of the City Council especially to the matter of better accommodations for some of our branch libraries and reading room stations, particularly at Charlestown, East Boston, Ward 6, and in the district served by the Broadway Extension Reading Room."

I find a general demand expressed at the district meetings not only for library branches and stations but for new playgrounds, municipal buildings, courthouses and police stations and other similar improvements, and would respectfully suggest that as soon as your honorable body has completed its organization special committees be appointed to consider the following subjects:

Branch Libraries.
District Municipal Buildings.
New Playgrounds.
New Courthouses and Police Stations.
The Need of New Streets.
Transportation Problems.
Public Health and Hospitals.
Convenience Stations.
Laws and Ordinances Relating to the Supervision of Minors.

Such committees would find a great deal to occupy them in the study of these problems, and the preliminary investigations which they would make would do much to clarify the various subjects and expedite such action as may be found to be necessary.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

ABOLITION OF CONSUMPTIVES' HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 13, 1911.
To the City Council:

I desire to recommend, for passage by your honorable body, the accompanying ordinance, abolishing the Consumptives' Hospital Department and transferring its powers and duties to the Board of Health. This is done in accordance with a recommendation made by the Trustees of the Consumptives' Hospital Department in a report to the Mayor under date of September 15, 1910, a copy of which is transmitted herewith.

The Consumptives' Hospital Department was created by the city government on my recommendation, and came into office on May 1, 1906. Since that time this department has been at work on the problem of fighting consumption and has made most commendable progress. At the present time there are accommodations in hospitals owned by the City of Boston at Mattapan for approximately 200 patients in the advanced or dying stage, besides day camp accommodations for 150 more, with 100 beds for advanced cases hired in private hospitals. The Dispensary at Burroughs place has examined to date upwards of 9,000 persons, and its staff of twenty-five nurses are visiting each year about 1,200 families in which tuberculosis exists.

The policy which these trustees have followed from the first was suggested by the best experts that could be consulted, and is probably setting the example for the rest of the world in this particular field. The trustees now find that they have made such progress that their work is impinging on that of the Board of Health, and, in the interest of economical and efficient administration, they believe that the Consumptives' Hospital Department should be under the control and management of that Board. Such a consolidation will in their opinion greatly increase the effectiveness of the work being done, not alone for consumption, but for the public health generally. The trustees feel that the extension of the work of the Consumptives' Hospital Department, under present conditions, would duplicate effort and expense. Inasmuch as this change must be made sometime, and the Consumptives' Hospital Department is now so organized that it can be transferred as a division of the Board of Health, I concur with the trustees in their opinion, and recommend that this ordinance be passed by your honorable body at the earliest moment.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

An Ordinance abolishing the Consumptives' Hospital Department and transferring its powers and duties to the Board of Health.

Section 1. Chapter eighteen of the Revised Ordinances of 1898 is hereby amended as follows: by inserting in line thirteen, section one, after the word "street," the words "and of the hospital for consumptives," and by adding four new sections as follows:

Sec. 5. Said board shall make all needful and necessary regulations concerning the reception, care, treatment and discharge of patients in the hospitals under its charge; shall admit to the consumptives' hospital only persons who are bona fide residents of Boston at the time of application for admission to said hospital. The charges for the support of such inmates of said hospitals as are of sufficient ability to pay, or who have persons or kindred bound by law to maintain them, shall be paid by such inmates, persons or kindred at a rate to be determined by said board, and all amounts so received shall be paid to the City Collector.

Sec. 6. Said board shall in its annual report include a statement of the condition of the hospitals, the number of inmates in each, the admissions thereto and discharges therefrom and the births and deaths therein during the year.

Sec. 7. All the duties imposed upon the Consumptives' Hospital Trustees by statute or ordinance, the employees of said department, and the appropriations for said department, are hereby transferred to the Board of Health.

Sec. 8. Chapter four of the Ordinances of 1906 and chapter four of the Ordinances of 1909, and all ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

This ordinance shall take effect on the day of 1911.

Boston Consumptives' Hospital,
Trustees' Office, 926 Tremont Building,
September 15, 1910.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor of Boston,
City Hall, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Sir,—Sufficient time has now elapsed since the beginning of the work of the Consumptives' Hospital Trustees, in 1907, to enable the Board definitely to outline its plans for the future, and to advise the city government just what this work means and the financial burden it entails.

The work of constructing hospitals for the advanced cases should, in the opinion of the Board, proceed until there is provided at Mattapan a minimum total of 200 beds for consumptives in the advanced stage, i. e., those who are dying.

For less advanced patients for whom there is little if any hope of recovery, and for whom as a menace to the community its interests require that they should be treated away from their homes, there should be provided a minimum of 200 beds.

The dying cases require a hospital of the general type of the two concrete wards already completed, and having accommodations for about 120 patients. One more building of this type is needed at an approximate cost of $90,000.

The length of the stay in the hospital of these dying cases will not average more than four months each.

For the less advanced cases, buildings of the general type of the two cottage ward buildings already erected, which now have 50 beds, should be erected to accommodate a total of 200 patients. The erection of these additional buildings is estimated to cost approximately $75,000.

A pressing need are beds for cases in children who will not be permitted in the public schools. These wards should have at least 50 beds estimated to cost $50,000.

The necessary additions for administration building, admission building and nurses' quarters; the proper up-keep and maintenance of the farm to supply milk and vegetables to the patients and allow them such opportunity for labor as shall be directed by the physicians is included in the following table:

One more concrete building for dying cases, which when completed will give a total minimum bed capacity for cases of this type, of 200 cases.....	$90,000
For completion of accommodations for 150 more patients in the cottage ward type of hospital.....	75,000
To construct wards for care of 50 children, Additions to domestic, administration and admission buildings, and nurses' quarters.....	100,000
For repairs on grounds, machinery, etc., and incidentals.....	50,000
	$365,000

During the next five years there will be required an average annual maintenance appropriation of at least $225,000. This estimate includes the care in private hospitals of patients whom the city treated in these hospitals at a cost of $8 a week, under a law which allows the city to hire 100 beds in this manner, which permission expires in 1916.

These figures also contemplate the continuance of the Out-Patient Department at Burroughs place, on practically its present basis. The possible establishment of other dispensaries in various parts of the city similar to that of the Burroughs place Out-Patient Department, at which consumptives may come to be treated by physicians, and from which dispensaries the visiting nurses may go out to spread the doctrine of health education in the homes, where it is most needed, is a matter for future consideration. The educational work of the visiting nurse is most important. Latterly her province has been extended and strengthened, in making her a special agent of the Board of Health. In this capacity she visits all patients reported to the Board of Health and makes careful investigation of the home conditions. This co-operation with the Board of Health puts the sanitary inspection of the home of the consumptive on a firm basis.

The work outlined above, i. e., the care of the advanced cases and the Out-Patient Department for the education and supervision in the home by nurses and physicians, is that which all the authorities in this country and Europe are agreed is the most necessary work to do. It being true that the care of the advanced case is the necessary work to be done, it follows that it should be persisted in until it is reasonably accomplished. To digress into side paths of fragmentary effort is only to delay progress and to interfere with the job in hand.

In the hospital treatment of the advanced cases, the trustees are dealing with the effect of tuberculosis. In the Out-Patient Department we deal with cause as well as effect, but along scientific lines. If any substantial progress is to be made by the city in conquering tuberculosis, the whole question of cause must be gone into and considered from the standpoint of the annual loss to citizens involved, the amount of money already invested and the amount the city can afford to spend. In another year the City of Boston will have spent a million dollars in its tuberculosis work, which, under a strictly business organization, would be certainly under the control of the central health authority in the city—the Board of Health. The Consumptives' Hospital work has been established by an auxiliary health board for this special purpose, and otherwise would probably not have been begun, but the amount of money invested, and the annual maintenance required, demands in future a more business-like organization of all the health activities to co-ordinate effort and increase efficiency.

One of the great mysteries that must appeal to every person who studies health work in Boston is how the laxity in the enforcement of the general health laws of the state, and the twofold burden of expense in health matters which Boston has been compelled to bear, has been so long tolerated. As a result of a petition by the Mayor of Boston, this matter of reorganizing the health administration and of the strict and equal enforcement in Massachusetts of the laws of the state by the State Board of Health, especially in regard to tuberculosis, is now being investigated by a state commission appointed by act of the last Legislature. If this work is properly carried out and adequate recommendations made and adopted, it will mean a more vigorous enforcement of present laws generally throughout the state, and compel all cities and towns to do what Boston is practically alone in now attempting to do. The report of this commission should be watched carefully, and unless equal enforcement of the health laws and relief to Boston from its twofold burden of health expense is recommended, the city authorities should be ready to take the fight into the next Legislature and demand relief.

The central authority of the Health Board should be recognized, and it should be strengthened in power. While the city permits the sanitary and educational effort, which is essentially the duty of the Health Board, to remain unattended to or inefficiently performed, the money spent on tuberculosis is only an attempt to patch up a decrepit population upon whom disease and deterioration have already done their worst. As the situation stands to-day, the city is spending money lavishly on one hand caring for consumptives, while it is creating on the other, through neglect and incompetency, more than it is curing. To illustrate:

Consumption is transmitted through germs, which are contained in the sputum. There are estimated to be more than 12,000 persons in Boston to-day suffering from this disease, who are sources of danger to their fellow-beings. Every time one of these twelve thousand persons expectorates on a sidewalk or public place there is danger that the germs are carried into homes on women's garments, on shoes, and in countless other ways. In the form of dust, these germs are blown on garments, on the hair and beard, and are breathed in through the mouth and nose. There are stringent ordinances against spitting on the sidewalks and on platforms and other public places, yet during the last year there were less than 100 arrests for violation of these ordinances by the police. One morning in July of this year, a month when people are least likely to be afflicted with colds, and spitting is at the minimum, while street traffic is at its lowest, the nurses from the Out-Patient Department at Burroughs place were instructed to report all the violations of the spitting laws which came under their notice.

While in pursuit of their daily duty, and without going out of their way, these nurses saw in a few hours, 300 violations of the law against spitting on sidewalks, railroad stations, etc. In view of this experience, the less than one hundred arrests during a whole year shows how pitifully lax is the attempt to protect the city in this important detail. The report on Tenement House Conditions, made recently by the Boston 1915, and the disregard of preventable measures generally discernible to the ordinary citizen are all indicative of the causes making not alone for tuberculosis, but for other diseases, and to correct which remedial measures by the municipality are demanded at once. This is not an attempt to supplant the Board of Health or in any way take from its authority. The business-like method of procedure is to add to its authority to discontinue the practice of giving separate functions to other boards, and to put the whole question of the city's health on a more practical and satisfactory basis.

The fight for the reduction of consumption is, strictly speaking, a personal one. It has been demonstrated that tuberculosis can be cured, or to use the technical term, can be "arrested," but for the patient to remain cured and be self-supporting is the great problem still unsolved. Under present conditions, the spending of money by the city in this consumptive work has resulted in taking persons who are in consumption, arresting the disease in them, and then send them out only to find that lacking the ability to continue the life which they had led in the sanatorium, they drop back into sickness again, forcing the city to spend more money in trying to cure them a second time, and eventually to have them die of the disease.

In the handling of tuberculosis, the greater the burden of responsibility put upon the individual the more certain will be the retaining of personal self-respect and capacity for self-support. The tendency towards indiscriminate giving, which is being encouraged, is inculcating the belief that the city should pay all the bills whether the individual can afford to do it personally or not, is breaking down self-respect and adding unnecessarily to the financial burdens of the community, without advancing the real object in view, that of wiping out the disease. The problem of what to do with the patient who having gone through the various sanatoria and comes back an "arrested" case, but not able to do hard work, is a matter not for the city, but for private charity, which, if the facts are properly presented will no doubt respond. There is no question that the community is willing to provide the means for charity of this nature if its value can be demonstrated.

For such "arrested" cases there should be provided outdoor work on tracts of land purchased for improvement, where such patients selected as to their temperament, habits, etc., can be made self-supporting, while laying the foundation for a future healthy life. Such form of employment might include egg and chicken farms, vegetable farms for the production of vegetables that will be cooked before serving; squab farms and the reclamation of abandoned farms. As all consumptives cannot, however, go to the country or engage in farming, there are a great variety of outdoor city occupations suitable for the "arrested" consumptive, which will enable him to keep his health. The providing of such employment for these cases is a work of the highest importance, which should be established without delay, because there are already a large number of "arrested" cases in Boston who are in need of such employment, and lacking which will fall back into the disease.

The fight for the final extinction of consumption as a scourge of mankind, depends largely on the treatment of the child. If the child in one generation can be prevented from becoming tuberculous, the problem will have been solved.

The Franklin Park School, no matter how well it is managed, and regardless how noble the motive and sincere the effort, is at best only a trimming off of the diseased leaves of a tree while the causes in the soil and at the root itself, which make for the disease, are left unnoticed and unattended. Because the problem of the future is the child, therefore the method of procedure will never be scientific until we find out exactly the physical condition of the children now in the public schools. For several years promises have been repeatedly made that children would be examined and their exact physical examination recorded at the beginning of the school year, and this examination has never been made. We recommend, therefore, that a scientific and thorough examination of all the children in the public schools be made under the direction of the School Committee or of the Board of Health, or of this department, or, if deemed wise, all working in conjunction, and that a sufficient amount of money be appropriated by the City Council for this end. When this examination, which can be done within a reasonable space of time, and for a comparatively small amount, is made, the city will know exactly how many children there are in Boston who are definitely tuberculous, who are afflicted with diseases which are making for tuberculous conditions, who are anemic, etc., and how many who are well and require no treatment. At present the guess is that there are upwards of 5,000 children in Boston who are definitely tuberculous, and that in the second class, afflicted with various ailments which will probably finally make for tuberculosis, are 50,000 or upward. The number of anemic or underfed children nobody knows, but if the city is to devote itself to this work of wiping out tuberculosis by beginning on the child, obviously the first step which would occur to any business man is that the exact situation be determined before any scheme of relief is inaugurated and made a fixed charge on the city.

If this examination is made, the following is suggested as the plan of action.

Children in the advanced stages should be treated in a hospital at Mattapan the same as advanced tuberculous adults are now being treated.

Anæmic and sickly children should be taught in open-air rooms established in every school building. The school authorities should be impressed with the fact that if opening the windows of a room and letting a child study with warm clothing will make a sick child well and improve its capacity for study, that this same treatment will also benefit the child who is well; and that the present system of depending wholly on artificial ventilation and keeping the windows closed may be profitable to manufacturers of ventilating apparatus and the coal dealers, but fresh air, as God makes it, cannot be improved by any architect's device. Under present conditions the janitor now objects to opening the windows because it will increase his coal bill, and it would be unfair unduly to blame him for this, because he depends on his job for a living, and must live within his appropriation; but the school committee should be impressed with the fact that the city is estimated now to be spending $100,000 a year for educating children who die of tuberculosis before they are twenty-one years old, and that it may be possible to so reconstruct the coal problem as not to menace the health of the children committed to their charge.

If, as a result of this examination of Boston school children, there is found a large number of children too definitely tuberculous to be permitted in the open-air rooms of various schools, yet not far enough advanced in the disease for hospital care, one or more day camps, where the physician and teacher may work together, may be established. Your trustees would not wilfully or for a selfish motive interfere in the work of any other department, but it has been impressed on us in so many ways how important an efficient corps of school physicians are in connection with our work, and how much the children have suffered under the present system, that we feel justified in expressing the hope that this department of health work may speedily be put on an efficient basis. Until the exact facts as to the physical condition of the school children are ascertained by such an expert examination as is proposed, and then only under such regulations as shall make the parents and the children understand that the responsibility to provide clothing and food for children is on the parents whenever possible, and not on the city, should any attempt be made to give food with teaching. Then the important thing is first to find the extent of the problem, and any attempt to solve it without suitable knowledge will be futile.

In connection with the general question of the free hospital treatment in Boston, whether it is one of the city hospitals for acute cases or in this Consumptives' Hospital, there is already too much abuse of medical charity. Thousands and thousands of dollars are lost every year in giving free treatment to patients who can well afford to pay, and the cost of this is coming out of the poor who, in additional taxes, must pay the bills. This matter is important enough to warrant the consideration of the City Council and the establishment of stringent rules whereby every patient receiving hospital treatment in any hospital for acute or chronic disease who is able to pay shall be forced to do so. When the city provides the place for this treatment, it has done all that it is called upon to do. The responsibility for paying for individual treatment is on the individual alone, and not on the city, only when repayment is not possible from private sources.

In addition to the matters previously set forth, arrangements should be made whereby there should be co-operation and affiliation with public and private charities and the proper health authorities, to the end of obtaining adequate, prompt and intelligent relief. The Elberfeld system as it is practised in Germany is an excellent method to study in this connection.

The advanced cases of tuberculosis who are in tenements or other places where they are not properly cared for, and who are a menace to the community, should be removed by force by the Health Department, as is now by law permitted, but rarely enforced.

While the work of the Consumptives' Hospital Department was in its infancy, it was probably wise that it should be wholly free, and that the public might be educated as to the necessity for doing this work. It was also probably wise four years ago that this work should be done by an independent department; but the time has come now when the capital invested and the annual maintenance demanded, together with the general spread of knowledge of the people in regard to the dangers of tuberculosis and the ways of preventing it, make a situation where the matter should be faced squarely, and the future decided according to the interests of the city in this work and its capacity to pay the bills.

By order of the Board of Trustees,

EDWARD F. MCSWEENEY,
Chairman.

The City Council, City Hall, Boston, Mass.:

Gentlemen,—I have the honor to return herewith the papers in the case of Mrs. Needham, widow of the late Charles T. Needham, a former member of this department.

There appears to be no doubt that Engineer Needham died from a wound received while putting a wooden panel in the door of quarters of Engine Company 16. I have submitted the case to the Corporation Counsel for his opinion, and he has stated that the widow of Engineer Needham is not entitled to a pension under the act, as her husband did not die from injuries received in the performance of his duty in the sense in which the word is used in the act.

Therefore, in my opinion, any annuity for the benefit of Mrs. Needham should not be charged to the Fire Department appropriation.

Very respectfully,
CHARLES D. DALY,

SYSTEMATIC FREIGHT HANDLING IN CONGESTED DISTRICTS.

In an effort to simplify the freight and shipping problems in New York City, the Bush Terminal Company some time ago evolved a scheme, the primary object of which was to remove the factories and warehouses from the congested parts of the city to a common shipping center. To this end a number of fireproof storehouses were erected along the water front at South Brooklyn; these being served by a system of standard-gauge railway tracks operating from a terminal yard, also near the water front. Freight cars consigned to the tenants of the storehouses are transferred from the car floats to the terminal yard, there sorted and hauled by electric locomotives to the various buildings. Outgoing freight is handled in much the same manner; empty cars of the desired railway line are spotted at the doors of the storehouses and when loaded hauled by the electric locomotives to the terminal yard and from there transferred to the car floats.

Steamship piers were also built along the water front in the vicinity of the storehouses and connected to the latter by means of the railway tracks. Later loft buildings were erected which were adapted to both manufacturing plants and storage purposes, thus allowing the manufacturer to store his raw material, received either by rail or water, until needed, and likewise to load so much of his finished product at his door as is intended for immediate shipment and to store conveniently the remainder until needed.

A further development of the system is being undertaken by the erection in Manhattan of a chain of structures, each of which will be a combination loft building and transfer station. In their general features these buildings will be similar to the loft buildings in South Brooklyn. The ground floor will contain the landing platforms of two 10 by 10 feet elevators and the remaining space devoted to trucking platforms and space for temporary storage. The upper floors will be fitted to accommodate manufactories. Automobile trucks of large capacity will be used to transfer merchandise stored in the South Brooklyn buildings to the transfer stations in Manhattan, where it will be sorted and loaded on smaller trucks and delivered. The trucks will carry on their return trip to South Brooklyn the wares or merchandise of the tenants of the loft buildings in Manhattan, there to be loaded on cars or steamships or stored awaiting shipment.

The trucks operating between South Brooklyn and Manhattan will be of from six to ten tons capacity, the bodies being built as separate compartments of about two tons capacity each. Each two-ton compartment will form the body of a smaller truck. At the transfer stations the compartments of the larger truck will be placed on the chassis of the smaller trucks, thus serving a double purpose; the smaller truck may be handled more readily in streets where the traffic is congested, and, again, the small truck will be loaded with material for delivery in one certain section of the city.

It is the idea of the Bush Terminal Company to divide the island of Manhattan into ten zones, each zone to be served by a separate transfer station. The first of these stations is now in course of construction and is located on Twenty-ninth street, near First avenue.

The plant at South Brooklyn covers about 200 acres, and the trackage of the company's railway line aggregates about twenty-five miles. The capacity of the terminal yard is approximately 1,000 cars.

MUNICIPAL REFERENCE LIBRARIES.

At the recent convention of the National Municipal League Horace E. Flock of Baltimore, who has charge of the Municipal Reference Library of that city, read an interesting paper on that subject, telling of the work that is in progress in various parts of the country, not only in the gathering of books on topics relative to the city, but also in the line of municipal research and the gathering of data for the practical assistance of city officers. The real problem before our cities, he thinks, is no longer the securing of honest government on which public attention has long been riveted, but the securing of efficient government. Knowledge of what has been done in other cities aids to efficiency, and yet there is, or has been, very little exchange of such knowledge. Mr. Flock recommends that the municipal reference library be a department of the city library, but be located, if possible in the City Hall. He advises that the library be put in charge of some one specially qualified by study and experience for that line of work.—Pacific Outlook.

SEWER EXPLOSIONS.

Erie, Pennsylvania, is one of the latest cities to have its streets torn up by a terrific explosion. The theory now generally accepted to account for these explosions of which there have been a number, is that gasoline is allowed to leak into the sewers from garages and cleaning establishments.

CHICAGO'S GREAT PARK.

By a vote of 120,000 for and 40,000 against, the people of Chicago voted bonds for $7,500,000, the money to be used in acquiring large areas of land, for the most part already wooded, running in a wide belt all around the boundaries of Chicago. This will make it one of the best parked cities in the world. At a cost of $4,000,000, Chicago is to widen Twelfth street to 118 feet from Ashland boulevard to Michigan, two miles, making a broad connecting link between the lake and the West side.

MUNICIPAL SAVINGS BANK PLANNED.

A municipal savings department in connection with the City Treasury may be established in Milwaukee if a bill which was introduced in the State Legislature by Assemblyman Max Binner, Milwaukee, is enacted into law. The plan is to discourage the practice of paying interest money on bonds to eastern firms and to keep all municipal bonds in Milwaukee. If the law is passed the city treasury will be placed under the jurisdiction of the state bank examiner, who will hold the city bonds as security for deposits made with the city treasurer in the form of savings accounts. All people who care to open a savings account will be enabled to make deposits from $5 to $1,000 and to receive interest from the city. The rate probably will be 3 per cent. The depositors will have the same security as a bank, as the city will stand behind the accounts with the bonds. The entire savings are not to exceed the amount of bonds on deposit with the State.
—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

MAPS OF CONTAGION.

The Board of Health of South Bend, Indiana, has hanging in the city hall large maps of the city, and whenever cases of contagion occur, little flags of various colors and sizes indicating the various diseases are stuck in to mark the place.

CO-OPERATIVE TOWN TO BE ESTABLISHED.

To establish a town on a co-operative basis with all of the conveniences for a city and in close proximity to Muskogee, Okla., is the hope and ambition of a number of working men in this city, and the plan has crystallized to such an extent that articles of incorporation will soon be filed. The scheme is to secure sufficient land to enable one hundred men to own conveniently sized lots on which to build a home. The homes will radiate from a business section laid off with a view to having enterprises which would supply the entire town. A co-operative store, a farmers' union warehouse, a gin, cannery and creamery are also provided for, as well as sites for a central temple or convention hall, a theater, school house, park and greenhouse and nursery. Altruria will probably be the name of the town.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

Boston, February 18, 1911.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled:

In the annual report to the Legislature made by the Finance Commission under date of January 20, 1911, the commission stated that the subject of the city's debt would be treated in a later communication after the close of the city's financial year when the complete figures had become available; and the commission herewith submits a report upon the same.

The net debt of the city up to the close of its financial year, January 31, 1911, has been ascertained; but the city's share of the state and metropolitan district debts has not been ascertained beyond November 30, 1910, the close of the state's financial year, as the figures for the period beyond the latter date are not yet available. The city's debt, including its share of the state and metropolitan district debts, has therefore been computed as of November 30, 1910.

1. INCREASE IN THE TOTAL NET INDEBTEDNESS OF THE CITY.

The city's share of the net state and metropolitan district debts on November 30, 1910, was $6,936,130.48 and $36,125,-161.49 respectively, a total of $43,061,-291.97. Between January 31, 1910, and November 30, 1910, the city's share of the metropolitan district debt has been reduced from $36,427,575.11 to $36,125,-161.49; a reduction of $302,413.62; in the same period the city's share of the state debt has increased from $6,721,727.10 to $6,936,130.48, an increase of $214,403.38. The city's share of both classes of debts, has, therefore, been reduced in this period, $88,010.24.

The net city and county debt increased in the same period from $71,345,972.58 to $73,198,701.40, an increase of $1,852,-728.82.

The total net indebtedness of the city, including its share of the state and metropolitan district debts, was $116,259,993.37 on November 30, 1910, as compared with $114,495,274.79 on January 31, 1910, an increase of $1,764,718.58. A table showing the debt at the two periods in question divided into the various classes is hereto annexed and marked "Appendix A."*

2. INCREASE IN NET CITY AND COUNTY DEBT.

The increase in the net indebtedness of the city and county for the entire fiscal year 1910-11 was $1,582,677.93, it having risen from $71,345,972.58 on January 31, 1910, to $72,928,650.51 on January 31, 1911. Exclusive of the net debt incurred for rapid transit purposes the net city debt at the beginning of the year was $56,777,630.06, and at its close, $57,668,-427.93, an increase of $890,797.87. This increase has not been due to lack of care on the part of the city government in the authorization of loans during the last year. On the contrary, as the commission has already stated in its annual report to the Legislature, the loan bills of this year have been given most careful consideration; and no general loan bill has been passed. The refusal of the City Council to pass a general loan bill is regarded by the Finance Commission as the most important reform of the past year. Such loan bills have been passed in former years by log-rolling practices and by promises of patronage, practices which resulted in largely and unnecessarily increasing the city's debt. Each loan passed in the last year, however, has been separately considered on its merits, and many loan items which were either unnecessary or, though possessing some merit, could not be justified in the existing state of the city's finances, were rejected. The result of these improved methods respecting loans is that on December 31, 1910, there was left within the borrowing capacity $1,036,-545.71, most of which would have been borrowed if the former careless methods which characterized the authorization of loans had prevailed.

A comparison of the amounts left unborrowed on December 31 of each of the last ten years shows that in only five of these years an amount was left unborrowed equal to the amount which the City Auditor and the Finance Commission believe should be retained as a reserve to meet emergencies, viz., $500,000. In 1901, 1903, 1904, 1906 and 1910 the amounts left unborrowed were as follows:

DECEMBER 31.
1901.....	$1,490,346 01
1903.....	1,100,640 35
1904.....	682,400 00
1906.....	915,019 60
1910.....	1,036,545 71

In other years the amounts left unborrowed were as follows:

DECEMBER 31.
1902.....	$367,167 74
1905.....	37,513 74
1907.....	52,657 17
1908.....	372,438 17
1909.....	301,146 53

In making this comparison December 31 has been chosen, as prior to the adoption of the charter amendments of 1909 the terms of the Mayor and members of the City Council ended on the first Monday in January.

The total amount of loans authorized by the Mayor and City Council in the past year is $2,767,500, as shown in a table hereto annexed and marked Appendix B.

As the total amount of loans issued in the year 1910-11 was $4,615,500, and the loans authorized during the year amounted to only $2,767,500, it is apparent that the increase in the net city debt was not due to the loans authorized in the past year, but was rather due to loans issued last year which had been authorized in preceding years. Of the $4,615,500 borrowed last year, $1,000,000 was for rapid transit purposes, $1,000,000 for land and buildings for schools, $300,000 for sewerage works, $674,000 for separate systems of drainage, and $1,641,500 for various municipal improvements, all as shown in Appendix C hereto annexed. For the rapid transit, school and separate systems of drainage loans the City Council is not responsible, as these loans are required by statute. An analysis showing the loans to which the last year's increase in debt is due would be long and not proportionately valuable. In general terms it may be stated that the increase was inevitable, due chiefly to a combination of several items, inherited from past years, which were actually issued this year; and that it is not an indication of a return to the alarming condition of growing debt which formerly prevailed.

3. LEGISLATIVE AUTHORITY FOR ADDITIONAL LOANS.

The foregoing review shows that despite the care exercised by the present city government there has been an actual increase of nearly $900,000 in the net debt of the city, exclusive of the state, metropolitan district and rapid transit debts. This fact indicates that even greater care must be taken hereafter in order that the present heavy indebtedness of the city may be reduced. The Legislature should co-operate with the city to this end.

It has been charged frequently that the Legislature has forced the city to borrow money and that a large part of the heavy indebtedness of the city is due to such action. The commission believes that comparatively few of the loans authorized by the Legislature in the past have been forced upon the city, but that the greater part of them have been authorized as a result of petitions filed either by the Mayor of the city for the time being, or by its representatives in the Legislature. Notwithstanding the fact that most of the legislative acts affecting the city's debt have been permissive rather than mandatory, the fact that they were permissive has often been forgotten at a later period, and officials of the city have taken advantage of this situation by stating that the city's heavy debt is due largely to loan acts thrust upon the city by the state.

The commission believes that the Legislature should, as far as possible, avoid even the appearance of compelling the city to increase its indebtedness, and suggests, as a means of accomplishing this purpose, that all future bills in the Legislature providing for the issuing of loans by the City of Boston be passed subject to acceptance by the Mayor and City Council. The question whether the city's financial condition warrants any particular loan can better be decided by the Mayor and City Council than by a committee of the Legislature, or by the Legislature itself. The commission believes that if future bills are passed subject to acceptance by the Mayor and City Council the responsibility will be more definitely fixed, fewer loans will be issued and the city's financial interests will be better protected.

In this connection the commission respectfully calls the attention of the Legislature to the fact that there are several bills now pending which if passed would operate to increase the city's debt and thereby add to the burdens of its taxpayers. The preceding list shows the numbers of these various bills, the amounts which they authorize, the purposes for which the loans are sought, and whether they are inside or outside the statutory limit of indebtedness.

The amounts stated in these various bills aggregate $3,560,000, a sum which would be substantially increased if House Bills 811 and 812, in which the amount is not stated, should pass. The seven bills which name amounts provide for the borrowing of $1,100,000 inside and $2,460,000 outside the debt limit.

LOANS OUTSIDE THE DEBT LIMIT.

Both the former and the present Finance Commissions have repeatedly urged that the policy of borrowing money outside the debt limit be discontinued; and the Legislature itself, by chapter 315 of the Acts of 1909, revoked all authority previously given under any special statute to borrow outside the debt limit, except so far as the issuance of such loans might be necessary to pay amounts due on contracts made prior to June 1, 1909, or to pay executions of court on suits brought under the acts authorizing said loans prior to said date; and also except for rapid transit purposes. As a result of this act the former practice of borrowing outside the debt limit has been discontinued, greatly to the advantage of the city. To authorize loans outside the debt limit now would be to reverse the policy established by the Legislature of 1909, and to impose additional burdens upon the taxpayers of the city. It may be necessary for the Legislature, in exceptional cases, to authorize loans outside the debt limit, but in such cases the legislative acts should be subject to the acceptance of the Mayor and City Council, whom the people of the city hold responsible for its financial condition.

The commission believes, therefore, that House Bills 1003, 576, 720 and 1207 should be rejected by the Legislature. House Bill 446 might well be rejected on the same ground; but the commission believes that it provides for an object which fairly constitutes an exception to the rule that the city should not be authorized to borrow outside the debt limit. This bill provides for an addition to City Hall and calls for an expenditure of $1,100,000. It is probable that the money could not be provided inside the debt limit without making it difficult to provide other necessary municipal improvements. It may be that the erection of an addition to the City Hall will save the city money, as large amounts are now spent for the rental of quarters outside City Hall. The commission does not pass upon the necessity for the addition to City Hall. The commission believes, however, that the question whether an addition to the City Hall should be provided at all, as well as the question whether if provided it should be by loans inside or outside the debt limit, should be determined finally by the Mayor and City Council. The commission, therefore, respectfully suggests that this bill, if passed, be made to take effect only upon acceptance by the Mayor and City Council.

LOANS INSIDE THE DEBT LIMIT.

The commission also calls attention to the fact that the city has the right, under existing statutes, to borrow within the debt limit for such objects as are provided for by Senate Bill 196 and House Bills 400, 811 and 812, viz., for street widenings, street construction and bath houses and gymnasiums. Therefore, as no further legislative authority is needed, these bills should be rejected.

On the same ground, Senate Bill 295, providing $1,000,000 for a high pressure water service, could be rejected; but as the bill seeks to establish definitely the policy of the city by providing that loans shall be passed in each year until the total amount authorized has been issued, thus insuring the completion of the work, an exception may well be made in this case. Moreover, this bill, unlike the others under consideration, provides that the act shall not take effect until it has been accepted by the Mayor and City Council.

There may be other bills now pending in the Legislature besides those already enumerated which are obnoxious to the principles herein defined, and the commission respectfully requests that such bills be considered in the light of the recommendations herein made.

The commission recommends:

1. That all bills now pending providing for loans for bath house, playgrounds, hospital, street construction and street widening be rejected, viz., Senate 196, House 1003, 1207, 576, 811, 812, 400, 720.

2. That House Bill 446, providing for an addition to the City Hall, be amended so that the act shall take effect only upon its acceptance by the Mayor and City Council.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

by JOHN A. SULLIVAN,

Chairman.

IMPROVED WATER FRONT TERMINALS.

Improved Water Front Terminals on the inland rivers of the country are to be advocated more consistently and regularly than heretofore by those interested in the betterment of waterways. The strongly expressed views of President Taft, numerous Congressmen and other officials who have studied the subject that states and cities must furnish terminal facilities if the nation is to furnish navigable channels, are evidently bearing fruit. While a great deal of widely circulated misinformation concerning the cost of carrying freight on waterways is causing many people to believe that inland rivers can be made to rival railroads as means of transportation, most students of the subject agree that navigable rivers unquestionably have a certain measure of usefulness, which increases with the improvement of facilities for bringing freight to shipping points along their course and delivering it from such places. It is extremely difficult to look into the transportation needs of the future, even for twenty-five years, and the cities which neglect to secure and develop water-front property in accordance with the commercial requirements of their localities are certainly making a grievous mistake. It is gratifying to observe the steps taken by the city authorities in Trenton, Cincinnati, Toronto and other places to acquire and administer public property on the water fronts in a business-like way. This seems to be the best way to insure the development of such shipping facilities along lines which will benefit the public most.—Engineering Record.

TO END NEW YORK HIGHWAY COMMISSION.

A bill to carry out the recommendation of Governor Dix in his annual message to the Legislature to abolish the State Highway Commission, which was established originally with a view to bringing about important reforms in state road administration, has been introduced in the Legislature. The present State Highway Commission of three members and a large force of office employees are to be eliminated and a new State Highway Commission is to be established to be composed of a business man at the head in the person of State Superintendent of Public Works Charles E. Trenan, of Ithaca, a personal friend of Governor Dix, who as Superintendent of Public Works will award the good roads construction contracts hereafter.

County highway superintendents at the semi-annual conference with the State Highway Commission reported the expenditure during 1910 under their supervision on maintenance and repair of roads and bridges to be about $6,000,000. This is apart from the expenditure on roads improved as state or county roads by state aid. Of the total amount expended, the state contributed about $1,500,000, and the balance was provided by the town highway tax. It was claimed that more than $250,000 had been saved during the year in construction and repairs of town bridges, owing to the adoption of the permanent type of bridges and culverts, built of concrete whenever possible.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1911.

To the City Council:
Subject to confirmation by your honorable body, I hereby appoint Charles S. Mansfield (8 Pinckney place, Somerville) a Weigher of Coal for the term ending April 30, 1911.

FOOTBRIDGE, NEW YORK, NEW HAVEN & HARTFORD RAILROAD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1911.

To the City Council:
I beg to transmit a petition asking for a tunnel or footbridge within the city limits, at or near the Hyde Park line and over the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, together with a letter from the secretary of the Board of Street Commissioners, giving an estimate of the cost of this improvement.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.
The petition was signed by Paul G. W. Anderson and very many others.

City of Boston,
Street Laying-Out Department,
City Hall, February 13, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor:

Dear Sir,—Complying with your suggestion of a few days ago the Board of Street Commissioners has made an examination of the territory between Hyde Park avenue and Clifford street, West Roxbury, close to the Hyde Park line, with a view to the erection of a footway over the railroad at this point.

The only desirable location for such a footway would be at a point about three hundred feet north of the Hyde Park line, wholly within Boston territory. A bridge would need to be erected, and because of the deep cut through which the railroad passes and the high embankments a span of one hundred and seventy-five feet would be necessary. Such a bridge would cost at least $10,000.

The Board does not think it advisable to build the bridge at this time. If it is to be built at all it should await the laying out and construction of Clifford street. The only approach to Clifford street at its southerly end is by way of Grew avenue, a private way. At this point Clifford street has a 20 per cent grade, an uninviting prospect for those who might want to use the footbridge.

To build the bridge now with its approach from Clifford street at its present grade would mean that when Clifford street shall have been laid out this work would all have to be torn away and a new approach made to meet the new grade at Clifford street, which would be eighteen feet lower than the present grade.

To make Clifford street a public way would cost about $20,000, which, with the $10,000 required for the bridge, would necessitate a total expenditure of $30,000. The developments within the territory which would be served by these two improvements does not warrant the expenditure.

Very truly yours,
J. J. O'CALLAGHAN, Secretary.

NEW BUILDING, CITY HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1911.

To the City Council:

House Bill No. 576, which proposed to authorize the city to expend outside of the debt limit a sum not exceeding three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) for the construction of a new building for the contagious department of the Boston City Hospital, has been withdrawn at my suggestion, there being no justification in the present state of the borrowing capacity of the city for a loan outside of the statutory limit of indebtedness. The original question, however, of the immediate need of a building for this purpose is still before the city authorities and is well set forth in the accompanying letter of the president of the Board of Hospital Trustees. I desire to recommend that your honorable body give careful consideration to his views and would suggest that you appoint a committee to investigate the subject with a view to determining the proper cost of an adequate structure. An order providing the necessary amount by a loan order within the debt limit would meet with my approval.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

The Boston City Hospital,
Boston, February 17, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor of Boston:
Dear Sir,—In reply to your esteemed favor of the 16th inst., I beg to say, on behalf of the trustees, that they are in full accord in regard to the withdrawal of House Bill No. 576, inasmuch as the borrowing capacity of the city will enable the loan to be made within the statutory limit of indebtedness. They are much gratified that your Honor will recommend to the City Council a loan order for the necessary amount, and it was therefore voted to reiterate and repeat the vote relating thereto dated December 2, 1910, as follows:

Voted, That the president be authorized to request a loan appropriation of $297,800 for new buildings, changes and additions at the South Department, approximated as follows:

Changes in East Pavilion.....	$6,000
Changes in West Pavilion.....	6,000
Additional story to laundry building.....	14,800
New six-story ward building.....	196,000
Alterations to Paine buildings.....	33,000
Connecting corridors, pipes and tunnels.....	20,000
Yard wall.....	8,000
Contingent and administrative expenses.....	14,000
	$297,800

In order that the pressing necessity for enlarging the South Department may be better understood by the honorable Council, I herewith inclose a copy of my letter to your Honor dated December 2, 1910. The trustees desire also to have me call the attention of your Honor to the fact that no contracts can be made until the appropriation has been granted by the city government, and therefore it is urgent that the amount should be voted at the earliest possible moment, so that the trustees may proceed with their plans, specifications and contracts.

I have the honor to be, on behalf of the trustees, Respectfully yours,

A. SHUMAN,
President Board of Trustees.

The Boston City Hospital,
Boston, December 2, 1910.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

Dear Sir,—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees to-day the matter of an appropriation for the construction of buildings on the ground lately purchased from the Robert Treat Paine estate was considered.

The constant increase in the population of the City of Boston necessarily increases the number of infectious diseases. During the past three years the city has suffered so much from these vexatious diseases that the South Department has been overcrowded for a portion of each year. Its normal capacity is 250 patients, but the stress has been so great that at times this number has been increased to 400 to the detriment of the welfare of the patients. In addition to this the city has been obliged to board out a great many patients at the Haines Hospital and other institutions during the time mentioned, which is not only detrimental to the public health, but adds materially to the expense of caring for the patients over the cost to the hospital management within its sphere.

It is therefore of the utmost importance that adequate provision should be made for the treatment of this class of diseases and to properly take care of all applicants ill with diphtheria, scarlet fever and measles.

It is a source of satisfaction to the trustees that Boston was the first city to establish a separate hospital for infectious diseases. Your Honor may possibly remember that about three years ago, during your former administration, an appeal was made to you for a measles pavilion. You generously and with a full appreciation of the importance of this ward recommended the necessary sum for its erection. This Measles Pavilion has accomplished a great deal of good and has filled a long-felt want, for until its erection there was no place to send a patient ill with measles.

The trustees feel, therefore, that your Honor, as well as the honorable City Council, will recognize the importance of enlarging the accommodations at the South Department at the earliest possible moment. After carefully considering the matter, and going over several plans that have been submitted for their inspection, the trustees most respectfully ask your Honor to recommend a loan appropriation of $297,800 for new buildings, changes and additions at the South Department, approximately as follows:

Changes in East Pavilion.....	$6,000 00
Changes in West Pavilion.....	6,000 00
Additional story to laundry building.....	14,800 00
New six-story ward building.....	196,000 00
Alterations to Paine buildings.....	33,000 00
Connecting corridors and pipes and tunnels.....	20,000 00
Yard wall.....	8,000 00
Contingent and administrative expenses.....	14,000 00
	$297,800 00

The trustees, fully appreciating your Honor's great interest in the hospital and your co-operation for the welfare and alleviation of the sick, and especially for those unfortunately stricken with contagion, ask you kindly to recommend to the honorable Council the appropriation of the above mentioned sum.

I have the honor to remain, on behalf of the trustees,

Respectfully yours,
A. SHUMAN,
President Board of Trustees.

Referred to Committee on Finance, when appointed.

CHANGES, ELEVATED RAILWAY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1911.
To the City Council:

I transmit herewith, in order that they may be placed in the files of the City Clerk, plans showing proposed modifications and changes in the elevated structure, platforms and station and approaches thereto, in Main, Beacham and Alford streets and Sullivan square, Charlestown, in order to adapt the same to the running of eight-car trains and to provide a connection for the proposed extension of the elevated railway to Malden.

I have approved these plans in writing as to architectural appearance and obstruction to light and air, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 500 of the Acts of 1897.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

(Annexed were plans referred to.)
Placed on file.

TRACK LOCATION, BEACON HILL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1911.

To the City Council:

I transmit herewith, in order that it may be placed in the files of the City Clerk, a plan showing the form and method of construction proposed and the proposed location of the tracks and elevated structure from the westerly terminus of a tunnel from the Park Street Subway Station, under Beacon Hill, to a point near the intersection of Grove place and Grove street, Boston, through and over public streets and private ways and lands to Cambridge Bridge.

I have approved this plan in writing as to architectural appearance and obstruction to light and air, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 500 of the Acts of 1897 and chapter 520 of the Acts of 1906.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

(Annexed were plans referred to.)

EXPENSES OF ADVERTISING, ETC., VETO.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1911.

To the City Council:

I return herewith, without my approval, an order passed by your honorable body at its meeting of February 13, 1911, providing that the expenses incurred for the advertising by the city of hearings before the state officers and boards, for the advertising of elections and for the publication of ordinances and regulations, be charged to the appropriation for City Council, Incidental Expenses. These expenses have until recently been charged to the City Clerk's office and, in my opinion, properly belong in that department. I shall recommend, therefore, that an appropriation be made for the City Clerk this year adequate to provide for expenses under this general head.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Placed on file.

DEPARTMENT CONSOLIDATION, VETO.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 14, 1911.

To the City Council:

I return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed by your honorable body at its meeting of February 4, abolishing the Bath, Music and Public Grounds Departments and transferring their duties to the Park Department. My objection is not so much to the substance of the ordinance as to its form. Apparently the City Council has done no more than absorb the Bath, Music and Public Grounds Departments into the existing Park Department with its present board of commissioners, modified only by the awarding of a salary of $5,000 per annum to the chairman. What I had hoped, in recommending in a communication of an earlier date the general subject to your consideration, was the framing of an ordinance which should not merely consolidate but reorganize the entire recreation service of the city.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Placed on file.

PAYMENT OF COPLEY TRUST TAXES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1911.

To the City Council:

In reply to the order of the City Council, passed at its meeting of February 4, 1911, "that his Honor the Mayor be requested to investigate the published statement that the Art Museum property was purchased by the Copley Square Trust in 1902, and that said trust evaded paying taxes on said property for a number of years, and if said statement is found to be true that his Honor the Mayor take the necessary legal steps to collect all taxes owed on said property," I beg to transmit a report from the secretary of the Board of Assessors, which gives a history of the case as complete as the facts in the possession of the Assessing Department will permit. I am informed that the taxes for 1909, referred to in the report amounting to $25,792.80, were paid under protest on November 2, 1909.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Assessing Department,
February 16, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,

Mayor of the City of Boston:

Sir,—In the matter of the order of the City Council, passed February 4, 1911, in regard to the taxation of the Art Museum property and referred to this department, we respectfully submit a brief statement of the material facts as follows:

The Museum of Fine Arts, which is a corporation entitled to an exemption under the third clause of section 5, part 1 of chapter 490 of the Acts of 1909, having determined to remove from its present location in Copley Square to its present site in the Fenway, in 1902 entered into an agreement with the Copley Square Trust, in which it was agreed to convey the Copley Square property to the trust, for which the trust agreed to pay the sum of one million eight hundred thousand dollars ($1,800,000), of which five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) was to be paid upon the date of agreement, five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) in June, 1904, five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) in June, 1905, and the balance, three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000), in 1907, 1908 or 1909, at the option of the museum.

In pursuance of agreement the museum executed a deed of the Copley Square property, under date of June 20, 1902, to the trust, which deed was placed in the hands of the Old Colony Trust Company, in escrow, to be delivered to the trust when the price was fully paid.

Upon the sums advanced by the trust the museum agreed to pay interest at the rate of 3½ per cent per annum.

The money was advanced as agreed and the museum continued to occupy the property until June, 1909, when the final payment was made and the deed was delivered to the trust and placed upon record at the Registry of Deeds.

When the above facts came to the knowledge of this department they were submitted to the Law Department, and we were advised by that department that the title to the Copley Square property did not pass until the delivery of the deed, to wit, on or about June 19, 1909, and that on May 1, 1909, the property, being owned and occupied by the museum, was exempt from taxation for that year. We were also advised that, while the question was possibly not free from doubt, it was the opinion of the department that the trust was taxable upon the amount advanced to the museum and upon which interest was being paid as personal property subject to taxation under the second clause of section 4 of said chapter 490, and this Board placed a personal tax upon said trust of $1,563.200. Of this amount one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000) was on account of the money paid as above stated.

We would also say that in October, 1909, the matter was taken up by the District Attorney, who investigated and reported that there was no basis for any action by him.

Respectfully,

BOARD OF ASSESSORS,
by CHARLES E. FOLSOM,
Secretary.

Placed on file.

TRANSFER OF BALANCE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 13, 1911.

To the City Council:

In compliance with the request of the president of the Board of Hospital Trustees, contained in the accompanying letters, I desire to recommend the passage of an order transferring two small balances from the loans for equipment of the East Boston Relief Station and equipment of the Measles Ward, respectively, to the appropriation for Hospital Buildings Improvements. An order which will effect this transfer is submitted herewith and I would respectfully urge its passage at an early session of your honorable body.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

The Boston City Hospital,
Boston, February 3, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—I respectfully request that your Honor transfer the balances for the equipment of the East Boston Relief Station and equipment of the Measles Ward to the appropriation for Hospital Buildings Improvements. These balances are as follows:

Equipment, East Boston Relief Station,	$1,314 43
Equipment, Measles Ward.....	378 72
	$1,693 15

I have the honor to remain, on behalf of the trustees,

Respectfully yours,

A. SHUMAN,
President Board of Trustees.

Boston City Hospital,

Boston, February 10, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—In reply to your communication of February 6, in which you ask for what purpose the money that is to be transferred to the Hospital Buildings Improvements, appropriation is to be used, I have to say that this money will be used for changes in the entrance office, and for certain other permanent improvements. This change in the entrance office is imperative, in order to improve the service and facilitate the transaction of business. There is a certain amount of money at the present time in the Hospital Buildings Improvements, appropriation. The City Auditor, however, says that this money must not be used for any purpose until the settlement of the claim of S. Brennan. This claim has been in litigation since September 19, 1896.

I have the honor to remain, on behalf of the trustees,

Respectfully yours,

A. SHUMAN,
President Board of Trustees.

Ordered, That the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer a balance of $1,314.43 remaining from the appropriation for equipment of the East Boston Relief Station, and a balance of $378.72 remaining from the appropriation for equipment of Measles Ward to the appropriation for Hospital Buildings Improvements.
Referred to the Executive Committee.

USE OF GOVERNOR'S ISLAND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 16, 1911.

To the City Council:

I beg to transmit for the information of your honorable body a letter from the Major-General Commanding, Department of the East, relating to the opportunity to make use of Governor's Island in Boston Harbor which was afforded the authorities of this city by the joint resolutions of Congress, approved June 5, 1902. This privilege has not been accepted by the city government of Boston and Major-General Grant writes to inquire whether it is the intention of the authorities to take advantage of the permission given to develop the island.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Inspector General's Office,
Governor's Island, New York City,
February 8, 1911.

The Honorable the Mayor of Boston,
Boston, Massachusetts:

Sir,—I have the honor to quote for the information of the authorities of the City of Boston the following extract from a report of an inspection of Fort Winthrop, Governor's Island, Boston Harbor, Mass., made November 1, 1910, by Major Gordon G. Heiner, Coast Artillery Corps, Acting Inspector General, with extracts from an indorsement by the Chief of Engineers, United States Army, on the said report, and an inclosure thereto.

Extract from Report.

"The reservation, which includes the entire island, about 72 acres, is without caretaker, watchman or other representative of the United States, State of Massachusetts, or City of Boston. The latter has a right to the land as soon as it complies with the Fortification Act of June 5, 1902, but, it is stated that, so far, no action has been taken by the city with a view to compliance with that act."

Extract from Indorsement.

"2. By joint resolution approved June 5, 1902 (32 Stats., 743), copy herewith, the Secretary of War was authorized to permit the City of Boston to make certain improvements on Governor's Island, the site of Fort Winthrop, upon plans, however, to be previously approved by the Secretary of War. No such plans have ever been submitted by the City of Boston, although, under the act, the city retains the right to the use of the reservation upon the submission and approval by the War Department of plans for its improvement. The conditions described within have existed for some years. The island lies in the upper part of Boston Harbor and within easy access by water of East Boston. It is frequented, particularly in pleasant weather and on holidays, by people in such numbers that they can be controlled only by a police or military guard sufficient primarily to prevent landing on the island, and, secondarily, to eject those who do land, and who belong largely to the class that becomes disorderly in every sense unless restrained by the presence of sufficient force."

"In March, 1905, the ordnance sergeant, who had found it almost impossible to maintain order and decency on the island by himself, was relieved and since that date the reservation has had to take care of itself."

"It does not appear that any improvement in present conditions can be effected, unless the guarding and policing of the reservation be assumed by the City of Boston under the provisions of the joint resolution above referred to."

Inclosure.

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the Secretary of War is hereby authorized to permit the city of Boston, in the State of Massachusetts, to improve and beautify Governor's Island, or a portion thereof, situated in said city and belonging to the United States, in connection with mooring berths to be built adjoining said island, and to make such excavations and fillings and erect and maintain such structures as may be considered proper for the purpose; all upon plans to be previously approved by the Secretary of War: Provided, that the permission given pursuant to this resolution shall not pass any right or title in said island, but shall be revocable at will by the Secretary of War, and the ownership of said island shall remain entirely in the United States, and it shall be subject to such uses for military or other purposes as the Secretary of War may at any time direct. Approved, June 5, 1902."

In view of the prevailing condition, information is requested as to whether or not the City of Boston intends to take advantage of the permission given in the joint resolution above quoted, to improve and beautify Governor's Island, Boston Harbor, in connection with other works therein authorized.

Very respectfully,

F. D. GRANT,
Major-General Commanding.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

APPROPRIATION BILL.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 17, 1911.

To the City Council:

In accordance with section 3 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, I transmit herewith the estimates of the several departments for the financial year 1911-1912, together with a list of the appropriations which I recommend. I also transmit for your information the basis of estimate prepared by the City Auditor, which includes the amount which can be raised within the tax limit for the current expenditures of the city and an estimate of the income for the present year.

The sum total of all the estimates submitted by the heads of city departments, with an allowance of $250,000 for the Reserve Fund, is $13,277,805.48. The total of the estimates submitted by heads of county departments is $1,407,839.21. The city and county debt requirements, embracing interest, sinking funds and installments upon serial bonds, total $5,412,040.29. The sum of these various items, $20,097,684.98, is $1,390,609.78 less than the amount available under the law for current expenditures.

I recommend a reduction of $849,311.53 in the city and county estimates, making a total appropriation of $19,248,373.45. This includes an increase of $184,456.45 in the debt requirements, over which the Mayor and the City Council have no control, and an increase of $306,551 over the original appropriations of the city and county departments for the fiscal year 1910-1911. The amount available but not appropriated is $2,239,921.31—a figure wholly unprecedented in the financial history of the city. Should the $800,000 recommended by me for the erection of an annex to City Hall be appropriated by your honorable body, this margin would, of course, be reduced by a corresponding sum.

The increase in the amounts recommended is due almost wholly to increased demands upon the various city departments.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Appropriation and Tax Orders for the Financial Year 1911-1912.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of February, 1911, of performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston, or the County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, and to meet their respective obligations for interest on debt, sinking fund requirements and maturing debt not provided for by sinking fund, the respective sums of money hereinafter specified be, and the same are, hereby appropriated for the several departments, and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriations for Water Department, current expenses, and the payments to the state under the provisions of chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895 and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest requirement for loans issued for water purposes, be met by the income from said works and any excess over income from taxes; that the other appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on January 31, 1911, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust, or special appropriation, and by the income of the financial year, beginning February 1, 1911, and by taxes to the amount of $14,515,467.62, and that said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates taxable in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston, be paid into the general treasury and then credited to the appropriation of the department or division rendering such service or doing such work, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations aforesaid, the City Treasurer issue and sell, at such times and in such amounts as he may deem best, notes or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston, not exceeding nine million dollars in the total, in anticipation of the taxes of the current municipal year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be dated the day the money for the same is received, be made payable with the interest thereon at the office of the City Treasurer within the current financial year, from the taxes of said year, and bear interest, from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as said treasurer shall deem proper.

Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the City Council, and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the state tax of the year 1911, or of any other taxes or assessments payable to the Commonwealth, be due and payable on the first day of October, 1911; that all such taxes paid after the first day of November, 1911, bear interest from and including said day until paid, at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, except the taxes assessed upon shares of stock of national banks shall bear interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum from and including said first day of November until paid; and that all interest which shall have become due on taxes shall be added to and be a part of such taxes.

THE ENGLISH HOUSING AND TOWN PLANNING ACT.*

The Housing and Town Planning Act has been before the nation for a year. It has within it the essence of much-needed reforms in housing and kindred matters; but the most important features it contains are the clauses dealing with the future planning of towns. That these are novel to this country is well known; but has it been realized that included among them is a very stringent clause which provides that all local authorities shall, if cause be shown that a town plan is needed, prepare such a town plan, and that, failing to do so, the local government board may, subject to certain conditions, require them to adopt a scheme of the board's preparing? This is practical legislation with a driving force behind it!

The first practical question that suggests itself to the mind of the average man on hearing of an Act of Parliament is, what is the object of the act? Turn to section 51 (1) of the Housing and Town Planning Act, and there is set out the object of that act. What are the vital words? Listen to them! A town planning scheme may be made . . . with the general object of securing proper sanitary conditions, amenity and convenience in connection with the laying out and use of the land. A more practical statement it is hard to make! Every administrator must learn these words and then determine to resolve his actions accordingly. What then will he decide to do? He will demand that—

First, Sanitary conditions must be created.

Second, Amenity must be maintained.

Third, Convenience must be secured, and it is with these objects always in view that the land must be laid out and its usefulness established. Administration then will be directed towards this goal.

A MATTER FOR THE ELECTORATE.

In this important matter of town planning the practical question to be kept to the front is: Does the electorate thoroughly understand its own needs and are its members satisfied that they can interpret those needs for the benefit of the community? Let it not be forgotten that whenever there is demand for new buildings someone is always ready and able to supply that demand. If but once it be recognized by the electorate of our towns and suburban areas that, whereas formerly their control over town development was but slight, now it is such that the very positions of the streets and houses and extent of open spaces around them can be fully controlled and marked upon the town plan in advance of the time, then these town planning clauses will be household words in our towns and villages.

* From a paper read before the Institution of Municipal Engineers at Manchester by F. W. Platt.

PRACTICAL REQUIREMENTS.

What are the practical requirements demanded of the official administrator of town planning under this act? Apart from a thorough acquaintance with the act, and the regulations made under it, not forgetting that general scientific knowledge he possesses which enables him to fulfil the ordinary duties of his office, he must be prepared to apply his mind in other ways. Cecil Rhodes, it is said, "thought in continents;" most officials of local authorities think in "streets," or at the most in a "group of streets." This must be changed, and none will welcome this opportunity more than the officials themselves.

Elevation of land, its contour, prevailing winds, soil, aspect of land, relation of hill to valley, situation and disposition of the source of water supply, position and direction of streams, both underground and above ground, are but a few of the subjects he must study. Town planning is just as much a hygienic problem as an architectural or engineering one. Every area therefore requires a special treatment, and this appears to have been realized by Parliament, for power is given in the act to make special provisions applicable to separate areas. Look, again, at the three conditions upon which a town plan may be made: Sanitary conditions, amenity and convenience.

SANITARY CONDITIONS.

These do not consist in merely making good sewers, insuring good drainage, providing open spaces at front and rear of buildings, and all those ancillaries thereto, as laid down in the Model By-laws. They include the course, direction, inclination and width of streets, materials with which they shall be paved, disposition and number of the houses and other buildings erected upon the streets; the planning of the rooms in the buildings, so as to get the full benefit of the sunlight; the relation of open space to buildings, and to the position of the adjoining premises.

More than all these—important though they be—sanitary conditions are dependent upon that harmonious grouping of building with building and road which creates in the mind of the dwellers on the area an intense desire to obtain all that is highest and noblest in life. Environment is the creator of thoughts from which the true essence of advancement is distilled. This is illustrated daily in those of our well-planned suburbs; but its effect is conclusively proved by the statistics of the habits of the children of parents in Port Sunlight and similar places, who are not only anthropometrically in advance of their immediate neighbors' children, but are intellectually superior to them. Therefore a wider definition than the popular one quoted must be given to "sanitary conditions."

AMENITY.

Amenity in the execution of a town planning scheme means that desirable association of buildings where there are no sudden variations in the value thereof, or where a gradation from cottage to larger house forms the essential feature. The deduction, therefore, is, that so far as is possible there shall be separate areas for residential and for manufacturing purposes. This should not be difficult to procure in a new area. In old ones it is difficult in the extreme. For many reasons—financial and physical among them—areas available for manufacturing purposes are neither suitable nor profitable for residential use. Much study of local conditions is imperatively necessary before allocating special areas. An example of an actual difficulty might here be useful. A new area adjoining an old area is about to be developed under a town planning scheme. It is easy to plan this area, and the land is available for graduated types of dwelling, from cottage to detached house, to be erected thereon. In order to gain access to this new area, the shortest way is to pass through the old and badly developed part of the town, which has been laid out without any regard to amenity conditions. Here comes the difficulty! The prospective dweller of the detached house will not pass daily through this old and badly laid out area. His support is vital to the scheme, and he will not give it unless a more desirable approach be made to his zone.

ECONOMIC BENEFIT.

Amenity includes more than these, and its influence is directly felt in the revenue it produces to the local exchequer. A town's finances to be sound economically ought to be mainly provided from buildings whose occupants will not each require or take more in value from the corporate estate and its administration than their individual quota of the rate paid on their behalf by the householder. To illustrate this, it will be remembered that the most pregnant sources of the financial responsibility of a local authority to its rate-payers arise from expenditure upon sewage disposal, public health administration and education, and that the people who largely create this responsibility and mostly benefit by it are the inhabitants of the poorer parts of a town. Therefore it follows, the higher the number of small houses which are rated below an average sum the greater is the burden cast upon the higher rated area. The small house takes more than it gives. A town planner in the future must consider this aspect of the influence of amenity, and so design his town plan that whatever causes have operated in the old town to bring about this adverse ratio they shall not exist in his scheme, and thus the means may be provided whereby this deficiency of ratable value will be corrected.

CONVENIENCE.

Convenience may be defined in many ways. Roads easiest in gradient, most direct in course and best available for the use of the majority of the people will be needed. Their uses and the connections they will make with roads in adjoining areas should form the subject of much careful thought; the ratio of space for vehicular traffic to that for foot traffic, together with the possible need for increasing both in the future, will demand attention and foresight. Means for conveying the public services of light, power and sewage must be furnished. These in themselves all make for convenience to the inhabitants. Much more might be said under this head; sufficient it is to cause everyone whose duty it may be to administer the act carefully and thoroughly to familiarize themselves with the demands which will be made upon them.

That demands for an active administration of the powers of the act will be made is a certainty; that the local authorities will have to satisfy them is equally sure. Let the demand find us ready and fully competent to cope with it; for depend upon it the burden will, in the first instance, fall upon the municipal engineer and surveyor. If he be found wanting the control will pass from his hands, and a work for which he should by reason of his especial knowledge be the fittest person to undertake will be executed by another.

DISTRICT MEETINGS.

The following subjects were presented for consideration and discussion at the district meetings held during the past week.

SOUTH BOSTON.

(February 15, 1911, in the South Boston High School.)

SOUTH BOSTON CITIZENS ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MESSRS. MICHAEL J. MURRAY AND E. J. POWERS.)

1. Municipal building, perhaps using $25,000 of the $50,000 appropriated for a bath at Ninth street as a nucleus, and erecting with the other $25,000 at McNary Park a sanitary and locker building similar to the one at Franklin Field.

MR. THOMAS J. FEELEY.

Dredge near the head of Old Harbor, removing the nuisance at present existing at the flats there, and fill in about fourteen acres of the park west of Old Harbor street.

Mayor Fitzgerald said he appreciated the situation, was seriously considering it, but did not yet know how it could be met.

WORK DONE AND CONTEMPLATED.

Councillor Kenny explained how obligations and burdens on the city that could not be avoided reduced the amount available for improvements, went on to read and explain the items of loans authorized and loans issued which had already been authorized.

Mayor Fitzgerald also read the following statement of expenditures made during the past year:

The Bath Department expended at the L Street Bath last year for repairs, installation of hygienic fountain, electrical work, and for the preparation of plans and specifications for a new building which it is proposed to erect, $3,662.

COVE STREET BRIDGE SITUATION.

The Mayor, after referring to the bright outlook for South Boston and for the city generally, in connection with railroad, dock and other plans, said that he and the City Council would like to receive opinions from the citizens' associations and others in regard to the Cove Street Bridge. The problem is a serious one. The bridge has been erected at a cost of half a million dollars, and there are damages amounting to over $700,000 pending. Shall the bridge remain as at present, shall it be modified, or shall it be discontinued? It is now not much used for heavy teaming or by pedestrians, on account of the grade.

Mr. E. J. Powers said the Citizens' Association did not want the bridge removed. To do so, in the first place, would wipe out the Old Colony avenue proposition. The trouble is that the bridge was not constructed as originally laid out, with longer approaches which would obviate the present steep grade. He thought the grade might be easily lessened.

Engineer Frederic H. Fay said that to lessen the grade as suggested would involve the widening of Dorchester avenue and the taking of more land, as well as some pretty expensive construction. To lower the grade of the bridge to not in excess of three per cent, so as to make it available for heavy teaming, would perhaps cost in that way $200,000 or $300,000. The length of the approaches at both ends would have to be nearly doubled.

MR. SAMUEL W. JOHNSON.

One of the great troubles with the development of South Boston is the unattractive character of the entrances and the lack of proper building development along near the parkway, the reasons being partly on account of the litigation over enormous assessments that have been levied and heavy restrictions on land which was bought cheap. Because of the trouble in connection with the litigation, assessments and restrictions, there has been practically no building, as people don't know where they stand. For instance, in the first place, there was to be no charge for the sewer, but a sewer assessment has also now been levied.

HON. WILLIAM S. McNARY.

Mr. McNary favored the municipal building, and a sanitary and locker building at McNary Park.

He felt that the whole trouble with Cove Street Bridge is that South Boston's interests had not been considered from the first, that the location of the South Terminal where it is, instead of farther south, was a mistake, blocking South Boston travel and doing away with the old more convenient and direct route, and that South Boston has suffered and will suffer as a result. As far as Cove Street Bridge is concerned, it was not built as South Boston people felt that it should be. They wanted a wider bridge with longer approaches and a lower grade, but owing to railroad opposition, and so forth, the present bridge is, like all compromises, unsatisfactory. He felt that the approaches might be lengthened and the grade lowered without very great additional expense, and he did not believe that any damages at $700,000 would represent the final determination of the court. He deplored the present "dry dock" condition of certain parts of Boston, the North End, the South End and the lower part of South Boston, which ought to be used for business property, and felt that investigation by a commission of experts into these reasons might do some good.

Mayor Fitzgerald said that the matter of better business development of the city was one he was deeply interested in and he was investigating; that there is no reason why there should not be such industries here, for instance, as the automobile industries of Detroit, the skilled employees of which have increased from 46,000 in 1905 to 90,000 in 1909; and the story in regard to industries was similar in Fitchburg, Chicago, Cleveland and other cities. There should be large industries here for our boys to go into when they leave school. Massachusetts should not lag behind. In New York there have been expenditures by the Pennsylvania and other railroad corporations amounting into the hundreds of millions within a few years, while in Massachusetts from 1900 to 1909, according to the records of the Railroad Commission, but two miles of railroad have been built.

Much of our Boston property in the down-town section, also, is old, dilapidated, worn out — such property as is found in the vicinity of Province court, and it not only represents lack of proper business development but is a fire hazard. We should also have banks that will do more towards the development of the city in the way of loans that will really help the citizens who are trying to do something.

MR. COLEMAN KELLY.

1. Complained about the way garbage and offal are being dumped at the lower end of Ward 13, being a nuisance and a menace to health.
2. Accommodations at the Norcross and Mather schools are insufficient, and the yard of the Norcross School should be enlarged.

MR. CHARLES E. MOONEY.

Protested against the proposed route of the elevated road over Summer, L and First streets, the extension over First street offering no local improvement, but going entirely through a manufacturing section. The city would be justified in helping along the matter of a route over L and Fourth streets, as that would be of great local assistance.

Mayor Fitzgerald suggested that this matter should be taken up with the Railroad Commissioners.

Mr. Mooney also favored a municipal building, and efforts which would result in bringing back manufacturing industries.

MR. JAMES F. ROONEY.

Mr. Rooney spoke along socialistic lines; said he was not worrying about real estate propositions, but about the problem of the poor man who was unable to put bread into the mouths of his children. Personally he would favor tearing up the present streets and sidewalks in order to give work to men.

Adjourned.

WEST ROXBURY.

(February 16, 1911, in West Roxbury High School.)

CLEVELAND CLUB REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. PATRICK J. BRADY.)

1. Granolithic sidewalks on Washington street, from Green to Walk Hill streets.
2. Pave South street from Soldiers' Monument to the Arborway with brick, having granolithic sidewalks.
3. Widen Washington street from La Grange street to Metropolitan avenue as a state highway, 100 feet wide,—should be widened to Forest Hills,—widening Spring street from Gardner street to Charles River.
4. Accept Denton and Terrace streets, Dudley avenue, Bellevue avenue and Clifford street; lay out the West Roxbury parkway from the Arnold Arboretum to Stony Brook Reservation.
5. Have a zoo in Franklin Park.
6. Have a playground in close proximity to Forest Hills and another in the vicinity of Williams and Washington streets; both necessary.
7. Convenience station necessary at Forest Hills square.
8. Mayor requested to ask the Election Commissioners to have the voting booths placed in Precincts 5, 6 and 9, close to the railroad station, at Mt. Hope, Roslindale and Spring street.
9. Have a new schoolhouse in Germantown, on land already purchased by the city, the present building having done service as a schoolhouse for fifty-four years.
10. Purchase land and build a new schoolhouse in the vicinity of Belgrade and Colberg avenues.
11. Have fire box in Forest Hills square, in the vicinity of Tower street, also on Washington street in the vicinity of Cottage street.
12. Commissioner of Public Works requested, through the Mayor, to have the streets of West Roxbury, District 5, cleaned by the city employees, dispensing with contract labor, if necessary transferring men from the Sanitary and Sewer Divisions to assist in the work.
13. Requesting more than ordinary consideration by the Mayor for all applicants who may be indorsed by the Cleveland Club for positions in the city employ, as none but men of experience, education and training are indorsed by the club.

FOREST HILLS CITIZENS' IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. C. G. WILKINS.)

1. That the Boston Elevated Road provide necessary waiting rooms at Dudley street and Forest Hills square, the former where Forest Hills passengers have to wait for transportation, and the latter (downstairs) where they have to wait for cars to outlying districts; that trains be run oftener to Forest Hills, preventing overcrowding; that arrangements be made so that smoking cars will not be a menace to life and limb in the rush hours of the morning and evening, and that more be provided for the traveling public, or trains run oftener; that transfers be given on Jamaica Plain cars and South Huntington avenue cars, thus obviating payment of two fares.
2. That a playground be established for the residents of Forest Hills.
3. That a convenience station be established at Forest Hills square.

the best method of tunneling and supporting and safeguarding the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad at Forest Hills during the construction of the work on the last section of the conduit, which will carry the complete work to the south of Forest Hills square and end, for the present, heavy construction on the brook. It is expected during the coming week to come to an agreement with the chief engineer of the railroad on this point, and put this section through the coming year.

The Rosindale brook conduit has been completed from a point near the junction of Aldrich street and Belgrade avenue to Bellevue station.

About 4,000 linear feet of concrete and pipe surface water mains were built in the Hewlett valley in Rosindale, in the following streets: Ardale street, Mozart street, Zeller street, Private land, Selwyn street and Hewlett street.

Many requests were made for work in West Roxbury and a large amount of money has been spent there during the past year—$280,578, which includes the following large sums:

Stony brook improvement.....	$130,518
Rosindale brook.....	31,858
Hewlett street brook system.....	24,020
Canterbury branch conduit.....	15,000

Sewers are asked for in Spring street, between Gardner street and the Charles river. This work has not been as yet begun, and it will prove a very expensive job, largely in quicksand. A considerable frontage is that of the Parental School property, which does not require a sewer as it has one of its own, and there has been some objection by abutters. The lines of the street are almost not well defined. This work can, however, be undertaken during the coming season.

The Mt. Hope section asked for improvements in the conditions of Stony brook. The complaint is largely due to the presence of oil on the surface of the water, which made what was called a "green scum." This was traced to the oiling plant of the Park Department, off Canterbury street, and the escape of the oil has been stopped.

In regard to the shallowness of the channel nothing can be accomplished until the building of the next tunnel section on the main brook channel, whereby a low grade can be obtained for the brook south of Forest Hills square, whereupon the open channel up to Mt. Hope can be deepened and conditions bettered.

A sewer was asked for in Paine street. This has been completed.

The conditions of the Catherine street sewer was complained of. This sewer is very shallow at its outlet and was built with the distinct understanding that fixtures could not be drained in basements of houses on the downhill side of this portion of Catherine street. Some fixtures have been put in, however, and of course trouble has ensued. This sewer cannot be improved until the lower outlet is provided for it by the building of the West Roxbury low level sewer which is now being carried with the Stony brook conduit. When this has been carried through to the south of Forest Hills it can be extended to Catherine street. The unsatisfactory section of Catherine street sewer can then be rebuilt at a lower grade. Meanwhile the district foreman has directions to flush this portion at regular intervals of three weeks.

JAMAICA PLAIN CITIZENS' ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. P. J. COWAN.)

1. A neighborhood house in the vicinity of Carolina avenue, with about $6,000 feet of land and assessed for $21,000, which has been used by the city in a splendid way, in educational and citizenship work, in which the young and others have been interested, in return for taxes, is now to be disposed of and should be acquired by the city.

REV. GEORGE J. LYONS.

1. Favored tunnel under the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, between Boylston and Green streets.

Mayor Fitzgerald said he agreed with Father Lyons as to the importance of this work and trusted that the City Council would take the same view.

MOUNT HOPE CITIZENS' ASSOCIATION REQUESTS.

(PRESENTED BY MR. JOHN E. KELLY.)

1. Widen and straighten Canterbury street, between Poplar street and the railroad bridge; necessary on account of great danger to children from autos coming under a dark, blind curve; not expensive, and street commissioners agree as to the need.

2. Either the South Huntington avenue car line should be extended to Forest Hills square or the company should grant transfers from the regular line now running to the South Huntington avenue south, so that Franklin Park, Franklin Field and adjacent points can be reached without going into the Dudley Street Terminal.

3. New school needed in Mount Hope district, many children now have to walk over a mile.

4. Accept following streets: street running from Washington street, opposite South street, on the southerly boundary of the playground (construction required immediately to give direct access to district, sewer now being under the street); Clifford street, Folsom street, Catherine street.

5. Sidewalks on the Ashland Street Bridge, which is very much used by children going to school. (Mayor Fitzgerald thought this should be done.)

6. Playground, Forest Hills, a suitable convenience station should be installed in this playground and apparatus for an open-air gymnasium. It should be so arranged that it can be flooded in winter, and supply a good field for skating. Pierce Field is much too small.

7. Suggestion that ten miles of granolithic sidewalks a year be built, indorsed.

MR. JAMES A. HALIBURTON.

Necessary work should be done on Barstow terrace, a short street.

MR. GEORGE W. CHERRY.

1. Work should be done at once on Canterbury street, Clifford street, Folsom street, Grove street, and Rowe street, from Ashland street to Allen street. The work could be done on these five short streets for $25,000 or $30,000.

2. The voting booths referred to earlier in the meeting should be put back.

3. Did not believe in street cleaning by contract, but thought that some of the old fellows in the city's employ could do as good work as any one in street cleaning.

Mayor Fitzgerald suggested that the representatives of West Roxbury press their claims as strongly as possible before the City Council, because all the interests of the city would have to be considered, representatives from all sections would be heard, and it behooved every section to see that its claims were properly and strongly presented. The Mayor also referred to the enormous amount—perhaps $20,000,000 in the past twenty-five years—that had been spent on Stony brook. While it is true that this has not been entirely for the benefit of the West Roxbury district, most people in other sections so regard it, crediting it to West Roxbury.

MR. J. PARKER WEEKS.

Mr. Weeks felt that even if a good deal of the Stony Brook work was for the West Roxbury district, it was of just as much benefit to the Back Bay.

MR. WALLACE A. GLEASON.

Mr. Gleason, speaking for the Germantown section, referred to the difficulty of notifying the school children—who in many cases lived a considerable distance from the schools they attended—of no school sessions in bad weather. He thought the difficulty might be remedied either by a bell centrally located, or by telephoning to the street car waiting rooms. Mr. W. H. Gleason thought there might be a flag prominently displayed that would give notice to the children, and Mr. Dorr felt that arrangements might easily be made to have a factory whistle blow at a certain time.

COUNCILOR WALTER L. COLLINS.

Councilor Collins spoke of the difficulty that the City Council had in passing upon the needs of the whole city, with limited means at its disposal; how information obtained at such meetings as these has to be carefully weighed and balanced, to see which things are most important and necessary. Personally he would try to do his full, honest, patriotic duty by the citizens at large, bearing in mind all their needs as expressed, and trying to meet them as far as possible with the means at the disposal of the city.

COUNCILOR EARNEST E. SMITH.

Councilor Smith was very glad of the opportunity these meetings afforded him to get in touch with the needs of the citizens, and felt that such information as he had received at this and other such meetings helped him immensely in arriving at a just conclusion. His impression was that the great needs of the down-town sections were in the line of health precautions and education—libraries, gymnasiums, and baths; while in the outlying sections the great needs were in the line of street and sidewalk improvements.

On motion of Mr. W. H. Gleason, the unanimous thanks of the meeting were tendered to the Mayor and City Council for their presence.

Mayor Fitzgerald, in closing, urged his hearers to keep after the Mayor and City Council on all matters in which they were interested and which they considered necessary for the welfare of their district.

Adjourned.

A WOMAN MAYOR.

The town of Oldham in Lancashire, England, has elected a woman mayor, Mrs. Charles E. Lees, who is held in high esteem locally for her benefactions and for her practical work in education and in civic improvement. She gave 11 acres of land in the city for a playground, and was instrumental in securing playgrounds and parks in all the congested regions.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Feb. 16, 1911.

A special meeting of the School Committee of the City of Boston was held in the School Committee Chamber, Mason-street Building, at 5.45 o'clock P.M., the Chairman presiding.

Present: Messrs. Brock, Corcoran, Ellis, Lee and Leen.

APPROVAL OF RECORDS.

The reading of the records of the last meeting was omitted, the Board approving them as printed.

INSTALLATION OF PIPE ORGANS IN HIGH SCHOOLS.

A communication was received from the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners, under date of Feb. 8, 1911, in answer to the request of the Board at the meeting of Nov. 7, 1910 (see p. 165), for an estimate of the cost of equipping high school-houses with pipe organs, stating that the cost would vary from $2,000 to $7,000 each, according to conditions in the various high schools, and as the conditions are practically all different and would have to be treated independently to find out the expense for placing organs in proper positions to be effective, a more definite idea of the cost could be obtained if the School Committee designated a certain high school or a certain number of high schools which they would like to have equipped with pipe organs.

Referred to the Superintendent for consideration, and report in what high school-houses, if any, pipe organs are desirable.

EQUIPMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS WITH THERMOMETERS.

A communication was received from the Secretary, under date of Feb. 10, 1911, reporting that he has had further correspondence with the Corporation Counsel relative to the furnishing of thermometers for school buildings, and has informed him that these thermometers are not small instruments placed on the teachers' desks, but are securely fastened to the wall or woodwork of school rooms by screws. The Corporation Counsel knows of no court decision on the point, but personally is of the opinion that thermometers of this type should be classed as furniture and not as a school supply.

Placed on file, and the Secretary directed to confer with the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners with reference to that Board assuming the expense of equipping new and old buildings with thermometers, and that the Business Agent and the Schoolhouse Custodian investigate and report with regard to the number of such instruments required, and the rooms in which they should be placed.

EXPENDITURE FOR POSTAGE AND TELEPHONE SERVICE BY PRINCIPALS OF SCHOOLS AND DISTRICTS.

A communication was received from the Business Agent, under date of Feb. 13, 1911, stating that each high and elementary school principal was allowed $7.50 to be expended for telephone calls for the financial year 1910-11, and for several years each high and elementary school principal has been allowed $25 and $10 respectively for each school year for postage, and as all such schools are now to be put upon a per capita allowance of money for the financial year, he desires the decision of the Board as to whether any limitation is to be put upon expenditures for these purposes, provided the total expenditure in each case is within the total amount allowed the principal for his school or district.

Placed on file, and the Business Agent authorized in his discretion to pass for payment bills rendered by principals of schools and districts for postage and telephone service during the current financial year, this expenditure to be within the per capita allowance for supplies and incidentals for each school or district.

OCCUPANCY OF HALLS BY EVENING SCHOOL CLASSES AFTER THE CLOSE OF THE REGULAR SESSION.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the principal of each evening school may occupy the hall or gymnasium of his building for not more than one hour after the close of the regular session on not more than one evening per week during the evening school term, and with the approval of the Director of Evening and Continuation Schools, for not more than two hours after the close of the regular session on not more than two evenings during the entire term; provided, that the principal or some teacher designated by the principal shall remain in charge during such occupancy; and until otherwise ordered the janitor shall be allowed and paid for his attendance at the rate of forty cents (40c) per hour for such occupancy.

NEXT REGULAR MEETING OF THE BOARD OMITTED.

On motion, and under a suspension of the rules it was ORDERED, That the regular meeting of the Board which would be held on Monday, Feb. 20, 1911, be omitted.

ERECTION OF MEMORIAL TABLETS IN THE LYMAN, ADAMS AND CHAPMAN SCHOOL-HOUSES.

A communication was received from Mrs. J. Frank Hodge, under date of Feb. 8, 1911, in behalf of General Benjamin Lincoln Chapter, D. A. R., requesting permission to place memorial tablets in the halls of the Lyman, Adams and Chapman School-houses, commemorating the services of pupils in these schools who served in the Civil War.

Placed on file, and the Secretary directed to inform the General Benjamin Lincoln Chapter, D. A. R., that the Board will very gladly accept the generous and patriotic offer of the Chapter to place tablets of the kind described in the halls of the Lyman, Adams and Chapman School-houses, provided there be no objection on the part of the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners, and that the tablets be approved by the Art Commission.

LUNCH SERVICE IN SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

A communication was received from the Head-Masters' Association, under date of Feb. 14, 1911, with reference to the lunch service in high schools expressing approval of the present method of furnishing lunches and objecting to House Bill No. 1019 which is now pending in the Legislature, the passage of which would, in the opinion of said association, be unwise.

Placed on file, and the Secretary directed to transmit a copy thereof to the Committee on Education of the General Court.

INCREASE IN SALARIES OF SUB-MASTERS.

A communication was received from Arthur A. Lincoln, under date of Feb. 13, 1911, stating that a committee of five has been appointed by the Sub-Masters of Boston to present to the Board a request for an increase in salary, and requesting that an informal private hearing be granted the committee.

Placed on file.

EVENING USE OF SCHOOL-HOUSES.

A communication was received from Theo. W. Curtis, Secretary of The New Brotherhood, under date of Feb. 14, 1911, asking the consideration of the Board of the need of the use of school-houses on Sunday and week day evenings for public meetings, lectures, and social gatherings, as a supplementary part of the public school system, an aid to citizenship, and to the morals and the well-being of the community.

Placed on file, and the Secretary directed to inform The New Brotherhood of the general policy of the Board with respect to the use of accommodations in school buildings for other than the regular work of the schools.

NAMING OF A SCHOOL-HOUSE.

On motion, and under a suspension of the rules, it was unanimously

ORDERED, That the Polk-street School, together with the new building recently erected and connected therewith, be named the James A. McDonald School in memory of the late Dr. James A. McDonald, who for many years was an honored member of the former School Committees of Boston and Charlestown.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON THE NAMING OF NEW SCHOOLS.

The following special committee on the Naming of New Schools was appointed:—
Messrs. Lee and Leen.

INVESTIGATION OF EUROPEAN SCHOOLS.

On motion, it was
ORDERED, That the Superintendent is hereby instructed to proceed to make a personal investigation of European schools at an expense to the city not exceeding $1500, said investigation to be made between April 1 and Sept. 1, 1911.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL PUPILS IN NEED OF OPEN-AIR INSTRUCTION.

On motion, it was
ORDERED, That the Director of School Hygiene be requested to ascertain, with the aid of the school physicians and assistant nurses, the number and location of children in the elementary schools who are in need of more careful and extensive open-air treatment than is available in the open-air classes, and who are otherwise fit subjects for open-air schools to be established out of doors or in portable buildings made over for that purpose, in which the schooling shall be entirely subordinate to the best medical and hygienic treatment.

FOOD FURNISHED TO CHILDREN IN THE SCHOOLS.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the Advisory Committee on School Hygiene be requested to consider and report whether or not it is advisable that canned foods in any form be furnished to pupils in the public schools.

CARE OF CHILDREN'S CORNERS IN PARK PLAYGROUNDS.

On motion,
The Sub-Committee on Physical Training appointed at the last meeting consisting of Messrs. Corcoran, Lee and Leen was requested to confer with the Park Commissioners and ascertain whether that department will not cease to charge the School Committee for the ordinary care of the children's corners in park playgrounds.

ADJOURNMENT.

The Board adjourned at 7 o'clock P. M.
Attest:—

THORNTON D. APOLLONIO,
Secretary.

SUBWAY FOR BUENOS AYRES.

After many years of discussion and suggestions by the different authorities in power in the Argentine Republic, permission has just been granted to construct two underground railways within the municipal area of Buenos Ayres, which had become absolutely necessary to relieve the congested traffic conditions in the narrow streets of the city. Platforms at the stations are to be very wide and long, allowing for a train of eight cars to be drawn alongside. The access to the stations is to be by two wide stairs, the entrance and exit being distinct. The depth of the underground railway is to be 22.38 feet from the level of the street, thus necessitating only 30 to 35 steps of the stair to ascend from or descend to the carriages. The tunnel will be made of solid wall of cement and brick, with an arched roof amply high, as the current is to be from above. The way is to be formed of heavy rails to avoid vibration, resting upon sleepers of hardwood, these being laid upon a bed of small stones.—Municipal Journal and Engineer.

EL PASO SECURES MUNICIPAL WATER.

At a cost of a little less than a million dollars El Paso, Texas, has taken over its water plant.

PROGRESS IN CITY WASTE DISPOSAL DURING 1910.

A review of the progress made in waste disposal in American communities is interesting chiefly for the promise it offers for the advancement of improved methods over old forms of inefficient and insanitary collection and disposal of waste. The growth of the ideas of sanitation in the minds of public officials on subjects that affect the comfort of the people has been marked by a higher sense of duty to the public and better appreciation of improved methods which have been presented for inspection. Along with the growth of the City Beautiful the progress of the City Healthful has kept even pace.

Referring to previous articles on this subject, published in The American City during the past year,* and taking up the various phases of the work divided into the collection and disposal by several methods therein described, it may be interesting to review the progress made along these lines in the past twelve months.

GARBAGE DISPOSAL BY CREMATORIES.

The crematory and incinerator system used by the smaller municipalities and communities has not made so rapid progress as has been attained by other methods. There is an evident hesitation on the part of the authorities to adopt a crematory or incinerator design, operated for the disposal of only a comparatively small part of the whole municipal waste output, and demanding the employment of labor and fuel to such an extent as to make it expensive to maintain. The contracts for the construction of crematory plants are limited to only four cities, and in these instances they have been accepted only after a very rigid investigation and thorough preliminary tests and trials for the completion of their contract specifications.

In one instance, where two crematories were built under a contract to receive the mixed waste of the city without separation, it was found impossible for the crematory to destroy the required quantity because of the presence of a large proportion of ashes which could not be dealt with by this method. In this case a compromise was arrived at, by which the people agreed to make a preliminary separation of the garbage and the refuse, and the city agreed to collect these separately and to deliver the garbage to the furnaces for disposal. The ashes went to the dumps in the usual and accepted way, but the extra cost of collection of the garbage must be charged against the cost of doing the work by the city's agency.

In another instance a crematory was built guaranteeing a stipulated amount within a given time, and fell short of the contract requirements. The matter is still unadjusted and the crematory not accepted. In still another instance, where a large incinerator failed of meeting its contract specifications, and a suit by the contracting company was brought to compel payment by the city, it is defended on the ground that the contract was not complied with. It seems very evident, therefore, that the authorities have at last awakened to a sense of their responsibility on the question of the construction and operation of garbage furnaces, and are no longer willing to follow the old line of procedure of contracting for and accepting almost anything that may be presented to them under the title of "Garbage Crematory."

DISPOSAL BY REDUCTION METHODS.

This disposal of waste by the reduction system has made very considerable advances along the lines of municipal work.

At Columbus a municipal garbage plant has been installed at a cost of $180,000, and is now treating some 40 to 50 tons per day, about one-half of its capacity. A late description of this plant by the engineer in charge shows a very complete and thorough arrangement of machinery with several items of new apparatus brought into use for the special purposes of this installation.

There have been two garbage reduction plants to be operated by private companies, contracted for by two other American cities. At East St. Louis there is under construction by the company controlling the process known as the "Weislogel," a plant for the disposal of 50 to 60 tons per day. This will be an improvement on a much larger scale of the plant now in operation at Vincennes. A contract has been let by the city of Bridgeport for the installation of a reduction plant similar to those in use at York and Reading, Pa. This will follow in the main the same methods that are employed in the reduction system at Reading where the work is done by steam and without the use of naphtha.

The City of Boston is now considering the renewal of its contract for a period of ten years with the Sanitary Product Company for the treatment of its garbage, and including also the disposal of all other classes of refuse and ashes under one contract with the same company. This contract method has been adopted after a prolonged examination of the work in other cities of the country, and in placing all the disposal work in the hands of a company the city radically changes the former method of disposal of a part of the waste by the city's agency.

DISPOSAL BY DESTRUCTOR SYSTEM.

The third system of disposal, which has been more rapidly advanced during the past year, is the combustion of all classes of waste by the destructor system. In May last the completion of the great plant at Milwaukee showed that the construction and equipment for the disposal of 300 tons per day were entirely satisfactory; that not only was the work thoroughly well done, but the advantages gained by this method exceeded the estimates of the engineers who made the design, and the guarantees of the company which performed the work.

There has been erected a large destructor at Buffalo, which receives and destroys the refuse remaining after the selected portions are removed as salable in the market, and furnishes power for pumping sewage.

At Westmount, Canada, an additional unit of three grates has been installed in connection with the former Meldrum installation, the combined capacity now reaching a total of 100 tons per day. The returns from the first unit after four years operation proved that the work was so remunerative that it was thought advisable to erect an additional unit to be held in reserve anticipating the rapid growth of the city. Ottawa, Canada, has also contracted for a large destructor plant, which is now under construction. At Vancouver, where a small plant of 40 tons capacity has been operating for two years, it has been found so advantageous to the city that a contract has been made for a second destructor having a capacity of 120 tons per day. Montgomery, Ala., has now under construction a destructor with a capacity of 60 tons per day, the steam power from which will be used in pumping the water supply, the station of which is near the destructor works.

The Borough of Richmond, New York City, after operating its destructor for three years, has found it so much to its advantage that it is now about contracting for the installation of a plant with a capacity of 90 tons per day, to be located in the central section of the borough and to care for the waste of something like 40,000 people. The plans include the development of the property as a general station for various branches of municipal work, utilizing the power from the destructor.

San Francisco, after an investigation by expert engineers, has entered into a contract for the erection of two large disposal plants at a cost of $225,000. These are to be on the northern and southern sides of the city, and are immediately adjoining the area of territory from which they will receive the waste.

The city of Seattle, after an experience of four years with a Meldrum destructor, built under the superintendence of the city engineer, has now announced its intention of installing four more destructor plants of about the same capacity in different parts of the city. In this city the clinker from the destructor is utilized for buildings.

A destructor plant, built at Portland, Ore., during the past year, having a capacity of 120 tons per day, is now just beginning its work, and is expected to fulfill its contract requirements in every respect. El Paso, Tex., is now proceeding with the construction of a destructor contracted for in the early part of the year, which is to be built in connection with the sewage disposal system, affording power for the pumping of sewage by the destruction of its municipal waste.

There are several other cities and towns investigating this question with the intention of ultimately adopting the destructor system, believing that under American conditions of garbage production and collection, the destruction in an unseparated state by the destructor method offers many advantages over former means of destroying garbage only by the crematory and incinerator, or its disposal by reduction processes, leaving the other constituents of the waste (ashes and refuse) to be carried to the dumps or disposed of in some other insanitary way.

Another thing is very noticeable in considering the progress of this work, and that is that all the investigations in the erection of destructor and municipal reduction plants have been conducted by expert engineers, who, after becoming familiar with the requirements and conditions of the towns, are able to bring forward a design and estimates for the disposal of municipal waste, which in each case has been adopted by the municipalities. It is being recognized that the work of municipal garbage collection and disposal is an engineering question, and, as such, should be handled under competent engineering advice in order that the best results may be obtained. It is no longer necessary for a considerable number of gentlemen, composing a committee of councils or boards of health to spend their time in exploring and investigating garbage crematories, when the results of all the work done in the country for the past years can be obtained through books giving this information, and any town can have the efficient assistance and service of engineers who keep themselves posted as to the progress of this work, and are competent to give advice on a question which has heretofore been attended with unsatisfactory results obtained at sometimes very considerable expense.

PERMISSION TO CONSTRUCT.

The Acting Mayor has granted to the Commissioner of Public Works authority to do the following work with the department force, without advertising: Build, with the department force, a surface drain of 12-inch and 10-inch earthen pipe and a sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe in Browning avenue, between Wales and Bernard streets, Dorchester district, the estimated cost being $2,410; sanitary sewer to be built from Wales street, about 189 feet easterly, the existing sanitary sewer between these points to be abandoned and discontinued; build, with the department force, a surface drain of 12-inch and 10-inch earthen pipe in Sussex street, between Warwick and Hammond streets, Roxbury district, the estimated cost being $1,628.

"Public necessity and convenience require that this work be done after November 15, for which your authority is requested.

"This work can, in my opinion, be as advantageously done by day labor methods as any work now necessary.

L. K. ROURKE,
Commissioner."

APPROVAL OF SCHOOLHOUSE PLANS.

The Acting Mayor has approved building and plumbing plans prepared by Charles R. Greco for the elementary school building to be erected in the Comins District, Parker street and Fisher avenue. Similar plans have been approved for the heating, ventilating and electrical systems. The proposed new building will provide accommodation for 528 pupils and will contain twelve class rooms, including kindergarten and fresh air room, teachers' room, nurse's room, with boys' and girls' toilets and playrooms in the basement.

COLLECTION OF STORE REFUSE.

Regarding the recent notice of discontinuance of the collection by the city sanitary service of store refuse, the ordinance which went into effect on February 1, 1911, is very clear as to the authority of the city in making collections, and reads, in part, as follows:

"Shall remove from yards and areas, when so placed as to be easily removed, all ashes accumulated from the burning of materials for heating habitations, cooking and other domestic purposes, house dirt, house offal and all noxious and refuse substances."

The material to be collected is here limited to the accumulations of refuse from habitations only. The collection of store refuse, for which no warrant in authority has existed, has been heretofore a service entailing a considerable expense upon the city. For this work alone, no fewer than thirty-eight teams and ninety-eight men are employed at an annual cost of $100,000. This large force of men and teams can be employed in other directions where more frequent collections from habitations are desirable, and for which there is a constantly increasing demand.

STREET COMMISSIONERS.

The Acting Mayor has approved the settlement by the award of $75 in the matter of the Reservoir Land Trust, who sought to recover for damages to their estate occasioned by the laying out of Bruce street.

FINANCE COMMISSION.

BOSTON, February 25, 1911.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR,—On September 24, 1910, your Honor requested the Finance Commission to investigate and report on the question whether the Boston Normal School should be transferred to the state and maintained at state expense, or, if that should be inadvisable, to consider the question whether some compensation should not be given by the state to the city for work performed on the state's behalf.

The commission has caused the investigation to be made by the Director of the Bureau of Municipal Research, Mr. George A. O. Ernst, and it submits a copy of his report herewith. The commission concurs in the conclusions and recommendations therein contained.

This commission, like its predecessor the former Finance Commission, has given much thought to such readjustments of expense between the city and the state as will do justice to the city and make the institutions affected more successful. With this in mind the transfer of the Boston Insane Hospital to the state was recommended and effected, the city saving upwards of $100,000 a year thereby and the inmates being better cared for. This commission has also recommended a transfer of the Suffolk School for Boys and the Placing Out and Office Division of the Children's Institutions Department to the state which, if effected, will save the city nearly $100,000 annually and improve the lot of the children now intrusted to the city. But such saving of expense is not so clear in the case of the Boston Normal School, and it is also not clear that taking from Boston control of the educational standards of its teachers will be beneficial.

The commission believes, however, that Boston should not maintain its Normal School at its sole expense, but that the state should contribute to its support.

The commission therefore recommends that the city retain control of the school and that legislation be passed along the lines of House Bill No. 589, which has been introduced by your Honor.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by JOHN F. MOORS,
Acting Chairman.

BOSTON, February 25, 1911.

To the Boston Finance Commission:

GENTLEMEN,—You have requested me to investigate the following questions: First, whether the Boston Normal School should be transferred to the state, and second, if not, whether the state should be asked to contribute to the city a part of the cost of the maintenance of the school.

I have done so and have reached the following conclusions:

1. That the only reason for the transfer is the injustice of making Boston pay the entire expense of its own Normal School while also paying, through the state tax, a little more than one-third of the expense of the state normal schools.

2. That there is a strong popular feeling against the transfer and that this feeling is shared by such educational experts as ex-Superintendent Edwin P. Seaver and George B. Martin, former member of the Board of Supervisors and now treasurer of the State Board of Education; and that there is at present no urgent demand for the transfer.

3. That under the School Board as at present constituted, and because of the establishment of a merit list in making appointments of teachers, there is less reason than there may have been in the past to urge the transfer.

4. That the Normal School, if properly conducted, has a distinct value to Boston in training teachers for the especial local needs of Boston schools.

5. That under state auspices the school would probably grow to very large proportions and that Boston's share of the total cost of maintenance would in the end probably be quite as large as the amount which it now pays for the entire cost of maintenance.

6. That Mayor Fitzgerald's petition, now before the Legislature, remedies the present injustice by asking a contribution from the state, meanwhile preserving the school as a Boston institution.

7. That on the whole it is better, if possible, to secure a contribution from than a transfer to the state.

The following are the facts and reasons upon which these conclusions are based:

1. HISTORICAL SURVEY.

"As is the teacher so is the school." This axiom borrowed from Prussia was the text used by Horace Mann and others in securing the establishment of normal schools in Massachusetts. (Martin's Evolution of the Massachusetts Public School System, pages 170, 202.)

Prior to the establishment in 1837 of the State Board of Education and the election of Horace Mann as its secretary there was little opportunity for preparation for teaching as a profession; although for many years the leaders of educational reform had urged the establishment of a seminary for the special training of teachers. (Id., page 169.)

In 1838 Edmund Dwight of Boston, a member of the Board of Education, offered to give ten thousand dollars if the state would give an equal sum for the instruction of teachers in normal schools, and in that year the Legislature appropriated ten thousand dollars to be expended by the Board of Education in the training of teachers. (Id., page 171.)

The first normal school in America was opened at Lexington July 3, 1839 (later transferred to West Newton and then to Framingham), and on September 4, 1839, one was opened at Barre (later transferred to Westfield). A third was opened at Bridgewater September 9, 1840. (Id., page 172.)

At the present time there are ten state normal schools, as follows:

Normal Schools.	First Opened.
Framingham.....	July 3, 1839, at Lexington.
Westfield.....	September 4, 1839, at Barre.
Bridgewater.....	September 9, 1840.
Salem.....	September 14, 1854.
Boston Normal Art.....	November 11, 1873.
Worcester.....	September 15, 1874.
Fitchburg.....	September 11, 1895.
North Adams.....	February 1, 1897.
Hyannis (Barnstable).....	September 9, 1897.
Lowell.....	October 4, 1897.

The Boston Normal School was established in 1852. (City Document 40 of 1852.) It was among the first fruits of the establishment in 1851 of the position of superintendent of schools. Nathan Bishop, who was the first superintendent of schools in Boston, saw the great need of better teachers and strongly urged a city normal school as a means of securing them. (City Document 73 of 1852, page 38.)

There was no thought then of the state ever taking over the school. On the contrary, it was specifically intended to be a city school. The committee in recommending its establishment uses this language (City Document 32 of 1852, page 14): "It never was the design, and probably never will be the policy of the state, to maintain schools of this character in sufficient numbers to qualify and furnish teachers for all the schools of the state. But it was confidently believed that, should a full and fair experiment be made under her auspices, and the result answer the expectations of the friends of popular education, the various counties and cities would thereby be induced to found similar schools for their especial benefit and under their own control."

This hope, however, has not been fulfilled, for there are practically no county of city normal schools outside of Boston, although there are several training schools. In New Bedford there is a normal and training school, so called, but it is very small.

The original purpose of the Boston Normal School was to prepare young women to become teachers, but by force of circumstances it soon became almost exclusively a means of giving girls a high school education. A high school for girls had been established in Boston in 1826, but was given up in 1828 for the singular reason that it was too successful, attracting too many scholars. Efforts were made later to re-establish such a school but they were resisted. After the Normal School was established in 1852 it became evident that girls fresh from the grammar schools were not fit candidates for normal training and that high school education was necessary as a preliminary to normal work. Friends of further educational opportunities for girls took advantage of this as a means of securing high school courses for all girls, whether they intended to teach or not; and in 1854 the School Committee, with a view of adapting the school to the double purpose of giving its pupils high school and normal instruction, caused the introduction of additional courses of study, and the institution became the Girls' High and Normal School. So great was the demand for high school education for girls that the normal features were soon quite overshadowed by the high school work. To remedy this a training department was organized in 1864. This did not accomplish the desired result, and the normal element was again practically crowded out by the high school work. This continued until 1872, when the School Committee yielded to the popular demand for a special high school for girls and thereafter the Normal School and the Girls' High School were conducted as separate institutions. (Annual school report of 1873, page 229 et seq.)

This separation gave rise to the question of the legality of using the city's money for a purely normal school, and the Corporation Counsel having ruled it illegal (id., page 258), the Legislature confirmed the city's right to continue it. (Acts of 1874, chapter 167.)

In 1882 the City Solicitor ruled that the city could not legally provide instruction in the Normal School for the benefit of teachers already in the service of the city, and the Legislature thereupon gave the necessary authority. (Acts of 1882, chapter 136.)

In 1888 the course in the Normal School was extended to one and one-half years; in 1892 to two years, which is the present term. A further extension is contemplated.

The school having been originally established for girls, the Corporation Counsel ruled that men could not be admitted, and in 1904 the Legislature, being appealed to, authorized the instruction of men therein. (Acts of 1904, chapter 212.) This privilege has never been freely availed of, there being at the present time eleven men in attendance out of a total of two hundred and thirty.

From the beginning the school has been handicapped in its work, first by the overshadowing of the high school element, and subsequently by lack of proper accommodations until 1907, when the Normal Group of buildings on Huntington avenue was completed and occupied.

2. EFFORTS TO TRANSFER THE SCHOOL TO THE STATE, OR TO OBTAIN STATE CONTRIBUTIONS.

Efforts from time to time have been made to discontinue the school and have it taken over by the state or to induce the state to contribute to its support, but they have been uniformly and strongly resisted.

In 1898 the School Committee (Minutes of 1898, page 310) voted in May (13 to 9) to discontinue the school, but the popular protest was so great that in November (id., page 574) the vote was rescinded (17 to 4). Among those who, having voted in the spring to discontinue the school, reversed the vote in the fall was A. Lawrence Lowell, now president of Harvard University.

In 1904 the School Committee petitioned the Legislature for an act requiring the state to pay to the city "such proportion of the cost of maintaining the Boston Normal School as the Commonwealth should justly assume," (House No. 450), but was given leave to withdraw.

In 1906 Mayor Fitzgerald in his first inaugural address said: "Boston supports a Normal School out of its city treasury and at the same time pays 36 per cent of the cost of other normal schools located in different sections of the state. It is an open question whether the time has not arrived for the city to ask the state to take over the city Normal School, thus relieving Boston of a special burden for which it is doubtful if it receives any adequate compensating advantages."

The School Committee referred this part of the Mayor's address to the Board of Supervisors (Minutes of 1906, page 4), who reported that inasmuch as the construction of a new Normal School has already been begun, further consideration of the matter seemed unnecessary. (Id., page 122.)

The School Board voted to authorize the chairman, on behalf of the Board, to petition the Legislature for the passage of an act to provide that the Commonwealth pay to the city the sum of $170 for each pupil in the Boston Normal School completing the prescribed course of study (id., page 22; House No. 589 of 1906), also to reimburse the City of Boston for the expense to be incurred by the city in erecting and equipping a new Normal School building to an amount not exceeding $300,000. (Id., page 24.) The Legislature gave leave to withdraw.

Mayor Fitzgerald has petitioned the present Legislature to make an allowance to Boston for its Normal School equivalent to the average cost of the same number of pupils in the State normal schools. (House No. 589 of 1911.)

3. COMPARISON OF COST OF THE BOSTON NORMAL SCHOOL WITH STATE NORMAL SCHOOLS.

It is not easy to compare the cost of the state normal schools with that of Boston, because the conditions are different and the fiscal years terminate at different times. The course in the Boston Normal School is two years, while some of the state schools have three and even four year courses. Several of the state schools have dormitories and large grounds which add to the cost.

At my request the Commissioner of Education, Dr. David Snedden, has made a statement of what he regards as fairly comparable costs, as follows:

Comparison of Expenditures of the Various Normal Schools.

I. State expenditure for nine state normal schools for 1910.....	$341,708.47
State expenditure, less model school, buildings and grounds and summer school.....	$235,735.01
Total attendance for December 1, 1910.....	1,835
Per capita cost on total state outlay.....	$186.21
Per capita cost on state outlay, less model school, buildings and grounds.....	$128.46
II. Bridgewater Normal School.
Total state expenditure.....	$53,991.00
State expenditure, less model school, buildings and grounds.....	$37,300.76
Total attendance December 1, 1910.....	330
Per capita cost of state on total expenditure.....	$163.61
Per capita cost on state expenditure, less model school, buildings and grounds.....	$113.03
III. Salem Normal School.
Total state expenditure.....	$44,425.00
Total expenditure, less model school, buildings and grounds.....	$33,563.00
Total attendance December 1, 1910.....	244
Per capita cost on total state outlay.....	$182.07
Per capita cost on state outlay, less model schools, buildings and grounds.....	$137.56
IV. Boston Normal School.
Total expenditure for 1909-10.....	$39,815.55
Total expenditure, less one training teacher ($1,836) and amounts for fuel, power and light.....	$36,146.50
Average membership, 1909-10.....	215
Per capita cost on total outlay.....	$185.19
Per capita cost on outlay, less one training teacher, fuel, power and light.....	$168.12

NOTE.—The state normal schools, other than the Normal Art School, train only elementary teachers, and their expenditures alone are employed here since the expenditures of the Normal Art School are affected by other conditions. The total expenditure under the first head excludes the contribution of Fitchburg since this is merely a bookkeeping device providing for the contribution of Fitchburg toward the education of children in practice schools. Under Items I, II, and III, the second total is arrived at by deducting costs of model school, maintenance of buildings and grounds and the summer school in the case of the Hyannis Normal. The amounts thus arrived at correspond very fairly with the expenditure on the Boston Normal School when fuel, power and light and the salary of one training teacher ($1,836) are deducted. For purposes of comparison, therefore, the second per capita in each case seems to be the fairer one.

Dr. Snedden's figures seem to indicate that Boston pays $168.12 for what the state pays $128.46 at nine schools, or $113.03 at Bridgewater and $137.56 at Salem. Dr. Snedden says that this excess cost does not necessarily mean extravagance in the Boston management, and that probably the cost would not be materially reduced under state management. I am myself convinced that the circumstances are so different that a fair comparison can hardly be made.

4. GROUNDS OF OPPOSING THE TRANSFER.

Six of the state normal schools have dormitory facilities and in these the state practically contributes to the students free rooms, charging only for board and incidentals. Thus the cost to the state for training a girl in the normal school having a dormitory is greater than in the other normal schools. In its latest annual report (Public Document of 1911, No. 2) the State Board of Education says: "There can hardly be any question that two years of dormitory life under proper conditions do much to widen the outlook and enlarge the social capacity of those who are to be teachers. Normal school students are drawn from the middle ranks of life, and if a young woman lives at home during the time she is preparing for her profession, and especially if she spends considerable time in traveling to and from school, she is hampered in her work and lacks certain advantages incident to dormitory life."

If this argument should prevail in Boston the Boston Normal School under state auspices might become very expensive. There are no dormitories connected with the Boston Normal School; should it be taken over by the state there might be a demand from nonresident pupils for them. This is of course not an immediate danger, but it should be considered.

There would undoubtedly be a much larger attendance of pupils from outside of Boston if it became a state institution. At present outsiders pay Boston for their tuition and the number is thus restricted. If the state should take the school there would be no charge and consequently no pecuniary restraint upon attendance.

If the state should take over the Boston

Normal School it is entirely possible that Boston would be required to furnish the site and perhaps the building. It would be a matter of compromise, and as Boston would take the initiative and the state would probably be at least lukewarm, Boston would have to do the yielding. In 1894 North Adams, Fitchburg and Lowell (by Acts of 1894, chapter 45) were each required to pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth $25,000 in cash; Hyannis was required to furnish the school site; and each was required to agree in writing "to hereafter furnish suitable and sufficient school buildings and model and practice schools in connection with the training departments of said normal schools."

The total annual cost to Boston, as shown above, of maintaining the Normal School is about \$40,000, without allowing for repairs, interest or depreciation, and as the city pays a little more than one-third of the state tax (last year the rate being $34\frac{1}{100}$ per cent), the approximate saving by transfer to the state would not exceed \$27,000. This might easily be offset by its contribution through the state tax to the increased cost of an enlarged school.

A subcommittee of the School Board in 1898 made a long report upon the question of transfer, and gave the following reasons for opposing it (School Document 4 of 1898, page 15):

"1. Because Boston's share in the financial support of a state normal school, for the metropolitan district would be as great as the whole expense of maintaining her own Normal School.

"2. Because Boston would lose the direct control she now exercises over the scholastic and the professional training of nearly one-half of her teachers.

"3. Because there is no reason to believe that a state normal school would insist on any higher qualifications in scholarship for admission or for graduation than are now insisted on by the city Normal School, so long as the state school helped itself to the business of preparing teachers for the grammar and primary schools of its district.

"4. Because, on the other hand, if the state normal school should assume the function of preparing teachers for high schools, throwing its chief energy into that work and becoming an institution of something like collegiate rank, as has been forcibly suggested by the advocates of a change, then it would become necessary for Boston to maintain a city training school, as many cities and towns find it necessary now; and this city training school would be simply the city Normal School under a new name.

"5. Because there is no reason to believe that by the establishment of a state normal school Boston could escape the necessity of employing in her own schools a large number of beginners, not that these beginners, even if they came in large numbers from other cities and towns, would differ materially in character, culture and professional preparation from the beginners who now come from the city Normal School.

"6. Because by keeping the training of teachers largely in her own hands the city can move easily and meet readily the demands for improvements and reforms in education. As drawing, music, kindergarten and physical culture have been greatly promoted in the schools through the direct agency of the city Normal School, so will nature work, manual training and other improvements be promoted, and have already, so far as limited facilities permitted, been promoted in the same way.

"7. Because the Boston Normal School was established for the very purpose of 'giving professional instruction to young women who intend to become teachers in the public schools of Boston,' and it is a wise policy to encourage to a reasonable extent young women born and educated in Boston to enter the public school service, while it would be unwise to discourage them."

The then superintendent, Edwin P. Seaver, was called upon to give his opinion and stated (Minutes of 1898, page 309):

He "had been steadily of the opinion that it would be an unfortunate mistake to give up the Normal School. If the state should establish a normal school in or near this city there would still be a need of special training for the better fitting of state normal school graduates to teach in the Boston schools. Other cities, notwithstanding the existence of state normal schools, have found city training schools a necessity. And a city training school is only our Normal School under another name. The number of teachers now coming from outside the city is considerable, and, taking them grade by grade, the number of failures among them is about the same as among the graduates of our Normal School. The failures come mainly not from lack of scholarship but from defects of temperament and personality. These defects, when serious, are not removed by any sort of professional training."

Mr. George H. Martin, a former supervisor, now treasurer of the Board of Education, opposes the transfer on substantially the same grounds. He gives one especially strong reason, that "while in a general way the system of public schools in the state is uniform, yet there are local differences in the points of emphasis which differentiate the schools of one community from another. These local differences a state normal school must ignore. The city school can recognize them and can fit itself to the local conditions and local demands. The attempt to meet the needs of Boston in a state school would require the most delicate adjustment of the relations between the city and the state and would open the way to endless friction."

This recognition of local needs may easily be carried to excess, resulting in a narrow provincialism and consequent injury to the schools, but under proper administration there need be no such danger.

The claim sometimes has been made by or on behalf of the Normal School graduates that Boston having furnished them with a gratuitous education is bound by that fact to furnish them with opportunities to teach. The validity of this claim is not recognized at present to the extent that it has been. It is now considered both in practice and theory that Boston schools are for Boston children. Normal School graduates are given preference in employment whenever and only when the interests of the schools will permit. The merit list is something more than a name. The time has gone by for anyone seriously to urge that the fundamental right of the community to secure, and of the child to be taught by, a superior teacher should be sacrificed to the philanthropic desire to give an inferior teacher, however worthy, the opportunity to earn a living.

5. STATE CONTRIBUTION.

Among those with whom I have consulted I have found no active support of the transfer to the state. It seems to be generally accepted that since the erection of the Normal Group the matter is settled in favor of the school's retention by Boston. If, then, Boston is to have any relief it would seem to be through state contribution and this Mayor Fitzgerald's bill now before the Legislature is intended to accomplish. All other parts of the state are cared for by state schools. Springfield, through Westfield, Worcester, Lowell, Fitchburg, North Adams, Framingham, Salem, Bridgewater and the Cape get the benefit of these really local institutions at state cost. It would seem as if the state might very well be asked to pay a portion of Boston's expense. The bill in its present shape (House No. 589) authorizes payment by the State Treasurer to the City Treasurer, but does not make it clear that any part of the money when received shall be used for school purposes. It should be amended so that at least two-thirds shall go to the school fund. The remaining one-third might very well be used to reimburse the city for its share of the state tax, otherwise the result of the transaction would be to increase the school fund at the expense of other city needs.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE A. O. ERNST.

* BOSTON, March 1, 1911.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

SIR,—On November 29, 1910, your Honor sent to this commission a letter, a copy of which is attached hereto, in which you refer to the small sum received by the city from the Commonwealth for industrial schools and in which you submit the following question:

"May I ask your commission to consider whether by proper representations the State Board of Education might not be induced to extend the benefits of this subsidy to the Mechanic Arts High School, the cost of maintenance of which for the year 1909 was about $100,000?"

Your Honor then proceeds to discuss the question thus laid before the commission as follows:

"The term 'independent industrial school' in chapter 540 of the Acts of the year 1909 would seem to be applicable under a broad interpretation of the words to this particular school, and if such a construction should be accepted by the State Board of Education the city would receive next year more than $50,000."

The question in your Honor's letter was referred by the commission to the Director of the Bureau of Municipal Research, Mr. George A. O. Ernst, a copy of whose report is transmitted herewith.

Since the date of your letter your Honor has introduced in the Legislature a bill (House Bill 828) seeking to have the Mechanic Arts High School of the City of Boston "considered an independent school for industrial training," and thus to be entitled to state support, under chapter 505 of the Acts of 1906 and amendments thereto.

The words "industrial training" and "industrial education" have a very technical meaning as now defined by the State Board of Education, and the Mechanic Arts High School, as at present conducted, does not fit this definition. If a subsidy is to be obtained for the school from the state its functions will have to be changed to conform to the standards of the state.

The State Board of Education and the Boston School Committee now have authority of law to make such changes, and so obtain a state subsidy if they deem it advisable. Therefore it seems that House Bill No. 828 is unnecessary, unless its purpose is to make an exception to the law relating to industrial school subsidies, and thus obtain a subsidy for the Mechanic Arts High School as if it were an industrial school. The commission submits that the making of such an exception would be to establish an expensive precedent, as other cities and towns might ask for similar exceptional subsidies, one-third of the expense of which would have to be borne by the City of Boston. It is also to be suggested that if the Mechanic Arts High School is transformed into an industrial training school it is possible that there will be a substantial demand for the establishment of another Mechanic Arts High School to take the place of the one so abolished.

The commission answers your Honor's specific questions as follows:

1. No legislation is required to change the character of the Mechanic Arts High School and so to obtain a subsidy.

2. The result of the enactment of House Bill No. 828 would establish an expensive precedent and lead ultimately to increased instead of decreased expense to the city.

3. The commission is convinced that no such radical step should be taken except after careful study by our local school authorities of the problems involved, and with the full approval of the State Board of Education.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

By JOHN F. MOORS,

Acting Chairman.

BOSTON, March 1, 1911.

The Finance Commission:

GENTLEMEN,—In accordance with your request I have investigated the situation in regard to the Mechanic Arts High School with special reference to the bill now pending before the Legislature (House No. 828) accompanying the petition of Mayor Fitzgerald, by which the Legislature is asked to declare the Mechanic Arts High School to be an independent school for industrial training and to appropriate a sum of money towards its support. The bill reads as follows:

Section 1. The mechanic arts high school, in the city of Boston, shall be considered an independent school for industrial training, under the provisions of chapter five hundred and five of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and six, and acts in amendment thereof, and as such shall be entitled to be reimbursed by the commonwealth under the provisions of said chapter, and of acts in amendment thereof.

Sect. 2. There shall be appropriated to be paid out of the treasury of the commonwealth from the ordinary revenue for meeting the commonwealth's proportion of the cost of the maintenance of said mechanic arts high school, the sum of thousand dollars.

Sect. 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

This bill seems to be unnecessary. If, in the opinion of the Boston School Board and the State Board of Education, it is wise to change the Mechanic Arts High School into "an independent school for industrial training," that object can be accomplished without further legislation under laws now existing.

By chapter 505 of the Acts of 1906 as amended (Acts of 1909, chapters 457 and 540), to which the Mayor refers, any city, town or district may establish an "independent industrial school" provided that it is "approved as to location, courses and methods of instruction" by the State Board of Education, and "upon certification by the Board of Education to the Auditor of the Commonwealth that a city, town or district, either by moneys raised by local taxation or by moneys donated or contributed, has maintained an independent industrial school, the Commonwealth, in order to aid in the maintenance of such schools, shall pay annually from the treasury to such cities, towns or districts a sum equal to one-half the sum raised by local taxation for this purpose: Provided, that no payment to any city or town shall be made except by special appropriation by the Legislature."

If, on the other hand, the bill is interpreted as declaring that the school as at present conducted is an "independent industrial school" it ignores the definition of those words as laid down by the State Board of Education and is a complete abandonment of the theory upon which the recent legislation as to industrial education is founded. Its enactment in its present form would establish a dangerous precedent which other communities might follow, and in the long run might prove to be very costly to Boston. It undertakes arbitrarily to pick out one school from one city in the Commonwealth, usurps the functions which under existing law are intrusted to the State Board of Education of approving "the location, courses and methods of instruction" and compels a well high revolutionary change in one of the largest, most expensive and most important of the city schools.

The State Board of Education in a bill now pending before the Legislature defines industrial education as meaning "that form of vocational education which fits for the trades, crafts and manufacturing pursuits." The vocational side is paramount. The Mechanic Arts High School as at present conducted does not meet this definition, as will appear from the following facts as to its origin and from the views expressed by various authorities.

In 1872 the Legislature passed an act (chapter 86) authorizing cities and towns to establish "industrial schools," giving school committees power to prescribe the arts, trades and occupations to be taught therein.

In 1883 (School Document No. 4 of 1883, page 34) the then superintendent of schools in Boston, Edwin P. Seaver, made an elaborate and interesting report on "Industrial Education," recommending that the city "under the permissive statute now in force" should establish (page 45) "at some central point in the city one manual training school" which would not (page 46) "teach any single trade as would be done in an apprentice school; but its pupils would be so well grounded in the general principles of many trades that the specialties of each trade would be very quickly learned." He called especial attention (page 39) to the experiments which had been made in "the School of Mechanic Arts connected with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston and the Manual Training School of Washington University in St. Louis." He quoted from the catalogue of the latter school, "special trades are not taught; it is not assumed that every boy who enters the school is to be a mechanic."

In 1888 the City Council passed the following order:

"Ordered, That the School Board be requested to consider and report on the expediency of establishing a system of manual training in connection with the public schools of the city."

In compliance with this order a special committee on manual training schools was appointed by the School Board, and in its report (School Document No. 15 of 1889, page 4) this committee stated that it had "always thought that a school in manual training of the same rank as the English High School should be established," adding (page 8), "it is now nearly 255 years since our city made provisions for the encouragement of the professions of divinity, law and medicine. In the opinion of your committee it is now full time for the encouragement of the latent industrial ability of our people."

To this report was appended an account by Superintendent Seaver of a visit made by him to St. Louis, Chicago and other cities for the purpose of studying the subject and a detailed plan for what he called a "mechanic arts high school, otherwise known as a manual training school."

In 1891 the committee on manual training, of which Samuel B. Capen was chairman, stated with emphasis (School Document No. 1 of 1891, page 7), "let us not forget at the very outset that we ask not for a trade school but for a manual training school. Both use tools, but the object is entirely different."

The school was first opened in 1893. The Massachusetts Institute of Technology had a short time before discontinued the High School of Mechanic Arts which it had been maintaining, and this was one of the strong arguments urged for the establishment of the new school. After the school had been in operation eight years the committee on manual training said (School Document No. 4 of 1901, page 34):

"It is important that the distinctive character and purpose of the school should be clearly apprehended. It is neither a trade school nor an institution peculiarly adapted to pupils of any particular class or social condition. Its special function is to furnish systematic instruction in drawing and the elements of the mechanic arts, in addition to a thorough high school course in which mathematical and scientific branches predominate. The training which it gives is not less valuable to a boy who is to become a lawyer or a physician than to one who is to superintend a manufacturing establishment or work at the bench. The many sided activities of the school tend to reveal to boys their dominant powers and aptitudes and lead them to a happy choice of occupation. It educates them not primarily to become mechanics but to become men of intelligence and skill. It encourages industry, arouses ambition and opens wide the avenues to success, usefulness and happiness. In an age characterized by a marvelous development of industries based upon scientific and mechanical principles, when manual dexterity and a knowledge of mechanical processes are essential to success in numberless profitable employments, it is unnecessary to point out the great value of an institution which combines a good high school education with systematic training in the mechanic arts."

The first Finance Commission, having under consideration the advisability of enlarging the building, referred the matter to a special committee, consisting of Dr. Charles W. Eliot, Rev. Thomas I. Gasson, S. J., and Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, whose report was printed in Volume I., pages 72 to 80, of the reports of the commission. They said (page 74): "It is not a trade school, nor does it send out young men who are likely to become journeymen in the various trades. Its purpose is to give, as the head master has well said, a general education with such training in the mechanical arts as will suggest to its pupils industrial pursuits. This purpose is an entirely different one from that of an industrial school or a trade school."

It is apparent from the foregoing that the words "industrial education" as used in the early days were not limited to purely vocational work but were held to embrace manual training in the cultural sense, and that the Mechanic Arts High School was established and has grown up along lines which were well understood, and which differ materially from the present movement in vocational and industrial education.

The State Board of Education in its annual report for 1911 (page 51) says: "There is every reason to believe that an attempt to carry on a program of vocational training in conjunction with a program of liberal studies will result in the demoralization of the vocational side of the work. In the minds of many people various forms of manual training are identified with industrial, household arts and agricultural education. But experience has shown that manual training, while it is an important and necessary feature of a program of liberal education, can play but a small part in the program of vocational training."

The Mechanic Arts High School has clearly met a popular demand and appreciation; it closed its first year with 158 pupils, but it soon outgrew its capacity of 400 pupils. A new building had to be erected to accommodate the constantly increasing application for admission. To-day it has an average attendance of approximately 1,200 pupils.

Authorities differ as to how far the school is fulfilling all its possibilities, and as to whether some changes should not be made in the curriculum, broadening its sphere of usefulness; but it is at least doubtful whether so complete a change should be made as would be necessary to bring the school within the definition given by the State Board of Education.

So far as these are educational questions they should be passed upon by the educational authorities, viz., the Boston School Board and the State Board of Education; but they have a distinct financial side which should not be overlooked.

Boston pays approximately $100,000 annually for the maintenance of the Mechanic Arts High School. If the School Board were to receive from the state one-half of this amount, viz., $50,000, the city must repay to the state from the general tax rate approximately one-third in the form of an increased state tax. The net result would be a contribution to the school fund of about $35,000 by the state and $15,000 by the city from its other than school revenue. The immediate saving to the city would be about $35,000. If the precedent established were followed by other cities not only would this saving be entirely lost but the expense to the city would be increased by a further increase in the state tax.

To fit the school to the requirements of the State Board of Education, many expensive changes would have to be made in the building and its appointments as well as in the courses of instruction. There would have to be either a decrease of pupils or a substantial increase in the teaching force, for the quota of scholars to teachers established by the State Board of Education in industrial schools of this kind is fifteen, whereas the present quota is under the rules of the School Board thirty-five, or, in fact, about thirty-two. The same number of pupils, therefore, would require more than double the number of teachers, with a consequent doubling of the salary list. The present salary list is about $75,000 per annum; if doubled this would mean an additional cost to Boston of one-half the increase ($37,500), together with approximately one-third of the remaining one-half, or about $50,000 in all, which of itself is more than the apparent saving.

The year after the school was opened the Legislature passed a law which is still in force (Acts of 1894, chapter 471) requiring every city, of 20,000 or more inhabitants to "maintain as part of its high school system the teaching of manual training." The Mechanic Arts High School meets this requirement. Should it be changed to an exclusively independent industrial school, within the meaning given to "industrial education" by the State Board of Education, the statute requirements as to manual training in high schools might have to be met in some other way, at an additional cost to the city. It has of course been established already in some high schools, although not sufficient to meet the popular demand.

In view of all the facts it would seem unwise for the Legislature to enact the bill which the Mayor has presented, at least in its present shape. The whole matter of the future of the Mechanic Arts High School should be left to the Boston School Board and the State Board of Education under the law as it now exists. There should be more public discussion of the subject before so radical a change should be adopted.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE A. O. ERNST.

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
November 29, 1910.

HON. JOHN A. SULLIVAN,
*Chairman Finance Commission,
Tremont Building, Boston.*

DEAR SIR,—Under chapter 530 of the Acts of the Massachusetts Legislature for 1910 a sum of money amounting to $24,229.02 was distributed among certain cities and towns of the Commonwealth which had established industrial schools. Of this sum Boston received only $3,197.60, being, as we understand, one-fifth the cost of operation of the Evening Industrial School. We are informed that this payment was made under chapter 505 of the Acts of 1906 but that chapter 540 of the Acts of 1909 will go into operation from about July 1 of the present year. This act provides that one-half the cost of maintenance of industrial schools is to be defrayed by the Commonwealth and it is expected that not only the Evening Industrial School but the Trade School for Girls will come under its provisions.

The percentage of this subsidy, if such a term is applicable, which Boston received in 1910, amounting to barely one-eighth of the whole, is out of all proportion not only to its contribution to the state tax, which amounts to nearly three-eighths, but also to its activities in the field of industrial education, which we have understood to be rather extensive.

May I ask your commission to consider whether by proper representations the State Board of Education might not be induced to extend the benefits of this subsidy to the Mechanic Arts High School, the cost of maintenance of which for the year 1909 was about one hundred thousand dollars.

The term "independent industrial school" in chapter 540 of the Acts of the year 1909 would seem to be applicable under a broad interpretation of the words to this particular school, and if such a construction should be accepted by the State Board of Education the city would receive next year more than fifty thousand dollars.

It would seem that this question might properly be considered as a part of the study which your commission is making of the school system of Boston in its economic and financial aspects.

Awaiting your views, I remain,

Yours very truly,
JOHN F. FITZGERALD, Mayor.

Monday, February 27, 1911.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at three o'clock p. m., Coun. BALLANTYNE, senior member, in the chair. Absent—Coun. Curley.

The Council voted, on motion of Coun. ATTRIDGE, to dispense with the reading of the records of the last meeting.

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES, NORTH AND WEST ENDS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 25, 1911.
To the City Council:

I beg to transmit a copy of resolutions passed at a mass meeting held in Faneuil Hall, on Sunday, February 19, 1911, relating to the need of improved transportation facilities for the West End and the North End and East Boston, together with an abstract of the plans of the West End, North End and East Boston Development Committee.

Respectfully,
WALTER BALLANTYNE, Acting Mayor.

Copy of Resolutions Passed at Mass Meeting in Faneuil Hall, Sunday, February 19, 1911.

Whereas, the people at this meeting, representing the West End, North End and East Boston, feel that those districts have not received proper transportation facilities; and, whereas, this fact has injured property, business and social conditions in the districts named and has affected the lives and homes of the residents thereof; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the street car connections between East Boston and Boston proper should be improved, and the Legislature of 1911 should pass a bill providing that the people of East Boston should be given better, quicker and more adequate service; and be it further

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that the Legislature of 1911 should pass a bill providing for a subway in the West End of Boston connecting with the subway system at Scollay square and having a station at Bowdoin square, and that Adams square be given better service; and be it further

Resolved, That the Legislature of 1911 should pass a bill providing for the appointment of a commission of three expert paid men to investigate, in the interests of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the City of Boston and the surrounding towns, the street railway transportation systems in and around Boston and the affairs of the companies operating such system; and be it further

Resolved, That a committee of nine be appointed by the chair to represent the people at this meeting in asking for and obtaining the legislation specified and in otherwise improving conditions in the West End, North End and East Boston; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Governor of the Commonwealth, the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House of Representatives of Massachusetts, the Mayor of the City of Boston, the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce.

Abstract of Immediate Plans of the West End,
North End and East Boston Development
Committee, February 21, 1911.

Whereas, The committee wishes to permanently improve and properly develop the West and North Ends of Boston and East Boston; and,

Whereas, It is desirable to take advantage of the present session of the Legislature to make a start towards such improvement and development;

Now, therefore, the committee recommends the passage of the following bills:

(1) A bill providing for a tunnel for teams and pedestrians between East Boston and Boston.

(2) A bill providing for a continuation of the East Boston Tunnel from Scollay square by a subway under Court street to Bowdoin square, with a station there; thence under Cambridge street to Lynde street, there emerging from the ground and the cars being continued as surface cars, some over the Cambridge Bridge to Harvard square and some through Charles street to Boylston street, Park square and beyond.

In case the Legislature provides for a direct connection between the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad and the East Boston Tunnel, the committee recommends that the trains, instead of looping at Scollay square, should be continued through a subway as proposed to Lynde street or to North Russell street, and from there, by an elevated structure, connecting with the Cambridge street end of the Cambridge Tunnel; trains thence running to Harvard square.

(3) A bill providing for the widening of Tremont row, Court street and Cambridge street to a uniform width of not less than 96 feet, so as to make a broad boulevard from Scollay square to the Cambridge Bridge.

(4) A bill providing for better subway service at Adams square.

(5) A bill providing for the appointment of a commission of expert paid men to study and investigate the street railway transportation system in and around Boston, and the affairs of the Boston Elevated Railway.

CITY BURYING GROUNDS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 27, 1911.
To the City Council:

I return herewith three orders passed by your honorable body at its meetings of January 16, 1911, and February 20, 1911, reading as follows:

January 16, 1911.
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to direct the proper authorities to make a careful investigation into the matter of the present boundary lines of the South Burying Ground, on Washington street and of the Granary Burying Ground on Tremont street, with a view to determining by accurate and official surveys whether any part of those burying grounds have been taken and are being used for private purposes.

January 16, 1911.
Ordered, That if it shall be disclosed by examination and survey that any parts of the South and Granary Burial Grounds have been taken for private purposes, the Mayor be requested to take such steps as may be necessary to restore every foot of ground belonging to the city to the use and custody of the city and that the Board of Trustees of the Cemetery Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to explain why any part of the ancient cemeteries in their charge have been desecrated and sequestered for private use and profit.

February 20, 1911.
Ordered, That the Acting Mayor be requested to inform this Council what action has been taken, if any, by the Corporation Counsel or Cemetery Trustees concerning the removal of private projections over the Granary Burying Ground and if no action has been taken to instruct the proper authority to attend to the matter without delay.

Immediately upon the receipt of the first two orders an investigation was begun by the Mayor, who communicated with the Cemetery Trustees, the Board of Street Commissioners and the Corporation Counsel. The resulting correspondence, together with copies of earlier communications on the subject, is transmitted herewith for your information. As the correspondence itself is perfectly clear, and if any action should be taken upon the facts as disclosed, the Mayor should be the one to institute proceedings. I lay the matter before you without personal comment, believing that no expression of opinion on my part is called for at this time.

The correspondence consists of the following letters, and copies of letters, arranged in chronological order:

From the secretary of the Cemetery Department to the Corporation Counsel, dated January 2, 1909.

From the Corporation Counsel to the Board of Trustees of the Cemetery Department, dated March 5, 1909.

From the chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Cemetery Department to the Corporation Counsel, dated May 7, 1909.

From the secretary of the Cemetery Department to the Corporation Counsel, dated June 9, 1909.

From the Corporation Counsel to the Board of Cemetery Trustees, dated June 11, 1909.

From the chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Cemetery Department to the Mayor, dated January 6, 1911.

From the Mayor's Secretary to the Corporation Counsel, dated January 27, 1911.

From the Corporation Counsel to the Mayor's Secretary, dated January 28, 1911.

From the secretary of the Street Laying-Out Department to the Mayor, dated February 27, 1911.

Respectfully,
WALTER BALLANTYNE, Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Cemetery Department, January 2, 1909.
Thomas M. Babson, Esq.,
Corporation Counsel:

Dear Sir,—The Wigglesworth house on Park street is being torn down. The rear wall of all of this house is on the Granary Burying Ground. At direction of Chairman Mr. Phipps of this department, I requested the Engineering Department to take the matter of lines up before any work of rebuilding is commenced. They advise that it would be more advisable to have your department called into the case at once, as there are some complications, and it may be all a question of law. Will you please give this your attention?

Yours truly,
JOHN FRANK KEATING, Secretary.

City of Boston,
Law Department, March 5, 1909.
Board of Trustees, Cemetery Department,
City Hall, Boston:

Gentlemen,—My engagements before the Legislature is my excuse for not answering the letter sent me by your secretary before this time. Replying to your inquiries, I would say first, in regard to the Wigglesworth estate, this lot bounds at the rear on the cemetery, the line therefore is an uncertain one. As far as I can ascertain there has been a brick wall marking the division line between this estate and the cemetery for a great many years, and the Wigglesworth estate undoubtedly owns to the line of that wall.

(Remainder of letter refers to other matters.)

Yours truly,

THOMAS M. BABSON,
Corporation Counsel.

City of Boston,
Cemetery Department, May 7, 1909.
Thomas M. Babson, Esq.,
Corporation Counsel:

Dear Sir,—Referring to your favor of March 5 in re Wigglesworth estate encroachment on Granary Burying Ground. Chairman Mr. Phipps and Mr. Grew, representing this estate, viewed the premises on the 6th inst., and it was concluded that the matter should go to you on question of the estate holding the cemetery land on account of occupancy. The measurements and photos of the Engineering Department seem to show that this estate built on the rear walls of the tombs adjacent. They recently tore down their ell which rested on this wall to the ground, and without permission of this department and against our remonstrance, placed a concrete base on the wall. They claim the land covered by this concrete base.

Similar occupancy of the rear wall of the tombs has been taken by the abutters to the corner of Park and Beacon streets. The house at the corner of Park and Beacon streets and the house adjoining on Beacon street have gone even at greater length, without permission of this department, by placing fire escapes at the rear of the buildings, which run close to the burying ground level and extend out several feet even beyond the rear tomb walls. This is not old construction. Whether they will eventually endeavor to make claim to the land we do not know, but you can undoubtedly determine what rights, if any, the fire escapes may give to the land beneath in course of time.

The record of the selectmen of Boston, April 13, 1721, bears upon this matter particularly, as it gives the origin of the brick wall which extended above ground and rested on the tomb walls from the corner of Park and Beacon streets to Tremont street.

The Engineering Department has made actual measurements and taken photos during and before the work at the Wigglesworth estate, and this department is ready to determine, if necessary, the actual location of the rear wall of the tombs. In nearly every case the abutters tore the wall down which extended above ground when they constructed the additions. If the city can claim that the abutters own to the wall of the tombs, or to the cemetery line, as their deeds read (and these lines seem to be identical), the trustees beg to be advised what action can be taken. Does the tearing down of the ell at the Wigglesworth estate make void any claim which they might have held on account of occupancy.

Yours truly,

CHARLES E. PHIPPS,
Chairman of the Board of Trustees
of the Cemetery Department.

City of Boston,
Cemetery Department, June 9, 1909.
Thomas M. Babson, Esq.,
Corporation Counsel:

Dear Sir,—The Trustees of this department expect to meet on Monday next, and ask if you can reply by that time to their letter of May 7 respecting encroachments on Granary Burying Ground on Park street side.

Based upon careful estimates, the value of the land encroached upon is about $8,000, and members of the Board have been informed, unofficially, by legal opinion that the courts will not sanction such encroachments.

Yours truly,

JOHN FRANK KEATING, Secretary.

City of Boston,
Law Department, June 11, 1909.
To the Cemetery Trustees,
Room 76, City Hall, Boston, Mass.:

Dear Sirs,—The letter of your secretary of the 9th inst. was received. In reply I would say that not understanding your letter of May 7, I referred it to the Conveyancing Department of my office, and not having heard from them I have not replied.

As far as the inquiry is made concerning certain fire escapes I would say that if the Cemetery Trustees object to these fire escapes I am of the opinion that if a bill in equity were brought against the owners of these estates their removal could be compelled. As the fire escapes have been put up under direction of and with the approval of the Building Department I do not think that the owners of the real estate can acquire any rights by maintaining their fire escapes over a portion of the cemetery. As a measure of precaution your Board might get from the owners of these buildings an acknowledgment that these fire escapes are maintained with the permission of the Cemetery Trustees, or if requested by your Board I will have a bill in equity brought to compel their removal.

Now as to the alleged encroachment. As I wrote in my letter of March 5, there are no boundaries fixed for either the cemetery or for this Wigglesworth estate by deed or record. I am informed that the Wigglesworth estate has maintained a wall on the present line of their fence for more than fifty years. If that is true, then they have a right to maintain their present fence on the line of the old one. If your Board has any evidence that the line of the present fence is beyond the line of the old fence and will communicate that evidence to me with directions to bring suit, I will bring one. I do not think it makes any difference as to whether there was or was not a piece of a tomb projecting under that fence line. Instead of assuming as you do in your letter that there is an encroachment I think it would be better to give me the facts on which you base that claim.

Yours truly,

THOMAS M. BABSON,
Corporation Counsel.

P. S. As the City of Boston in 1721 owned the land between the cemetery and what is now Park street, which was occupied by the almshouse and other town buildings, I cannot see what the records of the selectmen of 1721 have to do with this matter, but you might forward me a copy.

City of Boston,
Cemetery Department, January 26, 1911.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—Herewith is returned City Council order of January 16, 1911:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to direct the proper authorities to make a careful investigation into the matter of the present boundary lines of the South Burial Ground on Washington street and of the Granary Burial Ground on Tremont street, with a view to determining by accurate and official surveys whether any part of those burial grounds have been taken and are used for private purposes.

Respecting Granary Burying Ground.

The Selectmen's Records of April 13, 1721, show that this ground was enlarged on the south side and a line of tombs was authorized to be built on this south line "on condition they (the tomb owners) would carry up and maintain a brick wall on said line at the end of their tombs." These are the tombs which now exist and are in the rear of estates on Park street from Tremont to Beacon street. There is also evidence to-day that said wall or a portion of it still remains. While it has been stated that the city prohibited any building erected on Park street to extend to a point less than fifteen feet from the burying ground wall, we have thus far been unable to find any record of such prohibition. But it is a fact that for many years there was a space between the rear of buildings fronting on Park street and the burying ground wall, and a view of the premises will show that some of these extensions towards the cemetery are of fairly recent construction, but before this department was organized in 1897, with exception given below. When these extensions were made the wall of the cemetery was used as the lower rear wall of the extension or the cemetery wall was demolished and a new wall built for the extension on the site of the old wall.

On December 31, 1908, and a few days later the Engineering and Law Departments were asked to determine the boundary line between the cemetery and the estate No. 1 Park street, as the building at that place was being demolished. Notwithstanding the protest of this department the new building was constructed and the rear line extends even a little beyond the boundary of the old line. On June 11, 1909, the Law Department made a reply as per copy attached. Since that time this Board has not taken action. The facts are that these estates have utilized the rear wall of the tombs or the site of said wall for their purposes, and this Board has presented all the facts in their possession to the Law Department.

Respecting South End South Burying Ground.

On November 15, 1910, this Board appointed a committee to investigate the boundaries of the South End South Ground upon its own initiative, as a matter of department information. This investigation is now proceeding, and it can be said that we are not as yet aware of any encroachment since the organization of the department in 1897. Subject to any further findings, it can be said now that this burying ground remained intact from its establishment in 1810 until 1865, when the city permitted George H. Davis to purchase a portion of the ground on the northerly side,—said portion being twenty-six feet wide and extending the entire depth of the ground from Washington to James street,—a space ten feet wide being reserved for a passageway out of the twenty-six feet. Later the city sold more of the ground on the northerly side, and a reference to city documents of 1883 and 1884 will give very complete accounts of the sales and attempted sales. Until our investigation is completed we will not be in a position to give a detailed story of the numerous transactions.

While we are anxious to obtain for our own information all the facts obtainable concerning transactions in and adjoining the cemeteries under our control, it is only fair to state that we are not in a position to determine the legality of the transactions or even to say that our researches are absolutely complete. But such information as we can gather from various sources may be referred to and aid the departments who may be in a position to pass upon any questions involved.

Yours respectfully,

CHARLES E. PHIPPS,
Chairman of the Board of Trustees
of the Cemetery Department.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 27, 1911.
Thomas M. Babson, Esq.,
Corporation Counsel,

Tremont Building, Boston:

Dear Sir,—His Honor Mayor Fitzgerald has directed me to refer to you a communication from the chairman of the Trustees of the Cemetery Department, relating to an order of the City Council which requests an investigation into the boundary lines of the South and Granary Burial Grounds. Mr. Phipps refers in his statement to an opinion of the Law Department which seems to imply that the facts as presented to the Corporation Counsel did not, in his judgment, warrant any legal challenge of the position of the owners of adjoining estates. His Honor would be pleased to receive any information that you can give him that would tend to throw light upon a situation which is now somewhat obscure.

Yours very truly,

WILLIAM A. LEAHY, Secretary.
(Inclosure.)

City of Boston,
Law Department, January 28, 1911.
William A. Leahy, Esq., Secretary,
Mayor's Office, City Hall, Boston:

Dear Sir,—I can see nothing in my letter to the Cemetery Trustees of June 11, 1909, which seems to imply that the facts as presented to me would not in my judgment warrant any legal challenge of the position of the owners of the adjoining estates.

In my letter I say that if they object to these fire escapes I will if requested by the Cemetery Trustees bring a bill in equity to compel their removal.

In reference to the alleged encroachment I say that there was no boundary fixed by deed or record for either the cemetery or for the Wigglesworth estate; that I am informed that the Wigglesworth estate has maintained a wall on the present line of their fence for more than fifty years. I then go on to say: "If your Board has any evidence that the line of the present fence is beyond the line of the old fence and will communicate that evidence to me with directions to bring suit, I will bring one."

I never received a request from the Cemetery Trustees to bring a suit and have never been informed by them of their having any evidence in their possession that the present fence or wall is beyond the line of the old fence or wall. If the Cemetery Trustees have any person or persons who will testify as to any encroachment I will bring proceedings.

From the fact that the trustees never replied to my letter I supposed they had no such evidence.

Yours truly,

THOMAS M. BABSON,
Corporation Counsel.

P. S. Mr. Owen of the conveyancer's department has the abstract of these titles. The town of Boston once owned these Park street lots. It sold them along in 1801 and the deeds give the rear line as the cemetery. As there are no depths given, the question is, where was the cemetery line in 1801,—where was it when this Wigglesworth estate built out the new wall?

City of Boston,
Street Laying-Out Department,
City Hall, February 27, 1911.
Hon. John F. Fitzgerald,
Mayor:

Dear Sir,—In accordance with your suggestion the Board of Street Commissioners has had a careful examination made of the boundary lines of the South Burial Ground on Washington street and the Granary Burial Ground on Tremont street, with a view of determining whether or not any part of these burial grounds have been taken and are being used for private purposes. The examination was made under the direction of Mr. F. O. Whitney, chief engineer of the department, who reports as follows:

"In regard to the South Burial Ground on Washington street, I find that no part of the same is being used for private purposes. I do find, however, that the bodies have not all been removed from the portion transferred to the New England Conservatory of Music.

"In regard to the Granary Burial Ground on Tremont street, I find that in the rear of No. 1 Park street, the Wigglesworth Real Estate Trust has erected a fence on top of the old burial ground wall, which encroaches about four inches at the easterly end beyond the main wall of a building recently removed from the Wigglesworth estate.

"A fire escape has been placed upon the Park Street Church by agreement with the City of Boston.

"The following projections have been constructed and maintained above ground, overhanging the burial ground, and, as far as I have been able to ascertain, without authority from the City of Boston, except as far as the Building Commissioner may have ordered fire escapes or approved the plans and construction of such projections as are for safety or architectural effect:

"On the rear of No. 6 Park street, on the building owned by Alfred Bowditch et al., trustees, a fire escape attached to the main building.

"On the property owned by the Union Club a balcony projects, overhanging the burial ground about five feet above the surface.

"On the estate of the heirs of Susan W. Farwell a balcony projects from the second floor.

"From the building owned by the American Congregational Society, balconies overhang from the second and fourth floors. The coping of the building also projects over the burial ground.

"On the Tremont Building the copings overhang.

"I have not made definite plans of these details, but will hold myself in readiness to do so should the occasion warrant."

Very truly yours,
J. J. O'CALLAGHAN, Secretary.

PRECINCT REDIVISION, WARD 20.

Coun. COLLINS, for the Special Committee on Redivision of Precincts, Ward 20, submitted a report recommending the passage of the following: Ordered, That a new division be made of that portion of Ward 20 heretofore included in Precincts 4, 6, 14 of said ward into four precincts, to be known as precincts 4, 6, 14, 16, and said precincts are constituted as follows:

Ward 20. Precinct 4.

All that part of said ward lying within the following described line: Beginning at the intersection of the centre lines of Stoughton street and Columbia road; thence through the centre lines of Stoughton and Salcombe streets, Cushing and Sawyer avenues, Pleasant, Hancock, High and Church streets, the portion of Bowdoin street south of Eaton square, Bowdoin, Quincy, Bellevue, Trull and Hancock streets and Columbia road to the point of beginning. 681 voters.

Ward 20. Precinct 6.

All that part of said ward lying within the following described line: Beginning at the intersection of the centre lines of Adams street and Dorchester avenue; thence through the centre lines of Dorchester avenue to the centre line of location of the Shawmut branch of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad; thence through the centre line of location of said railroad to the centre line of Geneva avenue; thence through the centre lines of Geneva avenue and Homes avenue and Adams street to the point of beginning. 677 voters.

Ward 20. Precinct 14.

All that part of said ward lying within the following described line: Beginning at the intersection of the centre lines of Draper street and Homes avenue; thence through the centre lines of Homes and Geneva avenues to the centre line of location of the Midland Division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad; thence through the centre line of location of said railroad to the centre line of Columbia road; thence through the centre lines of Columbia road, Richfield, Barry, Clarkson, Hamilton, Bowdoin and Draper streets to the point of beginning. 741 voters.

Ward 20. Precinct 16.

All that part of said ward lying within the following described line: Beginning at the intersection of the centre lines of Columbia road and Hancock street; thence through the centre lines of Hancock, Trull, Bellevue, Quincy, Bowdoin, Hamilton, Clarkson, Barry and Richfield streets and Columbia road to the point of beginning. 733 voters.

The question came on accepting the report and passing the order.

Coun. COLLINS—Mr. Chairman, an order was presented by me two weeks ago asking that there be a redivision of the precincts of Ward 20. It seems that there is one precinct, Precinct 6, which has a number of voters exceeding one thousand, and under the statute it is mandatory for the city to change the precinct lines when that takes place. Accordingly you appointed a committee of three, of which I am chairman. We waited on the Election Commissioners, and this is the report. As a matter of fairness to both parties in the district, I notified, through the Election Commissioners, the chairmen of the Democratic and Republican ward committees. They both came, I understand, to the Election Commissioners and signified their approval of this proposition. Accordingly, since the police listing takes place within a few weeks, I now offer this order, trusting it will pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

HALF HOLIDAYS, CEMETERY EMPLOYEES.

Coun. McDONALD offered an order—That under the provisions of chapter 587 of the Acts of 1908 the Cemetery Trustees be hereby authorized to allow half holidays on Saturdays to all employees of the Cemetery Department, without loss of pay, during the present financial year.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

WIDENING OF NORFOLK STREET.

Coun. ATTRIDGE offered an order—That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit to the City Council an estimate of the cost of widening Norfolk street, Dorchester, from Codman square to Blue Hill avenue, to a width of 60 feet.

Passed.

RECREATION DEPARTMENT DISCUSSION.

Coun. KENNY—Mr. Chairman, I desire to offer the following order which I will read:

Ordered: That the Corporation Counsel be requested to confer with his Honor the Mayor with a view to framing a new draft of ordinance abolishing the Bath, Music and Public Grounds Departments and transferring their duties to the Park Department, so as to put into force a consolidation of the entire recreation service of the city, and thereafter to submit to the City Council such draft of ordinance.

And in this connection be it further ordered that the City Clerk send to the Corporation Counsel copies of the following papers: Communication of his Honor the Mayor to the City Council, dated October 17, 1910, printed on page 324 of 1910 proceedings of City Council relating to this subject; communication from the Finance Commission to the Mayor and City Council, dated December 5, 1910, and printed on page 362 of 1910 proceedings of City Council relating to this subject; ordinance passed by the City Council at its meeting February 4, 1911, abolishing the Bath, Music and Public Grounds Departments and transferring their duties to the Park Department; communication from his Honor the Mayor to the City Council, dated February 14, 1911, printed on page 19 of 1911 proceedings of City Council relating to this subject.

Coun. HALE—Mr. President, I move reference to the Executive Committee.

The question came on reference to the Executive Committee.

Coun. BUCKLEY—Mr. President, I would like to amend the motion by moving that we give a hearing to the heads of each of the departments interested, and then report back to the City Council after having that hearing.

Chairman BALLANTYNE—The Chair does not quite understand the motion.

Coun. BUCKLEY—Mr. President, my idea is that the committee shall not report back to-day, but shall summon the Park Commissioners, the Bath Trustees, the Trustees of the Music Department and the Superintendent of Public Grounds Department, all the departments supposed to come under this consolidation, and after hearing what they have to say, report back to the City Council.

Coun. Buckley's amendment was declared lost. Coun. BUCKLEY doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays. The amendment was lost, yeas 1, nays 7, Coun. BUCKLEY voting yeas.

Coun. Hale's motion to refer to the Executive Committee was carried.

THE GARBAGE SITUATION.

Coun. HALE—Mr. President, I move that Commissioner Rourke be requested to come before us a week from to-day, or if possible to-day, and state to the Council in executive session or in open session what has been done with regard to the question of garbage disposal. I think we should take this question right up and get it started. I know that the commissioner has a great deal of information that he can give us, and I would like to have that information submitted to the body.

Coun. Hale's motion was carried.

NEW QUARTERS, FIREBOAT.

Coun. KENNY—Mr. President, some two weeks ago, I believe, there was an order submitted by the Mayor requesting a loan of $5,000, supplementary to a loan of $15,000 which was made for the Fire Department. The $5,000 was for the completion of the work on the dock, in connection with the fireboat, which had already been started. I understand from the Fire Commissioner that there is very great need for speedy action upon the matter. Work is being held up awaiting the action of the Council on that proposition of the Mayor. The loan order was referred to the Finance Commission, when appointed. In order that that matter may come in this afternoon and be considered by this Board, I move that it be recalled from the files of the Committee on Finance and referred to the Executive Committee so that we may consider it when we go outside.

The papers were taken from the files as follows: Message of Mayor, communication and order (referred February 13) for loan of $5,000 for new quarters for fireboat.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

Coun. KENNY—I move that the Council resolve itself into a committee of the whole for the purpose of considering from time to time the appropriation.

Coun. Kenny was allowed to withdraw his motion.

EXAMINATION OF APPROPRIATION BILL.

Coun. HALE offered an order—That the Finance Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to examine the appropriation bill as submitted to the City Council and report its findings forthwith; also that the Finance Commission be requested to have one of its representatives present at the meetings of the Committee on Appropriations, when appointed, to discuss the various items in the bill as submitted.

The order was passed.

MONEY EXPENDED ON CHARLES BANK.

Coun. HALE offered an order—That the Park Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit to the City Council a detailed statement as to money spent on the Charlesbank from the Parkman Fund, under the order of the City Council of 1910 appropriating $20,000 for that purpose.

Passed.

VALUE OF CITY PROPERTY.

Coun. HALE offered an order—That the Statistics Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit to the City Council a report as to the real estate and buildings owned by the City of Boston, also the value of said property at the time of purchase or construction and the value of said property at the present time.

The order was passed.

DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE.

Coun. HALE offered an order—That the Executive Committee give public hearings in regard to the disposal of garbage, the expense attending the same to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, Incidental Expenses.

Coun. KENNY—Mr. President, I would like to have that order read again, please.

(The order was again read by the Clerk.)

Coun. HALE—I move that it be referred to the Executive Committee.

The motion was carried.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Coun. COLLINS—I rise for a question of information. Do I understand a hearing has been scheduled at four o'clock to-day for some members of the public?

Coun. HALE—The City Messenger has some information in regard to that subject which he just gave me.

The CHAIRMAN—We are to have Mr. O'Rourke with us, and it will not take him very long to say what he has got to say.

Coun. COLLINS—My only point is this: If we agree with certain members of the public to have a hearing at a certain appointed hour, we ought to do our part. For that reason at about four o'clock I moved a recess. I didn't think at that time there would be a flood of orders coming in ad infinitum.

The CHAIRMAN—The Chair will state that Mr. O'Rourke is willing to come in at a later session.

RECESS TAKEN.

The Council voted at 4.30 p. m., on motion of Coun. COLLINS, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The members of the Council reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by the Chair at 6.37 p. m.

BALLOT FOR PRESIDENT.

Coun. HALE—Mr. President, I move that we do now ballot for president ten successive times.

Coun. McDONALD—Mr. President, I amend the motion that we ballot for president once.

Coun. Hale's motion was put, and the Chair being in doubt a rising vote was ordered. Before the doubt was settled Coun. KENNY said:

Mr. President, I would like to say a word before the vote is taken. I have an engagement which I must keep this evening, and I can stay here but a very short time, long enough to take one or two ballots. I do not want to spend the evening here balloting, because I must go.

The motion to take ten successive ballots was declared lost on a rising vote, 2 to 5.

Coun. McDONALD'S motion to take a ballot was carried. The roll was called and the members announced their choice of president with the following result:

For John J. Attridge—Coun. Attridge, Hale, McDonald—3.

For Walter C. Ballantyne—Coun. Ballantyne, Kenny, Smith—3.

For Walter F. Collins—Coun. Buckley, Collins—2.

And there was no choice.

EXECUTIVE REPORTS.

Coun. HALE, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

(1) Report on petition of Harriett Brackett (referred to-day) for permit for children under fifteen years of age to appear at Seaman's Friend Hall on March 28—that a permit be granted.

Report accepted; permit granted on usual conditions.

(2) Report on message of Mayor, communication from Fire Commissioner and order (taken from files to-day) for loan for new quarters for fireboat—recommending the passage of the following:

Ordered, That the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000) additional be hereby appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Fire Commissioner, for new quarters for fireboat, Boston side, and that to meet such appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

Report accepted; and the order took its first reading, yeas 8, nays 0.

(3) Report on order (referred to-day) that the Cemetery Trustees grant a Saturday half holiday to all employees in their department during the present financial year—recommending reference to the Cemetery Trustees for their report and recommendations.

Report accepted; said reference ordered.

(4) Report on order (referred to-day) that the Corporation Counsel and Mayor confer together with a view of framing a new draft of ordinance abolishing the Bath, Music and Public Grounds Departments and transferring their duties to the Park Department—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. SMITH, at 6.44 p. m., to meet on Wednesday, March 1, at four o'clock p. m.

Wednesday, March 1, 1911.

Adjourned meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at four o'clock p. m., Coun. BALLANTYNE, senior member, in the chair. Absent—Coun. Curley.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT.

Coun. HALE—Mr. President, I move that we now take ten successive ballots for President.

Coun. BUCKLEY—Mr. President, I move to amend the motion by adding the words "unless elected sooner."

Coun. HALE—I accept the amendment.

The motion as amended was carried and the Council proceeded to ballot for a President, with the following result:

For Walter Ballantyne—Coun. Ballantyne, Hale, Kenny, Smith—4.

For Walter L. Collins—Coun. Attridge, Buckley, Collins, McDonald—4.

And there was no choice.

The Council proceeded to another ballot, as follows:

For Walter Ballantyne—Coun. Ballantyne, Hale, Kenny—3.

For Walter L. Collins—Coun. Attridge, Buckley, Collins, McDonald, Smith—5.

And Coun. Collins was declared elected President for the municipal year 1911.

The Chair appointed Coun. Kenny and Attridge to escort the President-elect to the chair.

Coun. BALLANTYNE—Mr. President, I congratulate you and I trust that the duties of the office will be as pleasant for you as they were for me, and that you will be tendered the same kindness and courtesy by the members.

Coun. COLLINS—Retiring President and fellow members of the City Council: Words are absolutely too crude and inadequate to express my real appreciation of the honor which you have this day given me. It seems to me not meet at this time to make any speech, but simply to say that while I am in this office I shall try to do my duty fairly and well, and I hope at the close of this year it will be said that I have done my duty to the best of my ability. After all is said and done that is the most priceless heritage that I can have at the close of the year,—the feeling that I have tried to do my duty by all the members of the City Council and therefore by the people of the City of Boston.

Coun. ATTRIDGE—Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

President COLLINS—Coun. Attridge has the floor.

Coun. ATTRIDGE—Mr. President, I have been one of the candidates for the office of President of this body. Personally I have made no great effort to secure votes. I believe that it is an honor to be elected President of this body. It is a position of responsibility. It is an honor to be elected to this Council by the people of Boston, and the office of President is one of responsibility and honor because of the probabilities and possibilities attached to it. The charter makes certain specific provisions in reference to the office of Mayor and as to who shall hold that office in case of death of the Mayor, in case of sickness or in case of absence of the Mayor from the city. This office of President of the city government has in the past been an important one and it is an honorable one for any member of the city government to hold, irrespective of what may be said about "empty honor." I had three votes, the votes of two members besides my own. I have tried to be honorable throughout the entire matter. I was guided somewhat in my actions by reason of a statement that was made by our friend and my friend, Mr. Ballantyne. I believed that he was sincere when he made the statement. Of course, conditions were such that although he stated he was not a candidate the fact that he voted for himself with two other men in this small body, even though he were not a candidate, helped in a way to make it impossible for this Council to organize. I quite agree with Coun. Smith and Kenny that we should get down to business, that our own personal ambitions, whatever they may be, should be secondary to the interests of the city. Nearly a month has elapsed since this new Council was inaugurated, and I felt after the conference this afternoon, when I found that no one else was willing to give way, that I was not so ambitious, so zealous for the position, that I could not give way. Rather than delay the organization of the city government, rather than delay the business of the city and its work, I felt that I at least ought to withdraw. I was guided also in my actions by what Mr. Smith had said. He had said that if any man received four votes on two consecutive ballots he would vote for him, and I took him at his word as a man. I find that he is a manly, upright man; I find him true to his word. One newspaper in Boston to-day criticised the Council of 1910; it also in a way criticised the Council of 1911, this present body. I think that this body will measure up to the standard of last year's body. I think that all the men here are honest men, working in the interests of the city. Of course, human nature is such that all men do not agree at all times upon all propositions; but I think that this city government for this year will prove that it is an honest city government, that it is a progressive city government, and that it will give the City of Boston a businesslike administration.

COMMITTEE ON RULES.

Coun. BALLANTYNE offered an order—That a special committee of three members of the City Council be appointed to prepare and report a draft of the rules for the government of the Council for the present year, and to consider and report on such matters as may hereafter be referred to them.

Passed.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

On motion of Coun. McDONALD general reconsideration of all action taken to-day was refused.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE.

Coun. KENNY—Mr. President, may I suggest that we take a recess in order to give the Chair an opportunity to appoint that committee, because time is running and if the committee is appointed now we will save some time by it. I move that we take a recess of fifteen minutes, if that is agreeable.

President COLLINS—The Chair will state to the councilor that five minutes will give the Chair ample time.

The Council voted at 5.10 p. m. to take a recess of five minutes. At 5.18 p. m. President COLLINS called the Council to order and announced as the Committee on Rules Coun. Ballantyne, Attridge and Collins.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. BALLANTYNE, at 5.19 p. m., to meet on Monday, March 6, at 3 p. m.
